[1882: S. 4 (1) (k); 1872: S. 4, Paras 5 to 8; 1861: S. 9.]

SECTION 4 (1) (k) — SYNOPSIS

1. "Inquiry".
2. "Trial".
3. Trial, when begins and ends.

1. "Inquiry". — (1) This definition is not exhaustive. AIR 1919 Cal 59 (60) = 20 Cri L Jour 508 (DB)  ('58) 1958 Andh LT 479 (481)  (1963) 2 Cr LJ 109 (110) (Raj).

(2) An inquiry must be by a Magistrate or Court whereas an investigation is by a police officer or any person other than a Magistrate or Court. AIR 1942 Bom 42 (43) = 43 Cri L Jour 362 (DB)  AIR 1954 Cal 350 (351) = 1954 Cri L Jour 961.

(3) The object of an inquiry is to determine the truth or falsity of certain facts in order to take further action thereon, while the object of an investigation is to collect evidence. AIR 1920 Pat 563 (565) = 21 Cri LJ 594.

(4) A "trial" is a judicial proceeding which ends in conviction or acquittal. All other proceedings are enquiries which have various endings according to circumstances. AIR 1929 Pat 644 (646, 647) = 31 Cri L Jour 961 (DB)  AIR 1932 Oudh 298 (303)  34 Cri L Jour 58 (DB).

[See also AIR 1957 All 767 (769) (DB). (The word "inquiry" does not always mean a judicial inquiry.)]

(5) The word "trial" pre-supposes the idea of an offence, while an "inquiry" does not merely mean an "inquiry" into an offence but extends to matters which are not offences. AIR 1953 Madh B 1 (Pr 5) = ILR (1952) Madh B 89 = 1953 Cri L Jour 98 (DB)  AIR 1920 Mad 337 (341) = 21 Cri L Jour 402 (FB).

(6) The term "inquiry" is not confined to proceedings in which an accused is actually placed before a Magistrate on a charge for an offence. AIR 1923 Lah 270 (271) = 24 Cri L Jour 941 (DB)  AIR 1958 Pat 92 (94) = 36 Pat 1302 = 1958 Cri L Jour 207 (DB).

(7) An inquiry under Section 465 of the Code as to the state of mind of the accused is only an "inquiry" and not a "trial". AIR 1918 Pat 179 (181) = 19 Cri LJ 135 (SB).

(8) The definition in Section 4 (1) (k) puts it beyond doubt that an inquiry is something different from a trial, and that "inquiry" stops when trial begins. AIR 1957 Andh Pra 472 (473) = 1957 Cri L Jour 937.

[See also ('59) 1959-2 Andh WR 64 (66).]

(9) The term 'inquiry' as defined in Section 4 (1) (k) of Criminal P. C. does not include a 'trial' but only refers to a judicial inquiry into the matter by a Magistrate or other Court. AIR 1966 All 66 (68) = 1966 Cri LJ 115 = 1965 All WR (HC) 316 (DB).

(10) An inquiry under Section 476 by a Civil Court will be an inquiry under Section 4 (1) (k). AIR 1968 Pat 100 (104) = 1968 Cri LJ 354 = 1967 BLJR 941 (FB). ((1906) ILR 28 All 554 (FB). (1918) ILR 40 Cal 477 (FB) and AIR 1940 Mad 466 (FB), Diss. from., AIR 1948 Pat 225 (FB), Overruled.)

(11) An enquiry may start with shadowy beginnings and vague rumours. AIR 1968 Mad 117 (126) = 1968 Cri LJ 493 = (1968) 1 Mad LJ 480 (DB).

(12) The proceedings which preeede the order of discharge under Section 251-A (2) are in the nature of an inquiry notwithstanding that they do not involve the taking of evidence. 1963 (2) Cri LJ 109 (110) = 1963 Raj LW 5.

(13) The definition 'enquiry' is in contra distinction to 'trial' and is not meant to cover cases of consideration of remissions in regard to lease amounts or the inspection of fields to find out whether the allegations as to the yield or the raising of a particular crop are true or not. (1959) MLJ (Cr) 550 = (1959) 2 Andh WR 64.

(14) Warrant case instituted on police report — Order of discharge of accused under Sec. 251-A (2) is not acquittal—Revisional Court can order further enquiry. AIR 1962 Andh Pra 236 (242, 243) = (1962) 2 Andh LT 1 (DB). (AIR 1960 Andh Pra 391, Overruled.)

(15) Inquiry — Process issued to accused and called to appear — It is stage of inquiry — Application under Section 540-A at that stage is not premature. AIR 1970 Raj 102 (103).

(l) "Investigation."—"Investigation" includes all the proceedings under this Code for the collection of evidence conducted by a police-officer or by any person (other than a Magistrate) who is authorised by a Magistrate in this behalf:

[1882 — S. 4 (b); 1872 — S. 4, Para. 4.]

Section 4 (1) (k) (contd.)

2. "Trial". — (1) A "trial" means, a proceeding which commences when the case is called on, with the Judge or Magistrate on the Bench, the accused is in the dock, and the representatives for the prosecution, and for the defence, if the accused be defended, are present in Court for the hearing of the case. AIR 1937 Bom 55 (56) = 38 Cri L Jour 250 (DB)  (1904) 1 Cri L Jour 605 (606, 607) = 27 All 25.

3. Trial, when begins and ends. — (1) There is a conflict of decisions as to when the trial before a Court of Session or High Court begins:

(a) According to one view, the trial begins with the framing of the charge. AIR 1943 Nag 36 (49, 69) = 44 Cri L Jour 237 (DB)  AIR 1922 Lah 49 (53) = 23 Cri L Jour 330 (DB)  ('09) 9 Cri L Jour 192 (196) = 32 Mad 220 (FB)  AIR 1927 Bom 21 (21) = 28 Cri L Jour 5  AIR 1929 Pat 644 (647) = 31 Cri L Jour 961 (DB).

(b) But according to the other view, the trial begins only when the accused refuses to plead or does not plead or claims to be tried and the Court thereupon chooses the jurors or assessors. AIR 1931 Cal 341 (343) = 32 Cri L Jour 667 (DB)  AIR 1925 Lah 446 (447) = 27 Cri L Jour 421 (DB)  AIR 1927 Bom 161 (162) = 28 Cri L Jour 402.

c) In the undermentioned case, the view was expressed that the trial before a Court of Session begins with the arraignment of the accused. AIR 1936 Mad 353 (357) = 37 Cri L Jour 637 (FB).

(2) In warrant cases before Magistrates, the proceedings are only "inquiries" up to the time when the charge is drawn up, read and explained to the accused and he pleads thereto. Then the "inquiry" becomes a "trial". AIR 1953 Madh B 1 (Pr 7) = ILR (1952) Madh B 89 = 1953 Cri L Jour 98 (DB)  AIR 1943 Nag 36 (49, 69) = 44 Cri L Jour 237 (DB).

[But see AIR 1953 Sau 151 (155) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1307 (DB)  ('07) 5 Cri L Jour 417 (420) = 3 Low Bur Rul 280.]

(3) In summons cases before Magistrates, the "trial" begins when the accused is brought before the Magistrate, the particulars of the offence are stated to him and the Magistrate proceeds to hear the complainant and the prosecution evidence. AIR 1953 Madh B 1 (Pr 6) = ILR (1952) Madh B 89 = 1953 Cri L Jour 98 (DB)  AIR 1943 Nag 36 (49, 69) = 44 Cri L Jour 237 (DB).

(4) A "trial" means all proceeding including the sentence. AIR 1933 PC 218 (221) = 34 Cri L Jour 886.

[See also AIR 1955 Assam 214 (216) = ILR (1954) 6 Assam 264 = 1955 Cri L Jour 1321.]

(5) The trial continues till judgment is pronounced though the judgment is one of acquittal. AIR 1951 All 549 (549) = 52 Cri L Jour 221.

(6) The law does not contemplate the termination of a prosecution by the jurisdiction of the Court, which has seisin of the case, being cancelled. AIR 1954 All 721 (722) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1480.

(7) The words "tried" and "trial" have no fixed or universal meaning and they should not necessarily be limited in their connotation and significance when they are used in a different context. AIR 1957 SC 389 (394, 395) = 1957 SCR 279 = 36 Pat 513 = 1957 Cri L Jour 567.

Section 4 (1) (l) — Note 1

(1) The definition of the word "investigation" is not exhaustive. ('02) 26 Bom 533 (538) (DB)  AIR 1919 Cal 59 (60) = 20 Cri LJ 508 (DB).

(2) Trap investigation — Demanding bribe is an offence — Laying trap is not prohibited in investigation — Investigating officer cannot be said to be thereby instigating or promoting commission of offence. 1969 Mad LW (Cri) 90.

(3) Under the Code investigation consists generally of the following steps: (1) Proceeding to the spot, (2) Ascertainment of the facts and circumstances of the case, (3) Discovery and arrest of the suspected offender, (4) Collection of evidence relating to the commission of the offence and (5) Formation of the opinion and taking necessary steps for filing charge-sheet under Section 173. AIR 1955 SC 196 (201) = 1955 Cri LJ 526 = ILR (1955) Punj 135 = 1955 SCR 1150  AIR 1959 SC 707 (711) = 1959 Cri LJ 920.

(4) The final step in the investigation, viz., the formation of the opinion is to be that of the officer in charge of the police station. There is no provision permitting delegation thereof. AIR 1955 SC 196 (201) = 1955 Cri LJ 526 = ILR (1955) Punj 135 = 1955 SCR 1150.

(5) An investigation by the customs authorities under the Sea Customs Act would satisfy the definition of "investigation" in the Code. AIR 1940 Cal 97 (103) = 41 Cri LJ 329 (DB).

(m) "Judicial proceeding."—"Judicial proceeding" includes any proceeding in the course of which evidence is or may be legally taken on oath:

[1882 — S. 4 (d); 1872 — S. 4, Para. 9.]

OBJECTS AND REASONS

"Judicial proceedings,—We have added the words 'on oath' in this definition, because the power to take evidence on oath is the characteristic test of judicial proceedings. We have omitted the new words providing for consequent proceedings which the Bill as introduced proposed to add to the definition, as they appear to be too wide. On the other hand we have altered the word "means" at the commencement of the definition into 'includes' and have thus given the Courts a certain latitude of construction."—S. C. R.

Section 4 (1) (l) — Note 1 (contd.)

(6) Investigation under Chapter XIV of the Code is a proceeding; the word 'proceeding' is not necessarily confined to something done in a Court of law. AIR 1966 Ker 11 (13) = 1966 Cri LJ 26 = 1965 Ker LT 877 (FB)  AIR 1965 Mys 214 (218) = 1965 (2) Cr LJ 225 (DB).

(7) Once a police officer forms a definite opinion that there are grounds for investigating a crime, an investigation under the Code has started. Anything said or done subsequently must be held to have been done or said during the investigation. AIR 1968 Mad 117 (126) = 1968 Cri LJ 493 = (1968) 1 Mad LJ 480 (DB).

(8) The word 'investigate' used in Section 157 of Evidence Act (1872) must be taken as a word of wide import and the meaning given to the word 'investigation' in Section 4 (1) (l) cannot be attached to it. (1961) 2 Cri LJ 71 (73, 74) (DB)  AIR 1968 Orissa 20 (24) = 1968 Cri LJ 201 = 33 Cut LT 1193 (DB).

STATE AMENDMENT

West Bengal

In sub-section (2) of Section 5, for the words "but subject to any enactment", substitute the words "but, save as otherwise provided by this Code, subject to any enactment."—W. B. Act 8 of 1970, S. 3 and Sch., item 2.

Section 5 — Synopsis (contd.)

4. "Any other law."
5. Offences against other laws — Sub-section (2).

1. Scope and applicability.— (1) The section applies both to the tribunal by which a crime is to be tried as well as the procedure to be followed. AIR 1953 Madh B 89 (Pr. 4) = 1953 Cri L Jour 629  AIR 1953 All 179 (Prs. 2, 5) = 1953 Cri L Jour 444.

(2) In criminal proceedings, the question is not alone whether substantial justice has been done according to law. All proceedings in poenam are strictissimmi juris. AIR 1925 Oudh 1 (8) = 25 Cri L Jour 49.

(3) It is the duty of the presiding officer in criminal trials to see that the procedure as laid down in the Code is strictly and fully complied with. AIR 1927 Cal 936 (936) = 28 Cri L Jour 478 (DB)  AIR 1927 Cal 631 (632) = 28 Cri L Jour 742 (DB)  AIR 1932 Mad 502 (505) = 33 Cri L Jour 765.

(4) The section shows that the provisions of the Code relating to place of trial assume the existence of substantive liability under the Indian Penal Code or under any other law. AIR 1957 SC 857 (867) = 1958 SCR 328 = 1957 Cri L Jour 1346.

(5) Code came into force in Goa on 1-11-1963 and Portuguese Criminal P. C. stood repealed by virtue of Sections 3 and 4 of Goa, Daman and Diu (Laws) Regulation 1962 — Offence punishable under Rule 126-P, Defence of India Rules, 1962 committed in Goa on 25-6-1963 — Offence is triable in accordance with Criminal P. C. and not Portuguese Criminal P. C. 1970 Cri LJ 421 (424, 425) (Goa).

(6) Offences under Sections 408, 477-A Penal Code — Sanction of Registrar of Co-operative Societies under Madras Co-operative Societies Act (6 of 1932) is not necessary. ILR (1958) Cut 140 (148).

(7) The words "investigated, enquired into, tried and otherwise dealt with" refer to offences and therefore an order for disposal of property under Sec. 523 (1) is not an order dealing with an offence. AIR 1964 Pat 416 (417) = 1964 (2) Cr LJ 331 = 1964 BLJR 578.

2. "Otherwise dealt with."— (1) An offence may be said to be "otherwise dealt with" in the following cases:

(1) Where offenders liable to be tried by a Court-martial are delivered over to military authorities under Section 549.

(2) Where a case is transferred from one Panchayat Court to another under Section 526. AIR 1927 All 199 (200) = 28 Cri L Jour 94.

(2) The word "otherwise" points to the fact that the expression "dealt with" is all-comprehensive, and that investigation, inquiry and trial were same aspects of 'dealing with' the offences. AIR 1962 SC 63 (67) = 1962 (1) Cri LJ 106 = (1962) 2 SCR 694. (Offence under Suppression of Immoral Traffic in Women and Girls Act (1956) can be investigated only by Special Police Officer and not by other police officer — Majority view.)  AIR 1962 Punj 91 (92, 93) = 1962 (1) Cr LJ 361.

(3) The provisions of Chapters IV and V of the Code fall under provisions pertaining to otherwise dealing with offences under the Code. 1964 (1) Cri LJ 224 (228) = (1964) 4 SCR 204 (SC).

(4) Expression "otherwise dealt with" in Section 5 includes provisions for disposal of property under Chapter 43 of the Code. AIR 1969 Ker 151 (152) = 1969 Cri LJ 731. It directly enacted by the Legislature.

(5) Order under S. 476-B of the Code by Civil Court is revisable under S. 439 of the Code. AIR 1968 Pat 100 (105) = 1968 Cri LJ 354 = 1967 BLJR 941 (FB).

3. "Enactment." — (1) The word "enactment" applies only to provisions directly enacted by the Legislature. It does not include a rule framed under the provisions of an Act. AIR 1921 Cal 708 (711) = 22 Cri L Jour 354 (DB)  ('94) 1894 Pun Re (Cr) No. 23, p. 80 (81).

[But see AIR 1953 Cal 414 (Pr. 3).]

4. "Any other law."— (1) A notification issued under an Act is a law within the meaning of this section: as for example one made under Section 30 of the Police Act (5 of 1861). AIR 1923 Pat 1 (3, 4) = 23 Cri L Jour 625 (SB).

(2) An "ordinance" is a "law" within the meaning of this section. AIR 1916 Lah 207 (208) = 17 Cri L Jour 225 (226).

5. Offences against other laws — Sub-section (2) — (1) Under this provision a special law creating offence may also create special procedure for dealing with them. AIR 1950 Pat 332 (Pr. 22) = 29 Pat 410 = 51 Cri L Jour 1251 (DB).

(1-A) Prosecution of accused under Official Secrets Act — Accused cannot claim copies of documents referred to in Section 173 Cr. P. C., as of right — Special procedure of complaint provided in Act. AIR 1969 Cal 535 (538) (DB).

(2) Where an offence is one under a special or local law but there is no enactment prescribing any procedure for dealing with the offence, the procedure laid down in this Code must be followed. AIR 1955 SC 435 (438) = 1955 Cri L Jour 1010 = 1955 SCR 1444 = ILR (1955) 1 All 602  AIR 1936 All 830 (831) = 38 Cr L Jour 111 (FB)  AIR 1969 Bom 302 (303, 304) = 1969 Cri LJ 1109 = 71 Bom LR 409. (Prosecution under Section 86-D of Companies Act is not valid if no necessary approval is sought from Central Government.)  ILR (1958) 8 Raj 1206.

(3) Where a complete procedure is provided in any enactment for the trial, etc., of such offences, it is that procedure that must be followed and not the one prescribed by this Code. AIR 1953 Cal 414 (Pr. 3)  AIR 1956 Punj 210 (213) = ILR (1955) Punj 208 (DB)  AIR 1926 Cal 586 (588) = 27 Cri L Jour 602 (DB).

(4) Where an enactment provides a special procedure only for some matters, its provisions must apply in regard to those matters and the provisions of this Code will apply for the matters on which the enactment is silent. OF THE CONSTITUTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS AND OFFICES

A — Classes Of Criminal Courts

6. Classes of Criminal Courts.—Besides the High Courts and the Courts constituted under any law other than this Code for the time being in force, there shall be five classes of Criminal Courts in *[India], namely:

I.—Courts of Session:

II.—Presidency Magistrates:

take cognizance of the report of ordinary police officer in respect of offence under Suppression of Immoral Traffic in Women and Girls Act.)

(9) Cognizance of offence under Suppression of Immoral Traffic in Women and Girls Act (1956) can be taken on complaint filed by Magistrate — Section 13 is no bar. AIR 1961 All 633 (635) = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 754 = 1961 All LJ 470.

(10) Section 20 of Suppression of Immoral Traffic in Women and Girls Act (1956), does not deal with offences at all and hence sub-sec. (2) of the Code does not apply. AIR 1963 All 71 (74) = 1963 (1) Cri LJ 138 = 1962 All LJ 793.

(11) Section 22-A of Forward Contracts (Regulation) Act (1952), relates to the manner or place of investigation spoken of by Section 5 (2) of the Code — It is not a provision conferring jurisdiction. AIR 1968 All 338 (341) = 1968 Cri LJ 1325.

(12) Section 11 of Cattle Licensing Act does not expressly supersede the provision under Section 190 of the Code and therefore the Magistrate could take cognizance of offence under the Act by virtue of Section 190 (1) (c) of the Code. (1966) 70 Cal WN 779 (785).

(13) There is difference between regulating the manner and place of trial and regulating the tribunal which will hold the trial. If so when the enactment provides for a tribunal for such trials which is not a Court under Criminal Procedure Code as mentioned in Schedule 2 that Code would not be attracted on its own force unless the enactment itself provides therefor. AIR 1968 Cal 170 (172) = 1968 Cri LJ 478.

(14) The only conditions for cognizance being taken of offences under Sections 161, 165 and 165-A of the Penal Code and Section 5 of the Prevention of Corruption Act are those mentioned in Sections 5-A and 6 of the Prevention of Corruption Act. These provisions cannot be affected by anything contained in the C. P. and Berar Act (17 of 1947) or the notifications made thereunder. 1961 Jab LJ 1280 (1282).

(15) Section 5 (2) is nothing more than a statutory recognition of a cardinal rule of construction of statutes that the Courts vested with general jurisdiction to try all offences cannot have their jurisdiction ousted except by the most clear and unambiguous words or by necessary implication. AIR 1960 Bom 523 (525, 526) = 1960 Cri LJ 1572 = 62 Bom LR 178  AIR 1960 Raj 288 (289, 290) = 1960 Cri LJ 1661 = 1960 Raj LW 363.

(16) When a statute other than the Penal Code creates an offence and specifies a person who is not a Criminal Court and who is not a Magistrate to try such offence or to inquire into it, Section 5 (2) is attracted, but only to keep away the Code's provisions to the contrary because of the exception in the second part of Section 5 (2). AIR 1967 Cal 145 (149) = 1967 Cri LJ 342.

(17) Report of Chemical Examiner as to contents of bottle is admissible in evidence in view of Section 510 which being general is not excluded by Sections 86 and 109, Mysore Prohibition Act. AIR 1966 Mys 75 (77) = 1966 Cri LJ 270.

(18) A complaint of interference with municipal property in contravention of a bye-law framed by virtue of the power given to the municipal board under Section 298-J (c) of Municipalities Act is not in the nature of an information and therefore the proceeding before the Magistrate upon that complaint has to be proceeded with as upon a complaint. 1958 All WR (HC) 741 (743) = 1958 All LJ 657.

(19) Summary trial — Sentence of imprisonment not exceeding three months under Section 262 (2) — Applies only to offences under Section 260 and not to offences under any special enactment. AIR 1970 Andh Pra 47 (53, 54) (DB).

Act XI of 1960, S. 87 and Guj. A. L. O. (8th Am.) 1961 (w. r. e. f. 1-5-1960).

Section 6 — Synopsis (contd.)

3. Courts enumerated in the section are different from each other.

4. Criminal Courts constituted under other laws.

1. Criminal Court. — (1) This section divides the Criminal Courts in India into several groups, and the second, third, fourth and fifth groups are "Magistrates." This, however does not mean that a Magistrate is always a Court whatever he is doing. He has executive as well as judicial duties to perform. AIR 1919 PC 31 (34) = 20 Cri L Jour 593  ('09) 2 Ind Cas 436 (439) = 36 Cal 433 (SB).

(2) The section can only mean that among the Criminal Courts in India are Magistrates, and that when the latter act judicially they are Criminal Courts. AIR 1928 Mad 1108 (1109) = 30 Cri L Jour 119.

(3) The fact that Magistrates have sometimes to perform executive functions will not in itself debar them from acting as Courts as provided in this section. AIR 1954 Pat 203 (206, 207) = 1954 Cri L Jour 533 = ILR 32 Pat 1069 (DB).

(4) For the sake of brevity the Code uses the terms 'Court' and 'Magistrates', generally if not always, as covertible terms. ('12) 16 Ind Cas 501 (508) = 13 Cri L Jour 693 (PC)  AIR 1953 Mad 953 (954) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1737.

(5) A committing Magistrate is not a Judge, and his Court not a "Court of justice." It is, however, clear that he is engaged in a judicial proceeding and is therefore a Criminal Court. ('87) 10 Mad 154 (156) (DB)  AIR 1926 Pat 214 (217) = 27 Cri L Jour 499 (DB)  ('97) 20 Mad 189 (206) (FB).

(6) The Code was employed the term "Magistrates" as equivalent to Magistrate's Court. AIR 1959 Andh Pra 129 (133) = 1959 Cri L Jour 290 (DB).

(7) After the Code of Criminal Procedure (Mysore Amendment Act 13 of 1965) came into force, there are two sets of Magistrate's Courts in each District of the State viz., Judicial Magistrate Courts and Sub-Divisional Magistrates. The First Class Magistrate i.e., the Judicial Magistrates (First Class) are subordinate to the Sessions Judge, while the Sub-Divisional Magistrates and Taluka Magistrates are subordinate to the District Magistrate. AIR 1969 Mys 181 (183) = 1969 Cri LJ 752 = (1969) 1 Mys LJ 1.

(8) The Magistrate holding an enquiry under Extradition Act (15 of 1903), Section 7 is a Criminal Court within the meaning of Section 6 of the Code and his orders will be revisable under Section 439, Cri. P. C. 1962 (2) Cr LJ 697 (698, 699) = (1962) 2 Mad LJ 256.

(9) Enquiry under Section 476 by Civil Court — Will be a criminal proceeding though such Civil Court will not be one of the classes of Criminal Courts enumerated in the section. AIR 1968 Pat 100 (104, 105, 106) = 1968 Cri LJ 354 = 1967 BLJR 941 (FB).

(10) Neither Rent Controller acting under Section 30 or Section 31 of W. B. Act 12 of 1956, nor appellate Authority under Section 29 of the said Act is a Court under Criminal Procedure Code. AIR 1968 Cal 170 (171) = 1968 Cri LJ 478.

Mysore

Same as in Maharashtra with Mysore substituted for 'Maharashtra'—Mys. Act 13 of 1965, S. 3 (1-10-1965).

Punjab: Haryana: Chandigarh

In its application to the States of Punjab and Haryana and Union Territory of Chandigarh the following section shall be substituted, namely,—

"6. Classes of Criminal Courts.—Besides the High Court and the Courts constituted under any law other than this Code for the time being in force, there shall be two classes of Criminal Courts in the State of Punjab, namely :—

Section 6 — Note 1 (contd.)

(11) To constitute a Criminal Court it is not sufficient that it is one of the Courts mentioned in Section 6, Cr. P. Code. It must be acting as a Criminal Court. Therefore the direction of Magistrate specifying arrears of Sales Tax as recoverable as fine is an order of an inferior Criminal Court revisable under Section 435, Cr. P. C. AIR 1964 Mad 185 (187, 190) = 1964 (1) Cri LJ 519.

(12) Magistrate, seized of committal proceedings, is a Court within Section 6, Criminal P. C. AIR 1966 All 495 (498) = 1966 Cri LJ 1106.

(13) Order of Sub-divisional Magistrate in proceedings under Section 133, Criminal P. C. — Not revisable by the High Court. AIR 1967 Guj 225 (227, 228) = 1967 Cri LJ 1325 = (1966) 7 Guj LR 1085.

(14) Collector of Central Excise is not Court — Discharges quasi-judicial function — High Court cannot interfere. (1963) 2 Cri LJ 467 (469) (Mys) (DB).

2. Magistrate acting in executive or administrative capacity. — (1) The making of a departmental inquiry under the orders of the Government is an executive act. ('95) 19 Bom 51 (69) (DB).

[See however ('05) 28 All 89 (90) = 2 Cri L Jour 454.]

(2) An order under Section 96 of the Code is a judicial order. ('12) 13 Cri L Jour 693 (701) = 39 Ind App 163 (PC).

(3) An order under Section 145 of the Code is a judicial order. ('01) 28 Cal 709 (713) (DB).

(4) An order passed by a Magistrate under Section 421 (2), Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, is a judicial order. AIR 1950 Cal 36 (Prs. 44, 65, 76, 84) = ILR (1950) 2 Cal 301 = 51 Cri L Jour 346 (DB).

(5) In making an order under Section 49 (2) of the M. B. Police Act 76 of 1950, the District Magistrate acts as an executive officer and not in his capacity as a presiding officer of the Court of a Magistrate under the Code. AIR 1957 Madh Pra 97 (98) = 1957 Cri L Jour 854.

3. Courts enumerated in the section are different from each other.— (1) Each class of Courts enumerated in the section is distinct and different from the others. Thus, a High Court is not a Court of Session, even when exercising original criminal jurisdiction. AIR 1925 Cal 384 (385) = 26 Cri L Jour 385.

(2) A Court of Session is not a Magistrate under any circumstances. ('10) 1910 Pun LR No. 184, p. 527 (528) = 11 Cri L Jour 330 (DB).

(3) A Presidency Magistrate is not a Magistrate of the First Class. ('07) 31 Bom 611 (623) = 6 Cri L Jour 240 (DB)  ('97) 24 Cal 551 (555) (DB)  ('06) 3 Cri L Jour 329 (331) (DB) (Cal).

(3) Existing divisions and districts maintained till altered.—The sessions divisions and districts existing when this Code comes into force shall be sessions divisions and districts respectively, unless and until they are so altered.

SECTION 7 — SYNOPSIS

1. Scope and object.
2. "Presidency-town."
3. "District."
4. Sessions division.

1. Scope and object.— (1) The object of sub-section (1) of this section is not to enable the State Government to constitute sessions divisions out of districts but to lay down a rule governing the relation between sessions divisions and districts. AIR 1943 Sind 39 (42) = 44 Cri L Jour 293 (FB)  AIR 1931 Mad 697 (698) = 32 Cri L Jour 1095 (FB).

(2) A sessions division shall not consist of half a district or even one and a half district but shall consist of one district or a plurality of whole districts. AIR 1931 Mad 697 (698) = 32 Cri L Jour 1095 (FB).

(3) The want of a formal notification defining the territorial limits of a newly separated sessions division or establishing a Court of Session therein, will not deprive the Court of Session which actually comes into existence in such division of its jurisdiction, where the meaning and substance of the Government Order is clear and the intention of the Government to reform a sessions division under this section is beyond doubt. AIR 1943 Sind 39 (42, 45) = 44 Cri L Jour 293 (FB).

2. "Presidency-town."— (1) The expression "presidency-town" as defined in Section 3 (44), General Clauses Act, means the local limits for the time being of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Court of Judicature at Calcutta, Madras and Bombay — See Section 3 (44) of the General Clauses Act, 1897; See also Clause 11 of the Letters Patent for Madras, Bombay and Calcutta for the local limits of the original civil jurisdiction of the High Court.

3. "District."— (1) The "district" referred to in this section is not the same thing as a revenue district, though very often they are co-extensive and conterminous, but means a district for the purpose of criminal administration. (2) Where, under sub-section (2) of the section the Government notified that the "deep stream" of the river Gogra was to be the boundary between two districts, X and Y but after the date of the notification, the river divided into two branches and the question arose as to whether the land between the two branches formed part of the district X or district Y, it was held that the "deep stream" spoken of in the notification must be the deep stream as it existed at the time of the notification. [But see AIR 1953 All 24 (Pr. 4) = 1953 Cri L Jour 186  AIR 1918 Oudh 158 (159) = 19 Cri L Jour 671.]

(3) This section applies only to a situation where there are fixed boundaries and where nature does not introduce an element of uncertainty. ('54) 33 Pat 927 (933). (Paragraph 130 of the Settlement Report fixing boundary of the criminal jurisdiction as middle stream of Ganges held was not in conflict with this section).

(4) The mid stream of a river passing between two districts cannot be the test for ascertaining the criminal jurisdiction.

(4) Presidency-towns to be deemed districts.—Every presidency-town[‡] shall, for the purposes of this Code, be deemed to be a district.

SECTION 9 — SYNOPSIS

1. Scope.
2. Court of Session.
3. Jurisdiction of Judges appointed under this section.
4. Power to direct place or places of sitting.
5. Courts constituted under other laws.

1. Scope.— (1) Under the scheme of the Code the general framework of the administration of justice such as the division of the State into sessions divisions and their boundaries and places of sitting, the appointment of Sessions Judges and the classification of offences into those triable by jury and those triable with the aid of assessors is left by Sections 7 to 9 and Section 269 of the Code to the State Government. AIR 1931 Bom 313 (316) = 32 Cri L Jour 1147 (SB).

(2) This section deals with the power of the State Government to establish Courts of Session, to appoint Judges thereto and to direct at what place or places such Court shall hold its sitting. AIR 1931 Cal 190 (191) = 32 Cri L Jour 842 (DB)  AIR 1957 Mad 351 (Pr. 2) = ILR (1957) Mad 597 = 1957 Cri L Jour 642 (DB)  AIR 1931 Bom 313 (319) = 32 Cri L Jour 1147 (SB).

(3) The section itself does not require formal publication of a notification relating to establishment of a Court of Session in the Government Gazette. Such publication, though desirable is not, therefore, essential. AIR 1943 Sind 39 (45) = 44 Cri L Jour 293 (FB).

(4) The State Government may, under sub-section (3), appoint one and the same person to be an Additional Sessions Judge or an Assistant Sessions Judge of more than one Court of Session, and, in that case, the person so appointed can exercise jurisdiction in each of such Courts. AIR 1957 Pat 375 (Pr. 18) = 36 Pat 995 = 1957 Cri L Jour 879 (FB).

[See AIR 1957 Mad 351 (Pr. 2) = ILR (1957) Mad 597 = 1957 Cri L Jour 642 (DB).]

2. Court of Session.— (1) The State Government is bound under this section to establish the Court of Session for every sessions division in the State. ('86) 10 Bom 258 (262) (DB).

(2) The words "Court of Session," wherever they are used in the Code, mean a Court established under this section. AIR 1925 Cal 384 (385) = 26 Cri L Jour 385.

(3) A High Court exercising original criminal jurisdiction or a Court established under a special or local law with powers similar to a Court of Session under the Code, is not a Court of Session within the meaning of the Code. AIR 1925 Cal 384 (385) = 26 Cri L Jour 385  AIR 1932 Cal 867 (868) = 34 Cri L Jour 107  ('86) 10 Bom 263 (271, 272) (DB). (Political Resident at Aden is not a Judge of Court of Session for that Island.)

(4) There can be only one Court of Session for every sessions division though it may be manned by several Judges; it would be inaccurate to use the expression "Court of the Sessions Judge" or "Court of the Additional or Assistant Sessions Judge." AIR 1957 Pat 375 (Prs. 18, 19, 20 and 26) = 36 Pat 995 = 1957 Cri L Jour 879 (FB). (Per Sahai J.)  ('54) Madh BL Jour 1954

(5) All Courts of Session existing when this Code comes into force shall be deemed to have been established under this Act.

[*] Substituted for 'Provincial Government' by A. L. O., 1950.

[†] Substituted by the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1955 (XXVI of 1955), S. 3 (1-1-1956).

OBJECTS AND REASONS

With reference to the amendment made by Act 26 of 1955 the Joint Committee observed:

> "The Committee apprehend that the accused will not be able to obtain competent legal assistance if the trial takes place at an out of the way place and this would involve a financial strain on him. It is also feared that where there is only one Sessions Judge, his absence on tour would delay the disposal of other cases. The Committee feel that it would be much better if the change in the venue of trial is left to the discretion of the Sessions Judge depending on the general convenience of parties and witnesses for the purpose of a fair trial after the consent of the accused and of the prosecution was taken."— J. SECTION 15 — SYNOPSIS

1. Scope and object.
2. Powers of Benches.
3. Local limits.
4. Constitution of Bench — Effect on decision. See Section 350-A.
5. Classes of cases to be tried. See Section 16.
6. Difference of opinion. See Section 16.

1. Scope and object.— (1) When a number of Magistrates in a place are directed under this section to "sit together" as a Bench, it does not mean that all of them should sit together in session and that only when they do so they can exercise the powers conferred on the Bench under this section. The powers can be exercised by any Bench that is constituted under the next section out of the Magistrates directed to "sit together" as a Bench under this section. AIR 1934 Bom 176 (177, 178) = 36 Cri L Jour 592 (DB).

[See also 1958 Cri L Jour 572 (Pr. 8) (Cal). (Bench means two or more members constituting the Bench.)]

(2) The object of constituting a Bench of Magistrates is that the Magistrates composing the Bench should individually and collectively give their attention and apply their minds to the hearing of the evidence and the determination of the points at issue and arrive at an independent judgment in regard to the merits of the case. AIR 1943 Pat 381 (382) = 45 Cri L Jour 88  AIR 1922 Oudh 21 (22) = 23 Cri L Jour 696.

[See also ('58) 1958 Cri L Jour 572 (Pr. 4) (Cal). (Bench of two under Bengal Village Self-Government Act (5 of 1919) — Conviction based on inspection and report by only one of them is not legal.)]

(3) Where in a trial before a Bench of two Magistrates, one of them recorded the evidence, while the other was attending to some other case and a joint judgment was delivered with the signatures of both, it was held that such a procedure defeated the very object with which a Bench is constituted, and the judgment was set aside. AIR 1922 Oudh 21 (22) = 23 Cri L Jour 696.

(4) The mere fact that one of the two Magistrates constituting a Bench did not sign the statement of witnesses and the chargesheet does not show that he was absent or was not paying attention to the proceedings and cannot serve as a ground for setting aside the conviction. AIR 1942 Oudh 423 (423) = 43 Cri L Jour 646.

(5) Bench of Magistrates is under the Code of Criminal Procedure, subordinate to the District Magistrate. AIR 1961 Ker 194 (196) = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 89 = 1961 Ker LT 130.

2. Powers of Benches.— (1) A Bench composed of Magistrates having third class magisterial powers may be invested with the ordinary or additional powers of second class Magistrate. 1. Conduct and distribution of business — Rules relating to.

2. Mode of settling differences of opinion — Rules relating to.

3. Subordination of Presidency Magistrates.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

Sub-section (2).—"The Government of Madras recommended that all Presidency Magistrates should be subordinate to the Chief Presidency Magistrate in the like manner as in a district, Magistrates are subordinate to the District Magistrate. This appears to be sound in principle, and the clause as it stands enables the Chief Presidency Magistrates, with the sanction of local Government, to make rules on this footing. We are informed, that in Calcutta the Presidency Magistrates are not considered as subordinate to the Chief Presidency Magistrate. If this be so, we have no doubt that the local Government in sanctioning rules under this clause will pay such regard as it thinks right to any existing practice.—S. C. R., 1898.

(2) Where a rule by the Chief Presidency Magistrate of Bombay provided that every member of a Bench shall have a voice in the determination of a case and that when a Bench is equally divided in opinion the Chairman shall have a casting vote, it was held that the judgment of the dissenting Magistrate, if any, should form part of the record. POWERS OF COURTS

A.—Description of offences cognizable by each Court.

28. Offences under Penal Code.—Subject to the other provisions of this Code any offence under the Indian Penal Code may be tried—

(a) by the High Court, or

(b) by the Court of Session, or

SECTION 28 — SYNOPSIS

1. Scope.

2. Subject to other provisions of the Code.

3. Clause (c) — "Any other Court."

1. Scope.— (1) The jurisdiction of every criminal Court to try a particular offence is derived from statute, either

(c) by any other Court by which such offence is shown in the eighth column of the second schedule to be triable.

Illustration

A is committed to the Sessions Court on a charge of culpable homicide. He may be convicted of voluntarily causing hurt, an offence triable by a Magistrate.

(3) A Court of Session has, on a legal order of commitment, jurisdiction even in matters of offences not ordinarily triable by it; but the committing Magistrate must give adequate reasons for committing a person for an offence which is not exclusively triable by the Court of session. AIR 1949 All 1 (Pr. 52) = 50 Cri L Jour 59 = ILR (1949) All 279 (FB). (4) A Magistrate who is not mentioned in the eighth column of the second schedule as being empowered to try a particular offence, has no jurisdiction to try it. AIR 1955 Pat 118 (120) = 33 Pat 1018 = 1955 Cri L Jour 501 (DB)  AIR 1925 Mad 367 (367) = 25 Cri L Jour 1193.

[See however ('72) 18 Suth WR (Cr) 8 (9) (DB).]

(5) Neither the consent of the parties thereto nor even an order of the District Magistrate authorizing the Magistrate to try the case will confer any jurisdiction on such Magistrate to do so. AIR 1932 Oudh 251 (251) = 33 Cri L Jour 511  ('26) AIR 1926 Cal 590 (592) = 27 Cri L Jour 545 (DB). (Administrative inconvenience cannot give jurisdiction.)

(6) There is no provision in the Code which bars the trial of a case by a superior Magistrate notwithstanding that it is competent for a Magistrate of the lowest grade to entertain the case. AIR 1956 Andhra 100 (101) = 1956 Cri L Jour 575.

(7) The fact that the offence which a Magistrate is not empowered to try includes a minor offence which he is authorised to try, cannot give him jurisdiction to try the accused for the former offence. ('10) 11 Cri L Jour 639 (640) = 1910 Pun Re (Cr.) No. 31.

(8) Magistrate cannot clutch at jurisdiction by intentionally ignoring facts of aggravation which make the offence cognizable only by a higher tribunal. AIR 1944 Mad 166 (168) = 45 Cri L Jour 508  AIR 1935 Sind 221 (221) = 37 Cri L Jour 80 (DB)  ('11) 12 Cri L Jour 20 (20) (DB) (Mad)  ('89) 13 Bom 502 (505) (DB).

[See ('89) 12 Mad 54 (56) (DB). (Accused tearing up pronote for value of Rs. 20 — Offence is under Section 477 and not Section 426 and is triable by Court of session.)]

(9) The Magistrate cannot, for instance, split up a graver offence into a number of smaller offences and thus give himself jurisdiction. (1900) 5 Cal WN 372 (373).

(10) The jurisdiction of a Magistrate to try the accused for an offence triable by him is not ousted merely by the fact that the accused is liable to be charged for an offence not triable by him. ('33) 1933 Mad WN 550 (551)  AIR 1922 Mad 223 (224) = 23 Cri L Jour 232 (DB)  AIR 1927 Mad 307 (308) = 28 Cri L Jour 164.

[But see (1866) 6 Suth WR (Cr) 49 (49) (DB).]

(11) It will be improper on the part of the Magistrate intentionally to ignore circumstances which show that an offence beyond his jurisdiction was in fact committed as well as an offence within his jurisdiction. If a Second Class Magistrate should ignore the violence used in committing theft and, instead of sending the accused before a First Class Magistrate to be tried for robbery, tries the case for theft, the action would be improper but his proceedings cannot be void for want of jurisdiction. AIR 1925 Rang 45 (47) = 26 Cri L Jour 1108.

(12) The proper course for a Court which finds that a case in which it is not empowered to pass the legal sentence has been inadvertently transferred to it, is not to proceed with the case but to return it to the transferring authority for necessary orders. AIR

(13) Before the Code was amended a case under Section 326, I. P. Code could either be sent to a First Class Magistrate if it was not a serious case, or to a S. 30 Magistrate if it was more serious but the appropriate sentence would not exceed seven years, and to a sessions Court if a sentence of more than seven years appeared to be called for and the only effect of the amendment is that the degree of seriousness of cases under Section 326 are reduced from three to two and a minor case under Section 326, I. P. Code can still be tried by a First Class Magistrate, but if it is more serious it has now to be sent to the Sessions Court to be tried either by a Sessions Judge or by an Assistant Sessions Judge and nothing in the amendment can detract in any way from the force of the words of Section 28 and the appropriate entry in the 8th column in the second schedule. AIR 1958 Punj 214 (Pr. 6) = 1958 Cri L Jour 800. (Cr. Revn. No. 226 of 1957, dated 11th October, 1957 (Punj), Dissent. from.)

(14) The jurisdiction of a Court to hear a case depends on the allegation with which its help is sought. The statement of a complainant in a criminal case and the statement of the plaintiff in a civil case have to be accepted for the purpose of jurisdiction. AIR 1925 All 290 (291) = 26 Cri L Jour 586  AIR 1966 Orissa 95 (96) = 1966 Cri LJ 566 = 32 Cut LT 310.

(15) When there are two or more offences disclosed at the initial stage resulting out of the same transaction, some within and others outside the jurisdiction of a bench of the Gram Cutcherry under the Bihar Panchayat Raj Act, 1947, the case relating to all such offences has to be tried by the Court which has jurisdiction to try the most serious one amongst them, and not by the bench of the Gram Cutcherry having jurisdiction over only one or more of them. 1960 BLJR 412 (414).

(16) A statement by an accused person that the offence committed by him is a more serious one, not triable by the Magistrate, does not deprive the Magistrate of jurisdiction, unless the prosecution accept the truth of that statement or the Magistrate is of the opinion that it is true. AIR 1938 Mad 784 (785) = 39 Cri L Jour 659.

(17) Where the facts disclose an offence which the Magistrate has jurisdiction to try, the mere fact that the same facts disclose a more serious offence beyond the Magistrate's competence to try will not render his proceedings void if the Magistrate tried the offender for the offence which he was competent to try. AIR 1956 Vindh Pra 19 (Pr. 4) = 1956 Cri L Jour 1023  1964 BLJR 230 (232).

AIR 1953 Mad 451 (Prs. 8 to 11) = 1953 Cri L Jour 882.

(19) In jurisdiction of the Court for trial depends upon the date of taking cognizance and not on the date of the occurrence. 1967 BLJR 35 (37).

(20) Court under Cr. P. C. is prohibited from taking cognizance of offences triable by a bench of Gram Cutcherry unless there is order to the contrary by concerned Magistrate. 1965 BLJR 661 (664) (DB).

(21) Juvenile offender charged with any offence under Penal Code or under any other law is exclusively triable by Juvenile Court under Mysore Children Act (1964) — Section 28 or 29 of Criminal P. C. has no application. AIR 1966 Mys 271 (274) = 1966 Cri LJ 1168 = (1966) 1 Mys LJ 249 (DB).

(22) No Magistrate other than a Second Class Magistrate has power to take cognizance of any of the offences under Section 119 of Kerala Panchayat Act upon information received or knowledge on suspicion under Sec. 190, Cr. P. C. AIR 1969 Ker 111 (119) = 1969 Cri LJ 486 = 1969 Ker LJ 351 (DB).

2. Subject to other provisions of the Code.— (1) Under Section 207 the Magistrate should not try but should commit the case to the Court of Session or the High Court where he is of opinion that it ought to be tried by such Court. Similarly Section 254 provides that the Magistrate shall try an accused person only for an offence which, in his opinion, can be adequately punished by him. ('92) 16 Bom 580 (585) (DB).

29. Offences under other laws.—(1) Subject to the *[other provisions of this Code], any offence under any other law shall, when any Court is mentioned in this behalf in such law, be tried by such Court.

(2) When no Court is so mentioned, it may be tried by the High Court or †[subject as aforesaid] by any Court constituted under this Code by which such offence is shown in the eighth column of the second schedule to be triable.

(3) Section 30 as amended by Act 1 of 1951 specifically mentions Section 28 and therefore the provisions of Section 28 and the second schedule must give way to the provisions of Sec. 30. The effect of the State Government investing the District Magistrate or any Magistrate of the first class with power under Section 30 is to bring into being an additional Court in which all offences not punishable with death become triable. AIR 1955 SC 191 (194) = (1955) 1 SCR 1045 = 1955 Cri L Jour 374  AIR 1956 Hyd 39 (40) = ILR (1956) Hyd 234 = 1956 Cri L Jour 402 (DB). [See also ILR (1954) Hyd 971 (973, 974). (Since Sections 28 and 29 are subject to Section 30 a Magistrate cannot commit a case falling under Section 304, I. P. C., to the Sessions Judge when a District Magistrate has been empowered under Section 30 to try that offence.)]

(4) The powers conferred under Sections 28 and 29, Cr. P. Code, are no doubt, subject to the other provisions of the code including Section 30. But having regard to the tenor, purport and language of Section 30, it cannot be inferred that powers conferred under Section 28 have been curtailed thereby. 1957 Andhra WR 247 (247).

(5) This section embodies a general provision in regard to powers of Court while Section 30 contains a special provision in regard to powers of Section 30 Magistrates. These two sections are not repugnant to each other. They deal with separate matters and can stand together. The amendment of Section 30 by Act 26 of 1955 does not in any way take away the powers which vest in a Magistrate of the First Class under Section 28 to deal with cases under Sections 326 and 409, Penal Code. AIR 1959 Punj 98 (Prs. 8, 9) = 1959 Cri L Jour 361 (DB).

3. Clause (c) — "Any other Court."—(1) "Any other Court" stated in Sec. 28 (c) means a Court referred to in Sec. 6 of the Code. It means a magisterial Court constituted under the Code and not a Special Court constituted under the M. B. Public Security Act, 1953 AIR 1957 Madh B 134 (Pr. 2) = 1957 Cri L Jour 452.

Section 29 — Note 1

(1) In the case of offences under laws other than the Penal Code, if a Court is specified in the particular enactment by which the offence is created, as having jurisdiction to try the offence, it is only such Court that can try the offence. 1. Scope.— (1) The section is not intended to take away the jurisdiction already conferred on Magistrates under Section 28 and column 8 of the second schedule of the Code. STATE AMENDMENTS

Gujarat

(1) In its application to the State of Gujarat, the amendment made in Section 30 is the same as that made in Maharashtra.— See Cent. Act 11 of 1960, S. 87.

(2) Magistrates in the City of Ahmedabad have the powers and exercise the jurisdiction of a Presidency Magistrate. — See Guj. Act XIX of 1961, Section 14 (3) [4-11-1961.]

jurisdiction. It gives Magistrates power to try offences which otherwise they cannot try. It deals only with the trial of offences and confers no power to pass a sentence. AIR 1943 Sind 87 (89) = 44 Cri L Jour 461.

(2) The scope of Section 30 is to enable a particular Magistrate to try a particular class of cases and has nothing to do with the competency of the Magistrate to try a particular class of cases. AIR 1960 Madh Pra 20 (22) = 1960 Cri LJ 82 = 1960 MPLJ 372.

(3) The object of conferring special powers on District Magistrates is to accelerate proceedings at the trial by avoiding the delay consequent on commitment to the Sessions Court. It is also intended to afford relief to those who have to attend as witnesses in the Court. AIR 1938 Nag 56 (58) = 39 Cri L Jour 660  ('03) 7 Cal WN 457 (460) (DB).

(4) The effect of the State Government investing the District Magistrate or any Magistrate of the first class with power under this section is to bring into being an additional Court in which all offences not punishable with death become triable. AIR 1955 SC 191 (194) = (1955) 1 SCR 1045 = 1955 Cri L Jour 374.

(5) First Class Magistrate exercising enhanced powers under this section in District K transferred to District G — Fresh Notification under Section 12 by State Government appointing him First Class Magistrate in District G — No Notification investing him with Sec. 30 powers — He cannot exercise enhanced powers under Section 30 in District G. AIR 1956 Punj 252 (Pr. 4) = ILR (1956) Punj 1119 = 1956 Cri L Jour 1429.

(6) Though before the amendment by the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act (1 of 1951) the section specifically referred only to Sec. 29, it was held that Section 28 also must be read subject to this section. AIR 1938 Nag 56 (58) = 39 Cri L Jour 660  AIR 1954 Him Pra 79 (79) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1494.

(7) The section as amended by the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act (1 of 1951) now refers both to Sections 28 and 29, so that Secs. 28 and 29 are subject to the provisions of this section. ILR (1954) Hyd 971 (973) (DB)  AIR 1955 SC 191 (194) = (1955) 1 SCR 1045 = 1955 Cri L Jour 374.

(8) The section does not offend against Article 14 of the Constitution. AIR 1954 Pat 218 (220) = 1954 Cri L Jour 565 = 32 Pat 728 (DB)  AIR 1955 SC 191 (196) = (1955) 1 SCR 1045 = 1955 Cri L Jour 374.

(9) The section as amended by Act 26 of 1955 does not in any way take away the powers which vest in a Magistrate of the first class under Section 28 to deal with cases under Sections 326 and 409 and other sections of the Penal Code. The only change that has been brought about by the amendment is that if the Magistrate considers that a severer punishment than two years is to be awarded in any of these cases, he should commit the case to the Court of Session and should not deal with it himself. AIR 1959 Punj 98 (Prs. 8, 9) = 1959 Cri L Jour 361 (DB).

2. "As a Magistrate."— (1) The section makes it clear that the cases tried by the specially empowered Magistrate shall be tried by him as a Magistrate. Hence, if he tenders pardon under Section 337 he is precluded from trying

— Bom. Act XXXIX of 1955, Section 3. [2-1-1956.]

(2) After the reorganization of the State of Bombay in 1956, the amendment made in Section 30 by the abovementioned Bombay Act was extended to the newly added areas of Hyderabad, Kutch and Saurashtra and the region of Vidarbha as from 1-9-1959 by Bombay Act XCVII of 1958.

In its application to the State of Mysore, omit the words "District Magistrate" at both places where they occur. — Mys. Act XIII of 1965, S. 13 (1-10-1965).

In its application to the States of Punjab and Haryana and Union Territory of Chandigarh, for Section 30 substitute the following namely :—

"30. ('73) 5 NWPHCR 219 (219, 220).

(4) Where the proceedings of the trial of offence under Section 304, I. P. C., punishable with imprisonment for life or imprisonment for 10 years, were pending before the Section 30 Magistrate, on the date of the commencement of the Amendment Act 26 of 1955, which restricted the powers of the Section 30 Magistrates, the proceedings are to be continued as if Section 30 has not been amended. Disposal of such cases after the amendment came into force is not without jurisdiction. 1957 Raj LW 492 (493).

(5) A Magistrate of the first class who is holding a preliminary enquiry into a case triable by a Court of Session has jurisdiction either to commit it to a Court of Session or to discharge the accused. He cannot make over the case to a District Magistrate specially empowered under Section 30. Where, however, no prejudice had been caused to the accused by reason of his having been convicted by a District Magistrate instead of by the Sessions Court, the conviction was maintained. ('03) 7 Cal WN 457 (460) (DB).

(6) The fact that a case described in the eighth column of Schedule II as one triable by a Court of Session is tried by a Magistrate specially empowered, does not however alter its nature or make it a case "triable by a Magistrate" within the meaning of Section 250. Hence, a Magistrate trying such a case cannot award compensation. AIR 1954 Pat 145 (146, 147) = 32 Pat 424 = 1954 Cri L Jour 221 (DB)  ('10) 11 Cri L Jour 396 (396) (Lah).

Union territories (except Chandigarh)

In its application to the Union territories, for Section 30, substitute the following, namely :—

"30. Offences punishable with imprisonment not exceeding seven years.— Notwithstanding anything contained in Section 28 or Section 29, the State Government, in consultation with the High Court, may invest any Chief Judicial Magistrate or any other Judicial Magistrate of the first class with power to try as a Judicial Magistrate all offences not punishable with death or with imprisonment for life or with imprisonment for a term exceeding seven years :

Provided that no Chief Judicial Magistrate or Judicial Magistrate of the first class shall be invested with such powers unless he has, for not less than ten years, exercised as a Magistrate powers not inferior to those of a Magistrate of the first class :

Provided further that if any Judicial Magistrate of the first class has, prior to his appointment as such Magistrate, exercised the powers of an Assistant Sessions Judge, he may be invested with the powers under this section notwithstanding the fact that he has not exercised the powers of Magistrate of the first class for not less than ten years."—Act 19 of 1969, Section 3 and Schedule, Item 14 (in Delhi on 2-10-1969).

416 (Pr. 4) = 25 Pat 733. (As far as possible the Magistrate should adhere to the procedure indicated in Sec. 256.)

(2) The Court of the District Magistrate exercising enhanced powers is nevertheless not constituted a Court of Session thereby, but remains that of a Magistrate and the procedure for the trial is regulated by Chapter 21 and not by Chapter 23. ('04) 1 Cri L Jour 1063 (1065) (DB) (Lah)  AIR 1916 Nag 97 (98) = 17 Cri L Jour 245.

(3) A Magistrate acting under this section has no power to try an accused person summarily. Colm. Dig Cr 42 of 1876  ('79) 1879 Pun Re. Cr. No. 25, p. 75 (75) (DB).

(4) The difference between the procedure of the trial of a case by a Sec. 30 Magistrate and the procedure in a case triable by a Sessions Court is not merely procedural but is one of substance. A notification conferring powers under this section on a Magistrate cannot have retrospective operations in the absence of some express provision in it to that effect : and the Magistrate invested with such powers cannot himself try a case, committal proceedings in which are pending before him at the time, but must continue the committal proceedings and either discharge the accused or commit him to the Court of Session. AIR 1953 Madh B 56 (Pr. 3) = ILR (1952) Madh B 571 = 1953 Cri L Jour 557 (DB).

(5) Where an Additional District Magistrate actually invested with powers, under Sec 30 acts under those powers, the fact that throughout the record of the case he described himself as Additional District Magistrate and signed the judgment in the same way cannot affect his exercise of powers under Section 30. AIR 1941 Lah 324 (326).

(6) A practice that when a case has not reached the stage of evidence, the City Magistrate acts as a substitute for the Section 30 Magistrate who is trying the case, if the latter is on tour, is illegal. 1936 AMLJ 85 (90).

4. "All offences not punishable with death or . . . . . .exceeding seven years"— (1) The section must be read as qualifying Sections 28 and 29 of the Code. All offences not punishable with death (or with imprisonment for life or with imprisonment for a term exceeding seven years) may be tried by Magistrate empowered under this section notwithstanding that under Sections 28 and 29 they are triable by the Courts specified in the eighth column of the second schedule of the Code. AIR 1926 Nag 374 (375) = 27 Cri L Jour 728  1912 Pun LR No. 223, p. 709 (710) (DB).

(2) Before the Code was amended by Act 26 of 1955, a case under Section 326, Penal Code, could either be sent to a First Class Magistrate if it was not a serious one, or to a Section 30 Magistrate, if it was more serious, but the appropriate sentence could not exceed seven years, and to a Sessions Court if a sentence of more than seven years appeared to be called for and the only effect of the amendment is that the degrees of seriousness of cases under Section 326, Penal Code are reduced from three to two and a minor case under Section 326, Penal Code can still be tried by a First Class Magistrate, but if it is more serious it has now to be sent to the Sessions Court to be tried either by Sessions Judge or by an Assistant Sessions Judge and nothing in the Amendment can detract in any way from the force of the words of Sec. 28 and the appropriate entry in the 8th column in the Second Schedule. AIR 1958 Punj 214 (Pr. 6) = 1958 Cri L Jour 800.

West Bengal

In its application to the State of West Bengal, for Section 30, substitute the following, namely:—

"30. Offences punishable with imprisonment not exceeding seven years.— Notwithstanding anything contained in Section 28 or Section 29, the State Government may, in consultation with the High Court, invest any Judicial Magistrate of the first class with power to try as a Magistrate all offences not punishable with death or with imprisonment for life or with imprisonment for a term exceeding seven years:

Provided that no such Judicial Magistrate shall be invested with such powers unless he has, for not less than ten years, exercised powers not inferior to those of a Judicial Magistrate of the first class:

Provided further that if any Judicial Magistrate of the first class has, prior to his appointment as such Magistrate, exercised the powers of an Assistant Sessions Judge, he may be invested with the powers under this section notwithstanding that he had not exercised the powers of a Judicial Magistrate of the first class for the ten years." —W. B. Act VIII of 1970, Section 3 and Schedule, Item 20.

criminal conspiracy to commit an offence punishable with death (or imprisonment for life) can according to the second schedule, be tried only by a Court of Session. This section will enable a Magistrate empowered under it to try the case, provided no murder has taken place in pursuance of the conspiracy. AIR 1925 Lah 157 (158) = 25 Cri L Jour 1241.

(4) Where a case is prima facie one of murder, a Magistrate specially empowered under this section has no power to try it. AIR 1944 Pat 92 (96) = 45 Cri L Jour 409 (DB)  AIR 1928 Lah 868 (869) (DB).

(5) Where there is evidence which, if believed, would sustain a charge of murder, it is undesirable that the Magistrate should, under this section, try the case for a minor offence. ('84) 10 Cal 85 (86) (DB).

(6) Cases on the borderline of jurisdiction and cases of great difficulty ought to be committed rather than be tried by the Magistrate under this section. 1 Bur LR 158.

(7) As a general rule, the cases which a Magistrate empowered under Sec. 30 should refrain from trying are, firstly, those in which a sentence more severe than he could inflict under Section 34 appears to be called for and, secondly, those cases in which the issues are so complex, or the difficulty of ascertaining the true facts or of correctly applying the law to them so considerable as to make a trial before a Sessions Judge with the aid of assessors more appropriate than a trial before a Magistrate under this section. 1893-1900 Low Bur Rul 219 (219).

(8) Where a Sessions Judge is of opinion that a Magistrate empowered under Section 30 has tried a case which he was not competent to try he should send the case to the High Court for an order that the accused be committed for trial to the Court of Session. AIR 1926 Lah 575 (575) = 27 Cri L Jour 846  AIR 1936 Pesh 139 (139) = 37 Cri L Jour 852.

(9) Though a case may be triable by a specially empowered Magistrate he is not precluded from committing it to a Court of Session if there are good reasons for his doing so. AIR 1952 Ajmer 49 (Pr. 10) = 1952 Cri L Jour 1563.

(10) A provision requiring a Magistrate to send a case to the Court of Session when it appears, that the offence is one triable exclusively by a Court of Session or that it ought to be tried by such Court cannot be taken to mean that a case that can be tried by a Magistrate invested with powers under this section must necessarily be sent for disposal to the Court of Session. AIR 1950 Ajmer 37 (Pr. 1) = 51 Cri L Jour 1240.

(11) The investment of powers under this section by the State Government does not oust the jurisdiction of the Court of Session, nor the powers of such a Magistrate especially empowered and those of the Sessions Judge become mutually exclusive. The investment of powers under this section does in no way affect the powers of the Court of Session conferred under Section 28 (2) to try all offences, of course, only on commitment. AIR 1956 Hyd 39 (40) = ILR (1956) Hyd 234 = 1956 Cri L Jour 402 (DB)  AIR 1956 Hyd 28 (28) = ILR (1955) Hyd 839 = 1956 Cri L Jour 216 (DB).

(12) The powers conferred under the repealed Section 30 remain unaffected by the commencement of Act 26 of 1955, and can be exercised in proceedings instituted after such commencement. AIR 1960 Madh Pra 180 (181) = 1960 Cri LJ 914 = 1960 MPLJ 147.

(13) The Hyderabad High Court has held that when there are good grounds for commitment, the Magistrate is bound to commit the case to the Court of Session. Such a Magistrate has no power

(14) It was held by the Hyderabad High Court that in view of the provisions of this section and the Notification Jud/AD/131/51 dated 20-4-1951 issued thereunder, cases coming under Section 304, Penal Code cannot be said to be exclusively triable by the Court of Session and consequently the Magistrate cannot commit a case falling under Section 304, Penal Code to the Sessions when a District Magistrate has been empowered under this section to try that offence. ILR (1954) Hyd 971 (975) (DB).

(15) Cases of rape and unnatural vice should, as far as possible, be tried by a Magistrate with Section 30 powers, so that if circumstances call for a heavy sentence, the same may be given up to the outside limit of seven years. AIR 1936 Lah 256 (256) = 37 Cri L Jour 474.

(16) It has been held that a case under the Prevention of Corruption Act in which the maximum sentence is seven years should be tried by a Sessions Judge and not by a Section 30 Magistrate. AIR 1952 Punj 53 (Pr. 9).

(17) It was held in the following case that reading this section with Section 8 of the Penalties (Enhancement) Ordinance, 1942 (3 of 1942) a Magistrate acting under this section had his jurisdiction enlarged so as to include the power to try offences punishable with death under the said Ordinance. AIR 1943 Sind 87 (89) = 44 Cri L Jour 461.

5. Revision.— (1) Court of a Magistrate exercising enhanced powers and trying cases triable by a Court of Session is nevertheless not a Court of coordinate jurisdiction with, but is inferior to, a Sessions Court and subject to its revisional powers. (2) A Magistrate who is not a District Magistrate, but is invested with enhanced powers, is nevertheless subordinate to the District Magistrate in the same way and to the same extent as any other Magistrate of the first class in the same district, and his orders are open to revision by the District Magistrate under Sections 436 and 437. AIR 1916 Nag 97 (98) = 17 Cri L Jour 245.

(19) Where the Court awards the maximum punishment it should give the reason therefor. AIR 1926 Lah 239 (240) = 27 Cri L Jour 186.

(20) Murder — Question of sentence has to be determined not with reference to the volume or character of evidence adduced by prosecution but with reference to extenuating circumstances mitigating enormity of crime. AIR 1957 SC 614 (619, 620) = 1957 SCR 981 = 1957 Cri L Jour 1000.

(21) Deliberate, cruel and cold-blooded murder by several accused — Court should not hesitate to impose extreme penalty on all unless circumstances exist which attract the principle of discrimination. AIR 1957 Bom 226 (231, 232) = 1957 Cri L Jour 1107.

(22) If murder is a deliberate one and there is no extenuating circumstance, sentence of death must be passed. AIR 1967 Goa 21 (31) = 1967 Cri LJ 357 (FB)  AIR 1965 Mad 48 (49) = 1965 (1) Cri LJ 184 = (1965) 2 Mad LJ 28 (DB).

(23) An act which has only recently been made an offence or which is not unlawful in other parts of the country or State or which is not essentially criminal in character, deserves leniency, except in the case of persistent offenders. AIR 1958 All 198 (204) = ILR (1957) 2 All 147 = 1958 Cri L Jour 316.

(24) Short sentences ought to be deprecated especially when there is a previous conviction. AIR 1936 Nag 245 (246) = ILR (1937) Nag 181 = 38 Cri L Jour 423.

(25) A short stay in jail sometimes proves more harmful to the accused. The stigma of a convict without the healthy effect of disciplined influence is likely to result in more harm . than good, but the Court cannot abstain from punishing people for grave offences. AIR 1960 Punj 482 (483, 484) = 1960 Cri LJ 1234 = 62 Pun LR 156.

(26) Offence under Drugs Act must be viewed with great concern — Adulteration of drug not too deleterious — Sentence of maximum fine would meet ends of justice. AIR 1959 Cal 427 (430) = 1959 Cri L Jour 829.

(27) What will serve the ends of justice is a deterrent sentence unless, having regard to the nature of the offence and the circumstances in which it is committed, a reformative punishment is called for. (3) A Magistrate has no jurisdiction in awarding a sentence to direct that any portion of the period during which the accused had been detained in custody as an under-trial prisoner should be computed as part of the sentence. AIR 1923 Lah 104 (105).

(4) In estimating what should be the proper sentence, the Court can take into consideration the period of detention as under-trial prisoner. ('10) 11 Cri L Jour 9 (10) (DB) (Cal).

(5) A sentence of imprisonment until the rising of the Court is good and fulfils the requirements of the law. AIR 1945 Mad 313 (313) = ILR (1945) Mad 529 = 47 Cri L Jour 50 (DB). (AIR 1929 Mad 226 = 30 Cri L Jour 247 and AIR 1942 Mad 723 = 44 Cri L Jour 139, Overruled.)

(6) Imprisonment for one day and detention till rising of Court are not different kinds of sentences and therefore. if an accused is sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for one day the accused cannot be detained in jail on a warrant issued for such a period as the day on which the sentence is passed counts as one day. AIR 1949 Cal 104 (Pr 2) = 50 Cri L Jour 135 (DB).

(7) Imprisonment in default of payment of fine should be long enough to induce the accused to pay the fine rather than suffer the imprisonment. AIR 1950 Kutch 73 (Pr 3).

(8) It is deducible from the provisions of Sections 32 and 33 that where a Magistrate has power to pass a sentence of imprisonment as well as of fine the limit placed on the term of the substantive imprisonment does not affect his power of passing sentence of imprisonment in default of payment of fine. AIR 1940 Rang 171 (172) = 1940 Rang LR 223 = 41 Cri L Jour 768.

(b) in any case decided by a Magistrate where imprisonment has been awarded as part of the substantive sentence, the period of imprisonment awarded in default of payment of the fine shall not exceed one-fourth of the period of imprisonment which such Magistrate is competent to inflict as punishment for the offence otherwise than as imprisonment in default of payment of the fine.

3. Fine.
4. Imprisonment.
5. "Authorized by law".
6. Refund of fine.
7. Proviso (a): In excess of powers.
8. Proviso (b): Limits to imprisonment in default where substantive sentence is ordered.
9. Sub-section (2).

1. Scope. — (1) Imprisonment in default of payment of fine is a punishment not imposed on account of the offence committed but on account of the failure of the accused to pay the fine which the Court has ordered him to pay. It is, in short, punishment for contempt of Court and the accused continues to be liable to pay fine for six years (see Section 70 of the Penal Code) notwithstanding the imprisonment. AIR 1953 Trav-Co 233 (Pr 3) = ILR (1952) Trav-Co 1006 = 1953 Cri LJ 1265.

(2) Section 33 only relates to cases in which imprisonment in default is authorised by law. ('94) 21 Cal 979 (985) (DB).

[See also (1955) 1955-1 All ER 413. R. v. Carver. (Case under Criminal Justice Act (1948) (British.))  ('95) 18 Mad 490 (491, 492) (DB).]

(3) Sections 63 to 70 of the Penal Code authorise the award of imprisonment in default of payment of fine in cases of offences punishable under the Penal Code. Under Section 25 of the General Clauses Act, 1897 (10 of 1897) the sections have been made applicable to all fines imposed under any Act, Regulation, rule or bye-law unless such Act, etc., contains any express provision to the contrary. The mere existence of a special procedure in an Act for the recovery of fines will not negative the power to award imprisonment unless the applicability of Sections 63 to 70 of the Penal Code is expressly excluded in the said Act. [But see ('72-92) 1872-92 Low Bur Rul 473 (473). (Case before the General Clauses Act of 1897.)]

(4) Section 33 does not make it imperative on a Court to award imprisonment in default of payment of fine. ('78) 1878 Pun Re (Cr) No. 30, p. 73 (73) (DB).

(5) Imprisonment in default of fine, should as a rule be awarded in cases where the Court is competent to award it, as otherwise the only procedure left open for the recovery of the fine would be that laid down in Sections 386 and 387, Criminal Procedure Code. ('92-96) 1 Upp Bur Rul 18 (18).

(6) Where a person who was sentenced to imprisonment and fine was released after he had served the full term of the imprisonment on his giving security for paying the fine by instalments, it was held that an order recommitting him to prison for default in paying the fine, passed after the period of six years within which the fine is leviable under S. 70 of the Penal Code, was illegal. AIR 1936 Lah 348 (349) = 37 Cri LJ 503.

(7) A sentence of joint fine on two accused persons with terms of imprisonment in default cannot be supported because it is impossible to say whether either of the convicted persons is liable to suffer the entire term of imprisonment and in what proportion to the default. AIR 1938 Pat 271 (271, 272) = 39 Cri LJ 531.

2. "Court of any Magistrate." — (1) The word "Magistrate" in the section is not qualified, as it is in Section 35 (2) (b), by the addition of the words "other than a Magistrate acting under S. 34": hence the section applies also to Magistrates specially empowered under S. 34. ('93-1900) 1893-1900 Low Bur Rul 281 (281).

(2) The imprisonment awarded under this section may be in addition to a substantive sentence of imprisonment for the maximum term awardable by the Magistrate under Section 32.

STATE AMENDMENTS

Union Territories (except Chandigarh)

In its application to the Union territories, in Section 33,—

(i) in sub-section (1), in the marginal heading, for the word 'Magistrates', substitute the words 'Judicial Magistrates';

(ii) in the opening paragraph, for the words 'any Magistrate', substitute the words 'any Judicial Magistrate';

(iii) in the proviso, in clause (b), for the words 'by a Magistrate', substitute the words "by a Judicial Magistrate."—Act 19 of 1969, S. 3 and Sch., item 15 (in Delhi on 2-10-1969).

The Act has not been brought into force so far and hence in the Union territory of Goa, Goa, Daman and Diu (Separation of the Judicial and Executive Functions) Order, 1963, published in Goa Gaz., 28-12-1963, Sr. I, p. 411, shall still be in force.

In the Union Territory of Chandigarh, created by Act 31 of 1966, Punjab Act XXV of 1964, on the subject, is in force in virtue of S. 89 of Act 31 of 1966.

3. Fine. — (1) The excess charge or fare referred to in Section 113 of the Railways Act (9 of 1890), cannot be said to be a fine, though recoverable as such. Hence, imprisonment cannot be awarded in default of payment of such charge or fare. ('94) 18 Bom 440 (441) (DB)  ('97) 20 All 95 (95)  ('97) 20 Mad 385 (386) (DB).

(2) Where an Act provides for the award of compensation (e. g., Cattle-trespass Act) the mere fact that compensation may be levied as a fine does not authorise the Court to order imprisonment in default of payment thereof. The ordinary mode of levying fines is prescribed in Section 386 of the Code. ('90) 1 Weir 712 (712)  ('96) 19 Mad 238 (239) (DB)  ('94) 22 Cal 139 (143) (DB)  (1900) 27 Cal 992 (992) (DB)  AIR 1930 Nag 149 (149) = 31 Cri LJ 278.

(3) Section 386 does not apply to compensation ordered under Section 250 of the Code. ('94) 21 Cal 979 (985) (DB).

(4) Section 386 itself now prescribes for the passing of an order of imprisonment simultaneously with the order for compensation. Court-fees ordered to be paid under Section 31 (now repealed — see Sections 546-A and 547, Criminal P. C.) of the Court-fees Act though recoverable as fines were not fines within the meaning of this section. ('94) 1 Weir 724 (724).

(5) There is no distinction between the word "penalty" in the Bombay District Municipalities Act (6 of 1873) (since repealed — see now Bombay Act 3 of 1901) and the word "fine" in the Penal Code. So imprisonment may be awarded in default of payment of the penalty. ('93) 18 Bom 400 (401) (DB).

(6) Section 75 of the Penal Code contains no power to fine for an offence punishable under Chapter XII or XVII when such offence is committed after a previous conviction of an offence punishable under one of those chapters. Consequently in such a case a sentence of fine and imprisonment in default is illegal. (1900-02) 1 Low Bur Rul 57 (2) (58).

4. Imprisonment. — (1) Only imprisonment can be awarded in default of payment of fine. Transportation cannot be awarded nor whipping. ('82) 5 Mad 28 (29) = 1 Weir 30 (DB)  ('80) 1880 Pun Re (Cr), No. 17 p. 29 (30) (DB)  ('66) 1866 Pun Re (Cr) No. 5 p. 6 (6). (Whipping cannot be awarded.)

(2) A Court cannot order that a juvenile offender be sent to the Reformatory School in default of payment of fine as under Section 8 of the Reformatory Schools Act, 1897 (8 of 1897), a youth cannot be sent to a Reformatory School unless a substantive sentence of imprisonment or transportation has been passed on him. ('11) 12 Cri LJ 244 (244) = 4 Bur LT 69.

(3) Where the kind of imprisonment which the offender may be sentenced to for the offence as a substantive punishment is simple, the imprisonment that may be awarded in default of payment of fine can only be simple and not rigorous. STATE AMENDMENTS

In its application to the State of Gujarat, the amendment made in Sec. 36 is the same as that made in Maharashtra.—See Cent. Act XI of 1960, S. 87.

Maharashtra

(1) In its application to the State of Maharashtra in S. 36 for the words "District Magistrates, Sub-Divisional Magistrates and Magistrates of the first, second and third classes" substitute the words "Judicial and Executive Magistrates other than Special Judicial and Executive Magistrates."—Bom. Act XXIII of 1951, S. 2 and Schedule (1-7-1953): Maha. A. L. O., 1960.

(2) After the reorganization of the State of Bombay in 1956 the amendment made in Section 36 by the above-mentioned Bombay Act is extended to the newly added areas of Hyderabad, Kutch and Saurashtra and the region of Vidarbha as from 1-9-1959 by Bom. Act XCVII of 1958.

particular offences. This section read with Sch. III defines certain incidental powers vested in the Magistrates of each class, which they are required to exercise either in the course of trial before them or otherwise. These powers are referred to as the ordinary powers of a Magistrate as opposed to additional powers, which may be conferred on him under Section 37. AIR 1951 Madh B 67 (Pr 5) = 52 Cri LJ 214  AIR 1928 Sind 1 (4) = 28 Cri LJ 913 (FB)  AIR 1969 Ker 111 (116) = 1969 Cri LJ 486 = 1969 Ker LT 351 (DB).

(2) The power to issue a search warrant under Section 96 is one of the ordinary powers of any Magistrate. ('12) 13 Cri LJ 693 (700) (PC).

(3) The power to hear an appeal against an order passed under Section 514 of the Code is one of the ordinary powers of a District Magistrate. AIR 1951 Madh B 67 (Pr 5) = 52 Cri LJ 214.

(4) When a person is appointed as a Magistrate under Sections 10, 12 or 13 he has powers conferred on him as specified in this section. AIR 1963 Tripura 31 (34) = (1963) (2) Cri LJ 322.

(5) Magistrates have various powers under the Code namely to try and to commit cases and power to take cognizance of offences. AIR 1969 Ker 111 (116) = 1969 Cri LJ 486 = 1969 Ker LT 351 (DB).

(6) The mere fact that the State Government has apppointed a first class Magistrate to be an Additional District Magistrate having all the powers of a District Magistrate, cannot abrogate the powers which the Code itself vests in a District Magistrate. AIR 1951 Madh B 67 (Pr 8) = 52 Cri LJ 214.

(7) Where a system of separation of judicial and executive functions obtains and there are Munsif Magistrates who can try cases, it is not proper for the other Magistrates to exercise judicial functions except when the Munsif Magistrates have no power to act. AIR 1951 Vind Pra 49 (Pr 8) = 1952 Cri LJ 13.

(8) Power to take cognizance of an offence under Section 190 is an ordinary power of a Sub-Divisional or Divisional Magistrate. AIR 1969 Ker 111 (116) = 1969 Cri LJ 486 = 1969 Ker LT 351 (DB).

(9) The power to entertain complaints is not one of the ordinary powers of a first, second or third class Magistrate, but must be conferred as an additional power under Section 37. ('11) 12 Cri LJ 535 (535) = 34 Mad 343 (DB).

(10) Schedule III is, however, not exhaustive of the powers conferred on Magistrates under the Code. A first class Magistrate, therefore, can exercise the powers under Section 106 and demand security for keeping the peace notwithstanding the fact that they are not specified in Schedule III. ('32) 1932 Mad WN 151 (152).

(11) A power to act under a particular section referred to in Schedule III can only mean a power to act subject to the conditions of that section. Thus, a power to act under Section 107 is conferred by Sechdule III on a first class Magistrate, but a District Magistrate cannot detain the accused under sub-section (4) of Section 107 unless the accused has been sent up before him under sub-section 3. ('08) 7 Cri LJ 360 (360) = 31 Mad 315 (FB).

(12) Any notification conferring on Justices of the Peace, the powers of a first class Magistrate, confers only the ordinary powers under this section and not any of the powers conferrable on them under Section 37, or any other general powers of the Magistrate under the Code. ('11) 12 Cri LJ 535 (535) = 34 Mad 343 (DB)  ('11) 12 Cri LJ 42 (42) = 34 Mad 346 (SB)  AIR 1917

Punjab, Haryana and Chandigarh:

In its application to the States of Punjab and Haryana and the Union Territory of Chandigarh, in sub-section (1) of Section 39, for the words "the State Government", substitute the words "the State Government or the High Court, as the case may be,".

—Punj. Act XXV of 1964, S. 2 and Schedule Pt. I, item (18) (2-10-1964) and Act 31 of 1966, Ss. 29 and 89 (1-11-1960).

SECTION 39

1. Conferment of powers, "generally" or "specially." — (1) Where, by notification of the Government, a class of officials is invested with powers to try certain offences, such officials are generally empowered. AIR 1953 Assam 35 (Pr 17) = 1953 Cri LJ 395 (FB)  AIR 1956 Sau 73 (Prs 2, 6) = 1956 Cri LJ 1231 (DB)  AIR 1915 Mad 1159 (1160) = 16 Cri LJ 268 (269) (DB)  1964 BLJR 242 (245)  (1963) (2) Cr LJ 226 (228) = (1962) 40 Mys LJ 930 (DB) (Mys)  AIR 1960 Andh Pra 282 (285) = 1960 Cri LJ 569 = (1960) Andh LJ 55.

(2) Where a notification empowers the Magistrates mentioned in the list attached to the notification to try certain cases, such Magistrates are specially empowered. AIR 1924 Mad 256 (256) = 24 Cri LJ 846 (DB)  1964 BLJR 242 (245).

(3) A Magistrate is an "office" and not an "official" and so the empowerment of "the Magistrates of the first class" is in virtue of their office and "special". AIR 1953 Assam 35 (Pr 17) = 1953 Cri LJ 395 (FB). (AIR 1915 Mad 1159 = 16 Cri LJ 268, Dissented from.)  AIR 1953 Trav-Co 402 (407) = ILR (1953) Trav-Co 514 = 1953 Cri LJ 1613 (DB)  (1963) 2 Cr LJ 226 (228) = (1962) 40 Mys LJ 930 (DB) (Mys)  AIR 1960 Andh Pra 282 (285) = 1960 Cri LJ 569 = (1960) Andh LT 55.

(4) Addition of words "class of officers generally by their official title" in Section 39 (1) include all classes of Magistrates which would not have been otherwise possible if it had not used the words, 'by virtue of their office'. AIR 1960 Andh Pra 282 (285) = 1960 Cri LJ 569 = (1960) Andh LT 55.

(5) Judge empowered by Government to try cases under Section 396, Penal Code under a special procedure — Offence under Section 395 without murder cannot be tried by such Judge by special procedure. AIR 1933 Rang 116 (117) = 34 Cri LJ 929 (DB).

(6) The fact that a Subordinate Judge duly invested with powers of a Magistrate of First Class was later on invested with higher powers of the Additional Judge of the Court of Session does not divest him of the powers conferred on him as a Magistrate of the First Class unless his powers as a Magistrate are withdrawn under Section 41. AIR 1956 Nag 67 (Pr 13) = ILR (1954) Nag 962 = 1956 Cri LJ 256 (DB).

(7) Appointment of District Magistrates as Assistant Sessions Judges, not by names but by designation is permissible in view of this section and Section 15 of the General Clauses Act. Such a notification does not violate Article 233 of the Constitution. AIR 1967 Mad 351 (Pa 4) = ILR (1957) Mad 597 = 1957 Cri LJ 642 (DB).

(8) Presiding Officer of Industrial Tribunal appointed First Class Magistrate for trying offences under labour enactments in entire State by Notification under Section 14, Criminal P. C. — Conferment of powers is legal. AIR 1964 Andh Pra 471 (474, 475) = 1964 (2) Cri LJ 378 = (1963) 2 Andh WR 410.

(9) The State Government can confer additional powers mentioned in Section 37 on persons by name or by virtue of their office or on classes of officials

Union Territories (except Chandigarh):

In its application to the Union Territories, in Sec. 39, add the following proviso, namely:—

> "Provided that in the case of Judicial Magistrates, the State Government shall confer such powers in consultation with the High Court."—Act 19 of 1969, S. 3 and Schedule, Item 19 (in Delhi on 2-10-1969).

generally by their official titles. AIR 1967 SC 1599 (1604) = 1967 Cri LJ 1569 = (1967) 3 SCR 186  (1963) (2) Cr LJ 226 (228) = (1962) 40 Mys LJ 930 (DB) (Mys).

(10) Rule under Section 18 of the Bihar and Orissa General Clauses Act 1917, being same as under Section 39 (1) appointment of different officers to discharge their functions as Election Officers could also be made by reference to their offices. 1964 BLJR 242 (245).

(11) Section 39 (1) can only apply to criminal cases. 1964 BLJR 242 (245).

(12) Conferment of power under Section 39 is not limited to conferring additional powers under Section 37. AIR 1936 Tripura 31 (34) = (1963) 2 Cri LJ 322.

(13) A person holding another official post can be conferred the power of a Magistrate in virtue of his office with the result that the successor in the said office also becomes invested with the said power. AIR 1963 Tripura 31 (33) = (1963) 2 Cri LJ 322.

(14-15) The word "specially" does not convey the idea of picking and choosing of the Magistrates and whether additional powers should be conferred on some or all depend on the exigencies of the situation and not on any other test, as Section 39 speaks of conferring powers on Magistrates by virtue of their office and of conferring powers on a class or classes of Magistrates. 1963 (2) Cri LJ 226 (227, 228) = (1962) 40 Mys LJ 930.

(16) Sanitary Inspectors would be deemed to be class of officers generally by their "official title" in the sense in which it was used in Section 39. AIR 1970 Tripura 1 (9).

2. Order conferring powers, when takes effect — Sub-section (2). — (1) The expression "communicate" in S. 39 (2) is not synonymous with the expression "publish" which means "to make public." It means "to bestow, convey, make known, recount, to impart as to communicate information to any one." So where a Magistrate passes an order under Section 488, Criminal P. C., after the notification investing him with powers of a First Class Magistrate, but before the order investing him with powers of the First Class Magistrate is communicated to him, the order under Section 488 is void. AIR 1956 Punj 254 (255) = 1956 Cri LJ 1430 (1).

(2) Where before the sentence is passed in a case, the Magistrate trying the case is invested with higher powers, he can pass sentence in the exercise of such higher powers. ('85) 7 All 414 (418, 419, 422) (FB)  AIR 1928 Mad 55 (55) = 29 Cri LJ 71 (DB).

[See AIR 1925 Pat 472 (472) = 26 Cri LJ 914 (DB).]

(3) The maxim omnis ratihabitio retrotrahitur et mandato priori acquiparatur — a subsequent ratification or confirmation has a retrospective effect and is equivalent to a prior command does not apply to criminal cases. (1864) 1 Bom HCR 107 (111) (SB)  AIR 1957 Him-Pra 52 (Pr 14) = 1957 Cri LJ 1254.

(4) A power conferred under this section has no retrospective effect. ('78) 3 Cal LR 281 (282) (DB)  AIR 1933 Pesh 97 (97) = 35 Cri LJ 462.

(5) Where a third class Magistrate passes a sentence which only a second class Magistrate can pass a subsequent notification investing him with second class powers from a date antecedent to that of the sentence will not validate the sentence passed. ('78) 3 Cal LR 281 (282) (DB).

(6) When an officer having powers of a First Class Magistrate who is working as a Revenue Assistant is posted elsewhere as a Tehsildar, it amounts to a reversion and it cannot be said that he continued to have these powers. After his reversion he has no authority to record a confession. The position will not be remedied by subsequent issue of notification under Section 39 vesting the officer with powers with retrospective effect. AIR 1957 Him Pra 52 (Pr 16) = 1957 Cri LJ 1254.

(7) Where an order is found to have been communicated on a particular day, but the hour of communication thereof is not clear, the rule that official acts must be presumed to have been done at the earliest part of the day will be applied. ('06) 10 Cal WN ccxliii (ccxliv).

(8) There is no statutory provision fixing the date when the withdrawal of powers conferred takes effect unless the officer knows that his powers have been withdrawn, he cannot cease to exercise them. AIR 1957 All 267 (Prs 2, 4) = 1957 Cri LJ 492 (DB).

1. Scope.
2. "Unless the State Government otherwise directs."
3. "Is appointed to an equal or higher office of the same nature."
4. Absence on leave, effect of.
5. Absence on foreign service, effect of.

1. Scope.— (1) This section contemplates that a person invested with any powers under the Code may have two sets of powers. AIR 1956 Nag 67 (69) = ILR (1954) Nag 962 = 1956 Cri L Jour 256 (DB).

(2) This section provides that whenever any person invested with any powers under the Code in any local area is appointed to an equal or higher office of the same nature in a like local area under the same State Government, the powers so invested continue in him. ('99) 22 Mad 47 (48) (DB)  ('92) 15 Mad 132 (133) = 2 Weir 36 (DB).

(3) The person can continue to exercise the powers only in the local area in which he is so appointed. The reason is that under Section 12, Magistrates can exercise jurisdiction only within the local areas defined for them or where there is no such definition, throughout the district. ('84) 1884 Pun Re (Cr) No. 15, p. 20 (22, 23) (DB).

2. "Unless the State Government otherwise directs."— (1) Where A who was invested with powers by the State Government to exercise summary jurisdiction in District X under Section 222 of the Code of 1872 (now Section 260), proceeded to England on furlough and on his return was posted to District Y and was invested by a fresh notification with the powers of a Magistrate of the first class, it was held that the fresh investment of powers was a "direction otherwise" within the meaning of this section and that A could not exercise summary powers in District Y. ('76) 2 Cal 117 (120, 121, 122) (DB).

(2) Where a First Class Magistrate with Section 30 powers in District K was transferred to District G and the Government issued a fresh notification under Section 12 appointing him a First Class Magistrate in District G, he cannot exercise enhanced powers under Section 30 in District G. Express mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. AIR 1956 Punj 252 (Pr. 4) = ILR (1956) Punj 1119 = 1956 Cri L Jour 1429.

(3) Under Section 40 a Magistrate continues to exercise the same powers in successive local areas to which he may be transferred. 1960 Jab LJ 255 (255) = 1960 MPLJ 408.

3. "Is appointed to an equal or higher office of the same nature."— (1) This section applies only when a person invested with any powers under the Code is appointed to an equal or higher office of the same nature within a like local area under the same State Government. AIR 1933 Sind 398 (400) = 35 Cri L Jour 187 (DB).

12. Arrest on requisition from another police-officer — Clause (9).— (1) This clause does not seek to limit in any way the application of the other clauses and merely introduces another class of persons who can be arrested without a warrant. AIR 1943 Mad 207 (207) = 44 Cri L Jour 272.

(2) Where an officer-in-charge of a certain thana, who could personally have arrested the accused, gave a command certificate to the constables of his thana directing them to make the arrest it was held that under this clause the constables were justified in making the arrest. Bombay Act IV of 1902 has been repealed by the Bombay Police Act, 1951 (XXII of 1951), S. 167 (1) and Schedule I (which Act applies to the whole State of Bombay from 1-8-1951). Section 167 (3) read with Sch. III of that Act has amended Section 1 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, in its application to the State of Bombay, so as to make the whole Code applicable to the town of Bombay (now greater Bombay) as well.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

1923.—Sub-section (1), ninthly.—"We think that amendment of Section 54, as drafted, might lead to the interpretation that a requisition could only be issued in cases where arrest was lawful under the first clause of sub-clause (1). We do not think that this was the intention, and we would, therefore, add a separate clause for arrest on requisition. We agree with those critics who desire that some safeguard should be provided, and we have, therefore, proposed to lay down that the requisition shall reveal the offence or other cause for which the arrest is to be made, so that the arresting officer can satisfy himself that the arrest could lawfully have been made without warrant by the officer issuing requisition."—S.C.R. (XVIII of 1923).

55. Arrest of vagabonds, habitual robbers, etc.—(1) Any officer in charge of a police station may, in like manner, arrest or cause to be arrested—

(a) any person found taking precautions to conceal his presence within the limits of such station, under circumstances which afford reason to believe that he is taking such precautions with a view to committing a cognizable offence; or

(b) any person within the limits of such station who has no ostensible means of subsistence, or who cannot give a satisfactory account of himself; or

[See however AIR 1968 All 132 = 1968 Cri LJ 435.]

(4) The power of directing the arrest under Section 54 (9) of some person at a place outside the local limits of the jurisdiction of a Court is wide and drastic and has to be exercised with caution and circumspection and on substantial reasons. AIR 1959 Madh Pra 147 (149).

Section 55 — Note 1

(1) The fact that a person is a habitual offender is by itself not an offence, but he may be arrested under this section and dealt with under the security sections. AIR 1918 Mad 514 (514) = 18 Cri L Jour 709 (709) (DB)  AIR 1926 Sind 190 (191) = 27 Cri L Jour 628 (DB).

(2) This section is independent of Chapter VIII of the Code although proceeding under Chapter VIII may follow such arrest as a natural sequence. ('13) 14 Cri L Jour 618 (618) = 35 All 407  AIR 1930 Pat 103 (104) = 31 Cri L Jour 717.

(3) A person, who is suspected of earning his livelihood by unlawful gaming, cannot be arrested under this section. ('06) 3 Cri L Jour 20 (20) = 3 Low Bur Rul 94.

(4) This section is intended for suppression of habitual bad characters whom an officer in charge of a police-station suddenly finds within his circle, or about whom he has good cause to fear that they will commit serious harm before there is time to apply to the nearest Magistrate empowered to deal with the case under Section 112. ('91) 14 All 45 (46).

(5) The words "in like manner" refer to Section 54 under which a police-officer has power to arrest without an order from a Magistrate and without a warrant. ('13) 14 Cri L Jour 618 (618) = 35 All 407.

(6) An arrest on mere suspicion that a person is concerned in several offences is not justified. AIR 1924 Mad 555 (557) = 25 Cri L Jour 563.

(7) It is illegal for an officer in charge of a police-station to arrest a person under this section out of the limits of his station. ('83) 1883 All WN 223 (223).

(8) When the police act under this section they are bound to give the person arrested the option of bail, and that bail should be not excessive but in accordance with the position in life occupied by the person arrested. ('92) 14 All 45 (47).

[But see ('36) 37 Cri L Jour 1070 (1071) = 63 Cal 189 (DB).]

(9) An arrest by an Inspector of Police in Calcutta of a person who has no ostensible means of subsistence or is unable to give a satisfactory account of himself, is quite legal. ('04) 1 Cri L Jour 535 (537) = 31 Cal 557 (DB).

(10) It is only if arrest is made under Section 55 which is quite different from Sections 54 (1) and 151 that question of proceeding against arrested person under Section 109 would arise. AIR

(c) any person who is by repute an habitual robber, house-breaker or thief, or an habitual receiver of stolen property knowing it to be stolen, or who by repute habitually commits extortion or in order to the committing of extortion habitually puts or attempts to put persons in fear of injury.

STATE AMENDMENT

West Bengal

In its application to the State of West Bengal, in Section 75 (1), for the word 'Magistrates', substitute the words "Judicial Magistrates"—Presi. Act VIII of 1968, Section 3 and Schedule, item 25.

SECTION 75 — SYNOPSIS

1. Difference between summons and warrant.
2. Requisites of a valid warrant of arrest.
3. Form of warrant.
4. General warrant.
5. Special warrant.
6. Conditional warrant.
7. Effect of illegal warrant.
8. "Until it is cancelled by the Court issuing it."
9. "Or until it is executed."

1. Difference between summons and warrant.— (1) A warrant addressed to a police-officer to apprehend an offender and to bring him before a Magistrate is not "a summons, notice, or order" within the meaning of Section 172 of the Penal Code. AIR 1928 All 232 (233) = 30 Cri L Jour 203  (1906) 3 Cri L Jour 117 (118) (DB) (Cal).

2. Requisites of a valid warrant of arrest.— (1) An arrest in the wake of a warrant of arrest is deprivation of the personal liberty of the person arrested. It is, therefore, incumbent upon the Magistrate to issue a warrant strictly in accordance with law. AIR 1968 Cal 220 (228) = 1968 Cri LJ 604 = 71 Cal WN 508 (DB).

(2) A warrant which is not signed by the authority issuing it is invalid and any arrest made in execution of such warrant is illegal. AIR 1918 Pat 252 (253) = 19 Cri L Jour 1000 (DB).

(3) The official designation of the person signing and the place of signing should appear on the face of the warrant. (1872) 9 Bom HCR 154 (159, 160).

(4) A warrant signed by a Magistrate at a place outside the limits of his jurisdiction has been held to be illegal. (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 570 (571) = 1910 Pun Re Cr. No. 23 (DB).

(5) The signature contemplated is that of the officer who is actually presiding at the time of the issue of the warrant. AIR 1932 Pat 175 (176) = 34 Cri L Jour 297  AIR 1932 Pat 171 (175) = 33 Cri L Jour 706 (DB).

(6) The signature should be made with a pen and not a stamp so that its authenticity may admit of proof. But the affixing of a signature by a stamp is only an irregularity which does not vitiate the warrant. (1883) 6 Mad 396 (398) (DB).

(7) Warrant bearing initials instead of full signature of Magistrate — Irregularity is curable. AIR 1956 Orissa 97 (99) = ILR (1956) Cut 50 = 1956 Cri L Jour 635.

(8) An omission to affix the seal renders the warrant invalid. AIR 1915 Cal 737 (738) = 16 Cri L Jour 336 (336) (DB)  AIR 1928 Lah 332 (333) = 29 Cri L Jour 265  (1894) 18 Bom 636 (668, 669) (DB)  1962 (1) Cr LJ 91 (93) (Raj) (DB).

(8) A warrant which is duly sealed and which does not in terms specify the period during which it is to remain in force, is not rendered invalid merely because it is attached to a piece of paper on which unsealed endorsements are made by the Court. AIR 1952 Trav 459 (Pr. 11) = ILR (1952) Trav-Co 133 = 1952 Cri L Jour 1592 (DB).

(11) An endorsement of a warrant under Section 79 should be made by name to the person to whom it is endorsed. (1900) 4 Cal WN 85 (86).

(13) Where a person is prosecuted for illegal disobedience to a warrant of arrest, the onus is on the prosecution to show that the accused was the person against whom the warrant had been issued. (1901) 28 Cal 399 (400, 401).

(14) A warrant which does not specify a punishable offence, and which has been issued upon a statement, not sufficient to make out any offence, is illegal. (1871) 6 Beng LR (App) 129 (130) (DB)  (1875) 24 Suth WR (Cr) 58 (59) (DB).

(15) The person executing the warrant is bound to notify its substance to the person arrested. If not, the arrest is not legal. ('99) 26 Cal 748 (750) (DB)  AIR 1924 Mad 555 (556) = 25 Cri L Jour 563.

(16) The Cr. P. Code nowhere empowered the Magistrate, under the colour of exercising powers under Section 75, to send the warrant to a place outside India through Government of India for the extradition of the petitioner a procedure which the Cr. P. Code never intended and unknown to it. AIR 1968 Cal 220 (228) = 1968 Cri LJ 604 = 71 Cal WN 508 (DB).

3. Form of warrant.— (1) A strict adherence to the form prescribed in Schedule V, Form No. 2, tends to prevent the warrant being granted irregularly, and without enquiry as to whether the circumstances justify its issue. (1864) 1 Suth WR (Cr) (Cir) 7 (7).

(2) Where any special or local Act does not provide a form of the warrant of arrest, the form prescribed by the Code should be adopted. (1894) 18 Bom 636 (668) (DB).

4. General warrant.— (1) A general warrant, or a warrant to apprehend all persons committing a particular offence is illegal. (1872) 9 Bom HCR 154 (159, 160)  1895 Pun Re (Cr) No. 11, p. 38 (39).

5. Special warrant.— (1) A special warrant, can only be executed by the officer named therein. A warrant which can be endorsed over to another officer for execution is not a special warrant. AIR 1929 Bom 157 (160) = 30 Cri L Jour 595 (DB).

(2) Warrant under Section 5 of the Public Gambling Act is a special warrant — Operation of Section 75, Criminal P. C. is barred. AIR 1948 Lah 81 (83) = 49 Cri L Jour 150 (DB).

6. Conditional warrant.— (1) A warrant which provides that the person against whom it is issued should do a particular thing and that, if he does not do so, he should be arrested is invalid. (1894) 18 Bom 636 (659, 667) (DB).

(AIR 1968 Cal 220, Reversed.)

Section 83 — Note 1

(1) The power under this section should be exercised with the utmost circumspection. AIR 1940 Bom 397 (398) = 42 Cri L Jour 205 (DB).

(2) Section 83 (1) is intended to provide a safeguard to a person who has to be arrested, so that he is not arrested without a proper authority having applied his mind to the question of the legality of the warrant and authorised arrest outside its jurisdiction. AIR 1956 Bom 591 (591) = 1956 Cri L Jour 989.

(3) Where a warrant is sent for execution to the Magistrate of a district where a different language is in ordinary use, the warrant should be accompanied by a translation, certified by the transmitting Magistrate to be correct, into such other language or into English. In such cases it would be proper that the warrant should always be accompanied by a letter in English requesting its execution. ('72) 18 Suth WR (Cr Cir Order) No. 3, p. 9.

(4) A non-bailable warrant issued by the Chief Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta was addressed to the "o/c concerned" and referred to the accused merely by their names without reference to address, description or occupation, and in the margin of the warrant a note was initialled by the said Magistrate, "Forwarded to the third Presidency Magistrate, Bombay, for favour of execution and return." It was held that the warrant must be dealt with strictly and that the warrant in question was invalid. AIR 1940 Bom 397 (399) = 42 Cri LJ 205 = ILR (1941) Bom 16 (DB).

(5) The City Magistrate of Srinagar in a case under Section 420, Penal Code, issued warrant for the arrest of P whose address was at 91, Theatre Road, Calcutta, and sent the same for execucause it to be executed in manner hereinbefore provided within the local limits of his jurisdiction.

Gujarat:

In its application to the State of Gujarat, the amendment made in S. 83 is the same as that in (i) of Maharashtra.—See Central Act XI of 1960, S. 87 (1-5-1960).

Maharashtra:

(i) In its application to the State of Bombay, as formed by S. 8 of the States Reorganisation Act, 1956, in sub-section (1) of Section 83, delete the words "in a presidency-town".—Bom. Act LVI of 1959, S. 3 and Schedule (4-1-1960).

(ii) In its application to the State of Maharashtra, in sub-section (1) of Section 83, for the words "District Superintendent of Police", substitute the words "Superintendent of Police"; and in sub-section (2), for the words "District Superintendent", substitute the word "Superintendent".—Maha. Act XLVI of 1962, S. 3 and Schedule (1-7-1964).

(iii) Section 83 (2), so far as it applied to the police in the town of Bombay, was repealed by the City of Bombay Police Act, 1902 (Bom. Act IV of 1902), which Act has now been repealed and replaced by the Bombay Police Act, 1951 (Bom. Act XXII of 1951), S. 167 (1) and Schedule I. By Section 167 (3) read with Schedule III of the Bombay Police Act, 1951, S. 1 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, is so amended as to make the Code applicable to the Town of Bombay. The Bombay Police Act, 1951, which applies to the whole State of Bombay, has come into force on 1-8-1951.

(iv) Cities of Bombay, Nagpur and Poona have Commissioners of Police.

tion to the Chief Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta through the Government of West Bengal. As the place was outside the jurisdictional limits of the Chief Presidency Magistrate he forwarded the warrant for execution to the Commissioner of Police and ordered the accused to furnish bail for appearance before the Srinagar Magistrate. It was held that Section 83 which conferred jurisdiction on the issuing Court to forward the warrant for execution to the Commissioner of Police did not apply to the case and the Chief Presidency Magistrate as internal Court, on receipt of the warrant for execution issued by an external Court, had no such jurisdiction. AIR 1955 Cal 277 (278) = 1955 Cri L Jour 791 (DB).

(6) Mere affixing of initials instead of name of magistrate as required by Section 83 (2) amounts to an irregularity curable by Section 537, Criminal P. C. AIR 1956 Orissa 97 (99) = ILR (1956) Cut 50 = 1956 Cri L Jour 635.

(7) Warrant directed to Sub-Inspector of Police Station without mentioning particular Police Station — Warrant sent to Chief Presidency Magistrate Bombay through the complainant with forwarding letter for execution — Held that though the warrant was irregular it was not invalid inasmuch as the intention was that it should be executed under Section 83 (1). AIR 1956 Bom 591 (592) = 1956 Cri L Jour 989.

(8) Name of the authority for actual execution of the warrant should be left to the Court to which warrant is sent for execution. Issuing Court putting name of authority for actual execution, by mistake — Mere technical irregularity — Warrant is valid. AIR 1969 Cal 340 (341) = 1969 Cri LJ 879 = 73 Cal WN 97.

(9) Court receiving warrant for the purpose of execution is not required to enter into the question of legality of the warrant that is received. AIR 1969 Cal 340 (341) = 1969 Cri LJ 879 = 73 Cal WN 97.

(10) Section 83 (1) is only a provision enabling Magistrate who issues a warrant to be executed outside his jurisdiction to forward the same to the authorities within the local limits of whose jurisdiction it is to be executed, instead of directing the warrant to a police officer and it does not specify the route or channel warrant may take. Fact that warrant was forwarded to Secretary to Government who in turn forwarded the same to Sub-Magistrate will not in any way affect validity of the warrant or jurisdiction of the Magistrate to execute the warrant. 1962 (1) Cri LJ 645 (646, 647) = 1961 Ker LT 463.

84. Warrant directed to police officer for execution outside jurisdiction.—(1) When a warrant directed to a police officer is to be executed beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court issuing the same, he shall ordinarily take it for endorsement either to a Magistrate or to a police officer not below the rank of an officer in charge of a station, within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the warrant is to be executed.

(2) Such Magistrate or police officer shall endorse his name thereon and such endorsement shall be sufficient authority to the police officer to whom the warrant is directed to execute the same within such limits, and the local police shall, if so required, assist such officer in executing such warrant.

(3) Whenever there is reason to believe that the delay occasioned by obtaining the endorsement of the Magistrate or police officer within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the warrant is to be executed, will prevent such execution, the police officer to whom it is directed may execute the same without such endorsement in any place beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court which issued it.

(4) This section applies also to the police in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay.

By S. 167 (3) read with Schedule III, this Act of 1951 has so amended S. 1 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, as to make the Code applicable to the City of Bombay. The Bombay Police Act, 1951, has been applied to the whole State from 1-8-1951.

85. Procedure on arrest of person against whom warrant issued.—When a warrant of arrest is executed outside the district in which it was issued, the person arrested shall, unless the Court which issued the warrant is within twenty miles of the place of arrest or is nearer than the Magistrate or District Superintendent of Police or the Commissioner of Police in a presidency-town[*] within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the arrest was made, or unless security is taken under Section 76, be taken before such Magistrate or Commissioner or District Superintendent.

Maharashtra:

(i) In its application to the State of Maharashtra, in Section 85 delete the words "in a presidency-town".—Bom. Act LVI of 1959, S. 3 and Schedule (4-1-1960).

Section 84 — Note 1

(iii) Section 85, so far as it applied to the Town of Bombay, was repealed by the City of Bombay Police Act, 1902 (Bom. Act IV of 1902), which Act has been repealed by the Bombay Police Act, 1951 (Bom. Act XXII of 1951), S. 167 (1) and Schedule I. By Section 167 (3) read with Schedule III of the said Act, which applies to the whole State of Bombay from 1-8-1951, Section 1 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, is so amended as to make the Code applicable to the Town of Bombay.

(iv) Commissioners of Police have been appointed for the Cities of Nagpur and Poona as well now.

86. Procedure by Magistrate before whom person arrested is brought.—(1) Such Magistrate or District Superintendent or Commissioner shall, if the person arrested appears to be the person intended by the Court which issued the warrant, direct his removal in custody to such Court:

Provided that, if the offence is bailable and such person is ready and willing to give bail to the satisfaction of such Magistrate, District Superintendent or Commissioner, or a direction has been endorsed under Section 76 on the warrant and such person is ready and willing to give the security required by such direction, the Magistrate, District Superintendent or Commissioner shall take such bail or security, as the case may be, and forward the bond to the Court which issued the warrant.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prevent a police officer from taking security under Section 76.

[1882—S. 86; 1872—S. 170; 1861—S. 84.]

Maharashtra:

(i) In its application to the State of Maharashtra, in sub-section (1) of Section 86, for the words "District Superintendent", wherever they occur, substitute the words "Superintendent".—Maha. Act XLVI of 1962, S. 3 and Schedule (1-7-1964).

(ii) Section 86, so far as it applied to the Town of Bombay, was repealed by the City of Bombay Police Act, 1902 (Bom. 1. Proclamation, when can be issued.— (1) The processes of proclamation and attachment are exceptional remedies and should not be issued as a matter of course whenever a warrant fails of its effect. (1965) 3 Suth WR (Cr) 63 (63) (DB).

(2) Where the warrant issued by a Magistrate is without jurisdiction or does not fulfil the requirements of law, the issue of a proclamation under the section would be illegal. (1912) 13 Cri L Jour 796 (797) (DB) (Bom)  (1909) 10 Cri L Jour 306 (309) = 5 Nag LR 125.

88. Attachment of property of person absconding.—(1) The Court issuing a proclamation under Section 87 may at any time order the attachment of any property, movable or immovable, or both, belonging to the proclaimed person.

1. Object.
2. Which Court can order attachment.
3. Stage at which attachment can be ordered.
4. Property which can be attached.
5. Mode of attachment.
6. Attachment by Civil Court.
7. Forfeiture of attached property.
8. Decision of claims and objections to attachment — Procedure.
9. Sale of attached property.
10. Setting aside sale.
11. Suit to recover property from Government or auction-purchaser, whether lies.
12. Order on claim, whether open to revision.

1. Object.— (1) The object of the section is to compel an accused person to appear in obedience to a summons or warrant issued by Criminal Courts. AIR 1937 Pat 642 (642)  AIR 1963 SC 692 (697) = 1963 (1) Cri LJ 633 = (1963) Supp 1 SCR 40.

2. Which Court can order attachment.— (1) It is only the Court issuing the proclamation that is empowered to order an attachment under this section. If the property to be attached is in a District outside that of the Magistrate issuing the order, the order must be endorsed by the District Magistrate or Chief Presidency Magistrate within whose jurisdiction the property sought to be attached is situate. AIR 1930 Pat 347 (347) = 31 Cri L Jour 494.

(2) Proceedings of attachment and sale under Section 88, can be taken only by the Court which has issued a valid proclamation within the provisions of Section 87. AIR 1955 Punj 18 (20) = ILR (1955) Punj 602 = 1955 Cri L Jour 318 (DB)  1967 Cr LJ 1120 (1121) = 68 Pun LR 865  AIR 1960 Pat 160 (161) = 1960 Cri LJ 501  1970 Raj LW 70.

3. Stage at which attachment can be ordered.— (1) The Court is empowered to order the attachment at any time. The Court can thus issue a proclamation against an absconding offender under Section 87 and simultaneously order the attachment of his property under this section. AIR 1943 Pat 366 (369) = 46 Cri L Jour 322 (DB)  (1902) 6 Cal WN 680 (681) = 29 Cal 417 (DB).

(2) Before an order for attachment can be passed under this section, it is necessary that a warrant for arrest must have been issued and it must be established that the accused has absconded or concealed himself for the purpose of evading arrest. AIR 1942 Mad 289 (289, 290) = 43 Cri L Jour 11  AIR

(5) If the property ordered to be attached consists of live-stock or is of a perishable nature, the Court may, if it thinks it expedient, order immediate sale thereof, and in such case the proceeds of the sale shall abide the order of the Court.

(6) The powers, duties and liabilities of a receiver appointed under this section shall be the same as those of a receiver appointed under Chapter XXXVI of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882.*

†[(6A) If any claim is preferred to, or objection made to the attachment of, any property attached under this section within six months from the date of such attachment, by any person other than the proclaimed person, on the ground that the claimant or objector has an interest in such property, and that such interest is not liable to attachment under this section, the claim or objection shall be inquired into, and may be allowed or disallowed in whole or in part:

Provided that any claim preferred or objection made within the period allowed by this sub-section may, in the event of the death of the claimant or objector, be continued by his legal representative.

(6B) Claims or objections under sub-section (6A) may be preferred or made in the Court by which the order of attachment is issued or, if the claim or objection is in respect of property attached under an order endorsed by a District Magistrate or Chief Presidency Magistrate in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2), in the Court of such Magistrate.

(3) When a warrant of attachment is issued under this section a presumption that the proclamation under Section 87 has been issued arises under Evidence Act, Section 114, illustration (e). AIR 1938 All 220 (220) = 39 Cri LJ 570.

4. Property which can be attached.— (1) The Court can attach both moveable and immovable property at the same time. ('69) 4 Mad HCR (App) xlviii (xlviii).

(2) Where the property is subject to a mortgage at the time of the attachment, the attachment will operate only in respect of the equity of redemption. AIR 1937 Pat 642 (642).

(3) Word "property" includes the rights and interests of persons who, as members of an undivided family, are entitled to the property of the family. What has to be attached under the section in such a case is the share of the defaulting member. AIR 1917 Mad 366 (367) = 17 Cri LJ 296 (FB). (Overruling 2 Weir 43.)

(4) It has been held that where the property to be attached is only the interest of a member of a Hindu joint family the only procedure that can be adopted is to appoint a receiver for the collection and realization of the absconder's share in the income of the property attached. AIR 1951 Hyd 81 (Pr. 6) = ILR (1952) Hyd 184 = 52 Cri L Jour 707 (1) (DB).

(5) A son born to the absconder subsequent to the attachment of his share and before sale is entitled to have his share freed from the attachment. AIR 1917 Mad 366 (367, 368) = 17 Cri L Jour 296 (FB).

(6) Where a Hindu coparcener dies, his widow is entitled to maintenance out of the property in the hands of the surviving coparceners and such right can be enforced against the property even after its attachment under this section. AIR 1938 Bom 321 (324).

5. Mode of attachment.— (1) The action of a police-officer executing a warrant of attachment under this section in digging the walls or floor to remove the frames embedded therein amounts to an irregularity. Resistance to the officer under such circumstances does not amount to an offence under Section 332, Penal Code. AIR 1930 Pat 387 (387) = 31 Cri L Jour 937.

(2) Mere order of attachment made on order sheet is not sufficient to assume attachment of land. Taking of actual possession or at least making an explicit order prohibiting parties from going upon the land is necessary. 1962 BLJR 405 (410).

6. Attachment by Civil Court.— (1) Where the actual attachment by the Criminal Court was subsequent to an attachment made by the Civil Court, a sale held in pursuance of the former cannot affect the rights of the attaching decree-holder under the latter. AIR 1929 Bom 200 (200)  (1912) 13 Cri L Jour 568 (569) = 6 Low Bur Rul 57.

(6C) Every such claim or objection shall be inquired into by the Court in which it is preferred or made:

(6D) Any person whose claim or objection has been disallowed in whole or in part by an order under sub-section (6A) may, within a period of one year from the date of such order, institute a suit to establish the right which he claims in respect of the property in dispute; but subject to the result of such suit, if any, the order shall be conclusive.

(7) If the proclaimed person does not appear within the time specified in the proclamation, the property under attachment shall be at the disposal of the §[State Government], but it shall not be sold until the expiration of six months from the date of the attachment ‡[and until any claim preferred or objection made under sub-section (6A) has been disposed of under that sub-section], unless it is subject to speedy and natural decay, or the Court considers that the sale

(2) The absconder cannot maintain a suit for possession of the confiscated property unless he has otherwise acquired a title to the property subsequent to the order of confiscation. AIR 1923 Bom 198 (198, 199) (DB).

(3) In a suit brought to enforce a mortgage over the property, if the Government is not impleaded as a party, the right of the Government as well as a purchaser from the Government to redeem the mortgage is not lost. Where the Government has sold the property to a third person before the suit on the mortgage, the purchaser is a necessary party to the suit but the Government is not a necessary party. AIR 1937 Pat 642 (642)  AIR 1930 Mad 1017 (1020) (DB).

(4) If the proclaimed person appears or is arrested within the time specified in the proclamation, the attachment will cease. AIR 1934 Pat 181 (182) = 35 Cri L Jour 682 (SB).

8. Decision of claims and objections to attachment — Procedure.— (1) Sub-sections (6-A) to (6-E) prescribe a complete Code for the purpose of determination of the questions which properly fall to be considered in the context of an application making a claim or preferring an objection with regard to attachment under Section 88. AIR 1955 Cal 524 (525) = 1955 Cri L Jour 1343 (DB).

(2) Where a claim or an objection is preferred with respect to attached property the law enjoins the Magistrate to investigate it and come to a decision. AIR 1955 All 127 (127) = 1955 Cri L Jour 331.

(3) Where opportunity to make claim or prefer an objection could not be availed of for sufficient grounds the Magistrate has jurisdiction to enlarge the time by giving the party affected further opportunity to contest the proceedings provided of course the claim was initially made within the time limited by the law. AIR 1955 Cal 524 (525) = 1955 Cri L Jour 1343 (DB).

(4) The word 'interest' in sub-section (6-A) cannot be limited to mere claim of possession. AIR 1955 Cal 524 (526) = 1955 Cri L Jour 1343 (DB).

(5) In an inquiry under sub-sections (6-A) to (6-E) the Magistrate is not merely concerned with the question of possession only. AIR 1955 Cal 524 (525, 526) = 1955 Cri L Jour 1343 (DB).

(6) Where the Magistrate asks the objector to pick out things belonging to him from one of the boxes, but the objector protests against the procedure and refuses to take just small portion of the things belonging to him and leaves the Court-room, the withdrawal under the circumstances can never be interpreted as withdrawal of the objections. AIR 1955 All 127 (127) = 1955 Cri L Jour 331.

(7) It is only the final order made after an inquiry contemplated in sub-section (6-A) which is to be considered as conclusive. Where a claim petition was dismissed for default but was subsequently revived by an application it was held that the alleged conclusiveness of the order of dismissal could not possibly relate back to a point of time when the proceedings were said merely to lapse on account of non-prosecution. AIR 1955 Cal 524 (526) = 1955 Cri L Jour 1343 (DB).

OBJECTS AND REASONS

1923—Sub-sections (6A) to (6E).—"The sub-sections which the Bill adds to Section 88 imply that the Court which issues an order of attachment or endorses the same under sub-section (2) is to investigate and determine a claim or objection. We think that a limited power to transfer claims and objections for disposal to subordinate Magistrates would be useful and we have, therefore, provided (see proviso to sub-section (6C)) that District Magistrates may transfer such cases to Magistrates not below the rank of Second Class Magistrates, and that Chief Presidency Magistrates may likewise transfer cases to Presidency Magistrates subordinate to them. The other amendments made in this clause are consequential upon this."—S.C.R. (XVIII of 1923).

(8) Section provides a procedure for determining whether the attached property belongs to the proclaimed person or not. Therefore the State can always raise a question whether the property attached by the Court belonged, at the time of attachment to the proclaimed person. 1967 All WR (HC) 311 (313).

9. Sale of attached property.— (1) Where there is an outstanding valid lease in favour of a third person at the time of attachment under this section, and the lessee prefers a claim, the proper order to make is to sell the property subject to the right of the lessee to remain in possession until the expiry of the term of the lease. 3. "After recording its reasons in writing."— (1) As to whether the provision in the section requiring the Court to record its reasons in writing before issuing a warrant of arrest is mandatory or is merely directory, and as to whether an omission to do so is an illegality the following views are held:

(a) The recording of reasons in writing is a necessary preliminary to the exercise of jurisdiction under the section and the failure to do so vitiates the warrant. AIR 1916 Mad 1063 (1064, 1065) = 17 Cri L Jour 132  AIR 1955 Punj 81 (Pr. 3) = 1955 Cri L Jour 698  AIR 1919 Lah 67 (68) = 19 Cri L Jour 443  Oudh SC 99 (113).

In such a case no question of extradition could arise. AIR 1952 All 365 (366) = ILR (1951) 1 All 736 = 1952 Cri LJ 690.

(2) Section 93-A is the only provision under which warrants received from external Courts can be executed. A warrant of arrest of a person forwarded to the Commissioner of Police, Madras, by the Inspector-General of Police, Jammu and Kashmir Government, cannot be executed by the Commissioner of Police, both for the reason that the Commissioner of Police is not a Court and that Section 93-A of the Code does not apply to him. AIR 1953 Mad 953 (Pr 8) = 1953 Cri LJ 1737.

(3) If a person is arrested in one State because he is wanted by another State for detention in that State such an arrest is illegal. If this is so in case of States inter se within the Union, a fortiori a person cannot be arrested in Madras for the purpose of detention in the State of Jammu and Kashmir. If the person is wanted for an offence, it must be clearly stated in the warrant, with necessary particulars and descriptions and Section 93-A must be strictly followed. AIR 1953 Mad 953 (Pr 9) = 1953 Cri LJ 1737.

(4) The City Magistrate of Srinagar in a case under Section 420, Penal Code, issued a warrant for the arrest of P whose address was at 91, Theatre Road, Calcutta, and sent the same for execution to the Chief Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta through the Government of West Bengal. As the place was outside the jurisdictional limits of the Chief Presidency Magistrate he forwarded the warrant for execution to the Commissioner of Police and ordered the accused to furnish bail for appearance before the Srinagar Magistrate : Held that the case was governed by Section 93-A and therefore the Chief Presidency Magistrate, not being the issuing Court, had no jurisdiction, as an external Court, to get it executed through the Commissioner of Police in a place outside his jurisdiction. The warrant was illegally executed and therefore the subsequent order of the Chief Presidency Magistrate directing the accused to furnish bail for appearance before the City Magistrate, Srinagar, was also bad. AIR 1955 Cal 277 (Pr. 4) = 1955 Cri LJ 791 (DB).

(4) The document or thing called for may turn out to be wholly irrelevant to inquiry but so long as it is considered necessary or desirable for the purposes of the inquiry, the power is there. (1892) 19 Cal 52 (64) (DB).

(5) Where the relevancy of the documents asked for does not speak for itself, and the application itself discloses no grounds why production of the documents is necessary or desirable, it is the duty of the Magistrate to consider whether their production is necessary or desirable, and it is not open to him to evade his responsibility on the plea that he might have to hear the nature of the defence which the accused might make. AIR 1943 Sind 51 (54) = 44 Cri LJ 324 (DB).

(6) The expression 'for the purpose of investigation' cannot be interpreted as 'during the investigation'. Where a Magistrate on the basis of a statement on oath made before him by a police officer issues a search warrant in connection with or for the purpose of an investigation into an offence even if such an offence is non-cognisable, it can be said that the issue of a search warrant itself indicates an implied order to investigate into the offence if such order should be necessary. 1964 Mad LJ (Cri) 361 = (1964) 2 Mad LJ 5 (11).

6. "Such Court."— (1) Magistrate cannot, on a telegram from another Magistrate requesting him to seize certain books of account of a person in the jurisdiction of the former, issue a summons for their production before himself. (1897) Rat 880 (880) (DB).

(2) It is clear that the provisions of the section can be invoked at any stage of any investigation enquiry or trial as is indicated by the expression 'whenever', used at the commencement of the section. AIR 1966 Bom 253 (266) = 1966 Cri LJ 1395 = 67 Bom LR 748  (1967) 69 Bom LR 421 (440) = ILR (1969) Bom 349 (DB)  (1964) 2 Mad LJ 5 (9). AIR 1941 Bom 259 (260) 42 Cri LJ 831 (DB)  AIR 1936 Nag 250 (251) = 38 Cri LJ 482  AIR 1966 Bom 253 (266) = 1966 Cri LJ 1395 = 67 Bom LR 748  1970 Cri LJ 618 (620) = (1969) 1 Andh WR 530.

(5) The discretion should be exercised in such a way as not to conflict with the policy of the Legislature as disclosed in Section 162 of the Code and in Sections 123 to 125 of the Evidence Act. AIR 1940 Bom 361 (361) = 42 Cri LJ 58 (DB)  AIR 1962 Guj 290 (292) = 1962 (2) Cri LJ 610 = (1962) 3 Guj LR 833.

(7) The Court might also consider whether such document or thing is being suppressed or might be tampered with or destroyed by the party in whose possession it is or might be lost altogether or whether it would come before it in a normal way without resorting to the provisions of Section 94. AIR 1966 Bom 253 (266) = 1966 Cri LJ 1395 = 67 Bom LR 748.

(11) Section 94 being a general provision under which the power can be exercised by a Court whenever occasion arises, would also include cases where even the accused applies to the production of documents. The power contained in Section 251-A (9) or Section 257 cannot strictly be said to be the only mode of the exercise of the power under Section 94, while no doubt it is one of the occasions when it exercises its power to summon the documents. 10. (AIR 1935 Sind 13 = 36 Cri LJ 581 (FB), Foll.)

[See also AIR 1933 Cal 65 (66) = 34 Cri LJ 283 (DB).]

17. Document protected under S. 126, Evidence Act.— (1) Sub-section (3) does not exempt documents protected under Section 126, Evidence Act, and the production of such documents is incumbent under Section 162 of the Evidence Act, notwithstanding any objection which there may be as to the production or admissibility. The validity of the objection has to be decided by the Court after production. AIR 1939 Mad 914 (914) = 41 Cri LJ 186  AIR 1962 Guj 290 (292) = 1962 (2) Cri LJ 610 = (1962) 3 Guj LR 833. (3) It is not the practice of the Court to allow inspection of bankers' books under the Bankers' Books Evidence Act, unless a prima facie case is made out for thinking that there is some matter on which the books of the bank are bound to be relevant. AIR 1938 Bom 33 (37) = 39 Cri LJ 207 (SB).

95. (2) The answer to the question whether the order requiring the production of a document by an accused person is hit by the prohibition contained in Clause (3) of Article 20 of the Constitution would depend upon the nature of that document. AIR 1964 Punj 325 (327) = 1964 (2) Cri LJ 199 = 1964 Cur LJ 306 (DB).

(3) Protection against testimonial compulsion envisaged by Article 20 (3) not applicable in case of public documents — Food Grains Stock Register in custody of accused — Order for production under Section 94 — Document being public document Article 20 (3) cannot be invoked and accused must comply with it — Accused incurs penalty prescribed by law on his failure to produce. (2) The third clause of Section 96 (1) is independent of Sections 94 and 95. AIR 1954 Bom 104 (106) (DB).

(3) An order of a Magistrate for the issue of a search-warrant for the seizure of the bus is without jurisdiction. AIR 1939 Cal 45 (45, 46) = 40 Cri LJ 216 (DB).

(4) Magistrate is prohibited from issuing a search-warrant against the Income-tax Officer for production of a document referred to in Section 54 (1), Income-tax Act. AIR 1950 East Punj 306 (Prs 3, 11, 34) = ILR (1950) Punj 283 = 51 Cri LJ 1273 (FB).

AIR 1955 Mad 716 (Pr 2) = 1955 Cri LJ 1602 (2).

(4) Guarantee against testimonial compulsion — Scope and extent — Order requiring accused to produce self-incriminating document — Article 20 (3) is violated. (1961) 2 Cri LJ 55 (57) (All).

(1) "Newspaper" involves the idea of periodicity and also the fact that what is contained in the paper is public news or comment thereon. (1910) 7 Ind Cas 641 (644) = 11 Cri L Jour 515 (DB) (Cal). (Case under Newspapers Act of 1908.)

[See also AIR 1957 All 538 (539) = ILR (1957) 1 All 528 = 1957 Cri L Jour 912 (SB).]

(3) The fact that a document is an advertisement of a forthcoming book is, by itself, not sufficient to protect it from forfeiture if it contains seditious matter, but in the absence of such matter, the mere fact that it is intimately connected with the book which contains seditious matter is not sufficient to enable the forfeiture thereof under this section. AIR 1930 All 401 (402, 403) = 31 Cri L Jour 840 (FB).

(4) It must appear to the State Government that the newspaper, book or document contains any seditious matter. The condition implies that the publication had been seen and read by the State Government prior to its declaration of forfeiture. AIR 1914 Cal 242 (243) = 14 Cri L Jour 497 (SB).

(7) This section is wider in its applicability than Section 153-A of the Penal Code because intention to promote enmity or hatred between different classes of the community is a ground of action under this section, while under Section 153-A it is the actual promotion or attempt to promote enmity or hatred that constitutes the offence. (9) It cannot be laid down as a general proposition that translations should be permitted when the originals have not been proscribed. Translation in Indian vernaculars may become accessible to a very large population and the danger arising therefrom may be immensely greater, calling for the intervention of the Government. AIR 1936 All 561 (564) = 37 Cri L Jour 943 (SB).

(10) Where books are seized by the Police Officer under this section the trial Court while acquitting the accused under Section 295-A, Penal Code, has no power to confiscate or destroy the books under this section. The Court can only direct the restoration of the books to the authorities who seized the books. AIR 1955 Mad 429 (430) = ILR (1955) Mad 1307 = 1955 Cri L Jour 1081.

(11) Section 99-A comes within the range of Clause (2) of Article 19 of the Constitution. The restriction imposed by Section 99-A is not disproportionate to the evil sought to be remedied. The section is not hit at by Article 19 (1) (a). AIR 1959 Andh Pra 572 (575) = 1957 Cri L Jour 1280 (SB).

(12) Section 99-A has no impact on Article 19 (1) (f) of the Constitution. Assuming it has such effect it is protected by Article 19 (5). AIR 1959 Andh Pra 572 (576) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1280 (SB).

(13) The procedure for forfeiture laid down in Section 99-A, Criminal P. C., is only consequential to the substantive law laid down in Section 295-A, Penal Code. Since Section 295-A, Penal Code is not ultra vires or unconstitutional, Sec. 99-A, Criminal P. C., and the sections following cannot be attacked as ultra vires. (14) Notification in the official Gazette of the forfeiture under Section 99-A is a sufficient publication. Hence the section cannot be attacked on the ground that it makes no provision for personal service thereby making the right of application under Section 99-B. illusory, such defect rendering encroachment on right under Article 19 (1) (a) of the Constitution unreasonable. AIR 1959 Andh Pra 572 (576) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1280 (SB).

(15) In order to gather the effect which a book is likely to produce on the mind of the reading public, it should be read as a whole. AIR 1959 Andh Pra 572 (578) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1280 (SB).

(16) The operation of Section 99-A cannot be confined only to isolated parts of the book, which come within the mischief of that section. The section does not prescribe that each and every part of the book should in itself be of the nature

Gujarat

In its application to the State of Gujarat, the amendment made in Sec. 99A by Bombay Act XVIII of 1955, which was in force in the Bombay area of the State by reason of the provisions of Section 87 of the Cent. Act XI of 1960, has now been extended to the rest of the State, with effect from 10-4-1962 by Guj. Act XII of 1962, Section 2.

Maharashtra

(1) In its application to the pre-reorganisation State of Bombay, in Section 99A, after the words "appears to the State Government to contain" insert the words "in respect of any judicial proceedings any indecent or obscene matter or any indecent or obscene details, whether medical, surgical or physiological which would be calculated to injure the public morals, or".—Bom. Act XVIII of 1955, S. 7 and Sch. (4-10-1956).

NOTE.—The above amendment is made by the Bombay Judicial Proceedings (Regulation of Reports) Act, 1955 (Bom. Act XVIII of 1955), the relevant portion of Section 7 of which is that the provisions of said S. 99A "as amended shall, notwithstanding anything contained in Section 4 (of the Bombay Act XVIII of 1955), apply in respect of any newspaper, book or document, which appears to the State Government to contain any matter in contravention of the provisions of this Act."

(2) After the reorganization of the State of Bombay in 1956, the amendment made in Section 99A by the above-mentioned Bombay Act is extended to the newly added areas of Hyderabad, Kutch and Saurashtra and the region of Vidarbha as from 1-9-1959 by Bom. Act XCVII of 1958.

Mysore

Bombay Area.—In its application to the Bombay area of the State of Mysore, the amendment made in Sec. 99A is the same as that of Maharashtra.—See Cent. Act XXXVII of 1956, S. 119. (1-11-1956).

NOTE.—While it is true that this Bombay Act, that is, Bombay Act 18 of 1955, has not been specifically adapted by Mys. A. L. O., 1956, it is equally true that indicated in that section. Hence, it cannot be said that only such parts of the book as would offer insults that should be extracted from the writing and forfeited. AIR 1959 Andh Pra 572 (578) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1280 (SB).

(17) (Per Majority): A book can be in more than one volume and each volume does not necessarily constitute a separate book. The expression "book" is of wide import and covers every part and every volume of it. In considering whether a particular volume is a book or not the main test is whether the treatise deals with one subject and it does not depend upon whether a book is bound in one volume or in more volumes. If each volume deals with a distinct subject, it forms a book by itself. AIR 1959 Andh Pra 572 (579) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1280 (SB).

(18) It is only insults to religious beliefs deliberately and maliciously made that would bring into play Section 99-A. But the intention of the author has to be gathered primarily from the language used. AIR 1959 Andh Pra 572 (577) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1280 (SB).

(19) (Per Majority): Assuming that there are writings in other countries which are of the same character as the one in question and no action was taken in regard to them, that would not absolve the author of a document or a book from liability if it attracts the applicability of Section 99-A. AIR 1959 Andh Pra 572 (578) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1280 (SB).

(20) (Bhimasankaram J.): Preventing a book-seller from publishing a matter which has the effect of disrupting the public order is clearly no more than imposing a reasonable restriction on the exercise of his right to carry on business. AIR 1959 Andh Pra 572 (583) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1280 (SB).

(21) (Per Majority, Bhimasankaram, J., contra.) — It is no defence to a charge under Section 99-A, Criminal P. C. or Section 295-A, Penal Code that author had incidentally attacked other religious beliefs also. AIR 1959 Andh Pra 572 (578) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1280 (SB).

(22) Where an order under Section 99-A of 6-11-1961, passed by Government of West Bengal was published by Government of Bihar Gazette, Part III of 3-1-1962 for information, such order of Government of Bihar was not an order for forfeiture passed by that Government under Section 99-A. It could not be set aside under Section 99-D. AIR 1963 Pat 284 (285) = 1963 (2) Cri LJ 168 = 1963 BLJR 634 (FB).

it has not been repealed by the said A. L. O. nor by Mys. Act XIII of 1965, which has repealed many Bombay Acts amending the Criminal Procedure Code in their application to the Bombay Area. It would thus seem that Bombay Act 18 of 1955 which came into force on 4-10-1956, continues to be applicable to Bombay Area of the State of Mysore.

Rajasthan

Abu Area.—In its application to the Abu Area of the State of Rajasthan, the amendment made in Section 99A is the same as that made in Maharashtra.—Central Act XXXVII of 1956, S. 119 (1-11-1956).

Tamil Nadu

In its application to the State of Madras, in sub-section (1) Section 99A—

(i) after the words "appears to the State Government to contain" insert the words "in relation to any judicial proceeding, any indecent or obscene matter, or any indecent or obscene details, which would be calculated to injure public morals, or" and

(ii) after the words "that is to say" insert the words, brackets, letter and figures "any matter referred to in clause (a) of sub-section (1) of Section 3 of the Madras Judicial Proceedings (Regulation of Reports) Act, 1960, or."—T. Section 99D — Note 1 (contd.)

(4) Under this section, the High Court is not concerned with the policy underlying forfeiture. The sole consideration is whether the books contain any objectionable matter referred to in Section 99-A. AIR 1936 All 561 (564) = 37 Cri L Jour 943 (SB).

(5) It is not necessary to look for any external evidence when the words used in a booklet have a clear tendency to promote class hatred. AIR 1951 Raj 113 (Pr 12) = 52 Cri L Jour 600 (SB).

(6) The fact that a translation has been proscribed by the Government while the original has not been proscribed is no ground for setting aside the order of the Government. AIR 1936 All 561 (564) = 37 Cri L Jour 943 (SB).

(7) Where a book or other document has been proscribed by the Government on the ground of its containing matter which promotes feelings of class hatred, to sustain the order, it is not necessary that the author's intention to promote such feelings should be established. (9) Where, after hearing the application, the High Court is in doubt as to the book or other document containing objectionable matter of the nature specified in Section 99-A, the High Court must set aside the order of forfeiture and not confirm it. (14) In a prosecution for an offence under Section 124-A or Section 153-A or Section 295-A of the Penal Code, a judgment under this section refusing to set aside an order of forfeiture is admissible as evidence under Section 11 or under Section 13 of the Evidence Act, 1872. AIR 1927 All 654 (656) = 28 Cri L Jour 785.

If Sections 99-B, 99-C, 99-D and 99-G are read together it becomes clear that the only question for consideration by the Special Bench is that mentioned in Section 99-D. accepted. AIR 1936 Rang 15 (17) = 37 Cri LJ 331.

(3) The provisions of this section will apply so far as may be to search under Section 165. AIR 1927 All 516 (517) = 28 Cri LJ 652.

(4) The officer who intends to search a person cannot issue an order in writing to any inhabitants of the locality to be witnesses for such a search. AIR 1941 Rang 333 (334) = 43 Cri LJ 217  AIR 1942 Oudh 221 (224) = 43 Cri LJ 416  AIR 1933 Nag 99 (100) = 34 Cri LJ 721.

2. Place of search. — (1) A cart is not a place such as is contemplated in this section and therefore it will not apply to the search of a cart. Cr. Rg. 18-6-1885.

(2) Section 103 applies when a search is to be made of a place, it does not apply to the search of a person. Section 103 would not apply to the seizure of the shoes which were being worn by the accused at the time he was with the investigating police officer. There is no question of search either of a place or of a person in such a case. AIR 1956 SC 411 (414, 415) = 1956 Cri LJ 801  1966 Cri LJ 331 (332) (Guj)  AIR 1965 Tripura 45 (47) = 1965 (2) Cri LJ 814  1963 (1) Cri LJ 342 (343) (All).

2A. Time of search. — (1) Searches, when not inconvenient should be conducted during day time — Lack of time not alleged — Search without warrant not proper. 1963 Ker LJ 86 = 1963 (1) Cri LJ 669 (673, 674) (DB)

3. Search witnesses. — (1) Under this section it is obligatory on the officer about to execute a search-warrant to call on and get two or more respectable inhabitants of the locality to witness the search. (1908) 7 Cri LJ 479 (482, 483) = 4 Low Bur Rul 213 (FB)  AIR 1921 Pat 508 (508, 509)  ('62) 64 Punj LR 91 (92).

[See also ('62) 64 Bom LR 784.]

(2) The search witnesses must be called before the search is started. (1903) 2 Low Bur Rul 43 (45)  (1908) 7 Cri LJ 479 (481) = 4 Low Bur Rul 213 (FB).

(3) Though the presence of witnesses at a search is always desirable and their absence will weaken and may sometimes destroy the acceptance of evidence as to the finding of the articles, their attendance at the search is not always essential in order to enable evidence as to the search to be given. AIR 1946 PC 16 (19) = 47 Cri LJ 489 = 72 Ind App 305 = ILR (1946) Lah 1.

(4) The section merely requires an honest effort on the part of the officer in charge of the search to secure the presence of respectable witnesses of the locality but the search is not vitiated if no such witness is available. AIR 1947 All 165 (167) = 48 Cri LJ 611 = ILR (1947) All 370.

(5) Where no attempt is made to have respectable witnesses of the locality for a search it would not be a search conducted in the manner provided by law. AIR 1953 All 506 (Pr 5) = 1953 Cri LJ 1181  AIR 1947 All 165 (167) = 48 Cri LJ 611 = ILR (1947) All 370  AIR 1949 All 291 (299) = ILR (1949) All 658 = 50 Cri LJ 498 (DB)  1963 Ker LJ 86 = 1963 (1) Cri LJ 669 (673, 674) (DB).

(6) The Court is not bound to accept evidence of the witnesses for the search as to the fact of the search, as true where they are shown to be false, or where there are discrepancies therein. AIR 1936 Rang 15 (16) = 37 Cri LJ 331  AIR 1918 All 113 (114) = 19 Cri LJ 949  AIR 1923 Lah 683 (683, 684) = 25 Cri LJ 495.

(7) If it is established that a panch witness is likely to be a pliable agent in the hands of the police or may be looked upon as a police agent his evidence should not be relied upon. AIR 1951 Bom 468 (Pr 3) = ILR (1952) Bom 207 = 52 Cri LJ 1528 (DB).

(8) Search witness a person of choice of raiding officer, or a person who appeared in police cases before — Recovery of articles becomes doubtful. (1965) 67 Punj LR 128 (130) = 1965 Cur LJ 71.

(9) Witnesses of questionable responsibility brought from outside even when respectable witnesses were available on spot conviction could not be based on their evidence. 1956 All LJ 182 (183, 185) = 1956 All WR (HC) 112  (1962) 64 Raj LR 91 (92).

(10) Merely because the police take the panchas with themselves before the raid, the panchas do not become members of the raiding party and cannot be looked upon as partisan witnesses. AIR 1956 Bom 287 (294) = ILR (1956) Bom 343 = 1956 Cri LJ 585 (DB)  (1963) 65 Pun LR 223 (228).

(11) In deciding whether the evidence of a panch witness should be believed or not his status and position in life and whether he is in the habit of frequently acting as a panch should be considered. AIR 1951 Bom 468 (Pr 3) = ILR (1952) Bom 207 = 52 Cri LJ 1528 (DB).

(12) The evidence of a person cannot be distrusted solely on the ground that on a previous occasion he had acted as a witness in another search. AIR 1951 Bom 468 (Pr 3) = ILR (1952) Bom 207 = 52 Cri LJ 1528 (DB)  AIR 1933 Nag 99 (100) = 34 Cri LJ 721  (1908) 7 Cri LJ 87 (88) = 4 Low Bur Rul 121.

(13) The mere fact that the witnesses for the search helped the police in making the search will not make the search invalid. AIR 1927 Rang 241 (242) = 28 Cri LJ 701.

(14) Accused making a statement to police in presence of witnesses at one place — Search carried out in pursuance of the statement — Not necessary that the same witness should be present during search carried out at a different place. 1956 All LJ 182 (184) = 1956 All WR (HC) 112.

(15) Two search witnesses — One becoming hostile — Recoveries cannot be held to be not established on the ground of the witness being hostile. 28 Cut LT 625 (633) (DB).

(16) The Courts are bound to attach the greatest importance to the evidence of panch witnesses and in order that the Court should attach such importance to panch witnesses it is essential that panch witnesses should be independent witnesses unbiased and without being in any way under the control of the police. 1965 MLJ (Cri) 202 = 1963 (2) Cri LJ 454 (456, 457) (Ker).

4. Who can call search witnesses. —

(1) It is only the officer about to make the search and not any other person that can call witnesses for search. (1898) 21 Mad 83 (89) (DB).

(2) Police officer getting information that accused was on his way home with contraband gold — Such officer himself having authority to make the search and to collect witnesses to attend the search — In such a case the choice of witnesses is entirely in the discretion of the police officer and there is no duty on his part to go to police station to lodge information. AIR 1967 Mys 47 (49) = 1967 Cri LJ 553 = 3 Law Rep 193 (DB).

5. Respectable inhabitants. — (1) The search should be conducted in the presence of two or more respectable inhabitants of the locality. AIR 1938 Cal 701 (701) = 40 Cri LJ 52 (DB)  AIR 1935 All 520 (520) = 36 Cri LJ 551  AIR 1969 All 109 (112) = 1969 Cr LJ 347. (Signatures of the witnesses must be taken.)  (1963) 65 Punj LR 823 (824).

(2) Any person is entitled to claim respectability provided he is not disreputable in any way. AIR 1936 All 707 (707) = 37 Cri LJ 1108  AIR 1959 Mad 450 (452) = 1959 Cri LJ 1189.

(3) It is necessary that the persons selected should be absolutely unprejudiced and uninterested in the result of what they have to take part in. AIR 1938 Cal 701 (701) = 40 Cri LJ 52 (DB)  (1908) 7 Cri LJ 479 (482, 483) = 4 Low Bur Rul 213 (FB)  (1911) 12 Cri LJ 251 (253) = 10 Ind Cas 796 (FB) (Low Bur).

(4) The selection of officers connected with the police, or persons who are not impartial, is not contemplated by the section. AIR 1951 Bom 468 (Pr 5) = ILR (1952) Bom 207 = 52 Cri LJ 1528 (DB)  (1908) 7 Cri LJ 479 (483) = 4 Low Bur Rul 213 (FB).

(5) Having been a prosecution witness is not sufficient to deprive one of one's title to "respectability". AIR 1936 All 707 (707) = 37 Cri LJ 1108.

(6) The mere fact that witnesses are brought from another locality should not be looked upon as a factor militating against their respectability. AIR 1951 Bom 468 (Pr 4) = ILR (1952) Bom 207 = 52 Cri LJ 1528  1963 Ker LT 992 = 1963 (2) Cri LJ 454 (457).

(7) The fact that the relative of witness belonged to the opposite party of accused, whose house was searched, does not made the witness an interested witness, when he had come to stay with his relative only on the previous evening. 1961 (1) Cr LJ 595 (599, 600) = 1960 All WR (HC) 226 (DB).

6. Of the locality. — (1) Only respectable persons of the locality are to be selected as witnesses for the search. AIR 1934 Nag 156 (157) = 35 Cri LJ 1163  AIR 1957 Andh Pra 286 (288) = 1957 Cri LJ 830  AIR 1934 All 374 (375) = 36 Cri LJ 742  1956 All LJ 182 (183) = 1950 All WR (HC) 112.

(2) The words "of the locality" do not mean that they should be living within a stone's throw of the house to be searched. AIR 1934 Oudh 90 (91) = 35 Cri LJ 397  AIR 1959 Mad 450 (452) = 1959 Cri LJ 1189  AIR 1934 All 873 (874) = 36 Cri LJ 362 (DB).

(3) The words "of the locality" are not restricted to mean the same quarter. (1911) 12 Cri LJ 479 (479) (Low Bur)  AIR 1934 Sind 159 (161) = 36 Cri LJ 704 (DB).

(4) The words "of the locality" include places even within three or four miles of the place of search. AIR 1931 Oudh 115 (116) = 32 Cri LJ 699 (DB)  (1910) 11 Cri LJ 746 (747) (Low Bur).

(5) In a thinly populated locality where houses are situated furlongs apart a man living at some distance can be chosen as the search witness. AIR 1952 Mad 604 (Pr 9) = 1952 Cri LJ 1198.

(6) The fact that the witnesses are from a different locality will not necessarily make the search invalid, or make the evidence of such witnesses inadmissible. AIR 1959 Mad 544 (547) = 1959 Cri LJ 1445  AIR 1958 Tripura 40 (44) = 1958 Cri LJ 1549  AIR 1952 Bom 327 (Pr 9) = ILR (1952) Bom 979 (DB)

(7) The mere fact that the witnesses are taken from another locality should not be looked upon as a factor militating against their respectability. AIR 1951 Bom 468 (Pr 4) = ILR (1952) Bom 207 = 52 Cri LJ 1528 (DB).

(8) The emphasis of the section is on the word "respectable" and not on the word "locality". AIR 1941 Lah 297 (299) = 42 Cri LJ 812 (DB)  (1810) 11 Cri LJ 746 (747) (Low Bur)  AIR 1932 Pat 66 (68) = 33 Cri LJ 233.  1967 Cur LJ 682 (687) = 69 Punj LR 935 (DB)  AIR 1965 Orissa 136 (138) = 1965 (2) Cri LJ 112 = 31 Cut LT 122  AIR 1965 Tripura 45 (47) = (1965) 2 Cr LJ 814  AIR 1964 Pat 565 (566, 567) = 1964 (2) Cri LJ 715 = 1964 BLJR 754.

(9) Under the amended Section 32 of the J. and K. Excise Act read with Section 103 of the Criminal P. C., it is sufficient if the search is conducted before respectable persons though not of the same locality. AIR 1959 J and K 134 (135) = 1959 Cri LJ 1436.

(10) Witness not permanent resident of locality where search was carried out but staying in the locality as guest of a relative — Witness is a witness from the locality. 1961 (1) Cri LJ 595 (599) = 1960 All WR (HC) 226 (DB).

6A. Search of search party. — (1) Before entering house of a person suspected of possessing excisable article, the personal search of every one to be engaged in the raid must be given. 26 Cut LT 322 = 1961 (1) Cri LJ 828 (829) (Orissa).

(2) Evidence of search of persons of witnesses contradictory— Does not affect legality of search — It only affects weight to be attached to evidence of such persons. AIR 1965 Orissa 136 (138) = 1965 (2) Cri LJ 112 = 31 Cut LT 172.

7. Search shall be made in their presence. — (1) It is not a sufficient compliance with this section that the witnesses should be merely summoned and kept present outside a building while the search is being carried on within it and then called in to see what has been found. AIR 1930 Bom 169 (170) = 31 Cri LJ 927 (DB).

(2) If the place searched is visible to witnesses from outside the room or house, they need not be inside it. (1914) 15 Cri LJ 19 (21) = 35 All 575.

(3) The mere fact that the witnesses were not present throughout the search and did not witness every detail of it would not justify the setting aside of the conviction, but where such a circumstance has left the evidence in an unsatisfactory condition, a conviction cannot be sustained. AIR 1930 Bom 169 (172) = 31 Cri LJ 927 (DB).

(4) It is not necessary that the search witnesses must have been present at the scene before the arrival of the officer making the search. It is sufficient if they arrive on the scene before the search begins. AIR 1938 Pat 403 (406) = 39 Cri LJ 796 (FB) AIR 1934 Bom 16 (20) = 35 Cri LJ 523 (DB).

(5) Seizure list attested by witness at police station — Witnesses not going inside house of accused but standing at threshold — Irregularity in search held would not affect legality of the prosecution. (1962) 4 OJD 156 = ILR 1962 Cut 366 = 1964 (2) Cr LJ 487 (491) (DB) (Orissa).

(6) Where the presence of the panchas is obligatory at the time of search, then ordinarily conviction should not rest on the uncorroborated testimony of the police officer conducting the search. AIR 1960 Guj 24 (26) = 1960 Cri LJ 1447 = (1960) 1 Guj LR 77.

8. Shall not be required unless summoned. — (1) A person called upon to attend and witness a search cannot be compelled by the officer conducting the search to attend the Court to give evidence without a summons in that behalf. AIR 1920 Mad 286 (286) = 21 Cri LJ 33 (DB)  (1906) 28 All 62 (69) = 2 Cri LJ 395 (DB).

9. Duty of prosecution to call search witnesses. — (1) An officer connected with the investigation cannot be deemed to be an entirely satisfactory witness for the purpose of proving the search. AIR

1930 Cal 141 (143) = 31 Cri LJ 667 (DB).

(2) Ordinarily, the prosecutor should produce the search witnesses and he would be guilty of suppressing material evidence if he does not do so. AIR 1932 All 185 (186) = 33 Cri LJ 943.

(3) It is not the duty of the prosecutor to put every search witness in the witness-box. The discretion is left to the Court to require or not the attendance of such witnesses. AIR 1928 Cal 27 (35) = 29 Cri LJ 49 (SB)  1965 All Cri R 1 = 1964 All WR (HC) 727 (728).

(4) The prosecution should specifically mention the names of search witnesses in charge-sheet so that the Court may summon them if it so desires. 1953 Raj LW 165 (168) (DB).

(5) When the officer desires that the evidence of the witnesses is required to fortify his own evidence, then he must call those witnesses. AIR 1932 Bom 181 (183) = 33 Cri LJ 389 (DB).

(6) When the law requires a search to be made in the presence of witnesses, a punchnama should usually be insisted upon and the conviction should not ordinarily be based on the uncorroborated testimony of the police officer. AIR 1951 Bom 186 (Pr 6) = 52 Cri LJ 41 (DB).

(7) Where it is not possible to make a search in the presence of panches it would be open to the Court to convict the accused on the evidence of the police officers alone provided the Court is satisfied as to its truth. AIR 1951 Bom 186 (Pr 6) = 52 Cri LJ 41 (DB).

[See also 1956-1 Mad LJ 51 (52).]

(8) The police-officer may state as a witness that he held a punchnama and offer to produce the record if the accused asks for it, but he cannot bring it on record in his evidence-in-chief. AIR 1941 Bom 149 (151) = 42 Cri LJ 556 (DB).

(9) The putting in of a punchnama without calling a panch is not only an infringement of the rules of evidence against the admission of hearsay evidence, but also unfair to the accused. AIR 1941 Bom 149 (151) = 42 Cri LJ 556 (DB)  AIR 1932 Bom 181 (183) = 33 Cri LJ 389 (DB).

10. Refusal or neglect to attend and witness a search. — (1) The words "attend and witness a search" in subsection (5) will not include signing the search list and a refusal to sign such list will, therefore, not be an offence under that sub-section. AIR 1938 Pat 403 (407) = 39 Cri LJ 796 (FB).

(2) A refusal to sign the search list does not amount to a refusal to render assistance to a public servant within the meaning of S. 187, Penal Code. AIR 1938 Pat 403 (412) = 39 Cri L Jour 796 (FB). (Chatterji, J., contra.)

(2) It is only where the delay caused in procuring the attendance of the occupant might frustrate the object of the search that the Police would be justified in dispensing with his presence and conducting the search in the presence of some one on his behalf. AIR 1955 Sau 4 (7) = 1955 Cri LJ 31 (DB).

(Reversed on another point in AIR 1963 SC 822.)

(2) Chapter VIII of the Code is not repugnant to Article 22 of the Constitution. Nor is it discriminatory in character. Far from persons proceeded against under Chap. VIII being unfavourably discriminated against, they are given substantial procedural rights and advantages which the detenus under Preventive Detention laws do not have. The primary purpose of the proceedings under Chap. VIII is to take security for keeping the peace or for good behaviour after a judicial inquiry while the primary object of Preventive Detention law is to imprison a person by executive action without inquiry. AIR 1957 Andh Pra 90 (93) = 1957 Cri L Jour 624.

(3) The proceedings under this section are not administrative, they are judicial proceedings. AIR 1953 All 375 (Pr 5) = 1953 Cri L Jour 813.

2. "Person accused of any offence". — (1) The power to order security under this section exists only as against an accused person. A complainant cannot be ordered to give security under this section. 1902 Pun Re (Cr) No. 3, p. 9 (10).

4. Offence punishable under Sec. 149 of the Penal Code. — (1) An offence under Section 149 of the Penal Code read with another section of the Penal Code is not one on conviction for which the accused can be bound over to keep the peace. AIR 1944 All 272 (272, 273) = 46 Cri L Jour 118  AIR 1925 Pat 117 (117) = 26 Cri L Jour 426 (DB)  AIR 1934 Oudh 279 (280) = 35 Cri L Jour 1159.

(2) When there is a separate conviction for an offence involving a breach of the peace in addition to the conviction for an offence under Section 149 of the Penal Code, this section will apply. AIR 1939 Mad 787 (787) = 41 Cri L Jour 17 keeping the peace during such period, not exceeding three years, as it thinks fit to fix.

(2) If the conviction is set aside on appeal or otherwise, the bond so executed shall become void.

(3) An order under this section may also be made by an Appellate Court §[° ° °] or by the High Court when exercising its powers of revision.

Gujarat:

In its application to the State of Gujarat the amendment made in S. 106 is the same as that made in Maharashtra—See Central Act XI of 1960, S. 87.

NOTE.—Magistrates in City of Ahmedabad have the powers and exercise the jurisdiction of a Presidency Magistrate—See Guj. Act XIX of 1961, S. 14 (3).

Section 106 — Note 7 (contd.)

(7) Entry made with intent to commit theft, or to have sexual intercourse with the complainant's wife — The criminal trespass will not be an offence involving a breach of the peace. ('08) 8 Cri LJour 476 (478) = 4 Low Bur Rul 277  ('97) 25 Cal 628 (630) (DB).

(8) An offence under Section 510, Penal Code, is not an offence involving a breach of the peace and a person convicted of it cannot therefore be ordered to execute a bond to keep the peace under this section. AIR 1940 Mad 755 (755) = 42 Cri L Jour 16.

(9) An offence which does not require the commission of, or the intention to commit. a breach of the peace as a necessary element thereof is not one involving a breach of the peace. AIR 1940 Mad 55 (56) = 41 Cri L Jour 235  AIR 1939 Oudh 38 (39) = 40 Cri L Jour 138  ('97) 1 Cal WN 186 (187) (DB)  (1892) Rat 622 (622) (DB)  ('02) 26 Mad 469 (469, 470).

(10) The fact that in the course of commission of offence not comprising of breach of the peace as a necessary element thereof, the accused, as a matter of fact, does acts involving a breach of the peace, or which are likely to lead to a breach of the peace, or which are likely to provoke persons, other than the offender, to commit a breach of the peace, will not make the offence itself one "involving a breach of the peace". [But see AIR 1959 Mad 405 (406) = 1959 Cri LJ 1092.]

(11) If in committing an offence, of which a breach of the peace is not an element, the accused does commit acts amounting to a breach of the peace, he should be charged of and convicted for the offence of which such breach of the peace is an element. See AIR 1932 Oudh 33 (34) = 33 Cri L Jour 193 (DB).

(12) As the offence of rape or an attempt to rape does involve an assault upon the person against whom the offence is committed, such offence is also one involving a breach of the peace. AIR 1938 Mad 615 (615) = 39 Cri L Jour 816.

8. "Criminal intimidation". — (1) This is one of the offences on conviction for which the accused can be bound down to keep the peace. It is important to note that there should be a conviction for criminal intimidation; the mere fact that the facts of the case disclose the commission of such an offence by the accused is not enough. (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 680 (681) (Lah)  AIR 1921 Lah 96 (97) = 22 Cri L Jour 709  (1904) 1 Cri L Jour 447 (449) (DB) (Cal).

9. "Is convicted of such offence". — (1) The jurisdiction to pass an order for security under this section arises only on conviction of an accused person for any of the offences mentioned therein. ('75) 24 Suth WR (Cr) 10 (10) (DB)  (1906) 3 Cal L Rep 72 (73) (DB).

(2) Where the accused person is acquitted he cannot be ordered to give security under this section. ('74) 22 Suth WR (Cr) 9 (10) (DB).

(3) The conviction must be for one of the offences mentioned in this section. AIR 1941 Mad 488 (489) = 43 Cri L Jour 40.

(4) Accused convicted under Section 504, Penal Code — Magistrate passing order for security under this section — Held, that as the facts disclosed an offence of assault, the error in the order of the Magistrate was only one of form and not of substance — High Court refused to interfere. AIR 1939 Cal 484 (485) = 40 Cri L Jour 836 (DB).

[See also AIR 1940 Rang 50 (53) = 41 Cri L Jour 421.]

(5) Where the accused is only convicted of an attempt to commit one of the offences mentioned in the section, there

Maharashtra:

(1) In its application to the State of Maharashtra, in sub-section (1) of Section 106, delete the words "a District Magistrate, a Sub-Divisional Magistrate"—Bom. Act XXIII of 1951, S. 2 and Schedule (1-7-1953).

(2) After the reorganisation of the State of Bombay in 1956, the amendment made in sub-section (1) of Section 106 by the above-mentioned Bom. Act is extended to the newly added areas of Hyderabad, Kutch and Saurashtra and the region of Vidarbha as from 1-9-1959 by Bom. Act XCVII of 1958.

In its application to the State of Mysore, the amendment made in sub-section (1) of Section 106 is the same as that of Maharashtra—Mys. Act XIII of 1965, Section 21, (1-10-1965).

Punjab: Haryana: Chandigarh:

In its application to the States of Punjab and Haryana and the Union Territory of Chandigarh in sub-section (1) of Section 106, for the words "Court of a Presidency Magistrate, a District Magistrate, a Sub-Divisional Magistrate or a Magistrate", substitute the words "Court of a Chief Judicial Magistrate or any other Judicial Magistrate"—Punj. Act XXV of 1964, S. 2 and Schedule, Pt. I, Item 28 (2-10-1964) and Act 31 of 1966, Ss. 29 and 88 (1-11-1966).

11. (2) In forming the opinion the Magistrate must take into consideration only the legal evidence and should not act on the statement made by the prosecution. AIR 1943 Mad 169 (170) = 44 Cri L Jour 321.

(3) Magistrate should not act on the request of an officer superior to him to consider the advisability of taking action under this section in the case pending before him. AIR 1953 All 375 (Pr 3) = 1953 Cri L Jour 813.

(4) If the circumstances indicate that a breach of the peace is likely to recur, an order for security is justified, otherwise not. AIR 1943 Mad 169 (170) = 44 Cri L Jour 321  AIR 1936 Pat 36 (37) = 37 Cri L Jour 63  AIR 1929 All 349 (350) = 30 Cri L Jour 686  AIR 1952 Pepsu 138 (Pr 18) = ILR (1952) Patiala 258 = 1952 Cri L Jour 1467  AIR 1918 Pat 252 (253) = 19 Cri L Jour 1000 (DB).

[But see (1907) 5 Cri L Jour 19 [illegible] (DB) (Cal).]

(8) The period for which the bond is required to be furnished should be in proportion to the gravity of the offence committed. AIR 1943 Mad 169 (170) = 44 Cri L Jour 321.

(9) It is generally undesirable where a person is charged with some petty offence to tack on to some small sentence of fine an order under Section 106, Criminal P. C. AIR 1955 Mad 596 (597) = 1955 Cri L Jour 1505.

(10) It is desirable that Court should record its reasons for forming an opinion that it is necessary to require security though there is no provision for doing so. 107. Security for keeping the peace in other cases.—(1) Whenever a Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate, Sub-Divisional Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class is informed that any person is likely to commit a breach of the peace or disturb the public tranquillity or to do any wrongful act that may probably occasion a breach of the peace, or disturb the public tranquillity, the Magistrate *[if in his opinion there is sufficient ground for proceeding] may, in manner hereinafter provided, require such person to show cause why he should not be ordered to execute a bond, with or without sureties, for keeping the peace for such period not exceeding one year as the Magistrate thinks fit to fix.

[See also AIR 1935 Rang 363 (363) = 36 Cri LJ 1510  2 Weir 460 (460) (DB).]

19. Sub-sections (3) and (4). — (1) The Magistrate to whom a person is sent under sub-section (3) must go through all the procedure laid down in Sections 112 to 118 before he can bind down the person for keeping the peace. (1909) 10 Cri L Jour 309 (311) = 1900 Pun Re (Cr) No. 7 (DB).

(3) Where the order passed has no legal basis and the Magistrate proceeds on a wrong legal principle applying the section equally to the wrong doers as well as to the wronged, the High Court will interfere in revision. (5) Initiation of proceedings at the instance of private person — Order dropping proceedings — Since order of Magistrate came to the knowledge of the High Court in revision it could consider legality of the order. AIR 1968 Pat 326 = 1968 Cr LJ 1114.

[See also AIR 1963 J and K 56 (58, 59) = 1963 (2) Cr LJ 621.]

(7) Revision against order passed by Executive Magistrate under Section 107 can be entertained by the District Magistrate or sub-divisional Magistrate under Section 435 (2). 1968 Cr LJ 1665 (1667) = 10 Guj LR 58.

(8) Rights of parties determined by competent Court — Appeal pending — Magistrate has a choice between taking action under Section 145 or Section 107 — Magistrate taking action under Section 145 to uphold decision of civil Court — Interference in revision not justified. 1963 (1) Cr LJ 512 (513) (All).

22. Security. — (1) The purpose of requiring a person to furnish security under Section 107 is to prevent him from committing a breach of the peace and not to punish him or to keep him in prison and the amount demanded from him must, therefore, be sufficient to secure the accomplishment of this object. 1958 All Cri R 458 (458) = 60 Pun LR 513.

(2) Previous conviction need not necessarily be taken into account while considering quantum of amount of security. AIR 1969 Guj 267 (269) = 1969 Cri LJ 1133 = 10 Guj LR 847.

(3) Bond for keeping the peace can be forfeited by the Magistrate only when he is satisfied on proof furnished before him that a breach of the terms of the bond has been committed. A police report is not sufficient for him to take action under Section 514 (1). AIR 1960 Pat 325 (326) = 1960 Cr LJ 978.

(4) An order requiring the execution of the bond under Section 118, Criminal P. (4) Where bona fide dispute exists between two parties on account of land dispute a proceeding under Section 145 should be started against them, but the Magistrate has discretion to start proceedings under Section 107 against both parties. AIR 1964 Pat 445 (445) = 1964 (2) Cri LJ 438  AIR 1966 J and K 29 (30) = 1966 Kash LJ 1 = 1966 Cr LJ 145  AIR 1961 J and K 4 (4) = (1961) 1 Cri LJ 62.

(5-6) Dispute as to possession of land — Proceedings under one of the Sections (viz., Ss. 107, 144, 145), can be taken according to discretion of Magistrate — Order under S. 107 can be passed only if Magistrate holds that the dispute is no longer is likely to cause breach of peace. (8) The difference between Section 107, Criminal P. C. and Section 145, Criminal P. C. is firstly that under Section 107 there need be no dispute relating to land and secondly in the case of Section 107, the proceedings are started against a person who is likely to commit a breach of the peace, whereas under Section 145 as a result of land dispute, a breach of the peace is likely to be caused. 1963 (1) Cr LJ 823 (825) (Manipur).

(8a) When the police report which forms the very basis of the initiation of proceedings under Section 107 Cr. P. C. does not mention any specific immovable property as the cause of the disturbance but alleges only overt acts of one of the parties against the other, no proceeding under Section 145 should be drawn up and the proceeding under Section 107 should not be converted into one under Section 145. Further, if a civil suit is pending, the better choice for the Magistrate is always to start a proceeding under Section 107 in preference to a proceeding under Section 145. 1969 Pat LJR 359.

(9) Proceedings initiated under S. 107 on basis of police report that petitioner wan in possession of the disputed field and order under Section 112 passed against the other party — Proceedings under Section 107 should not be converted into those under Section 145. [See also AIR 1969 Mys 181 (183, 184) = 1969 Cri LJ 752 = (1969) 1 Mys LJ 1.]

(10) Mixing of proceedings under both sections is not proper — Proceedings however erroneously mixed up — Order passed is not vitiated unless it results in prejudice and miscarriage of justice. AIR 1961 Madh Pra 302 (305) = 1961 Jab LJ 443 = 1961 (2) Cr LJ 642 (DB).

(11) Petition under Section 107 made by Pradhan representing all other villagers — Order of S. D. M. under Section 145, not vitiated by non-joinder of all the villagers. AIR 1969 Manipur 52 (53) = 1969 Cri LJ 985.

(12) The Criminal Court must give effect to the decision of the Civil Court regarding immovable property. 1969 Cri LJ 331 (334) = 1968 Ker LT 503  AIR 1964 Manipur 19 (20) = (1964) 1 Cri LJ 406.

[See also AIR 1963 Assam 38 (41) = 1963 (1) Cr LJ 565.]

(13) Conversion of proceedings under Section 107 into one under Section 145— Magistrate can do so in a proper case — Likelihood of decrease in food production is not valid ground for such conversion. 1963 (1) Cr LJ 823 (825) (Manipur).

(14) Magistrate coming to a finding that both parties are in possession — S. 146 cannot be invoked — Proper order is one under Section 107. AIR 1963 Pat 320 (323) = 1963 (2) Cri LJ 313 (DB).

(15) Proceedings under Section 145 — Reference by Magistrate under Section 146 regarding possession — Civil Court holding that both parties are in joint possession — Section 146 is not attracted — Proper course is not to drop proceedings but to start proceedings under Section 107. AIR 1963 Pat 320 (324) = 1963 (2) Cr LJ 313 (DB).

(16) In a dispute relating to land, if Magistrate is of opinion that claim of one party is mere pretence or there is no dispute bona fide, proceeding under Section 107 can be started against that party. AIR 1967 Orissa 17 (19) = 1967 Cri LJ 231 = 32 Cut LT 472  AIR

(4) It is necessary to show that the person proceeded against was connected with the dissemination of the matter in question. The mere writing of the matter disseminated or the authorship thereof is not sufficient to bring a person under this section. AIR 1923 Bom 255 (257) = 25 Cri L Jour 150 (DB).

(5) Where persons proceeded against were merely volunteers, said to have taken part in parades, drills, and route-marches and there was no evidence of dissemination of seditious matter by them, an order under this section was held not justified. AIR 1933 Lah 236 (238, 239) = 35 Cri L Jour 408.

(6) It is essential for the applicability of clause (a) that the matter disseminated must be shown to be seditious. AIR 1916 Bom 9 (48) = 18 Cri LJ 567 (DB).

(7) The following are not seditious matters:

procedure contemplated both under Sections 112 and 113 as also in Section 243 had been followed as required in S. 117 (2). it could not be said that even then enquiry contemplated under Section 117 (1) should have taken place. AIR 1969 Guj 267 (268, 269) = 1969 Cri LJ 1133 = 10 Guj LR 847.

SECTION 109 — SYNOPSIS

1. Scope and object.
2. Simultaneous proceedings for substantive offence as well as under this section.
3. "Is taking precautions to conceal his presence within . . . . jurisdiction" — Clause (a).
4. Concealment, meaning of.
5. "With a view to committing any offence."
6. "Who has no ostensible means of subsistence" — Clause (b).

9. Revision.

1. Scope and object. — (1) This section deals with proceedings against persons who, in English law, would be classed as rogues and vagabonds. See ('12) 13 Cri LJ 239 (240) (DB) (Cal).

(2) Clause (a) and clause (b) correspond to different charges and it is not to believe that such person is taking such precautions with a view to committing any offence, or

(b) that there is within such limits a person who has no ostensible means of subsistence, or who cannot give a satisfactory account of himself, such Magistrate may, in manner hereinafter provided, require such person to show cause why he should not be ordered to execute a bond, with sureties, for his good behaviour for such period, not exceeding one year, as the Magistrate thinks fit to fix.

Gujarat:

In its application to the State of Gujarat, the amendment made in Section 109 is the same as that made in Maharashtra—See Central Act XI of 1960, S. 87.

NOTE.—(1) Magistrates in the City of Ahmedabad have the powers and exercise the jurisdiction of a Presidency Magistrate—See Guj. Act XIX of 1961, S. 14 (3).

(2) Salaried Magistrates for the City of Ahmedabad have been empowered for the purposes of this section—See Guj. Gaz., 9-11-1961, S. IVA, p. 287.

possible to switch from cl. (a) to cl. (b). If charges under both the clauses are framed, the evidence must be examined separately. AIR 1943 All 367 (367) = 45 Cri LJ 219.

(3) The first part of cl. (b) refers to ordinary beggars and vagrants but the latter part deals with cases of persons who cannot give satisfactory account of themselves in general. A person may be financially well off but he may still be unable to give a satisfactory account of himself being engaged, for instance, in concaine traffic. AIR 1943 All 367 (368) = 45 Cri LJ 219.

(4) The object of the section is to frustrate the criminal designs of such persons before they are carried out. AIR 1929 All 33 (36, 37) = 30 Cri LJ 145 (FB).

(5) The section is not intended for taking security from persons suspected of having committed a particular offence. ('72) 1872 Rat 63 (63) (DB).

(6) The section is not meant to be used as a means of getting every suspected habitual offender and village loafer confined in jail, thus saving trouble to the police and the village authorities. It is only when the ordinary means of detection and prevention of crime and ensuring good behaviour have been adopted and have failed, resort to the special means provided by this and the next section is justifiable. ('07) 5 Cri LJ 377 (381) = 13 Bur LR 91.

(7) The section being restrictive of the liberty of the subject must be applied only when it is strictly applicable. AIR 1938 Nag 465 (465) = 39 Cri LJ 807.

(8) The section applies as much to persons residing within the Magistrate's jurisdiction as to persons coming from outside. The residence of persons against whom information is received is an absolutely irrelevant consideration in determinining the scope of this section. AIR 1950 All 134 (Pr 21) = ILR (1950) All 935 = 51 Cri LJ 436. (AIR 1929 All 33 = 30 Cri LJ 145 (FB), foll.)

(9) An order under this section cannot be passed against a person on the gorund that it is not safe in the interest of justice to allow him unrestricted personal liberty. ('38) 42 Cal WN 816 (817) (DB).

(10) A person proceeded against under a preventive section like Section 109 is not accused of any offence nor is he prosecuted. The proceedings against him do not, therefore, end in his 'acquittal" or 'conviction' which words are properly applied to the result of criminal trial. AIR 1950 All 134 (Pr 9) = ILR (1950) All 935 = 51 Cri LJ 436.

(11) The statement of the person proceeded against under the section is not a confession. AIR 1950 All 134 (Pr 43) = ILR (1950) All 935 = 51 Cri LJ 436.

[See also AIR 1942 Oudh 246 (248) = 43 Cri LJ 342.]

2. Simultaneous proceedings for substantive offence as well as under this section. — (1) Where a person who was found riding a stolen camel was challenged by the police and on his being unable to give a satisfactory account of himself, was arrested and convicted under Section 411 of the Penal Code, simultaneous proceedings under this section for the same act were held not justified. AIR 1928 Lah 928 (929) = 29 Cri LJ 1043.

(2) The mere fact that a person can be tried for a substantive offence cannot preclude proceeding under this section if the case is otherwise covered by the section. AIR 1942 Oudh 246 (246) = 43 Cri LJ 342.

3. "Is taking precautions to conceal his presence within . . . . . jurisdiction — Clause (a). — (1) A person may come within cl. (a) even if his residence within

Maharashtra:

(1) In its application to the State of Maharashtra, in S. 109, for the words "Presidency Magistrate, Sub-Divisional Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class", substitute the words "Presidency Magistrate specially empowered by the State Government in this behalf, or a District Magistrate or a Sub-Divisional Magistrate".—Bom. Act XXIII of 1951, S. 2 and Sch. (1-7-1953).

(2) After the reorganization of the State of Bombay in 1956, the amendment made in Section 109 by the above-mentioned Bombay Act is extended to the newly added areas of Hyderabad, Kutch and Saurashtra and the region of Vidarbha as from 1-9-1959 by Bom Act XCVII of 1958.

Mysore:

In its application to the State of Mysore, in Section 109, for the words "Magistrates of the first class", substitute the words "Magistrate of the first class specially empowered by the State Government in this behalf".—Mys. Act XIII of 1965, S. 24 (1-10-1965).

the local limits of the Magistrate's jurisdiction was well known. The words "within the local limits of the Magistrate's jurisdiction" modify the word "conceal" so that if the concealment is to be effected within the jurisdiction of the Magistrate, cl. (a) will apply even though the residence within jurisdiction is well known. AIR 1929 All 33 (36) = 30 Cri LJ 145 (FB). (AIR 1927 All 50 (51); AIR 1927 All 592 (592) (DB), Overruled.)  AIR 1950 All 134 (Pr 21) = ILR (1950) All 935 = 51 Cri LJ 436  AIR 1935 Pat 69 (72) = 36 Cri LJ 846  AIR 1938 Nag 465 (465) = 39 Cri LJ 807  AIR 1941 Oudh 509 (510) = 42 Cri LJ 617  AIR 1953 Bhopal 12 (Pr 12) = 1953 Cri LJ 698.

[But see AIR 1929 Cal 729 (730) = 31 Cri LJ 408 (DB)  AIR 1918 Cal 887 (887, 888) = 18 Cri LJ 825 (DB)  AIR 1929 Cal 775 (776) = 31 Cri LJ 569 (DB)  AIR 1926 Pat 569 (571) = 27 Cri LJ 1128 (DB).]

(2) The words "is taking" in the clause mean "has taken" or "has been taken" and apply to a person who has been arrested by the police under Section 55, although in such a case it cannot be said that at the time of his being produced before the Magistrate he is taking precautions to conceal his presence. AIR 1935 Pat 69 (72) = 36 Cri LJ 846. (Following AIR 1926 Pat 569 = 27 Cri LJ 1128.)

(3) The section applies to the taking of precautions to conceal one's presence whether such precautions are successful or not. AIR 1938 Nag 465 (466) = 39 Cri LJ 807.

(4) In spite of the similar language used in Section 55 and Sec. 109, a person need not be arrested in accordance with Section 55 before he can be proceeded against under this section. Both these sections relate to different subjects and are independent of each other. AIR 1950 All 134 (Pr 15) = ILR (1950) All 935 = 51 Cri LJ 436.

(5) It must be shown that the persons proceeded against had taken some active steps to conceal their presence in a certain place or done something to show that they did not wish it to be known that they were present at that place and that such steps were taken with a view to commit some offence. The mere fact that the persons were in a certain place and ran away on the approach of the police is not enough. AIR 1950 All 184 (Pr 3) = 51 Cri LJ 609.

4. Concealment, meaning of. — (1) Concealing a man's presence is not identical with his concealing himself and a man may not conceal his presence at a place and yet may conceal his identity. AIR 1929 All 33 (35) = 30 Cri LJ 145 (FB).

[But see AIR 1934 All 45 (50, 51) = 35 Cri LJ 442 (DB).]

(2) Giving out a false name is concealment of the identity of the individual concerned but is not necessarily a concealment of his presence. AIR 1924 All 202 (203) = 25 Cri LJ 950. (Giving out false names to the police does not amount to concealment of the presence with a view to commit an offence.)  AIR 1956 Him Pra 43 (Pr 7) = 1956 Cri LJ 996.

(3) The giving out of false name by a man, in conjunction with other circumstances, for example, when he disguises himself or hides himself, or when it is his duty to disclose his identity or absence from residence, as in the case of a criminal ordered to notify his residence under Section 565 of the Code, may amount to "concealing his presence." AIR 1929 All 33 (35) = 30 Cri LJ 145 (FB).

(4) The words "to conceal his presence" are very wide and are sufficient to cover the concealment of bodily presence in a house or grove or under a bridge, as well as to cover the case of a man who conceals his appearance by wearing a mask or covering his face or disguising himself by a uniform or in some other manner. AIR 1943 All 367 (367) = 45 Cri L Jour 219. (AIR 1929 All 33 = 30 Cri L Jour 145, Followed — It would have been better if the Legisla-

Punjab: Haryana: Chandigarh:

In its application to the States of Punjab and Haryana and the Union territory of Chandigarh, in Section 109, for the words "Magistrate of the first class", substitute the words "Executive Magistrate of the first class".—Punj. Act XXV of 1964, Section 2 and Schedule, Pt. I, item (29) (2-10-1964) and Act 31 of 1966, Ss. 29 and 88 (1-11-1966).

Rajasthan:

Abu Area.— In its application to the Abu area of the State of Rajasthan, the amendment made in Section 109 is the same as that made in (1) of Maharashtra.—Central Act XXXVII of 1956, Section 119 (1-11-1956).

Union territories (except Chandigarh):

In its application to the Union territories, in S. 109, for the words "Magistrate of the first class", substitute the words "an Executive Magistrate of the first class".—Act 19 of 1969, S. 3 and Schedule, item 30 (in Delhi, on 2-10-1969).

West Bengal:

For the words 'Sub-Divisional Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class', substitute the words 'Sub-divisional Executive Magistrate or Executive Magistrate of the first class.'—West Bengal Act 8 of 1970, Section 2 and Schedule, item 43.

ture in 1923 had added the words 'conceals or disguises his presence'.)

(5) There can be no concealment of a man's presence when he gives true informations as to his name and address when asked. AIR 1938 Cal 409 (411) = 39 Cri L Jour 647 (DB)  AIR 1929 Cal 729 (730) = 31 Cri L Jour 408 (DB).

(6) A man who is deliberately preparing to commit a burglary and when challenged by the police admits his intention, cannot be said to be concealing his presence and cannot be dealt with under this section. AIR 1927 All 592 (592) = 28 Cri L Jour 567 (DB). (Oevrruled on another point by AIR 1929 All 33 = 30 Cri L Jour 145 (FB).)

(7) Where accused requested others not to mention their business to others, it does not imply that they were taking precautions to conceal their presence; nor would the fact that they refused to give their names to an ordinary person justify such an inference. AIR 1924 All 202 (203) = 25 Cri L Jour 950.

(8) See also the following cases. AIR 1943 All 368 (369) = 45 Cri L Jour 157. (Persons wearing ordinary clothes and just leaving railway platform — Order under Section 109 (a), held could not be passed although they were reasonably suspected as they cannot be said either to have concealed or disguised their presence.)  AIR 1955 J & K 28 (Prs 3, 5) = 1955 Cri L Jour 1594. (Where the evidence only shows that a person, alleged to be previously convicted, merely tried to run away to avoid observation by police officers at 11 o'clock at night it does not mean that he was trying to conceal his presence with a view to commit an offence.)  1955-2 Mad L Jour 336 (337). (Mixing with the crowd, or moving in and out of the crowd or dashing into it does not amount to taking precautions to conceal one's presence within the local limits of a Magistrate's jurisdiction within the meaning of Section 109 (a).)  1955-2 Mad L Jour 659 (660). (Merely because a person hid his face by means of a cloth when his presence was noticed by somebody going on the road, it cannot be said that he was taking precautions to conceal his presence. There is no concealment whatsoever of his presence, though undoubtedly there is a concealment of his face. Similarly from the mere fact that at the sight of the police officer he began to move briskly and when called out he ran, it cannot be said that he was taking precautions to conceal himself.)  AIR 1941 Oudh 509 (510) = 42 Cri L Jour 617. (Police discovering accused concealing himself at night with his companions in hedges near village — Accused arrested and on being questioned giving wrong name and address — Accused unable to explain his presence in hedges at night with house-breaking implement and refusing to disclose identity of his companions who had escaped into jungle — Section 109 (a) held was applicable though Section 109 (b) was not.)  AIR 1942 Oudh 246 (246) = 43 Cri L Jour 342. (Where facts found against the accused were, that he belonged to Delhi and not to Fyzabad, that he gave a false name and address to the Police, that he was seen mixing in the crowd at Railway Station and was attempting to feel their waists and pockets, that he further admitted the fact he was a pick-pocket and had come to try his luck, and that he appeared originally at 9 A. M., and suddenly disappeared for two hours and reappeared at 11 A. M. — Held, his case was covered by clause (a).)  AIR 1938 Nag 305 (305) = 39 Cri L Jour 747. (Person not hiding behind anything but standing still with hope that watchman would think him to be inanimate thing — This is not concealing his presence.)

(9) A concealment, in order to come within the section, need not be continuous. No time limit can be placed on taking of precautions and in every case it would be a question of fact and even a single attempt at concealment may be enough. AIR 1953 Bhopal 12 (Pr 11) = 1953 Cri L Jour 698  AIR 1950 All 134 (Pr 30) = ILR (1950) All 935 = 51 Cri L Jour 436  AIR 1929 All 33 (37) = 30 Cri L Jour 145 (FB)  AIR 1946 Oudh 230 (232) = 47 Cri L Jour 642 = 21 Luck 251  AIR 1935 Pat 69 (71) = 36 Cri L Jour 846  AIR 1926 Pat 569 (571) = 27 Cri L Jour 1128 (DB)  AIR 1938 Nag 465 (465) = 39 Cri L Jour 807.

(10) Aiding others to conceal themselves is no ground for action under this section. AIR 1938 Nag 465 (465) = 39 Cri L Jour 807.

(11) Whether a particular behaviour or conduct aims at concealment within the meaning of the section is a matter for the decision of a Magistrate and not a matter for the opinion of a witness. AIR 1950 All 134 (Pr 44) = ILR (1950) All 935 = 51 Cri L Jour 436.

5. "With a view to committing any offence". — (1) The object of the concealment must be with a view to committing some offence. Concealment with a view to avoid observation or arrest, does not by itself amount to concealment within the meaning of the section. AIR 1953 Bhopal 12 (Pr 13) = 1953 Cri L Jour 698  AIR 1958 Cal 191 (Pr 7) = 1958 Cri L Jour 500  AIR 1950 All 134 (Pr 45) = ILR (1950) All 935 = 51 Cri L Jour 436  AIR 1925 Cal 616 (618) = 26 Cri L Jour 842 (DB)  AIR 1929 All 33 (45, 47) = 30 Cri L Jour 145 (FB)  AIR 1926 Lah 368 (368) = 27 Cri L Jour 573  AIR 1965 Mys 264 (266) = (1964) 2 Mys LJ 408 = 1965 (2) Cri L Jour 517  AIR 1960 Pat 115 (115) = 1959 BLJR 559 = 1960 Cr LJ 386.

(2) A mere disinclination to the society of the police and endeavouring to avoid them by running away on their approach, does not by itself show that the person concealing himself was doing so with a view to commit an offence. AIR 1941 Pat 478 (480) = 42 Cri L Jour 554  AIR 1956 Him Pra 43 (Pr 7) = 1956 Cri L Jour 996  AIR 1926 Pat 569 (571) = 27 Cri L Jour 1128 (DB).

(3) The mere fact that the persons concerned were armed with lathis and one of them had also a house-breaking implement would not show that the intention of all those persons was to commit some offence and in the absence of the evidence that they had taken any precaution to conceal their presence, no action can be taken against them under this section. AIR 1950 All 184 (Pr 8) = 51 Cri L Jour 609.

(4) If the evidence shows that there is reason to believe that the person, before running away and before being caught concealing himself, was about to commit an offence, he can be bound down under this clause. AIR 1943 All 369 (370) = 45 Cri L Jour 280  AIR 1943 All 367 (367) = 45 Cri L Jour 219.

(5) The words "taking precautions to conceal himself" are wide enough to include the case of any one who is presumably about to commit an offence but is unexpectedly startled and then conceals himself to prevent arrest, as the object of this clause is to prevent the commission of particular offence. AIR 1943 All 369 (370) = 45 Cri L Jour 280.

(6) Where, persons on being accosted by the police while going away from the village, give false names in the first instance and then give the correct names, that by itself, will not amount to taking precautions with a view to commit an offence. AIR 1924 All 202 (203) = 25 Cri L Jour 950  AIR 1956 Him Pra 43 (Pr 7) = 1956 Cri L Jour 996. (This would at most amount to an attempt to conceal identity.)

(7) Where A went about in Madras under an alias alleging falsely that he was going up for the B. A. examination, it was held that this conduct showed a desire to conceal the fact of his presence in Madras, but that in the absence of proof of intention to commit an offence he could not be called upon to furnish security under this section. 1932 Mad WN 1347 (1348, 1349).

(8) The fact that the accused took precautions to conceal his presence within jurisdiction, together with the fact that he ran away on the approach of the police warranted the inference that he was taking precautions with a view to commit an offence. AIR 1930 Pat 497 (498) = 31 Cri L Jour 1125.

(9) A person who gives a false name and delivers letters secretly containing incitement to commit crime or demanding money for the means of committing crime is hit by Clause (a). AIR 1914 Cal 585 (585) = 15 Cri L Jour 255 (DB).

(10) The clause is, however, one which should be used with proper discretion; it is never intended to apply to a person merely found talking at some time of a night with bad characters in a place which is open to the public. AIR 1926 Pat 569 (571) = 27 Cri L Jour 1128 (DB).

(11) Where a person falsely personates another with a view to commit an offence by such personation, he does not come within this section, the reason being that his object is to commit an offence by false personation and not by concealing his presence. AIR 1934 All 45 (51) = 35 Cri L Jour 442 (DB). [Per King and Kendall, JJ., Sulaiman, C. J., Dissenting.]

6. "Who has no ostensible means of subsistence" — Clause (b). — (1) To be penniless or out of work is not an offence. Many an honest man will find himself in either predicament. It cannot be the object of the law that such people should be put on security. AIR 1953 Bhopal 12 (Pr 14) = 1953 Cri L Jour 698  AIR 1926 Cal 648 (649) = 27 Cri L Jour 497 (DB).

(2) That a person had no means of livelihood or residence in a town where he was hauled up under Section 109, cannot be accepted as a ground for directing him to furnish security, as it would be a denial of the fundamental right conferred on all citizens under Article 19 (d) and (e) of the Constitution. AIR 1956 Him Pra 43 (Pr 7) = 1956 Cri L Jour 996.

(3) Unless, there is reasonable ground for suspecting that a person, who is unable to prove the source of his livelihood, is sustaining himself by dishonest means, he will not come within the purview of this section. AIR 1953 Bhopal 12 (Pr 14) = 1953 Cri L Jour 698  AIR 1926 Cal 648 (649) = 27 Cri L Jour 497 (DB).

(4) Under Section 118 the Magistrate has to consider whether the order for security is really necessary either for keeping the peace or for maintaining good behaviour, which is a matter for Magistrate's judicial discretion. ('94) 1894 Rat 723 (724) (DB)  AIR 1926 Cal 648 (649) = 27 Cri L Jour 497 (DB).

(5) If a cooly could not show any immediate work, it does not mean he has no ostensible means of livelihood. AIR 1925 Cal 616 (619) = 26 Cri L Jour 842 (DB).

(6) As long as a young man out of employment is staying in his father's house and the father is a man of substance and able, if necessary, to support him, he cannot be said to be in want of ostensible means of subsistence. ('12) 13 Cri L Jour 161 (162) = 39 Cal 456 (DB)  ('21) 64 Ind Cas 141 (141) = 22 Cri L Jour 749 (All).

(7) That a person belongs to a wandering tribe, or that he is a gambler or an opium smoker, or that he does not work at present and was previously convicted of bad livelihood, or that he has no means of subsistence except through a play of ring game which by itself is not an offence is not a fact sufficient for demanding security under this section. ('83) 2 Weir 53 (53). (Wandering tribe.)  ('72-92) 1872-92 Low Bur Rul 246 (246) (Opium smoker.)  (1900) 5 Cal WN 28 (29). (Previous convict of bad livelihood.)  ('13) 14 Cri L Jour 452 (453) = 40 Cal 702 (DB). (Subsistence through play of ring game.)  ('09) 9 Cri L Jour 527 (528) (All). (Ring-game whether illegal depends upon how it is played.)

(8) A person cannot be directed to furnish security on the ground that he was a previous convict however bad his past record might be. AIR 1956 Him Pra 43 (Prs 7, 8) = 1956 Cri L Jour 996.

(9) It is for the prosecution to prove that the person proceeded against had no ostensible means of subsistence. AIR 1954 Him Pra 42 (Pr 2) = 1954 Cri L Jour 857.

(10) Police Sub-Inspector deposing that L had no ostensible means of subsistence not from his knowledge but from enquiry made in course of his official duties — Police officer also stating that L was on active picketing list of thana maintained for criminals suspected to be most active — Evidence is inadmissible. AIR 1941 Pat 478 (480) = 42 Cri L Jour 554.

7. "Who cannot give a satisfactory account of himself" — Clause (b). — (1) Following views are held as to the interpretation of the words "who cannot give a satisfactory account of himself":

(a) The words do not mean "explain what he was doing" or "explain his conduct" at any particular time or place but mean an explanation of a person's general course of conduct as distinct from a momentary behaviour. Thus, according to this view, if a man proves that he is a resident of the neighbourhood and is a man of substance, he must be said to be able to give satisfactory account of himself although he is not able or does not give any convincing explanation why on a particular night he was found prowling about in a lonely place. AIR 1951 East Punj 422 (Pr 10) = 52 Cri L Jour 939  AIR 1955 J & K 28 (Pr 4) = 1955 Cri L Jour 1594  AIR 1943 All 368 (369) = 45 Cri L Jour 157  AIR 1929 All 33 (37) = 30 Cri L Jour 145 (FB). (Per Sulaiman, C. J., Boys, Kendall and Weir, JJ., contra.)  AIR 1929 Cal 729 730) = 31 Cri L Jour 408 (DB)  AIR 1920 All 138 (138) = 21 Cri L Jour 366  ('11) 12 Cri L Jour 536 (536) (All)  AIR 1969 J & K 105 (107) = 1969 Cri LJ 1139.

(b) The expression "satisfactory account of himself" means a satisfactory account of his presence at the place and in the circumstances in which he was found, and not merely a satisfactory account of himself generally. Though a man cannot be called upon to explain how he spends his leisure, if he is caught spending a portion of that leisure in a manner giving rise to grave suspicion and can give no account of the incident, he cannot be said to be able to "give a satisfactory account of himself". Thus, if a house-holder catches a man in his garden in the middle of the night armed with a jemmy and he cannot or will not explain what he was doing at that hour in that place, he must be held to be "unable to give a satisfactory account of himself and cannot escape by saying that he is a well-known respectable member of the society. (Per Boys, J.)

(c) The words mean that the person proceeded against has to satisfactorily account for his presence within the limits of the Magistrate's jurisdiction. If a person is present within such limits to which he does not belong and there are circumstances justifying a suspicion that he is not there for an innocent purpose, he has got to explain his presence. See also the under-mentioned case. AIR 1925 Cal 616 (618, 619) = 26 Cri L Jour 842 (DB)  AIR 1942 Oudh 246 (247) = 43 Cri L Jour 342.

(2) The words "within such limits" have no reference to ostensible means of subsistence but only to the person in question being found within the local limits of the Magistrate's jurisdiction. AIR 1954 Him Pra 42 (Pr 2) = 1954 Cri L Jour 857.

(3) Where the explanation, if true, is consistent with the circumstances it must be held that a satisfactory account has been given. AIR 1940 Pat 410 (411) = 41 Cri L Jour 777 (DB)  AIR 1927 All 592 (592) = 28 Cri L Jour 567 (DB)  AIR 1925 Cal 616 (619) = 26 Cri L Jour 842 (DB).

(4) Where A fled to avoid an arrest and after the warrant was withdrawn he came back to his house and kept himself in seclusion to avoid curious inquiries, it was held that he gave a satisfactory account of himself. ('12) 13 Cri L Jour 161 (162) = 39 Cal 456 (DB).

(5) "The greatest criminal in the world is not liable to be questioned as to his presence in his own house unless there is some outstanding charge against him". ('12) 13 Cri L Jour 161 (162) = 39 Cal 456 (DB).

(6) Where there were really no suspicious circumstances against the accused, the mere fact that he did not give his correct name and tried to run away from the police and declined to explain how he happened to be at a particular place, does not amount to his not being able to give a satisfactory account of himself. AIR 1936 Oudh 383 (384) = 37 Cri L Jour 888  AIR 1954 Him Pra 42 (Pr 3) = 1954 Cri L Jour 857.

(7) Where a person was found in a district other than his own and in the house of a dangerous political conspirator, and gave an account which was in the main false, it was held that he did not give a satisfactory account of himself. ('12) 13 Cri L Jour 239 (240) (DB) (Cal).

(8) The section contemplates an account to Magistrate and not an account to a police officer. Where, therefore, a person was not at all questioned by the Magistrate on the point, it could not be held that he was unable to give a satisfactory account of himself, as required by the section. AIR 1950 All 134 (Pr 47) = ILR (1950) All 935 = 51 Cri L Jour 436.

(9) The mere opinion of the police officer that a person did not give a proper reply is not sufficient to bring a case within the scope of Clause (b) of Section 109. Whether the account given is satisfactory or not, it is for the Court to Judge. It is necessary for the police officer therefore, to State in Court what exactly the person stated or what account he gave of himself so that the Court may form an opinion as to whether the account given by the person proceeded against is satisfactory or not. 1955-2 Mad L Jour 659 (660)  AIR 1965 Mys 264 (265) = (1964) 2 Mys LJ 408 = 1965 (2) Cr LJ 517. (10) Though the evidence of previous convictions is relevant in proceedings under this section, they do not, by themselves, prove that the person is now leading a life of crime or is dependent on the proceeds of crimes committed by others. AIR 1942 Oudh 246 (247) = 43 Cri L Jour 342  AIR 1943 All 368 (369) = 45 Cri L Jour 157  AIR 1969 Guj 267 (269) = 1969 Cri LJ 1133 = 10 Guj LR 847. 8. Discretion of Magistrate. — (1) It is in the discretion of the Magistrate to proceed or not to proceed against a person under this section. In exercising such discretion, care should be taken to see that the stringent provisions of the section are not abused and made an engine of oppression. AIR 1951 East Punj 422 (Pr 12) = 52 Cri L Jour 939  AIR 1926 Cal 648 (649).

9. Revision. — (1) The question whether the circumstances of a case are suspicious is mainly a question of fact, and if a Magistrate is satisfied that the circumstances in which a person was found are not suspicious and that there is no need for him to call upon such person to give security under this section, the High Court will rarely interfere with his decision. 1. Scope and object. — (1) The object of the section is preventive and not punitive, and action under it is not intended as a punishment for past offences. (2) The section is aimed at protecting society from dangerous characters against the perpetration of crimes by placing them under such substantial but not excessive security as would prevent them from resorting to evil courses. AIR 1943 Pesh 41 (42) = 44 Cri L Jour 478  AIR 1929 All 608 (608) = 30 Cri L Jour 756  ('11) 12 Cri L Jour 328 (328) (Mad).

(3) The section is intended to deal with ex-convicts or habitual criminals and dangerous and desperate outlaws who are so hardened and incorrigible that the ordinary provisions of the penal law and the normal fear of condign punishment for crime are not sufficient deterrents or adequate safeguards for the public. AIR 1938 Mad 35 (37) = 39 Cri L Jour 230.

(4) The section is obviously not intended for use against merely undisciplined

(f) is so desperate and dangerous as to render his being at large without security hazardous to the community,

(5) The section is not confined in its application to persons who are strangers to the locality in which the offences are committed. If the persons or the acts which they commit are such as to make it difficult to deal with them under the ordinary provisions of law, this section can be used. AIR 1938 Mad 482 (482) = 39 Cri L Jour 588.

(8) Where proceedings under this section follow soon after discharge or an acquittal for a substantive offence, the Court must be satisfied that such proceedings were not instituted with a view to get a person punished indirectly and the Court should scrutinize the evidence with the greatest care and see that the same materials and evidence which formed the basis of the previous charge do not also form the basis of the security proceedings. in the ambit of Clauses (a) to (f) of the section.)

(11) Where proceedings under this section are taken against a person after his release from jail where he was undergoing imprisonment in pursuance of a sentence for a substantive offence or for failure to furnish security in pursuance of a prior order under this section, the Court should be careful to see that he has had sufficient locus paenitentiae to reform himself. It is not fair to run a man in as a budmash before he has had sufficient opportunity of showing that he is willing to adopt an honest course of livelihood. (12) Where a Magistrate specified under this section receives information that a person within the local limits of his jurisdiction falls under one or other of the six categories mentioned in the section, he should pass a preliminary order under Section 112, charging him under one or other of the clauses of this section, issue a summons or a warrant to him under Section 114, and then hold a judicial enquiry as to the truth or otherwise of the information on which he has taken action. (16) The police authorities responsible for the initiation of proceedings under this section should take care that the proceedings are not unnecessarily protracted. They should very seriously consider the propriety of clubbing together acts, real or imaginary, extending over a long period of time and trying to prove them at great expense and waste of time. AIR 1951 Orissa 277 (Pr 8) = ILR (1949) 1 Cut 751 = 52 Cri L Jour 848.

(17) The detention to which the clauses of Article 22 of the Constitution of India apply is made otherwise than by an order of a Court. Article 22 has therefore, no application to an order made under Sections 110, 118 and 123 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and the said sections have not been rendered void by Article 22. 2. Proceedings under Sections 109 and 110. — (1) The two Sections 109 and 110 contemplate different classes of cases. A person cannot be ordered to be bound over in one and the same proceeding and on the same materials both under S. 109 and this section, especially where the preliminary order under Section 112 is with regard to this section. 3. Proceedings under Sections 107 and 110. — (1) Where a Magistrate takes proceedings under this section and issues notice for a charge under Clause (e), he cannot after inquiry, pass an order for security under Section 107 without issuing a fresh notice under Section 112. The facts to be proved under Cl. (e) of this section and those to be proved under Section 107 are different. ('07) 30 Mad 282 (283) = 5 Cri L Jour 397 (DB).

(2) Where notice is issued to show cause why a person should not be bound over to keep the peace under Section 107, he cannot be directed. after inquiry, to execute a bond for good behaviour under this section. ('98) 25 Cal 798 (802) (DB).

(3) Where after issuing summons under Section 107, the Magistrate took proceedings under this section and the evidence was recorded at length and the proper procedure as to trial of warrant cases was followed, and there was no prejudice to the parties, it was held to be a mere irregularity which was cured by the provisions of Section 537. ('13) 14 Cri L Jour 65 (65, 66) (Mad).

(4) Simultaneous proceedings under Section 107 and Section 110 not illegal. 1962 (1) Cr LJ 665 (666) (Pat).

4. Proceedings under Sections 108 and 110. — (1) The mere fact that the facts of a case fall within the purview of Section 108 does not make this section inapplicable. AIR 1919 Cal 702 (705) = 19 Cri L Jour 696 (DB).

5. Section 401, I. P. C. and Section 110. — (1) Section 401 of the Penal Code provides for the punishment of persons belonging to wandering or other gangs of persons associated together for the purpose of habitually committing theft or robbery. An order passed under this section is only preventive and is not one by way of punishment for any offence and hence it does not bar a prosecution for the substantive offence under Sec. 401 of the Penal Code. AIR 1920 Cal 87 (88) = 21 Cri L Jour 386 (DB)  ('12) 13 Cri L Jour 799 (800) (Punj). (The fact that accused had at one time been bound over under Section 110 is immaterial for a conviction under Section 401, Penal Code.)

(2) Under Section 401, Penal Code, it is necessary to prove that several persons have associated together forming a gang for the purpose of habitually committing theft or robbery and their activities have in fact materialized into active robberies and thefts or attempts at such offences, whereas under Section 110, Criminal P. C., evidence of strong suspicion and evil repute that such person or persons engage in criminal activities is enough to render them liable. AIR 1947 Oudh 86 (87) = 47 Cri L Jour 1019.

6. ILR (1947) Kar 322 (335) (DB)  (1900-2) 1 Low Bur Rul 75 (77, 78).

(2) There is, no limitation as to the nature of the information to be received or as to the manner in which the information is to be communicated or as to the source from which it may be derived. (3) There is not any quantum of information a necessary condition for the Magistrate to take action. AIR 1927 Oudh 306 (307) = 28 Cri L Jour 744 (DB).

(4) If a Magistrate receives information of the barest kind to the effect that a person is a habitual thief, it is within his powers to take action under this section and the legality of the action cannot be questioned, though undoubtedly a prudent Magistrate might not consider information sufficient to cause him to take action under the preventive sections unless it gave substantial details against the person in question. (10) In order to give jurisdiction to a Magistrate the presence of the accused within the local limits of his jurisdiction must be voluntary and not one under compulsion. (3) It was held that the proceedings under this section should be disposed of by the Magistrate by whom they were initiated; consequently a first class Magistrate before whom proceedings under this section were initiated could not, after recording evidence, send up the proceedings to the District Magistrate and the latter could not act under Section 27 of the Bombay Regulation, 12 of 1827, and place restrictions upon the liberty of the accused. ('12) 13 Cri LJ 748 (748) (DB) (Bom).

9. "Is by habit a robber, house-breaker", etc. — Clause (a). — (1) To sustain a charge under Clause (a), the person proceeded against must be proved to be by habit a robber, house-breaker, thief or forger. AIR 1939 Lah 269 (270) = 40 Cri LJ 753  ('01) 3 Bom LR 269 (270) (DB)  AIR 1924 Pat 498 (499) = 25 Cri LJ 35.

(2) The word "habit" implies a tendency or capacity resulting from the repetition of the same acts. It implies frequent practice or use and connotes depravity of character as evidenced by the frequent repetition or commission of offences referred to in the section. AIR 1927 Pat 126 (128) = 28 Cri LJ 359.

(3) The word "habit" should not be restricted to mean inclination by nature. It means a persistence in doing an act, a fact which is capable of proof by adducing evidence of the commission of a number of similar acts. AIR 1924 Nag 19 (21) = 25 Cri LJ 60.

(4) Habit has to be proved by aggregate of facts and mere suspicion or complicity in isolated offences is not evidence of habit, unless there is direct evidence to establish his complicity in such cases as to lead to a reasonable and definite conclusion that a person is a habitual thief. The evidence must be specific and relate to particular instances within the knowledge of witnesses. (5) By habitual thief or robber is meant a person who has committed thefts or robberies in the past and is ready to commit them again whenever he gets an opportunity. ('93) Rat 639 (642) (DB).

(6) The mere fact that a man was of a bad character and had been sent to jail or was once convicted of theft, or that he associated with a thief or a bad character, or that a police-officer gave it as his opinion that he was a habitual thief, was held not to be sufficient for binding over a person under this clause. (7) Where the charge against a person is that he is a habitual robber, the fact that he gathers bad characters at his house does not go far enough to be in itself relevant. It would be necessary to show that the bad characters were robbers or have been gathered there for the purposes of committing robbery or theft. AIR 1925 All 694 (696) = 26 Cri LJ 1130 (DB).

(8) Where the only evidence against a person was that he was found hiding himself in a bush and when his person was searched certain articles not claimed by him to be his own were found upon him, and he was not charged with any offence in respect of those articles, it was held that he was not a habitual offender within the meaning of this clause. ('11) 12 Cri LJ 359 (359) (Mad).

(9) The fact that person is by habit a thief, robber, etc., can be proved by the evidence of general repute. It is not necessary, in order to bind over a person under this section on the ground of his being by habit a thief, etc., that a certain number of previous convictions should be proved against him. AIR 1938 Lah 428 (428) = 39 Cri LJ 599  AIR 1938 Mad 591 (592) = 39 Cri LJ 898 (DB).

(10) This section does not nullify Section 50 of the Evidence Act. AIR 1940 Rang 181 (182) = 1940 Rang LR 562 (DB).

(11) The fact that the allegations involve the imputation of a substantive offence to the person proceeded against is no bar to proceedings under the section when otherwise such proceedings will lie. Where a person is charged with being a member of a gang of dacoits or robbers, he can be prosecuted for an offence under Section 400 or Section 401, Penal Code. But this will not preclude security proceedings being started under this section against such a person. AIR 1930 All 274 (275) = 31 Cri LJ 627 (DB). (AIR 1925 All 250 = 26 Cri LJ 746 and AIR 1929 All 813 = 30 Cri LJ 1086, Overruled.)

(12) Habitual forger. — The words "or forger" in this clause have been newly added by the Amending Act, 18 of 1923 and a habitual forger can be proceeded against under this section. See AIR 1914 Lah 575 (576) = 16 Cri LJ 136. (Which is not good law in view of the amendment by Act 18 of 1923.)

10. Habitual receiver of stolen property — Clause (b). — (1) To substantiate a charge under this clause, it must be proved that the person proceeded against is a habitual receiver of stolen property knowing the same to be stolen. This may be proved by adducing evidence of general repute. No specific offence need be proved. ('92) 1892 Pun Re (Cr) No. 12 p. 27 (28).

(2) Mere rumours and suspicions are not, however, enough to substantiate a charge under this clause. ('21) 60 Ind Cas 669(670) = 22 Cri LJ 269 (Lah).

(3) Where the persons proceeded against belonged to a class of people called Mewatis who were considered to be persons occupying themselves in receiving stolen property and offences of similar nature and the villagers were in considerable terror of these Mewatis, it was held that this was not sufficient to sustain a charge under this clause without there being any tangible evidence that they were receivers of stolen property. ('05) 2 Cri LJ 88 (89) (All).

11. "Habitually protects or harbours thieves," etc. — Clause (c). — (1) Where a man, from motives of humanity and without any intention of enabling the fugitive to escape from justice, gives him food and surgical assistance while he was wounded, it has been held that he is not liable to be bound over under this clause. (2) The fact that a landlord has tenants of bad character, that he lends money or paddy to them whenever they are in difficulties because they are his tenants, and that he settles disputes between two men one of whom is a thief and the other is not, is not sufficient to make him liable under this clause. ('07) 6 Cal LJ 711 (712) = 6 Cri LJ 403 (DB).

(3) The mere association with a gang of dacoits or the failure to oppose them or give assistance to the police when the gang settled in the neighbourhood is not sufficient to justify action under this clause. AIR 1915 All 464 (465) = 16 Cri LJ 805.

(4) The manager of a public shrine which does not belong to him and is not under his exclusive control and which is also open to the public cannot be called upon to furnish security under this clause, although some thieves have been arrested in the shrine on several occasions and it is generally used as a gambling resort visited by bad characters, inasmuch as the shrine is not his house and he cannot be said to harbour thieves. ('10) 11 Cri LJ 603 (604) (Lah).

(5) The mere fact that the person proceeded against derived his subsistence from keeping prostitutes in his house although sometimes thieves visited his house was not a sufficient ground to justify an action under this clause. ('81) 1881 Pun Re (Cr)No. 2 p. 2 (DB).

(6) Where the evidence amounted to nothing more than that some persons said to be of bad character had been seen on occasions at the kothar where the accused did his work, it was held that the Court was not justified in holding that the accused habitually protected and harboured thieves. ('12) 13 Cri LJ 760 (762) = 15 Oudh Cas 263.

(7) Where thieves have been living with A, his son B cannot be held guilty of harbouring them. AIR 1934 Lah 62 (63) = 35 Cri LJ 653.

(8) It is necessary to prove that the person proceeded against is by habit protector or harbourer of thieves. Isolated cases are not sufficient to prove the habit or character. One or two cases may not be sufficient, but a number of similar incidents cease to be isolated facts and become evidence of the habit or character. How many facts have to be proved to enable the Court to draw a reasonable inference of habit cannot be laid down by any hard and fast rule; it depends on the facts and circumstances of each case. AIR 1933 Pat 189 (190) = 34 Cri LJ 643.

(9) A person cannot be called upon to give security under this clause for harbouring dacoits. Such a person should be dealt with under Section 216A of the Penal Code for a substantive offence. AIR 1928 All 682 (684) = 30 Cri LJ 694.

AIR 1924 Nag 19 (21) = 25 Cri LJ 60.

(2) This clause does not apply to a person who has a reputation of habitually bringing false claims in a Civil Court though such a person may be punishable under Section 209 of the Penal Code; but he does not by so doing commit the offence either of extortion or of attempting to commit extortion. (11) A person who is a leader of local factions responsible for constant threat and bullying, is nonetheless dangerous to the community because he lives in a house and owns land, and clauses (e) and (f) of this section apply to such a type of person. AIR 1938 Mad 448 (449) = 39 Cri LJ 595.

(12) The characteristic of being a desperate and dangerous character is a personal attribute and should be proved against every individual charged with that attribute. (13) Persons carrying lathis to protect themselves from an attack by a gang of ruffians cannot be said to be desperate and dangerous men. AIR 1948 Cal 107 (107) = 48 Cri LJ 541.

(14) Where the petitioner high-handedly committed acts of mischief or assault on no less than four occasions in a month's time and terrorised his victims, for no other reason except that they actively belonged to an opposite political party and the normal fear of prosecution and punishment for offences committed has no deterrent effect on him because he is able to instil such apprehension in his victims as to prevent them from making complaints, the Court is justified in finding that he is so desperate or dangerous as to render his being at large without security hazardous to the community and in demanding security for him. AIR 1957 Andh Pra 268 (Pr 8) = 1957 Cri LJ 826.

(15) In a proceeding under Section 110, to dispense with the necessity of an enquiry by the Magistrate there must be a clear admission by the accused of all the elements which make up the subject-matter of the charge. To constitute an admission of the charge against him under Section 110 (e) and (f), the accused must admit all the necessary ingredients for holding that clauses (e) and (f) of the section apply. 1960 Ker LT 54 (55) = 1959 Ker LJ 1293.

(2) Where a police-officer arrests a person with a view to take proceedings under this section, he should specify one of the causes given in Sec. 55 although it may be that for the cause so stated he intends to proceed under this section. AIR 1926 Sind 190 (191) = 27 Cri LJ 628 (DB).

(3) A Magistrate should not detain a person in custody until the police are able to make out a case against him under this section specially where he has been arrested on suspicion in a cognizble offence and no case is made out against him. AIR 1921 All 278 (280) = 32 Cri LJ 115.

(4) In an enquiry under this section, the Magistrate derives jurisdiction to issue a warrant only after he has the necessary information and passes the preliminary order under Sec. 112. AIR 1926 Sind 288 (289) = 27 Cri LJ 935  AIR 1920 All 268 (269) = 22 Cri LJ 228 (229).

(6) In enquiry under Section 110, accused declined to cross-examine witnesses and stated specifically that he would not adduce defence evidence, it was held that no prejudice was caused to the accused and enquiry was not vitiated. 1961 BLJR 528 (529).

16. Bond for security. — (1) In proceedings under this section a police-officer is not authorized to take a bond for the production of a person before the police. AIR 1925 Lah 152 (152) = 25 Cri LJ 712.

(2) A surety in a bond for good behaviour under Section 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure takes a serious responsibility. To see that the person bound over keeps good behaviour is the essence of the bond and the person who undertakes the responsibility must take the consequences. The fact that the person bound over has been punished for the breach of the conditions of the bond has no bearing on the responsibility of the surety, nor will the question that leniency has been shown to that person in the matter of imposing fine be of any avail to the surety for mitigating his own liability under the bond. AIR 1962 Madh Pra 317 (318) = 1961 Jab LJ 1174 = 1962 (2) Cr LJ 498.

17. Application of Section 54 of Evidence Act, 1872. — (1) In a proceeding under Section 110 Cr. P. C. the bad character of the person is itself a fact in issue. That being so, Section 54 of Evidence Act has no application. Therefore, the objection that such evidence is not admissible under Section 54 cannot be entertained. 1961 BLJR 528 (529).

112. Order to be made.—When a Magistrate acting under Section 107, Section 108, Section 109 or Section 110 deems it necessary to require any person to show cause under such section, he shall make an order in writing, setting forth the substance of the information received, the amount of the bond to be executed, the term for which it is to be in force, and the number, character and class of sureties (if any) required.

1. Scope.— (1) Where a Magistrate gets information of the kind specified in Section 107, Section 108, Section 109 or Section 110, the first thing that he should do is to pass an order in writing under this section against the person concerned. AIR 1914 All 466 (466, 467) = 15 Cri L Jour 288  AIR 1957 All 189 (192) = 1957 Cri L Jour 427  AIR 1920 All 268 (269, 270) = 22 Cri L Jour 228  1969 Cri LJ 685 (686) = (1968) 2 Andh WR 152.

2. Order under Section 112 not read over to person present in Court — Order under Section 117 (3) is without jurisdiction. AIR 1966 J and K 29 (30) = 1966 Cri LJ 145 = 1966 Kash LJ 1  AIR 1967 Delhi 31 (34) = 1967 Cri LJ 865.

(3) The order should be served on person under Section 114 and Sec. 115, or, if he is present in Court, it should be read out to him under Section 113, so that he may have an opportunity to show cause why the proceedings should not be taken against him. (1874) 22 Suth WR (Cr) 68 (69) (DB)  AIR 1957 All 189 (192, 193) = 1957 Cri L Jour 427  (1876) 25 Suth WR (Cr) 50 (50) (DB)  (1885) 11 Cal 13 (14) (DB).

(5) The order need not set forth a list of the witnesses in support of the proceeding. (1907) 7 Cri L Jour 146 (150) = 35 Cal 243 (DB)  (1913) 14 Cri L Jour 5 (22) (SB) (Cal).

(6) A condition that the person proceeded against should undertake that no attempt would be made by them or their agents to realize rent by force and that nothing would be done to induce a breach of the peace, could not be imposed in an order under this section. (1906) 4 Cri L Jour 456 (459, 460) (DB) (Cal).

(7) An order under this section can only be made by the Magistrate taking cognizance under Section 107. AIR 1953 Cal 109 (114) = 1953 Cri L Jour 344 (DB).

(8) The procedure provided by this section and Section 117 must be followed where it is intended to take preventive action under Section 7 of the Burma Habitual Offenders Restriction Act, 1919. AIR 1925 Rang 69 (70) = 26 Cri L Jour 417.

1 (a). Proceedings under the section. — (1) Magistrate can drop a proceeding even after a formal order under Section 112 is drawn up and before enquiry under Section 117 is held, if on fresh material placed before him no breach of peace is apprehended. But he cannot drop the proceedings on the old material along with some assumptions. 1963 (2) Cr LJ 840 (840) (Patna).

(2) Past misconduct of person proceeded against is not sufficient to justify preliminary order under Section 112. 1970 Cri LJ 111 (112) = 1968 2 Mys LJ 551.

(3) Where on the face of it the preliminary order does not show that there was a likelihood of breach of peace being caused the preliminary order cannot be sustained. 1970 Cr LJ 111 (112) = (1968) 2 Mys LJ 551.

(4) The mention of Section 107 only and the omission to mention this section in a notice issued in a proceeding under Section 107 is a mere irregularity which does not warrant quashing of the proceedings. AIR 1961 Madh Pra 302 (305) = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 642.

(5) Sub-Magistrate ordering arrest of person under Section 151 but not proceeding further — Police filing independent charge under Section 109 before a first class Magistrate — He was competent to go on with the proceedings after passing a preliminary order under Section 112 if the grounds justified such a course. AIR 1960 Ker 227 (228) = 1960 Cri LJ 907 (1) (DB).

(6) Initiation of proceedings under Section 112 without forming requisite opinion under Sec. 107 vitiates entire proceedings. 1964 All Cr R 230 (231, 232) = 1964 All WR (HC) 342 (2).

(7) Proceedings initiated under Section 107 can be dropped at any stage even after passing an order under Section 112. AIR 1964 All 391 (393) = 1964 (2) Cr LJ 260.

(8) Order passed under Section 112 by Magistrate having no territorial jurisdiction — Order is illegal — Defect cannot be cured by transfer of case to proper Magistrate. 1962 (1) Cr LJ 386 (387) (All).

(9) In proceedings under Section 107 the Magistrate is not bound in every case to issue an order under Section 112. 1968 All Cr R 290 (291) = 1968 All WR (HC) 451  AIR 1970 Pat 134 (136).

(10) Action under Section 112 constitutes a judicial act. Something more than past misconduct is necessary to justify a notice under this section. 1966 (1) Mys LJ 260 (264) = (1966) 6 Law Rep 7  1965 Mad LJ (Cr) 208 (209) (Ker).

2. Substance of the information.— (1) A Magistrate acting under this section is bound to set forth in his order in writing the substance of the information on which he purports to act. AIR 1953 Cal 491 (Pr. 1) =1953 Cri L Jour 1165 (DB)  (1907) 6 Cri L Jour 1 (2) (DB) (Cal)  AIR 1914 Sind 8 (10) = 16 Cri L Jour 235 (DB)  1969 All LJ 412 (413) = 1969 All WR (HC) 416  AIR 1967 Delhi 31 (34) = 1967 Cri LJ 865  1961 (1) Cri LJ 536 (538) (Mys).

(2) There has to be no separate notice from the order under Section 112. AIR 1963 All 4 (10, 11) = 1963 (1) Cr LJ 20 (DB).

(3) Order of the Magistrate not indicating the nature of the information received which induced him to take action under Section 107 of the Code is bad. AIR 1970 Pat 107 (108) = 1969 BLJR 479.

(4) The object of this requirement is to make the person proceeded against clearly understand what the matter is upon which he has to show cause, to enable him to come prepared to meet the case against him. AIR 1940 Nag 134 (135) = 41 Cri L Jour 713  AIR 1954 Punj 6 (6) = 1954 Cri L Jour 49  (1904) 1 Cri L Jour 807 (809) = 27 All 172  AIR 1953 Pat 1 (Pr. 8) = 31 Pat 902 = 1953 Cri L Jour 110  (1908) 7 Cri L Jour 146 (151) = 35 Cal 243 (DB)  AIR 1930 Mad 859 (860) = 32 Cri L Jour 27  1969 All LJ 412 (413) = 1969 All WR (HC) 416.

(5) Information in order under Section 112 not giving sufficient information — Police report, on which the order was based, containing vague allegations — No definite allegation or charge against the person that he is likely to commit breach of peace — Preliminary order under Section 112 held not justified. (1966) 1 Mys LJ 260 = (1966) 6 Law Rep 7  (1966) 32 Cut LT 515 (518) = (1966) 8 OJD 60  1961 Cr LJ 536 (538) (Mys).

(6) It is not necessary to state more than will show the person proceeded against the particular section or sub-section on which the Court proposes to proceed against him. AIR 1927 Oudh 306 (307, 308) = 28 Cri L Jour 744 (DB)  AIR 1929 Cal 739 (740, 742) = 31 Cri L Jour 614 (DB)  AIR 1953 Pat 1 (Pr 7) = 31 Pat 902 = 1953 Cri L Jour 110 (DB)  AIR 1930 All 274 (274) = 31 Cri L Jour 627 (DB)  AIR 1940 Nag 134 (135) = 41 Cri L Jour 713.

(7) An order under this section is something in the nature of indictment or charge and, therefore, it should contain substantial particulars indicating the grounds upon which the information is based. AIR 1930 Mad 331 (335) = 31 Cr L Jour 618 (FB)  AIR 1930 Mad 859 (860) = 32 Cri L Jour 27  AIR 1925 Mad 189 (191) = 26 Cri L Jour 673  1937 Mad WN 885 (886)  AIR 1926 All 759 (760) = 28 Cri L Jour 9  AIR 1920 All 268 (269, 270) = 22 Cri L Jour 238  AIR 1942 Sind 122 (126, 129) = 44 Cri L Jour 367  (1966) 32 Cut LT 515 (518) = (1966) 8 OJD 60.

(8) Failure to give details in the notice under this section will not necessarily vitiate the notice. AIR 1940 Mad 23 (25, 26) = 41 Cri L Jour 238 (FB).

(9) Though it is not necessary to give all possible details of the overt acts, the information cannot stop short at mere generalisation of the nature of such acts. AIR 1952 Orissa 33 (Prs. 9, 10). (AIR 1951 Orissa 277, Criticised.)  (1966) 32 Cut LT 515 (518) = (1966) 8 Orissa JD 60.

(10) Where no copy of the police report was sent with the notice and the terms of the notice themselves were vague, and did not state the wrongful acts alleged against the accused so that it was not possible for the accused to meet the case against them.

Held, that in these circumstances the accused were prejudiced in their trial and the proceedings were vitiated by reason of the notice not being in accordance with requirements of law. (1958) 24 Cut L Tim 123 (126).

(11) The extent of the information which must be set forth must depend, in each case, upon the circumstances of that case. AIR 1939 Sind 261 (262) = 40 Cri L Jour 887 (DB)  AIR 1940 Mad 23 (26) = 41 Cri L Jour 238 (FB)  1951 Raj LW 137 (139)  1896 All WN 73 (73)  (1884) 6 All 214 (218).

(13) It is not enough merely to assert that a person has committed an offence generally under Section 110. Clause under which he is charged should be specified. AIR 1926 Lah 45 (46) = 26 Cri L Jour 1377  AIR 1948 Nag 28 (29) = ILR (1947) Nag 237 = 48 Cri L Jour 252.

(14) Where a notice was by no means clear whether the accusation which the party had to meet was one under Section 109 or under Section 110 of the Code, it was held that there was no sufficient compliance with the section. (1885) 11 Cal 13 (14) (DB).

(15) The Magistrate shall be careful to see that his order is in the terms of the section which he proposes to apply. AIR 1928 All 357 (358) = 30 Cri L Jour 122 (DB)  AIR 1929 All 813 (813) = 30 Cri L Jour 1086.

(17) The Magistrate has the right to test the accuracy of the information received by him before issuing the notice by :—

(a) calling for a report from the police. AIR 1932 All 670 (672) = 34 Cri L Jour 42.

(b) calling for a report from the Subordinate Magistrate. (1891) 2 Weir 51 (51).

3. Amount of the bond to be executed.— (1) It is only reasonable and just that the individual should be afforded a fair chance at least of complying with the required condition of furnishing security before he is awarded imprisonment for default. (2) Where an order directed the suspect to execute a bond for Rs. 100 and to furnish two sureties for Rs. 300, it was held that there was only one penalty of a bond and that the principal being bound in that amount, the sureties were bound for the same amount. (1897-1901) 1 Upp Bur Rul 24 (25).

(3) Where an order required the suspect to furnish a bond for Rs. 1000 "with respectable sureties," it was held that it was necessary to specify whether each and all the sureties are liable for the amount of Rs. 1000 or whether they are liable for Rs. 1000 between them. (5) In determining amount of security regard must be had to character of offence, the penalty the law attaches to it, character and criminal record of accused, number of other bonds that have been executed by him, number of such bonds that have been forfeited, probability of establishment of guilt or innocence at trial and financial status and pecuniary circumstances of accused. (1958) 60 Pun LR 513 (515).

(6) The purpose of calling for security is to prevent the person concerned from committing a breach of the peace and not to punish him or keep him in prison. (1958) 60 Punj LR 513 (515).

4. Character and class of sureties.— (1) The order under this section should specify the character and class of sureties, if any, required. (1903-1904) 2 Low Bur Rul 40 (40, 41).

(3) The Court cannot direct that the sureties should be able to control the persons for whom they are sureties. AIR 1914 Bom 5 (6) = 15 Cri L Jour 268 (DB).

(5) The power to specify the character and class of the sureties must be reasonably exercised and the order must be such that if a suspect has a bona fide intention to be of good behaviour, it will not be impossible for him to find sureties. AIR 1914 Sind 13 (14) = 16 Cri L Jour 100 (DB)  (1899) 1 Bom LR 520 (521) (DB).

(6) Where there is an order that the surety should be a close relation of party but the relation does not come forward owing to unpleasantness between him and the party, the order is not legal. AIR 1954 Pepsu 31 (32) = ILR (1953) Patiala 364 = 1954 Cri L Jour 112.

(3) Where the notice under Section 112 mentions the date of commencement of the period and that period expires before the final order under Section 118 is passed the proceedings have to be dropped as the notice had exhausted itself. 1967 All WR (HC) 768 (772) = 1967 All Cr R 477 (DB).

(4) The period for which the bond of sureties has been required under Section 112 is to commence either on or after the final order has been passed under Section 118 and not from date of notice under Section 112. 1967 All WR (HC) 768 (772) = 1967 All Cr R 477 (DB).

1. "Shall issue a summons."— (1) Where a person against whom an order under Section 112 is passed is not present in Court, the Magistrate is bound to issue a summons requiring him to appear or, if he is in custody, a warrant for the same purpose. 2. Form of summons.— (1) Form No. 12, Schedule V of the Code requires that the substance of the information should be set forth in the summons. 3. Sufficient time to appear in Court to show cause.— (1) When issuing a summons to any person under this section, sufficient time should be allowed for appearance in Court so as to enable him to get ready with his evidence for the purpose of the inquiry under Section 117. 4. "When such person is in custody."— (1) Where the person against whom an order is made under Section 112 is in custody, the Court should issue a warrant directing the officer in whose custody he is to bring him before the Court. AIR 1926 Sind 190 (191) = 27 Cri L Jour 628 (DB).

(2) It is not necessary that the custody should have been under an arrest made within the jurisdiction of the Magistrate acting under this section. AIR 1919 Cal 702 (706) = 19 Cri L Jour 696 (DB).

5. Immediate arrest.— (1) A Magistrate may, under the proviso, order the immediate arrest of the person against whom an order under Section 112 is made, whether a summons or warrant for his production has issued or not. Before, however, such an exceptional measure is taken, two conditions are necessary to be satisfied — (1) the Magistrate must have reason to fear the commission of a breach of the peace, and (2) it must appear to him that such breach of the peace cannot be prevented otherwise than by the immediate arrest of such person. (3) Order under — Magistrate not considering the facts or even nature of orders — Orders typed by bench clerk from some other record and not signed by magistrate — Held, they were without legal foundation. (1967) 71 Cal WN 1039 (1040).

7. "May at any time."— (1) Where person proceeded against has appeared and has executed a bond under Sec. 117, sub-sec. (3), the Magistrate has no power to issue a warrant of arrest against him on the ground that there is an imminent danger of the breach of the peace. (2) Under Section 107 (4), a Court can detain a person brought before it, under the circumstances specified therein, until the enquiry is completed. In such a case it cannot be said that the arrested person has an absolute right to be released on bail. This is now made clear by the addition of the proviso to Section 496. SECTION 116

1. Scope.— (1) The section does not apply to a case where a person is called upon to show cause why he should not be ordered to furnish security for good behaviour. (1903) 2 Weir 54 (55).

2. The Magistrate "may".— (1) The Magistrate has a discretion to dispense or not to dispense with the personal attendance of the person called upon to give security. The discretion is, however, judicial. (1885) 12 Cal 133 (136) (DB).

OBJECTS AND REASONS

1923.—We approve of the principle of new sub-section (3) of Section 117 which as an alternative to the immediate arrest allowed by the proviso to Section 114, enables a Magistrate to make an interim order for security. But we see no reason why the interim order should not be, in certain cases, one for security for good behaviour, provided that an order of this nature is not made in proceedings under S. 107. We have also redrafted the proviso to new sub-section (3) in the hope of making its intention clearer.

We decided in favour of maintaining the amendment of present sub-section (3) [now sub-section (4)] — which will enable the fact that a person "is so desperate and dangerous as to render his being at large without security hazardous to the community" to be proved by evidence of general repute. Our colleague Syed Raza Ali dissents from this view. On the other hand, we think that the deletion of the words 'or otherwise' would be a mistake, as the Courts might hold that some change in the law was intended by their omission and that the sub-section was intended to be exhaustive of the methods of proof.—S. C. R. (18 of 1923).

cured by the provisions of Sec. 537. (1913) 14 Cri LJ 65 (66) (Mad).

(18) Where in proceedings under Section 107, the preliminary order did not contain sufficient particulars of the information upon which the Magistrate acted and objection was taken on that ground, it was held that the Magistrate had power to order an amendment of the same by giving full particulars. (1902) 29 Cal 389 (390, 391) (DB).

(19) The words "such further evidence as may appear necessary" refer to evidence ejusdem generis with the evidence described in the words immediately preceding. (20) Inquiries under this chapter are governed by ordinary rules of evidence and evidence not admissible under the Evidence Act cannot be admitted in proceedings under this section. AIR 1914 All 280 (282) = 15 Cri LJ 705.

(21) An investigating officer's statement that he suspected a certain person to have committed a burglary or theft is inadmissible because it is only an opinion of his and not a statement of fact within his personal knowledge. AIR 1959 All 347 (Pr 3) = 1959 Cri LJ 673.

(22) Inquiries under this section ought not to be long drawn out : Magistrate should be careful to see that unnecessary witnesses are not examined. AIR 1914 All 430 (431) = 15 Cri LJ 363.

(23) Detention in prison as a result of orders under Sections 107, 117 and 123 is a kind of preventive detention and a sort of precautionary measure and not a punitive detention. These sections are not repugnant to Article 22 of the Constitution for they deal with different situations and different classes of persons. Chapter VIII is not also discriminatory in character. AIR 1957 Andh-Pra 90 (Prs 2, 3, 7, 8) = 1957 Cri LJ 624.

(24) However summary the proceedings under Chapter VIII, Criminal P. C. may be considered, they are judicial proceedings and have to be conducted in accordance with the Code and the Magistrates holding these proceedings must see that the fundamental elements of the judicial process find expression in the machinery for administering justice. AIR 1969 Delhi 12 (14) = 1969 Cri LJ 43 = (1968) 70 Punj LR (D) 390.

2. Effect of consent to give security — Whether inquiry necessary.— (1) Where, in response to the notice issued under Section 112 the person sought to be bound over appears before the Magistrate his mere consent or readiness to furnish the security as required by the notice, does not amount to a plea of guilty to the charges contained in the preliminary order and the Court is not justified in binding him over on the strength of such consent alone without any inquiry and evidence. (4) Where the accused-applicants never admitted that there was a likelihood of a breach of the peace and had clearly mentioned in their application that they were willing to offer security provided all the persons of the opposite party were also asked to furnish security this would not be tantamount to a plea of guilty, and the Magistrate is, therefore, not justified in taking this offer as a plea of guilty. Further evidence in support of the report made by the police would be necessary. AIR 1954 All 29 (29, 30) = 1954 Cri LJ 11.

(5) The Rajasthan High Court has held that where the person from whom security is demanded denies all the allegations made against him his preparedness in the end to give security cannot be taken to be a plea of guilty and the Magistrate's order requiring security cannot be justified. 1953 Raj LW 205 (206).

(6) The Judicial Commissioner's Court of Sind has held that even where the person sought to be bound over admits the several allegations contained in the notice under Section 112, the Court is not justified in dispensing with an inquiry. AIR 1925 Sind 321 (321) = 26 Cri LJ 1041.

(7) The Judicial Commissioner's Court of Peshawar has held that it is open to the Magistrate to bind over a person on his own admission of the allegations made against him but that such admission must be clear and unambiguous. AIR 1935 Pesh 116 (118, 119) = 36 Cri LJ 1212 (DB).

(2) Before its amendment by Act 26 of 1955, under sub-section (2) in proceedings for security for keeping the peace, the procedure prescribed for the trials of summons-cases was to be followed; while in proceedings for security for good behaviour, the procedure prescribed for the trials of warrant cases was to be followed. (9) To send a person to jail while an inquiry under security proceedings is pending against him, is illegal and prejudicial to his interests. AIR 1914 Bom 199 (199) = 16 Cri L Jour 91 (DB).

(10) The Magistrate was held to be justified in remanding the accused persons to jail custody, during the pendency of the inquiry under S. 117 (3), particularly when they did not choose to offer bail for their release during the pendency of the inquiry. AIR 1959 All 346 (Pr 4) = 1959 Cri L Jour 672 (DB). (AIR 1958 All 578, Foll.)

merely because they apply to summons trial but principally by reason of sub-section (2) of Section 117 itself. AIR 1958 All 578 (Pr 16) = 1958 Cri LJ 988 (DB).

6. Interim security — Sub-section (3). — (1) The object of the provision is to empower the Magistrate to direct a person against whom an order under Section 112 has been made to execute a bond for keeping the peace or maintaining good behaviour until the conclusion of the inquiry. (3) A mere statement that the order is passed "on account of emergency" is not sufficient. AIR 1927 Sind 148 (150) = 28 Cri LJ 173 (DB).

(4) It is necessary under this sub-section that the Magistrate should give reason in support of the order directing a person proceeded against to execute interim bonds. (6) Composite order — Appending of an order under Section 117 (3) to an order under Section 112, is illegal. AIR 1969 Manipur 90 (92) = 1969 Cri LJ 1512.

(7) An order under this sub-section being in the nature of an interim order must be of a kind which could be made in a permanent order in the proceedings. The sub-section will not apply to an attempt to abet or the abetment of the offence of perjury. AIR 1943 Sind 173 (173) = 45 Cri LJ 147 (DB)  AIR 1959 Mad 339 (Pr 8) = 1959 Cri LJ 998.

(8) An order under this sub-section is not a mere routine order to be appended to an order under Section 112 and is not meant merely to anticipate the final order that may be made under Section 118. It is designed to meet an emergency. AIR 1953 Pat 132 (Pr 2) = 1953 Cri LJ 916  AIR 1959 Mad 339 (Pr 8) = 1959 Cri LJ 998  1951 Raj LW 176 (177)  AIR 1942 Sind 86 (86) = 43 Cri LJ 788 (DB)  (1968) 70 Punj LR 6 (7) (Delhi)  (1966) 8 Law Rep 175 (Mys)  AIR 1960 Mys 146 (147) = 1960 Cri LJ 837.

(9) If the Magistrate, upon information lodged under Section 107, feels the necessity for further information, he can do that by calling upon parties to adduce further evidence before him in the course of enquiry under Section 117. But he cannot call upon police to file further particulars or lodge fresh information to enable him to issue second notice under Section 112 on the basis of additional information. Where it is not possible to pass an order under Section 118 on the available information, Magistrate must discharge notice. 1970 Cri LJ 292 (293) = (1966) 2 Mys LJ 250.

(10) The Magistrate must direct his consideration particularly to the question of emergency and the necessity of immediate measures as a separate case. cross-examination in the usual manner. AIR 1953 Pat 132 (Pr 2) = 1953 Cri LJ 916  AIR 1959 Mad 339 (Pr 8) = 1959 Cri LJ 998.

(13) The Magistrate need not commence to take evidence before he passes an order under Section 117 (3). But, it is necessary before he proceeds to take action under Section 117 (3) that the order passed by him under Section 112 has been read or explained to petitioners. AIR 1969 Manipur 90 (92) = 1969 Cri LJ 1512.

(14) If the Magistrate is satisfied that an emergency exists and urgent orders are necessary he can act upon the application of a police-officer or upon the sworn testimony of a police-prosecutor given in the witness-box, or in the form of affidavits. (15) An order passed under this sub-section after considering the question of emergency as a separate question is not bad merely because the Magistrate has based it on the same information and the same evidence which were the basis of his order under Section 112. 1951 Raj LW 176 (177)  AIR 1959 Mad 339 (Pr 8) = 1959 Cri LJ 998  AIR 1943 Sind 122 (123) = 44 Cri LJ 779 (DB) AIR 1969 Manipur 90 (92) = 1969 Cri LJ 1512  1964 Ker LT 249 (251) = 1964 Ker LJ 511.

(16) Where a Magistrate starts proceedings under Section 110, Clauses (a), (b) and (c) on a police report which makes general and vague allegations, the order cannot be justified on the ground of emergency. AIR 1942 Sind 77 (78) = 43 Cri LJ 692 (DB).

(17) The existence of a state of martial law is a strong evidence justifying an order under this sub-section. AIR 1943 Sind 173 (174) = 45 Cri LJ 147 (DB).

(18) In so far as an interim order is permitted under Section 117, sub-s. (3) it would be correct to say that this interim order in an emergency can be passed even in the absence of the person affected by the order. AIR 1956 Bom 385 (387) = 1956 Cri LJ 712 (DB)  1961 Raj LW 491.

(19) An order under this sub-section has to be passed only after the order under Section 112 has been read and explained to the accused as provided in sub-section (1). (22) An enquiry under Section 117 (1) can be said to commence for the purpose of this sub-section when the persons sought to be proceeded against are brought or appear before the Court to answer the charge against them. (27) The provisions of Chapter XXXIX of the Code relating to bail do not apply to an order passed under this sub-section. The High Court cannot under Section 498 reduce the amount of security ordered to be furnished by the Magistrate under this sub-section, though it can reduce the same under its inherent powers where it is too high. AIR 1930 Lah 529 (529) = 31 Cri L Jour 812.

(28) The reduction by the High Court of the amount of the interim security does not fetter the discretion of the Magistrate as to the amount of the final security that he may order. AIR 1930 Lah 529 (530) = 31 Cri L Jour 812.

(29) The Court has jurisdiction to pass an order for interim security notwithstanding that an application is made under Section 526, sub-section (8). AIR 1928 All 268 (268) = 29 Cri L Jour 448 (DB)  AIR 1927 Sind 148 (150, 151) = 28 Cri L Jour 173 (DB).

(30) As the power under this sub-section is vested in the Magistrates for meeting an emergency, unwarranted interference with the action taken by a Magistrate under S. 117 (3) would only lead to public peace and tranquillity being disputed. 1950 Trav-Co LR 368 (372) (DB).

(31) In regard to the taking of interim bonds, the Magistrate who is responsible for maintaining peace in his locality is the proper judge of what should be done in the exigencies and circumstances of the case rendering immediate measures necessary for preventing a breach of peace and the High Court will not ordinarily interfere in revision. 1953-2 Mad L Jour 669 (670).

(32) Where the person who is proceeded against does not choose to offer bail during the pendency of the enquiry under this sub-section, the Magistrate would be justified in remanding him to the jail custody. AIR 1959 All 346 (Pr. 4) = 1959 Cri L Jour 672 (DB).

(33) Illegal order under Section 117 (3) with consequential order under Section 514 — One revision against composite order maintainable. AIR 1969 Manipur 90 (93) = 1969 Cri LJ 1512.

Effect of quashing of proceedings.— (34) Where the Magistrate quashes the security proceedings on the ground that no purpose would be served by continuing them as the persons against whom the inquiry is being held are being tried for murder, the effect of the Magistrate's order is only to terminate the proceedings and not to set them aside. Hence, the interim bond previously taken can be enforced under S. 514 against the surety. AIR 1941 Oudh 321 (322) = 42 Cri L Jour 457.

(35) Stating his satisfaction for taking immediate measures on perusal of affidavits and report of investigating officer — Mere fact that reasons given in order itself are not very elaborate or definite can be no ground for holding that order was passed without jurisdiction. (1969) 35 Cut LT 603.

(38) A magistrate is empowered to pass a composite order both under Section 117 (3) and under Section 112 of the Cr. P. Code. It is not necessary that before an order under Section 117 (3) is passed an enquiry under Section 112 must have already been taken up for consideration. 7. Evidence of general repute — Subsection (4).— (1) Where a person is charged under Section 110 as being a habitual offender, or as being a desperate and dangerous person, his character becomes a fact in issue. Under Sec. 5 of the Evidence Act read with Explanation 1 to Section 54 of that Act, evidence as to such character becomes relevant. [See however AIR 1920 Mad 534 (535) = 21 Cri L Jour 354 (DB).]

(2) Reputation means what is thought of a person by others, and the general reputation of a person is the collective opinion of those in whose midst he lives. AIR 1951 Assam 106 (Pr. 54) = ILR (1951) 3 Assam 181 = 52 Cri L Jour 966 (DB)  AIR 1938 Mad 591 (593) = 39 Cri L Jour 898 (DB)  AIR 1925 Lah 166 (167) = 25 Cri L Jour 808  AIR 1927 All 394 (395) = 28 Cri L Jour 502 (DB).

(3) The opinion need not necessarily be the opinion of the entire community. AIR 1951 Assam 106 (Pr. 54) = ILR (1951) 3 Assam 181 = 52 Cri L Jour 966 (DB)  AIR 1914 All 280 (282) = 15 Cri L Jour 705  AIR 1920 Mad 534 (539) = 21 Cri L Jour 354 (DB).

(5) General reputation must be distinguished from rumour which is inadmissible in evidence. AIR 1951 Assam 106 (Pr. 54) = ILR (1951) 3 Assam 181 = 52 Cri L Jour 966 (DB)  AIR 1924 Pat 500 (501) = 25 Cri L Jour 985  (1904) 1 Cri L Jour 984 (986) (All)  AIR 1919 Mad 633 (635) = 19 Cri L Jour 905  (1896) 23 Cal 621 (628, 629) (DB).

(6) The roots of a bad reputation are often planted in rumour, but it cannot be laid down as any hard and fast rule, how many instances build up a reputation and how long it takes for rumour to ripen into reputation. AIR 1951 Assam 106 (Pr. 54) = ILR (1951) 3 Assam 181 = 52 Cri L Jour 966 (DB)  AIR 1933 Pat 189 (191) = 34 Cri L Jour 643  AIR 1921 Cal 625 (627) = 22 Cri L Jour 377 (DB).

(7) It is hardly necessary to say that evidence of rumour is mere hearsay evidence, and hearsay evidence of a particular fact. Evidence of repute is a totally different thing. A man's general reputation is the reputation which he bears in the place in which he lives amongst all the townsmen, and if it is proved that a man who lives in a particular place is looked upon by his fellow townsmen, whether they happen to know him or not, as a man of good repute that is strong evidence that he is a man of that character. On the other hand, if the state of things is that the body of his fellow townsmen who know him, look upon him as a dangerous man and a man of bad habits, that is strong evidence that he is a man of bad character. (8) The individual opinion of specified individuals as to the character of another person does not constitute general reputation, and evidence thereof is merely evidence of opinion which is, under the provisions of the Evidence Act, inadmissible except in the particular cases specified in that Act. AIR 1920 Oudh 255 (257) = 21 Cri L Jour 810  AIR 1929 All 273 (276) = 30 Cri L Jour 562 (DB)  AIR 1920 Mad 534 (537) = 21 Cri L Jour 354 (DB)  AIR 1924 Pat 500 (501) = 25 Cri L Jour 985.

(9) A mere suspicion on the part of the witness as to the complicity of the person sought to be proceeded against in certain isolated offences, is only his individual opinion and is not per se admissible as evidence of general repute. AIR 1929 All 273 (275, 276) = 30 Cri L Jour 562 (DB)  AIR 1959 All 347 (Pr. 3) = 1959 Cri L Jour 673  AIR 1920 Cal 301 (303) = 21 Cri L Jour 170 (DB)  (1907) 5 Cri L Jour 191 (193) (DB) (Cal)  AIR 1919 Mad 633 (635) = 19 Cri L Jour 905  AIR 1924 Pat 498 (499) = 25 Cri L Jour 35.

(10) The mere fact that the witness is a police officer will not make his evidence any the weightier or admissible. AIR 1929 All 273 (275) = 30 Cri L Jour 562 (DB)  AIR 1915 All 144 (145) = 16 Cri L Jour 281.

(11) Police records of suspected cases or history sheets maintained by the police, or entries in "Thana Village Crime Note Book," or Police diaries, would all be inadmissible as evidence of general repute. Section 117 — Note 7 (contd.)

(12) Although suspicion is not substantive evidence of general repute, and the facts which would not be admissible in an ordinary trial are not admissible as evidence under this section, evidence that a person had been suspected and named in a large number of cases extending over a considerable period may be admissible as corroborative evidence of bad repute under Section 11 (2) of the Evidence Act. AIR 1924 Oudh 112 (112) = 24 Cri L Jour 608  AIR 1923 All 595 (595) = 25 Cri L Jour 486.

(13) In a doubtful case, the fact that a person has never been suspected of any offence may weaken the evidence of bad repute given against him. AIR 1920 Oudh 226 (227) = 22 Cri L Jour 273  AIR 1923 All 595 (595) = 25 Cri L Jour 486.

(14) Enquiries under this section are governed by the ordinary rules of evidence, and, therefore, evidence, whether of general repute or of particular facts which would not be admissible at an ordinary trial, is not admissible under this section. AIR 1929 All 273 (275, 276) = 30 Cri L Jour 562 (DB)  AIR 1920 Oudh 255 (256) = 21 Cri L Jour 810.

(15) Where evidence of general repute is to be let in under sub-section (4), it must be direct evidence in accordance with the rules of evidence. AIR 1934 All 735 (738) = 36 Cri L Jour 33.

(16) If a witness deposes : "I heard the general reputation of X in the village to be so and so," it is direct evidence of the reputation by a person who heard the reputation. AIR 1928 All 1 (3) = 29 Cri L Jour 92 (DB)  AIR 1920 Oudh 255 (258) = 21 Cri L Jour 810.

(17) It was held that the evidence of reputation must necessarily comprise hearsay evidence but that it was admissible by virtue of the provisions of this sub-section. AIR 1951 Assam 181 (Prs. 53, 54) = ILR (1951) 3 Assam 181 = 52 Cri L Jour 966 (DB)  AIR 1938 Mad 482 (483) = 39 Cri L Jour 588 (DB)  AIR 1929 All 650 (652) = 31 Cri L Jour 755 (DB)  (1909) 10 Cri L Jour 355 (356) = 5 Low Bur Rul 72 (FB).

(18) It was held that if the deponent does not know the person whose reputation is in question, his evidence that he heard the reputation is hearsay and, therefore, inadmissible. AIR 1933 Pat 189 (192) = 34 Cri L Jour 643.

(19) The evidence of a witness who does not know the person about whose reputation he deposes, would necessarily be very weak and would not ordinarily justify an order for security. AIR 1921 All 88 (88, 89) = 22 Cri L Jour 314 (DB)  AIR 1929 All 273 (276) = 30 Cri L Jour 562 (DB)  (1902) 29 Cal 779 (781) (DB).

(20) That the applicant is by habit a housebreaker, or thief can be proved by proving that he has committed burglaries or thefts to such an extent that he can be said to be a habitual burglar or thief or by proving that his general reputation is that of a habitual burglar or thief. There is no third way of proving the fact. AIR 1959 All 347 (Pr. 3) = 1959 Cri L Jour 673. (21) As a matter of practice, evidence of general repute ought to be evidence given by respectable persons who are acquainted with the person sought to be bound over, who live in the same neighbourhood, and are aware of his reputation. AIR 1920 Mad 534 (539) = 21 Cri L Jour 354 (DB).

(22) It would not ordinarily be sufficient to examine merely officials such as the police, zaildars or sufedposes. (23) The Court ought not to accept the evidence of police witnesses unless they had special means and occasion to know the reputation in the course of their official duties. AIR 1942 Pesh 84 (85) = 44 Cri L Jour 6 (DB)  AIR 1933 All 674 (675) = 35 Cri L Jour 183.

(24) It would not be safe to reject the evidence of any witness merely because he is a village mukhia or a police officer. AIR 1938 Mad 591 (591) = 39 Cri L Jour 898 (DB)  AIR 1935 Pesh 80 (82) = 36 Cri L Jour 1127  AIR 1935 All 850 (851) = 36 Cri L Jour 1362 (DB).

(25) The vague evidence of witnesses that a man is a habitual thief or that the neighbourhood is of that opinion is not of much value without particulars as to his associates, means of subsistence and as to whether increase of thefts synchronises with his presence in the locality. AIR 1924 Oudh 187 (188) = 24 Cri L Jour 791  (1900) 2 Bom LR 57 (58) (DB).

(27) The Court must satisfy itself in each case that the evidence is true and properly appraise the evidence of persons living at a considerable distance. AIR 1925 Rang 174 (175) = 26 Cri L Jour 528 (DB).

(28) Where, in consequence of a series of dacoities in certain villages proceedings are instituted against a person for being a robber by habit, the evidence of general reputation given against him by persons from the different villages in which the dacoities took place would be proper and admissible. (1908) 7 Cri L Jour 146 (155) = 35 Cri 243 (DB).

(29) The Court should exercise a proper discretion in each case and satisfy itself that the evidence of general repute is so general and overwhelming as to leave no doubt that the accused is a habitual thief, robber, etc., as the case may be. AIR 1950 Cal 177 (Pr. 6) = 51 Cri L Jour 856 (DB)  (1891) 14 All 45 (46)  1903 All WN 181 (181)  AIR 1914 Bom 199 (200) = 16 Cri LJour 91 (DB)  (1907) 5 Cri L Jour 24 (25) (Lah)  AIR 1921 Lah 179 (179) = 23 Cri L Jour 507.

(30) No hard and fast rule can be laid down as to the quantum of evidence necessary before a Court can act thereon nor is it necessary that the suspicion against a person charged under Section 110 must be embodied in a document. AIR 1946 Oudh 50 (51).

(31) The evidence has to be weighed in relation to other facts elicited from the statement of other witnesses. AIR 1951 Assam 106 (Pr. 53) = ILR (1951) 3 Assam 181 = 52 Cri L Jour 966 (DB).

(32) The burden of proof lies, as in any other case, on the prosecution. 1898 Pun Re (Cr) No. 4, p. 9 (11)  AIR 1920 Cal 412 (412) = 21 Cri L Jour 826 (DB).

(33) The Court should pay particular attention to the evidence of the defence witnesses who speak to good character; such evidence should not be discarded or lightly brushed aside unless there are substantial reasons for discrediting their evidence. AIR 1915 All 415 (416) = 16 Cri L Jour 810  AIR 1923 All 35 (37) = 24 Cri L Jour 257  AIR 1930 Lah 1051 (1052) = 32 Cri L Jour 271  AIR 1933 Pat 112 (113) = 34 Cri L Jour 476  AIR 1919 Oudh 310 (311) = 20 Cri L Jour 748.

(34) The mere fact that the defence witnesses are the caste people of the accused, or that the accused is a very influential man in the locality and therefore is in a position to produce a large number of witnesses on his side is, however, no ground for discrediting their evidence. AIR 1950 Cal 177 (Pr. 5) = 51 Cri L Jour 856 (DB)  AIR 1919 Oudh 310 (311) = 20 Cri L Jour 748  AIR 1915 All 464 (465) = 16 Cri L Jour 805  AIR 1928 Lah 49 (49) = 28 Cri L Jour 813  AIR 1919 All 136 (138) = 20 Cri L Jour 689.

(35) Where the evidence of the prosecution and the defence is equally balanced, and equal, if not greater, number of defence witnesses speak to good character, no order demanding security should be passed. AIR 1952 All 927 (Pr. 10) = 1952 Cri L Jour 1692  AIR 1948 Nag 28 (29) = ILR (1947) Nag 237 = 48 Cri L Jour 252  AIR 1930 Lah 1051 (1054) = 32 Cri L Jour 271  AIR 1930 Oudh 357 (360) = 31 Cri L Jour 1020 (DB)  AIR 1939 Lah 269 (270) = 40 Cri L Jour 753.

(36) Where a large body of persons have come forward to swear as to the reputation of a person and he is not able to show anything as to why the witnesses have come forward to give him a bad character, such evidence should not be lightly brushed aside. AIR 1946 Oudh 50 (51).

(37) The Court must sift and weigh the evidence carefully. AIR 1950 Cal 177 (Pr. 5) = 51 Cri L Jour 856 (DB)  AIR 1942 Oudh 356 (357) = 43 Cri L Jour 398  AIR 1925 Oudh 501 (501) = 26 Cri L Jour 530.

(38) The commission of a sufficient number of burglaries or thefts must be proved in order to make out a case of being by habit a burglar or thief; but commission of a smaller number of burglaries or thefts may supplement, or be supplemented by the evidence of a general repute. AIR 1959 All 347 (Pr. 8) = 1959 Cri L Jour 673.

8. Evidence of repute against person charged under Section 107, if admissible.— (1) Where a person is called upon to furnish security to keep the peace under Section 107, no evidence of general repute can, under sub-sec. (4) of this section, be let in against him. (1903) 25 All 273 (274, 275)  1888 Pun Re (Cr) No. 16, p. 30 (30, 31) (DB).

(2) Reports made by several of the prosecution witnesses on various dates regarding the past conduct of the accused and his disposition to use violence though not substantive evidence of the matters mentioned in them are admissible under Section 157 of the Evidence Act, to corroborate what the witnesses have testified in Court. AIR 1940 Pat 252 (252, 253) = 41 Cri L Jour 746.

9. "Or otherwise."— (1) The words "or otherwise" do not permit the transgression of the general rules of evidence as enacted by the Evidence Act. AIR 1920 Oudh 255 (256) = 21 Cri L Jour 810.

(2) The fact that the person proceeded against has committed a number of thefts, or that he associates with proved bad characters can be proved. AIR 1933 All 674 (1) (674) = 35 Cri L Jour 284  AIR 1933 All 674 (2) (675) = 35 Cri L Jour 183  AIR 1934 Oudh 49 (49) = 35 Cri L Jour 403.

(3) Where a witness deposes to the fact that a person is a habitual offender, the fact that such person was suspected in various cases may be admissible as being one of the grounds of the opinion of the witness that the person is a habitual offender. AIR 1929 All 650 (653) = 31 Cri L Jour 755 (DB).

(4) Statements given to the police are admissible in evidence in proceedings under Section 110 and cannot be shut out by the use of Section 162. AIR 1933 Mad 688 (689) = 34 Cri L Jour 951.

(5) The words "or otherwise" are intended to give the Magistrate a very large discretion as to the nature of the evidence which he may admit. (1904) 1 Cri L Jour 534 (535) (All).

10. Admissibility of evidence of previous convictions in Sec. 110 proceedings.— (1) Any evidence which would be relevant to the charge under inquiry would be admissible even under the Evidence Act. AIR 1919 All 220 (221) = 20 Cri L Jour 206.

(2) The existence of a number of previous convictions for offences such as theft is a matter which may and should be taken into consideration as indicating the character and disposition of the accused (Section 54, Explanation 2 of the Evidence Act.) But the existence of such convictions is not by itself sufficient to justify an order for security. AIR 1929 All 273 (275) = 30 Cri L Jour 562 (DB)  AIR 1925 Bom 195 (195) = 26 Cri L Jour 1391 (DB)  (1909) 10 Cri L Jour 122 (124) (DB) (Cal)  AIR 1921 Lah 179 (179, 180) = 23 Cri L Jour 507.

[See also AIR 1956 Him Pra 43 (Prs. 7, 8) = 1956 Cri L Jour 996.]

(3) The fact that the accused has been bound over previously under Section 110 may also be stated and proved as one of the grounds on which witnesses to general repute believe him to be a habitual offender. AIR 1929 All 650 (653) = 31 Cri L Jour 755 (DB).

(4) The Court cannot order security to be furnished on the strength of the previous order alone unless there is evidence of bad character subsequent to the same. AIR 1933 All 369 (369, 370) = 35 Cri L Jour 417  AIR 1915 Cal 643 (643) = 16 Cri L Jour 312 (312) (DB)  (1906) 4 Cri L Jour 486 (487) (Lah)  (1911) 12 Cri L Jour 359 (359) (Mad).

(5) Proof of previous conviction is not necessary to pass an order under Section 110. AIR 1938 Mad 482 (483) = 39 Cri L Jour 588  AIR 1936 Oudh 238 (239) = 37 Cri L Jour 390 (DB).

(6) Where, while disposing of a proceeding initiated on police report under Section 110 (e) and (f) the Magistrate passed preliminary order under Sec. 112 and the accused has admitted his previous conviction but not all the ingredients of charge levelled against him, it was held that Magistrate should have proceeded with the enquiry under Sec. 117. 1959 Ker LJ 1293 (1294).

11. Admissibility of evidence of the commission of a substantive offence in Section 110 proceedings.— (1) Positive evidence as to the actual commission of offence is not necessary in proceedings under Section 110. AIR 1953 Trav-Co 231 (Pr. 4) = ILR (1953) Trav-Co 253 = 1953 Cri L Jour 1246 (DB)  AIR 1933 Oudh 58 (59) = 34 Cri L Jour 160 (DB)  (1907) 5 Cri L Jour 178 (179) (DB) (Bom)  (1881) 3 Mad 238 (239, 240) (DB).

(2) Instances of specific crimes are admissible in evidence although they are not supported by evidence of such amount and value as would secure a conviction for a substantive offence. AIR 1953 Trav-Co 231 (Pr. 4) = ILR (1953) Trav-co 253 = 1953 Cri L Jour 1246 (DB)  AIR 1930 Oudh 357 (358) = 31 Cri L Jour 1020 (DB)  AIR 1930 All 274 (275, 276) = 31 Cri L Jour 627 (DB)  AIR 1933 All 676 (678) = 35 Cri L Jour 218.

(3) Even where a prosecution for a substantive offence has ended in an acquittal, it has been held that evidence relating to the incident which formed the subject matter of the previous trial cannot be excluded: the fact of acquittal although it may diminish and destroy value of the evidence, has not the effect of rendering such evidence inadmissible. AIR 1925 All 694 (697) = 26 Cri L Jour 1130 (DB).

12. Sufficient evidence in proceedings under Section 109.— (1) Where the only evidence against the accused is the statement of a police constable that he is wandering without means of subsistence or "does not work," an order for security will not be justified. (1900-01) 5 Cal WN 28 (29).

(2) Where the only evidence against the accused was that he was seen coming out of a sugarcane field at 10 p. m., and tried to run away when challenged, an order for security will not be justified. AIR 1928 All 476 (476) = 29 Cri L Jour 864 (FB).

(3) An order under this section cannot be passed on suspicion, but there must be good basis of fact. AIR 1919 All 260 (261) = 20 Cri L Jour 401.

13. Evidence in proceedings under Section 108.— (1) Where proceedings under Section 108 (b) are started against a person in order to prevent him from delivering speeches likely to create communal tension, and such proceedings are based on certain speeches delivered by him, speeches delivered by him on prior occasions are admissible in evidence under Section 14 of the Evidence Act, as serving to show the existence of a particular state of mind or intention. AIR 1940 Nag 134 (137) = 41 Cri L Jour 713.

14. Joint inquiry — Sub-section (5).— (1) Sub-section (5) permits a joint inquiry against two or more persons provided that they have associated together in the matter under inquiry. AIR 1925 Pat 131 (137) = 26 Cri L Jour 738  AIR 1948 Pat 84 (85) = 48 Cri L Jour 409  AIR 1919 All 376 (376) = 20 Cri L Jour 750  AIR 1919 Cal 359 (359) = 20 Cri L Jour 551 (DB)  1967 Mad LJ (Cri) 707 (709) = (1967) 2 Andh WR 223.

(2) The expression "associated together" means that the persons have been acting in concert or that there is something in the nature of a conspiracy among them in respect of the various acts alleged against them. AIR 1923 Pat 104 (110) = 23 Cri L Jour 100 (DB)  AIR 1924 Nag 166 (167) = 25 Cri L Jour 132  1967 Mad LJ (Cri) 707 (709) = (1967) 2 An WR 223.

(3) Where certain persons are alleged to belong to a gang of swindlers who act in concert and cheat ignorant people or are alleged to belong to a gang of habitual thieves and robbers who are associating together jointly in the commission of thefts, burglaries and robberies, a joint inquiry against them all is perfectly justified. (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 23 (24) = 37 Cal 91 (DB)  AIR 1946 Oudh 50 (51)  AIR 1947 Oudh 86 (86) = 47 Cri L Jour 1019  AIR 1934 Rang 121 (122) = 35 Cri L Jour 1257 (DB).

(4) Where the charge is that several persons formed one gang with one purpose, viz., that of harassing and intimidating the complainant, and each act spoken to by witnesses is an act prompted by that common object and directed towards accomplishing it, a joint inquiry has been held to be valid. AIR 1927 Mad 542 (543) = 29 Cri L Jour 77.

(5) The mere fact that the several persons sought to be proceeded against belong to the same tribe and village or, are close neighbours and have been convicted together on previous occasions or, that they happen to be members of an undivided Hindu family or, are in the position of a master and servant, is not proof of association in the absence of any evidence to show that they constitute a gang acting in concert in respect of the charges made against them. 1895 Pun Re (Cr) No. 1, p. 1 (2)  AIR 1920 Cal 556 (556) = 21 Cri L Jour 700 (701) (DB)  AIR 1919 Mad 633 (635) = 19 Cri L Jour 905  (1906) 3 Cri L Jour 290 (291) = 9 Oudh Cas 69.

(6) Where there is the evidence of association, the mere fact that the several persons jointly tried belong to different villages is not a circumstance which would affect the legality of the joint trial. (1922) 23 Cri L Jour 58 (58) (DB) (Cal).

(7) Where there is evidence that there is a gang of persons associated together to commit such acts as the security sections exist to prevent, it is enough that some members of the gang are shown to have committed the various acts alleged against them; it is not necessary to prove that on every occasion the whole gang acted together. AIR 1923 Nag 53 (54) = 23 Cri L Jour 741.

(8) Where the several servants of a zamindar acted together in the matter of extortion of kabuliats at enhanced rates from the tenants of the master for his benefit and under his directions, it was held that the joint inquiry against all the servants was valid. (1905) 2 Cri L Jour 554 (567) (SB) (Cal).
[See however (1900)27 Cal 781 (784) (DB).]

(9) In order to justify a joint inquiry, there should not merely be association but it is essential that such association should be in the matter under inquiry. (1905) 2 Cri LJ 224 (225) = 8 Oudh Cas 91  (1910) 11 Cri LJ 50 (51) (Mad).

(10) Two opposing or contending parties cannot also be tried in a joint inquiry because they are in conflict with one another, and there can be nothing in common between them in respect of the matter under inquiry. AIR 1951 Nag 306 (Pr. 4) = ILR (1950) Nag 859 = 52 Cri L Jour 181  1951 Raj LW 176 (177)  AIR 1943 Pat 417 (418) = 45 Cri L Jour 406  (1905) 2 Cal L Jour 65n (65n) (DB)  AIR 1916 All 338 (338) = 17 Cri L Jour 165.

(11) Where the charge is such that it is purely personal to one individual alone and does not afford any scope for several persons acting in concert, there can be no association and, therefore, no joint inquiry. (1900) 27 Cal 781 (783) (DB)  AIR 1951 Orissa 277 (Prs. 5, 6) = ILR (1949) Cut 751 = 52 Cri L Jour 848  AIR 1938 Mad 35 (36, 37) = 39 Cri L Jour 230  AIR 1925 Mad 189 (191, 192) = 26 Cri L Jour 673.

(12) The question as to whether a man is a habitual thief or not is a matter personal to oneself and cannot form the subject of a joint enquiry. (1907) 6 Cri L Jour 284 (284, 285) = 4 Low Bur Rul 46.

(13) Where several persons associated together in a certain matter, a joint inquiry is permissible notwithstanding that in regard to some of them additional charges are made in their individual capacity. AIR 1938 Mad 615 (616) = 39 Cri L Jour 816.

(14) A mere allegation on the part of the prosecution that there is association is enough to justify a joint inquiry although it may subsequently transpire at the trial that there is no association. AIR 1921 Cal 625 (626) = 22 Cri L Jour 377 (DB)  AIR 1959 Pat 219 (Pr. 6) = 1959 Cri L Jour 639 (DB).

(15) The preliminary order under Section 112 should itself contain a charge of association where a joint inquiry is contemplated. AIR 1950 Cal 177 (179) = 51 Cri L Jour 856  (1905) 2 Cri L Jour 554 (562, 563) (SB) (Cal).

3. Amount of security — Proviso 2.— (1) The section being preventive in its nature, the amount should be fixed in such a manner as to afford a fair and reasonable chance of compliance so as not to make the alternative of imprisonment unavoidable. (1892) 16 Bom 372 (373, 374) (DB)  1900 Pun Re (Cr) No. 17, p. 39 (40).

6. Power to review a final order for security.— (1) A Magistrate has no power to review a final order for security passed under this section. 7. Bond by a minor — Proviso 3.— (1) Where the person ordered to furnish security is a minor, no bond need be executed by him personally but that the bond should be executed only by his sureties. Commencement of period for which security is required.—(1) If any person, in respect of whom an order requiring security is made under Section 106 or Section 118, is, at the time such order is made, sentenced to, or undergoing a sentence of, imprisonment the period for which such security is required shall commence on the expiration of such sentence.

(2) In other cases such period shall commence on the date of such order unless the Magistrate, for sufficient reason, fixes a later date.

SECTION 120 — SYNOPSIS

1. Commencement of the period of security.
2. "Unless the Magistrate, for sufficient reason, fixes a later date."
3. Second order for security.
4. "Shall commence on the date of such order" — Sub-section (2).

1. Commencement of the period of security.— (1) The fact that an order under Section 123 (2) is passed on the same day on which the order under Section 118 is passed will not affect the commencement of the period. AIR 1937 Sind 203 (204) = 38 Cri L Jour 961 (DB).

(2) Magistrate sentencing a person to imprisonment under Section 106, cannot fix a time for furnishing security before the expiry of the sentence. (1909) 10 Cri L Jour 69 (71, 72, 76) = 5 Low Bur Rul 34 (FB).

(3) If a person is convicted of another offence and sentenced to a fresh term of imprisonment, the period will not commence until the expiry of both imprisonments. 1895 Rat 774 (775) (DB).

(4) Where A was sentenced to imprisonment but was on bail pending appeal against such conviction, and in proceedings instituted in the meanwhile against him under S. 110 security was ordered to be furnished, held that the security did not commence till after the disposal of the appeal and after the expiry of any sentence that might be passed by the appellate Court. AIR 1920 All 286 (286, 287) = 22 Cri L Jour 95.

2. "Unless the Magistrate, for sufficient reason, fixes a later date."— (1) If the suspect is not sentenced to or is not undergoing any sentence of imprisonment, the Magistrate may grant time for furnishing the security. AIR 1926 All 297 (297) = 27 Cri L Jour 377.

(2) When time is granted to the suspect to furnish security, but before the expiry of such time he is convicted of a substantive offence and sentenced to imprisonment, the Court has no power under this section to extend the time for security till the expiry of the sentence. AIR 1927 Sind 166 (167) = 28 Cri L Jour 431 (DB).

3. Second order for security.— (1) A second order to give further security during continuance of the first one is not contemplated by law. AIR 1929 All 608 (608) = 30 Cri L Jour 756  (1911) 15 Cal WN cclv (cclv).

(2) If, upon expiry of the first order, the dispute still exists, a further security may be demanded on fresh proceedings properly taken. (1899) 4 Cal WN 121 (122).

4. "Shall commence on the date of such order" — Sub-section (2).— (1) The period of security is to be calculated under sub-section (2) from the date of the final order under Section 118. AIR 1952 Trav-Co 433 (Pr. 3) = ILR (1952) Trav-Co 336 = 1952 Cri L Jour 1523 (DB)  AIR 1937 Sind 26 (28) = 38 Cri L Jour 363 (DB)  AIR 1927 Mad 542 (543) = 29 Cri L Jour 77  1967 All WR (HC) 768 (772) = 1967 All Cri R 477 (DB).

(2) The period of security is not suspended during the time the suspect is in jail or on bail. AIR 1937 Sind 26 (28) = 38 Cri L Jour 363 (DB).

(3) A subsequent sentence of imprisonment passed on the suspect will not affect the running of the period for which security is to be furnished. (1900-1902) 1 Low Bur Rul 14 (15).

(4) If a suspect is sentenced to imprisonment for an offence committed prior to the date of order for security under Section 118, the Magistrate cannot fix the date of the expiry of such sentence as the date for computing the period for which security is to be furnished. AIR 1926 Sind 273 (274, 275) = 27 Cri L Jour 865 (FB).

(5) Where the operation of an order to furnish security is stayed pending the decision of an appeal therefrom, and the appeal is ultimately dismissed, the date of commencement of the period for which security is required is the date of the decision in appeal. AIR 1938 Oudh 195 (197) = 39 Cri L Jour 831  1969 BLJR 653 (655).

(6) The order requiring the execution of the bond under Section 118 should become operative where the original order is confirmed by the Court of Session in appeal or by the High Court in revision, from the date of the order of the Court of Session or of the Court of revision unless such Court expressly

121. Contents of bond.—The bond to be executed by any such person shall bind him to keep the peace or to be of good behaviour, as the case may be, and in the latter case the commission or attempt to commit, or the abetment of, any offence punishable with imprisonment, wherever it may be committed, is a breach of the bond.

fixes some other date for the order to come into operation. (1965) 1 Mys LJ 537 (539).

(7) Furnishing of security under Section 118 for good behaviour — Order — Expiry of period mentioned in the order—Execution of bond cannot be insisted upon nor can such person be detained in prison — Order omitting to specify the date by which the security was to be furnished — Period commences from the date of order. 1962 BLJR 849 (849).

SECTION 121 — SYNOPSIS

1. What constitutes breach of the bond to keep the peace.
2. What constitutes a breach of the bond for good behaviour.
3. "Wherever it may be committed."
4. Breach of bond executed by sureties.
5. Amount of surety's bond.
6. Construction of bond

1. What constitutes breach of the bond to keep the peace.— (1) Form No. 10 of Schedule V shows that the person ordered to give security to keep the peace should bind himself not to commit a breach of the peace or do any act that may probably occasion a breach of the peace. (1881) 2 Mad 169 (172) (DB).

[See (1869) 11 Suth WR (Cr) 52 (52) (DB).]

(2) An offence under Section 323 of the Penal Code involves a breach of the peace and the commission of such an offence will entail the forfeiture of a bond for keeping the peace. AIR 1938 Oudh 195 (196) = 39 Cri L Jour 831.

(3) Where the person bound over does not himself commit a breach of the peace, the bond will be forfeited if he has done any act which will probably occasion a breach of the peace. The word "probable" limits the forfeiture of the bond to cases in which a breach of the peace is the probable and not only a possible result of the act of the person bound. AIR 1914 Lah 393 (393, 394) = 15 Cri L Jour 605.

(4) In each case it is for the Court to judge of the character of the act which is alleged to be likely to cause a breach of the peace. (1869) 4 Mad HCR (App) xxxviii (xxxix).

(5) The mere fact that an offence has been committed by the person bound will not be a breach of the bond to keep the peace unless such offence causes or will probably occasion a breach of the peace. Thus, a conviction for theft or wrongful confinement and extortion unattended with any breach of the peace, or a secret attempt to poison a person, or the abduction of a woman will not be a breach of the bond to keep the peace. (1872) 18 Suth WR (Cr) 63 (63) (DB). (Theft.)  (1878) 19 Suth WR (Cr) 48 (49) (DB). (Extortion).  AIR 1914 Lah 393 393, 394) = 15 Cri L Jour 605. (Attempt to poison.)  (1896) 4 Cri L Jour 278 (278) = 1906 Pun Re (Cr) No. 7. (Abduction.)

(6) It is not necessary that any offence should have been committed at all in order to entail a breach of the bond. (1881) 2 Mad 169 (173) (DB).

(7) Forfeiture of bond for keeping peace — A, B and some others were bound down, for keeping peace, for one year — Within one year all prosecuted under Sections 307/149, I. P. Code — A and B only convicted under Section 324 and others acquitted — A. B. and their sureties only could be held liable for default and their bonds could be forfeited and not of acquitted persons and their sureties. AIR 1967 All 580 (585) = 1967 All LJ 638 = 1967 Cr LJ 1588 (DB).

(8) The mere filing of a civil suit will not entail a forfeiture of the bond. Where some Hindus who were bound over to keep the peace under Sec. 107, owing to a dispute between them and certain Mahomedans regarding the location of a slaughter-house, brought a civil suit for an injunction, it was held that the institution of the suit, though provocative, would not justify a forfeiture of the bond. AIR 1920 Lah 440 (443) = 21 Cri L Jour 702.

(9) It is immaterial, in order to constitute a breach of the bond, whether the person bound over did the act, involving such breach himself, or instigated others to do it. ('81) 2 Mad 169 (173) (DB).

(10) It is immaterial whether he committed the breach in respect of the person at whose instance the bond was taken, or in respect of any other person. ('71) 15 Suth WR (Cr) 14 (14) = 6 Beng LR (App) 66 (DB).

(11) The mere fact that the person bound over acted as a "muktear" of one of two parties for whose benefit the breach of peace took place, will not constitute a breach of the bond. ('69) 11 Suth WR (Cr) 52 (52) (DB)  ('10) 11 Cri L Jour 252 (252) = 1910 Pun Re (Cr) No. 5.

(12) Sacrifice of a cow by Mahomedans in open space was held, in the circumstances of the case, to be a wrongful act within the meaning of Section 298, Penal Code and that the bond for keeping the peace could be forfeited. AIR 1937 Lah 717 (718) = 39 Cri L Jour 23.

2. What constitutes a breach of the bond for good behaviour.— (1) In the case of a bond executed by a person binding himself to be of good behaviour, there will be a breach of the bond only if he commits, or attempts to commit, or abets the commission of any offence punishable with imprisonment. 1957 Cri L Jour 164 (Pr. 3) = ILR (1956) Trav-Co 812.

(2) The commission of an offence of hurt or grievous hurt, or of assault, or of criminal trespass, or of an offence under the Gambling Act, or of an offence under the Excise and Opium Acts would amount to a breach of the bond for good behaviour. AIR 1924 Lah 262 (263) = 25 Cri L Jour 1131. (Conviction under Section 223, I. P. C. — Overruled on another point in AIR 1937 Lah 133 = 38 Cri L Jour 420.)  AIR 1914 Lah 563 (564) = 16 Cri L Jour 449 (DB). (Conviction under Section 325, I. P. C.)  1889 Pun Re (Cr) No. 11, p. 55 (56) (DB). (Assault.)  (1906) 3 Cri L Jour 456 (457) = 28 All 629. (Criminal trespass.)  AIR 1930 Lah 227 (227) = 31 Cri L Jour 130. (Conviction under Section 452, I. P. C.)  (1906) 3 Cri L Jour 91 (92) (All). (Conviction for gambling in public place.)  AIR 1936 Pesh 16 (17) = 37 Cri L Jour 342 (DB). (Excise offence.)

(3) The offence need not be ejusdem generis with that for which the person was bound over. When once a bond has been taken for good behaviour, the reasons leading up thereto are no longer relevant when there is a breach of the bond. AIR 1928 All 232 (233) = 30 Cri L Jour 203  1967 Cri L Jour 164 (Pr. 3) = ILR (1956) Trav-Co 812  AIR 1936 Pesh 16 (17) = 37 Cri L Jour 342 (DB).

(4) It is not necessary that for the forfeiture of the bond, the person executing the same need be convicted of offence. (1923) 73 Ind Cas 332 (333) = 24 Cri L Jour 588 (Pesh)  AIR 1928 All 232 (233) = 30 Cri L Jour 203.

(5) There will be no breach of the bond where no offence has been committed. Thus, a bond cannot be forfeited in the following cases:

(a) where the person bound over was found in possession of costly clothes for which he could not satisfactorily account but there was no proof that he had actually stolen them: (1902) 2 Weir 57 (57).

(b) where he was found in joint possession of counterfeit jewellery with his companions. (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 252 (252) = 1910 Pun Re (Cr) No. 5.

(c) where he was found concealing himself under suspicious circumstances in a lonely and abandoned watermill and was unable to give a satisfactory explanation of himself: AIR 1932 All 58 (58) = 33 Cri L Jour 281 (DB).

(d) where there was only a suspicion of his having committed some offence for which he was ordered to furnish security a second time: (1892-1896) 1 Upp Bur Rul 20.

(6) There can be no breach of the bond where the offence complained of was committed prior to the date on which the bond was executed. AIR 1914 Lah 393 (393, 394) = 15 Cri L Jour 605  (1923) 73 Ind Cas 332 (333) = 24 Cri L Jour 588 (Pesh).

3. "Wherever it may be committed."— (1) The words "wherever it may be committed" do not apply to bonds for keeping the peace. In such cases, the bond is forfeited only if the breach of peace is committed within the jurisdicton of the Magistrate who ordered the execution of the bond. AIR 1953 All 619 (Pr. 4) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1392  AIR 1943 Pesh 41 (42) = 44 Cri L Jour 478.

[But see (1869) 2 Beng LR (App Cr) 11 (12) (DB).]

(2) A bond for good behaviour will be forfeited wherever the offence is committed. Such offence should, however, be in respect of Government or the citizens of India. AIR 1918 Lah 13 (13) = 19 Cri L Jour 924 (DB).

(3) If the offence was committed in a Native State against a British subject it was held to amount to a breach of the bond. (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 635 (636) = 1910 Pun Re (Cr.) No. 28 (DB).

4. Breach of bond executed by sureties.— (1) A breach of the surety bond for good behaviour is committed when the person bound commits or attempts to commit or abets the commission of any offence punishable with imprisonment. AIR 1936 Pesh 16 (17) = 37 Cri L Jour 342 (DB)  AIR 1932 All 58 (58) = 33 Cri L Jour 281 (DB).

5. Amount of surety's bond.— (1) A surety cannot be required to execute a bond for an amount greater than that for which the principal is required to

*[122. Power to reject sureties.—(1) A Magistrate may refuse to accept any surety offered, or may reject any surety previously accepted by him or his predecessor under this Chapter on the ground that such surety is an unfit person for the purposes of the bond† :

Provided that, before so refusing to accept or rejecting any such surety, he shall either himself hold an inquiry on oath into the fitness of the surety, or cause such inquiry to be held and a report to be made thereon by a Magistrate subordinate to him.

(2) Such Magistrate shall, before holding inquiry, give reasonable notice to the surety and to the person by whom the surety was offered and shall in making the inquiry record the substance of the evidence adduced before him.

execute a bond. 1893-1900 Low Bur Rul 187 (187).

6. Construction of bond.— (1) The terms of a penal bond such as a bond to keep the peace or for good behaviour must be construed literally and strictly. AIR 1918 Lah 13 (13) = 19 Cri L Jour 924 (DB).

(2) If by mistake a bond for good behaviour is taken, instead of one for keeping the peace, from a person who is ordered to furnish security to keep the peace, the bond is invalid and cannot be forfeited, as the two bonds are different in their nature and scope. (1875) 23 Suth WR (Cr) 1 (1) (DB).

(3) Where a bond for keeping the peace is taken instead of one for good behaviour, the bond is invalid and cannot be forfeited. 1903 Pun Re (Cr) No. 32, p. 78 (81) = 1 Cri L Jour 90.

SECTION 122 — SYNOPSIS

1. "Magistrate."
2. Discretion of Court in refusing or rejecting sureties as unfit.
3. Grounds of rejection of surety.
4. Enquiry on oath.
5. Several sureties — Enquiry as to fitness
6. Notice to parties.
7. "After considering the evidence so adduced."
8. Recording his reasons.
9. Order refusing to accept or rejecting surety.
10. Opportunity to furnish fresh security on rejection of surety offered.
11. Power of the District Magistrate to reject sureties accepted by subordinate Magistrates.
12. Revision.

1. "Magistrate."— (1) The word "Magistrate" means the Magistrate who passed the order under Sections 112 and 118, and includes his successor in office. (1911) 12 Cri L Jour 410 (410, 411) = 5 Sind LR 87 (DB).

2. Discretion of Court in refusing or rejecting sureties as unfit.— (1) The word "may" shows that the Magistrate has a discretion in the matter of refusing to accept or of rejecting a surety. (1908) 10 Cri L Jour 225 (226) = 2 Sind LR 11 (DB)  AIR 1923 Oudh 165 (166) = 24 Cri L Jour 795 (DB).

(2) The discretion is not arbitrary or absolute but a judicial one. (1908) 10 Cri L Jour 225 (226) = 2 Sind LR 11 (DB)  AIR 1914 All 489 (489) = 16 Cri L Jour 54  AIR 1914 Cal 626 (627) = 15 Cri L Jour 169 (DB)  AIR 1914 Lah 492 (493) = 16 Cri L Jour 337  (1906) 4 Cri L Jour 169 (169, 170) (DB) (Cal).

(3) The section requiries the Magistrate to hold an independent inquiry into the matter. AIR 1914 All 489 (489) = 16 Cri L Jour 54  AIR 1935 All 517 (518) = 36 Cri L Jour 1285.

(4) In the exercise of his discretion the Magistrate should not demand impossible conditions to be satisfied. AIR 1920 Bom 292 (293) = 21 Cri L Jour 377 (DB)  AIR 1925 Sind 57 (58) = 25 Cri L Jour 1226 (DB).

3. Grounds of rejection of surety.— (1) Where a surety is offered in pursuance of the order made under Sec. 112 or Section 118 the Court can reject him on the ground that he is unfit for the purposes of the bond. (1908) 8 Cri L Jour 166 (168) = 1 Sind LR 46 (DB)  (1874) 22 Suth WR (Cr) 37 (39) (DB).

(2 A surety offered may be unfit for any of the following reasons —

(a) A surety who is himself a suspect or a man of bad character, or is an inhabitant of a village notorious for its bad characters, may be rejected on the ground of unfitness. (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 392 (392) = 37 Cal 446 (DB). (Bad character.)  (1906) 3 Cr L Jour 468 (468) (DB) (Cal). (Bad character.)  (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 198 (199) = 3 Sind LR 168 (DB). (Residence of village notorious for bad characters.)

(b) The mere fact that the surety was once challaned for theft, or even the fact that he was once convicted for an offence under the Penal Code cannot be regarded as rendering him unfit for ever to be a surety. AIR 1920 All 170 (170) = 21 Cri L Jour 365  AIR 1921

(3) If the Magistrate is satisfied, after considering the evidence so adduced either before him or before a Magistrate deputed under sub-section (1), and the report of such Magistrate (if any) that the surety is an unfit person for the purposes of the bond, he shall make an order refusing to accept or rejecting, as the case may be, such surety and recording his reasons for so doing:

Provided that, before making an order rejecting any surety who has previously been accepted, the Magistrate shall issue his summons or warrant, as he thinks fit, and cause the person for whom the surety is bound to appear or to be brought before him.]

(c) That the surety is not solvent enough to be able to pay the penalty in case there is a breach of the bond is a ground for his rejection. (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 392 (392) = 37 Cal 446 (DB).

(d) The solvency must be considered with reference to his properties both moveable and immovable. AIR 1916 Cal 348 (348) = 17 Cri L Jour 91 (DB). (Person bound down under S. 109.)

(e) The mere fact that the surety has not got sufficient moveable property (though he has got sufficient immovable property) and that in case there is a breach of the bond the amount cannot under Section 514 be recovered only from his moveable property, is not a valid ground for rejecting a surety. (3) The object of requiring security in these cases is not to fill jails with bad characters, or to obtain money for the Government by the forfeiture of recognizance, but to bring reasonable pressure on the suspects to respect the law and to ensure that they shall be of good behaviour. AIR 1914 Lah 492 (493) = 16 Cri L Jour 337  1895 All WN 143 (143, 144) (DB)  (1898) 20 All 206 (207).

(4) A surety executing a bond in terms of Form No. 11, Schedule V, in fact undertakes thereby to guarantee the good conduct of his principal, and his fitness to stand as surety must accordingly be judged from his standpoint also, and not merely from the standpoint of his pecuniary fitness alone. (1908) 8 Cri L Jour 166 (168) = 1 Sind LR 46 (DB)  (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 392 (392) = 37 Cal 446 (DB)  (1908) 8 Cri L Jour 388 (389, 390) (DB) (Cal).

(5) The control which a surety is expected to exercise over his principal is moral control and not a physical control. See AIR 1914 Sind 13 (14) = 16 Cri L Jour 100 (DB).

(7) The mere fact that the surety is living at a distance is not by itself sufficient to conclude that he will not be able to have any control or influence over the accused, and cannot render the surety offered unfit. (1913) 14 Cri L Jour 214 (214) (All)  AIR 1924 Oudh 80 (80) = 25 Cri L Jour 296  AIR 1918 All 108 (108) = 19 Cri L Jour 441

(8) The Court has to look into all the circumstances of each case on its own merits and come to a judicial conclusion as to whether the distance under the circumstances of the case is such that the surety cannot have any influence or control over the accused. AIR 1920 Bom 292 (293) = 21 Cri L Jour 377 (DB)  (1910) 14 Cal WN clix (clix).

(9) Where the sureties, though living at a distance, were prepared to take the suspects as their tenants and would therefore have an opportunity of preventing them from getting into mischief, it was held that the sureties should be accepted. 4. Enquiry on oath.— (1) The section only provides a procedure to be followed by a Magistrate in the case of the rejection of a surety. There is nothing to prevent a Magistrate from accepting persons as sureties without any inquiry on oath. AIR 1937 Cal 233 (233) = 38 Cri L Jour 635 (DB).

5. Several sureties — Enquiry as to fitness.— (1) Where there are a number of sureties for different accused persons the fitness of each surety should be separately determined. A general order without investigation of the circumstances of each of the sureties is not contemplated by law. AIR 1917 Cal 378 (379) = 18 Cri L Jour 408 (DB).

6. Notice to parties.— (1) Since the enquiry into the fitness of a surety is a judicial proceeding, it is necessary that the surety and the person bound over should be given reasonable notice thereof in order to give them a reasonable opportunity of controverting the reasons alleged for rejecting the surety. (1904) 1 Cri L Jour 459 (461) = 7 Oudh Cas 113 (DB)  (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 243 (243) (DB) (Cal)  (1912) 13 Cri L Jour 760 (762) = 15 Oudh Cas 263.

7. "After considering the evidence so adduced."— (1) A report by the police as to the sufficiency or otherwise of a surety is not legal evidence on which the Court could come to a conclusion, as to the fitness of a surety. AIR 1935 Pat 421 (422) = 36 Cri L Jour 1473  (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 497 (498) = 4 Sind LR 18 (DB)  AIR 1915 All 177 (177) = 16 Cri L Jour 445.

(2) If the Magistrate wants to consider the information contained in the police report, he should examine the officer that made the report as a witness before him allowing the sureties and the person offering the security to cross-examine him as to the contents of the report. (1908) 8 Cri L Jour 344 (346) = 11 Oudh Cas 267.

(3) Since the sureties are not themselves accused under Section 110, evidence of general repute should not be allowed as against the sureties in an enquiry as to their fitness. AIR 1922 Oudh 227 (227) = 23 Cri L Jour 639. (Hearsay evidence.)

(4) The onus of showing that a surety is a fit person to be accepted is on the person called upon to give security. (1911) 12 Cri L Jour 410 (410) = 5 Sind LR 87 (DB).

(5) If the Magistrate is not satisfied with the evidence of the surety, he must not reject the surety but call for further evidence because the reason given by him for rejecting must be a positive reason for believing the surety to be unfit.

123. Imprisonment in default of security.—(1) If any person ordered to give security under Section 106 or Section 118 does not give such security on or before the date on which the period for which such security is to be given commences, he shall, except in the case next hereinafter mentioned, be committed to prison, or, if he is already in prison be detained in prison until such period expires or until within such period he gives the security to the Court or Magistrate who made the order requiring it.

(2) Proceedings when to be laid before High Court or Court of Session.—When such person has been ordered by a Magistrate to give security for a period exceeding one year, such Magistrate shall, if such person does not give

(6) Since the proceedings are judicial proceedings the Magistrate cannot decide without taking evidence, on the ground that no evidence but that of a particular class of witnesses will satisfy him. (1911) 12 Cri L Jour 410 (410) = 5 Sind LR 87 (DB).

(7) A Magistrate cannot import his personal knowledge into the proceeding and reject the sureties merely on his personal knowledge. AIR 1914 Sind 108 (108) = 15 Cri L Jour 378 (DB).

(8) Criminal Courts should not act merely on the certificate of a pleader as to the fitness of a surety. AIR 1934 Sind 142 (143) = 35 Cri L Jour 1455 (DB).

8. Recording his reasons.— (1) The Magistrate refusing to accept or rejecting a surety under this section should record his reasons in writing. AIR 1920 Bom 292 (293, (294) = 21 Cri L Jour 377 (DB)  (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 243 (243) (DB) (Mad).

(2) The intention of the Legislature in insisting that a Magistrate should record his reasons in refusing to accept a surety is that the Magistrate should exercise his independent judgment in the matter. (1906) 4 Cri L Jour 169 (169) (DB) (Cal).

9. Order refusing to accept or rejecting surety.— (1) An order rejecting or refusing to accept a surety should be passed within a reasonable time so as to give the persons proceeded against an opportunity to furnish fresh sureties. AIR 1925 Rang 353 (353) = 27 Cri L Jour 318.

10. Opportunity to furnish security on rejection of surety offered.— (1) Where upon enquiry a Magistrate refuses to accept or reject, already accepted sureties he should afford to the person called on to furnish security a reasonable opportunity to furnish other suitable sureties. AIR 1917 All 215 (216) = 18 Cri L Jour 1039  AIR 1925 Rang 353 (353) = 27 Cri L Jour 318.

11. Power of the District Magistrate to reject sureties accepted by subordinate Magistrates.— (1) When a subordinate Magistrate passes an order calling for security and accepts the sureties offered, the District Magistrate cannot reject them and cancel their bonds. If he wants to pass orders himself he should regularly transfer the case to his own Court and then proceed under this section. 1895 All WN 143 (143) (DB)  (1911) 12 Cri L Jour 480 (481) (All).

12. Revision.— (1) The discretion given to a Magistrate under this section to refuse a surety is a wide one and the High Court will not interfere lightly with any reasonable exercise of the same. AIR 1914 All 487 (488) = 15 Cri L Jour 727.

(2) Where the Magistrate has based his discretion not on any independent enquiry by him or on any legal evidence but on some police report, the High Court will set aside the order on the ground that the Court failed to exercise the discretion judicially. AIR 1914 All 489 (489, 490) = 16 Cri L Jour 54  (1904) 1 Cri L Jour 459 (461) = 7 Oudh Cas 113 (DB)  (1909) 10 Cri L Jour 230 (231) = 2 Sind LR 15 (DB)  (1907) 5 Cri L Jour 179 (180) (Lah).

(3) Where the Magistrate has refused to accept sureties on invalid and unreasonable grounds the order will be set aside in revision. [See (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 497 (497, 498) = 4 Sind LR 18 (DB).]

(4) Orders refusing to accept sureties will be set aside in revision where the Magistrate has not given any reason for the order at all. (1909) 13 Cal WN xxvii.

CHAPTER IX[*]

UNLAWFUL ASSEMBLIES

127. Assembly to disperse on command of Magistrate or police-officer.— (1) Any Magistrate or officer in charge of the police station may command any unlawful assembly, or any assembly[†] of five or more persons likely to cause a disturbance of the public peace, to disperse; and it shall thereupon be the duty of the members of such assembly to disperse accordingly.

(2) This section applies also to the police in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay.

[1882 — S. 127; 1872 — S. 480; 1861 — S. 111.]

[*] The whole of this Chapter so far as it applied to the City of Bombay was repealed by the City of Bombay Police Act (Bombay Act IV of 1902) which Act is now repealed by Bombay Police Act (XXII of 1951), S. 167 (1) and Sch. I. By Section 167 (3) read with Sch. III of the Bombay Police Act, 1951 (which applies to the whole State of Bombay from 1-8-1951), S. 1 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, is so amended as to make the Code applicable to the town of Bombay.

Section 127 — Note 1

(1) Any Magistrate can exercise the power conferred under this section anywhere in the district. See (1912) 13 Cri L Jour 716 (716, 717) = 34 All 597.

(3) A police officer in charge of a patrol boat has no power to disperse an unlawful assembly under this section. AIR 1923 Cal 517 (518) = 25 Cri L Jour 467 (DB).

(4) The legality of the command depends on the conduct of the assembly preceding the command and not on what followed it. AIR 1933 Nag 277 (282) = 34 Cri LJ 705.

(5) Any assembly of five or more persons likely to cause breach of peace can be ordered to disperse, even if it has assembled for a lawful purpose. 1887 Pun Re (Cr) No. 22, p. 45 (DB)  (1883) 7 Bom 42 (50) (DB).

AIR 1925 All 165 (170) = 26 Cri L Jour 599 (DB)  AIR 1922 Lah 135 (137) = 13 Cri L Jour 5.

(8) It is the fact that such an assembly is likely to cause a disturbance of the public peace that gives jurisdiction to the Magistrate or police-officer to act under this section. AIR 1933 Nag 277 (279) = 34 Cri L Jour 705.

(9) Before an assembly can be said to be likely to disturb public peace, it must appear from the behaviour of such assembly that it would actively disturb public peace or provoke others to a breach of the peace. AIR 1933 Nag 277 (281) = 34 Cri L Jour 705.

(10) Whether any such assembly was likely to cause a disturbance of the public peace at the time the order to disperse was made is a question of fact which must be proved by independent evidence. AIR 1933 Nag 277 (279, 281) = 34 Cri L Jour 705  AIR 1922 Lah 135 (137) = 13 Cri L Jour 5.

[See also AIR 1923 Pat 1 (4) = 23 Cri L Jour 625 (SB).]

(11) The conduct and behaviour of the assembly should be considered to determine the existence of the possibility of breach of peace. AIR 1928 Pat 98 (99) = 28 Cri LJ 906.

2. Distinction between this section and Section 79, Penal Code.
3. "Prosecution", meaning of.
4. "Purporting to be done."
5. "Except with the sanction of the State Government."

7. "Good faith."
8. Clause (d).
9. Whether want of sanction is cured by S. 537.

1. Scope.— (1) The policy of the Legislature is to afford adequate protection to public servants, to ensure that they are not prosecuted for anything done by them in the discharge of their official duties without reasonable cause. The section should, therefore, be construed broadly. AIR 1933 Mad 268 (269) = 34 Cri L Jour 528.

[See 1937 Mad WN 1243 (1245).]

2. Distinction between this section and Section 79, Penal Code.— (1) The protection granted by Section 79, Penal Code is a protection against conviction and applies only when all the facts are known, i.e., when the trial is over. But this section operates even before the trial begins. In other words the protection given by this section is one against the trial itself. AIR 1933 Mad 268 (269) = 34 Cri L Jour 528.

(2) Benefit of Section 132 — What accused is required to prove stated — To show this is not to prove requirements of Section 79, Penal Code. AIR 1964 SC 269 (274, 275) = (1964) 3 SCR 671 = (1964) 1 Cr LJ 161.

3. "Prosecution," meaning of.— (1) An inquiry which merely results in the dismissal of a complaint does not amount to a 'prosecution' within the meaning of this section. AIR 1929 Cal 229 (231) = 30 Cri L Jour 942 (DB). (Per Graham, J.)

4. "Purporting to be done."— (1) It is enough for the application of this section if a person empowered to act under this Chapter purported to act under it. It is not necessary for him, before the question of sanction is raised, to prove that there was in fact

(3) Picketing of State bus — Lathi charge to disperse crowd — Complainant injured — Act in discharge of official duty — Sanction held necessary before prosecuting police officer. AIR 1961 Ker 260 (264) = 1961 Ker LT 208 = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 484 (DB).

(4) Offence committed while acting or purporting to act in discharge of official duty — Offences under Sec. 409 and Section 477-A, I. P. C. — Sanction held necessary — Sanction must precede prosecution. AIR 1961 Ker 260 (263) = 1961 Ker LT 208 = 1961 (2) Cr LJ 484 (DB).

"Except with the sanction of the State Government."— (1) The sanction of the State Government is a condition precedent to the prosecution of any person empowered to act under this Chapter for any act done or purported to have been done by such person under this Chapter. 1937 Mad WN 1243 (1245)  AIR 1933 Mad 268 (269) = 34 Cri L Jour 528.

(2) Whether sanction as a pre-requisite is necessary is not a pure question of law but a mixed question of fact and law and has to be decided after information has been gathered for coming to a conclusion one way or the other. It cannot be said that to find out whether the accused acted under this Chapter or not, only the complaint and the sworn statement should be looked into and not any other circumstances or document. (5) Sanction for prosecution — Superintendent of Police damaging property with a view to justify use of tear gas and violence in dispersing peaceful demonstration is not acting in purported discharge of duties — Complaint cannot be turned down at initial stage on ground of want of sanction by anticipating possibility of defence by public servant. AIR 1965 Punj 192 (198) = 66 Pun LR 1152 = 1965(1) Cri LJ 585 (DB).

(6) It cannot be said that the mere fact that some of the persons alleged to have formed part of the unlawful assembly were prosecuted by the State Government and have also been committed by the Magistrate to the Sessions Court for trial establishes prima facie that the accused's contention about the necessity for sanction under Section 132 of the Code is correct when the commitment of the other accused in the other case is on the basis of evidence in the cross case. AIR 1964 SC 269 (274) = (1964) 3 SCR 671 = (1964) 1 Cri LJ 161.

(7) When a complaint is made to a criminal Court against any police officer and the complainant makes allegations indicating that the police officer had acted or purported to act under Sections 127 and 128 and in so doing committed some offence complained of, the Court will not entertain the complaint unless it appears that the State Government had sanctioned the prosecution of that police officer. AIR 1964 SC 269 (273, 274) = (1964) 3 SCR 671 = (1964) 1 Cri LJ 161.

(8) Court coming to conclusion that prosecution could not be instituted without sanction of Government — Procedure — Court not to pass any order of discharge or acquittal but should reject complaint. AIR 1964 SC 263 (275) = (1964) 3 SCR 671 = (1964) 1 Cri LJ 161.

6. "Police-officer acting under this Chapter."— (1) The power to disperse an unlawful assembly is not given by the Code to any police officer below the rank of an officer in charge of a police station. Any officer below that rank, e.g., an officer in charge of a patrol boat who purports to act under Section 127, is not protected by the provisions of this section. AIR 1923 Cal 517 (518) = 25 Cri L Jour 467 (DB).

7. "Good faith."— (1) The definition of "good faith" in Section 52 of the Penal Code applies also to this Code by virtue of Section 4, sub-section (2). (1898) 21 Mad 249 (251) (DB).

(2) The term is to be interpreted relatively to the position of the person doing an act or omission with due regard to the surrounding circumstances. (1868) 10 Suth WR (Cr) 20 (20) (DB).

(3) Where a police-officer did not believe it necessary for the public security to disperse an assembly by firing on them, but nevertheless gave orders to shoot with the result that a man was shot dead, it was held that he did not act in good faith. (1898) 21 Mad 249 (251) (DB).

8. Clause (d).— (1) Where, an order is manifestly illegal and the subordinate has the same opportunities of observing and judging the circumstances as the superior, it is no defence for the former to plead that he obeyed the orders of his superior. (1898) 21 Mad 249 (252) (DB)  AIR 1924 Sind 33 (35) = 26 Cri L Jour 142 (DB).

(2) A subordinate obeying the orders of his superior will, even if the order is illegal, be entitled to protection under Section 76 of the Penal Code, if, by reason of a mistake of fact he believes, in good faith, to be bound by law to obey it. 1883 Pun Re (Cr) No. 17, p. 29 (36, 37) (DB).

9. Whether want of sanction is cured by Section 537.— (1) The absence of a sanction is an illegality which cuts at the very root of the prosecution and is not one curable by Section 537. (1907) 6 Cri L Jour 382 (383) = 31 Mad 380 (DB).

1. Remedies for a public nuisance.— (1) The remedies available in respect of public nuisance under civil law, Penal Code, Criminal P. C. and local laws are concurrent and the pursuit of one does not bar the other. A proceeding under this chapter is therefore not a condition precedent to a prosecution under the Penal Code, or to the maintenance of a civil suit. 1869 Rat 23 (23) (DB)  (1870) 14 Suth WR (Cr) 63 (65) = 11 Beng LR (App) 6 (DB)  (1862) 1 Bom HCR (Cr) 1 (2) (DB)  Marsh 537 = 2 Hay 659. (After application under this section Magistrate declined to act — Still civil suit not barred.)

(2) The existence of an alternative remedy under any special Act does not oust the jurisdiction of a Magistrate to proceed under this chapter. AIR 1920 Cal 550 (550) = 21 Cri L Jour 669 (DB)  1964 (2) Cr LJ 94 (95, 96) = 1964 MPLJ 330. (Remedy under the Municipalities Act.)

(3) The proceedings under this chapter are summary and are intended to tent, structure, substance, tank, well or excavation, or owning or possessing such animal or tree, within a time to be fixed in the order, to remove such obstruction or nuisance; or to desist from carrying on, or to remove or regulate in such manner as may be directed, such trade or occupation; or

(5) The jurisdiction should be so worked as not to become itself a nuisance to the community at large. 1888 Pun Re (Cr) No. 17, p. 31 (32) (DB).

(6) It is not open to any member of the public to take the law in his own hands and demolish the building or other structure alleged to be a public nuisance without recourse to the proper authorities and without adopting the proper procedure prescribed by law. AIR 1934 Mad 95 (96) = 35 Cri L Jour 437 (DB).

(7) There is no provision in this chapter for any reference of a public nuisance to arbitration and no provision for the making of a conditional order absolute as a result of the finding of the arbitration. A conditional order can only be made absolute according to Sections 136, 137 and 139. (1950) 54 Cal WN (2 DR) 133 (133) (DB).

(10) Section 133 does not invest the magistrate with power to pass an order directing the surrender of a building which is the subject-matter of land acquisition proceedings. AIR 1967 Ker 44 (44) = 1966 Ker LT 503.

(2) No order duly made by a Magistrate under this section shall be called in question in any Civil Court.

[*] This section was substituted for the original section by the Code of Criminal Procedure -(Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923), Section 24.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

1923.—"The principal question in connection with this clause is whether, as provided in the Bill, questions of title in relation to the rights of way and the like should, for the purposes of the chapter be finally decided by the Magistrates, or whether the almost uniform decisions of the High Court, which lay down that the Magistrate must stay proceedings, if he is satisfied that the question has been raised bona fide, should be followed. We prefer to accept the latter view as laid down in Manipur Dey v. Bidhu Bhushan Sarkar, ILR 42 Cal. 158; and as the case will not arise in all proceedings under the section and more especially as we incline to the opinion that the proposed redrafting of Section 135 is not altogether satisfactory; we have provided for it as a special case in a new section 139-A. Our proposals involve the necessity of laying down clearly that the Magistrate only is competent to inquire into the claim relating to the title. In view of Section 142 and of the fact that in any case of importance, either the person against whom the order was originally made or some member of public will bring the matter before a Civil Court, we do not think it necessary to lay down that the Magistrate may resume the proceedings upon the failure by the person against whom the order was made to institute civil proceedings within a reasonable time."—S.C.R. (XVIII of 1923).

STATE AMENDMENTS

Gujarat:

In its application to the State of Gujarat, the amendments made in S. 133 are the same as those made in Maharashtra—See Central Act XI of 1960, S. 87.

NOTE.—(1) Magistrates in the City of Ahmedabad have the jurisdiction and exercise the powers and perform functions of a Presidency Magistrate -See Guj. Act XIX of 1961. Section 14 (3) (4-11-1961): Salaried Magistrates for the City of Ahmedabad have been specially empowered for the purposes of this section—See Guj. Gaz., 6-11-1961, Pt. IV-A, p. 287.

(3) The idea behind the section is that the danger should be such that if the Magistrate does not take action under this section and directs the public to have recourse to the ordinary Courts of law, irreparable damage would be done. AIR 1949 All 650 (Pr. 3) = 50 Cri L Jour 991  AIR 1956 Cal 220 (221) = 1956 Cri L Jour 614.

(4) Proceedings under this section are not intended to settle a private dispute between two members of the public. They are not originated by the filing of a complaint or something of that kind. AIR 1943 All 19 (19) = 44 Cri L Jour 205  AIR 1958 Madh Pra 350 (Pr. 3) = 1958 Cri L Jour 1319  AIR 1942 All 443 (444) = 44 Cri L Jour 76.

(5) Any person can give a Magistrate information of the existence of any state of affairs but when the Magistrate acts on that information, he is acting suo motu. The person who gives the information has no rights in the matter and is not a person who may be described as a party to the proceedings. AIR 1943 All 19 (19) = 44 Cri L Jour 205.

(6) It is open to the Magistrate at any stage, for good reasons shown, to refuse to take any further action in the matter and the informant has no rights in the matter. AIR 1943 All 19 (20) = 44 Cri L Jour 205.

(7) As the section is intended to provide a speedy remedy in the interests of the public, a Magistrate should be on his guard, against any tendency to use it as a substitute for litigation in Civil Courts for the settlement of a private dispute. 1947 Jaipur LR 186 (187) (DB)  AIR 1958 Madh Pra 350 (Pr. 3) = 1958 Cri L Jour 1319  ILR (1951) 1 Cal 126 (131). (13) A proceeding under this section is not the proper procedure to follow when there is a dispute between the Government and a private individual. (1900) 2 Bom LR 818 (819, 820) (DB).

(14) The section is confined to the matters specifically mentioned therein and cannot be applied to other matters, such as the apprehension of an imminent breach of the peace. AIR 1937 Lah 101 (102) = 39 Cri L Jour 13.

(15) Although ordinarily in disputes relating to possession of land the appropriate proceedings will be proceedings under Section 145, where a dispute relates to land, used by the public and an obstruction alleged affects the rights of the public, the specific provision under which action should be taken is this section. AIR 1950 Pat 502 (Pr. 6).

(2) There is no period of limitation fixed for initiating proceedings under this section. AIR 1954 Cal 560 (560) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1712  1964 (2) Cri LJ 94 (96) = 1964 MPLJ 330.

5. Sections 133 and 144.— (1) Where a case falls both under this section and Section 144, the order should, under this section, be a conditional one giving the party an opportunity to show cause against the order. (1868) 10 Suth WR (Cr) 53 (53, 54) = 1 Beng LR (App) Cr 20 (DB)  (1869) 1 NWPHCR 197 (197, 198) (DB)  (1874) 21 Suth WR (Cr) 24 (25) (DB).

(2) Where the case does not fall under this section, as where an order has to be passed prohibiting burial in certain places on sanitary grounds, it should be made under the more general provision, Section 144. (1881) 2 Weir 64 (64).

6. Sections 133 and 147.— (1) This section is not a bar to a proceeding under Section 147 where a case falls under both the sections. Thus, the fact that this section provides for an order directing the removal of an obstruction to a pathway does not imply that an order cannot be passed under Section 147 when there is a likelihood of a breach of the peace in respect thereto. AIR 1914 Mad 712 (713) = 15 Cri L Jour 362 (DB).

(2) Even though a petition is presented under Section 147, it is perfectly competent for the Magistrate to proceed under this section. AIR 1953 Mad 674 (Pr. 8) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1201  AIR 1954 Cal 560 (560) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1712. (Obstruction of a public thoroughfare being a public nuisance, action should be taken under Sec. 133 and not Section 147. There is no period of limitation fixed as far as Section 133 is concerned.)

(3) When proceedings are taken under this section, no order can be passed under Section 147 without following the procedure laid down in that section. That section clearly states that the procedure shall be as under Section 145 which is entirely different from this section and is entirely for a different purpose. AIR 1953 Mad 674 (Pr. 8) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1201  AIR 1922 Cal 59 (65) = 23 Cri L Jour 353 (FB).

(4) Where in a proceeding initiated under this section the Magistrate after hearing the parties and perusing the cause shown is satisfied that the real dispute between the parties is as to the right of user of certain public pathway in respect of which there is an apprehension of the breach of peace and the Magistrate orders the drawing up of proceedings under Section 147 and directs the parties to file their written statements, the order is perfectly within his jurisdiction. AIR 1950 Pat 315 (Pr. 2) = 51 Cri L Jour 1188.

7. Who may act under the section.— (1) It is only the officers specified in the section that can make an order thereunder. A kurnam cannot, issue an order for the removal of an obstruction from a public way nor can a third class Magistrate make any enquiry under this section. (1885) 1 Weir 132 (133). (Kurnam.)  AIR 1929 Cal 813 (813) = 31 Cri L Jour 673 (DB). (Third Class Magistrate.)

(2) A Magistrate of the second class is not competent to make a conditional order under this section, though he may pass the final order under Section 137 if the case is transferred to him by the Magistrate making the conditional order. AIR 1945 Pat 334 (336) = 24 Pat 16 = 47 Cri L Jour 29 (DB).

(3) The fact that a Government notification under Section 37/39 confers powers on Sub-Divisional Magistrate to take cognizance under Chapters 8 to 12, does not take away the jurisdiction conferred by the Code on First Class Magistrate to take action under Section 133. AIR 1958 Raj 305 (Prs. 6, 7, 8) = ILR (1957) 7 Raj 734 = 1958 Cri L Jour 1428 (DB). (Criminal Ref. No. 46 of 1954, D/- 19-8-1954 (Raj), Overruled.)

(4) Under Section 133, proceedings cannot be initiated before a Taluka Magistrate. The Taluka Magistrate can function only if a conditional order is passed by the Sub-Divisional Magistrate. Where the District Magistrate acting under the provisions of Sec. 438 (2), Cr. P. Code vacated the order passed by the Taluka Magistrate, he cannot order that till the time the Sub-Divisional Magistrate decides the case the Municipality shall not utilise the structure in dispute as latrines or for any other purpose. Such an order cannot be passed even under Section 133. 1964 (1) Cr LJ 373 (374) (Guj).

8. "Considers."— (1) It is enough if the Magistrate has before him sufficient materials upon which prima facie he can act. (1900) 5 Cal WN 173 (174).

(2) Where the acts complained of amount to a nuisance, it prima facie gives the Magistrate jurisdiction to pass an order under this section. (1904) 1 Cri L Jour 70 (72) (DB) (Cal).

(3) Where the Magistrate has not found anything more than that the obstruction was causing inconvenience to the traffic, this finding is not enough for the purpose of passing an order under Section 133. AIR 1959 Cal 599 (Pr. 12) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1160.

(4) In a proceeding under Section 133, if the person proceeded against appears and shows cause against the conditional order, the Magistrate is required to take evidence in the matter as in a summons case. There is no scope for gratuitous hearing before proceedings under Section 133 are drawn up. 1961 All WR (Sup) 84 = 65 Cal WN 1244.

(5) After the Magistrate has found on enquiry that there is no reliable evidence in support of the party's denial of the public right claimed, he must proceed under Section 137 or 138 and thereafter the Magistrate must proceed under Section 139. The order under Section 133 is not made absolute under Section 140, but after the order has been made absolute, notice in terms of Section 140 (1) is to be issued to the person concerned. AIR 1960 Cal 157 (158) = 1960 Cr LJ 334.

9. "On receiving a police-report or other information."— (1) A proceeding under this section is in the first instance ex parte, and the report or other information on which it is based is no evidence against the opposite party. AIR 1917 Cal 207 (207, 208) = 17 Cri LJ 409 (410) (DB).

(2) The words 'or other information' are wide enough to permit a Magistrate to take action under this section on information derived from any source including his own personal information which he gets in another capacity. AIR 1952 All 215 (Prs 6, 22) = ILR (1951) 2 All 609 = 1952 Cri LJ 407. (Per Wanchoo J., Wali Ullah J., contra.)

10. "And on taking such evidence."— (1) The expression "on taking such evidence (if any) as he thinks fit" does not make it incumbent on the Magistrate to hold an inquiry before he makes an order under this section. AIR 1931 All 257 (257) = 32 Cri LJ 565  1964 (1) Cr LJ 248 (249) = 29 Cut LT 523. (Public nuisance — Obstruction to public right — Denial of existence of public right — Magistrate making a joint inquiry both under Sections 137 and 139-A and passing a composite order — Proceedings are irregular and final order passed is not legal — Provisions of Section 139-A are mandatory.)

[See however AIR 1939 Lah 276 (277) = 40 Cri LJ 758.]

(2) In disposing of the objection under Section 133, the Magistrate has to consider the evidence led by the objector only and is not to take into account the evidence adduced on behalf of the complainant. 1966 All WR (HC) 843 = 1966 All Cr R 532.

(3) When an application under Section 133 is filed on the ground that a certain person has put up an obstruction on a path, which is alleged to be a public path, the action of the Magistrate in straightway proceeding to record the evidence of both the parties, without applying his mind whether there is reliable evidence in support of the denial of public path by the respondent or not vitiates the order passed by him. 1968 Cri LJ 1518 (1519) = 1968 Mad LJ (Cri) 239.

(4) Complaint under Section 133 — Complainant not leading any evidence in support of allegations — Nor making his own statement — Magistrate instead of stopping proceedings, examining respondents and their witnesses — Course adopted held was in clear violation of Sections 244 and 137 and as such the entire proceedings stood vitiated. (5) Demolition of dilapidated building — Notice under Section 134 to person in possession of building — When cause is shown Magistrate must act under Section 137 and take evidence — He cannot, without doing so pass orders under Section 142 (1). 1967 BLJR 493 = ILR 46 Pat 794 (DB).

(6) The party against whom a conditional order is made under Section 133 cannot both show cause against the order and ask for the appointment of a jury, Section 135 gives such party the right to adopt either of these alternatives. If he adopts the former alternative, the Magistrate is bound to take action under Section 137 and, if he adopts the second alternative the Magistrate is bound to take action under Section 138. AIR 1960 Pat 539 (540) = 1960 BLJR 349 = 1960 Cr LJ 1489.

(7) Magistrate has to determine whether denial of existence of public right by person who is proceeded under Section 133 is genuine or not —

(8) Denial of public right only with respect to part of way in question — Such denial enough for Section 139A — Magistrate, after such denial being made, not recording finding under Section 139A but examining witnesses and deciding case — Order of Magistrate without jurisdiction. 1969 Cri LJ 1461 (1463) = 1969 Raj LW 332.

11. (4) The principle that the user of one's own property may be a public nuisance is in accordance with the maxim sic utere tuo ut alienum non laedas (so use your own property as not to injure the right of another). A private proprietor may be guilty of act done on his private property, which may give rise to a public nuisance to those living in the neighbourhood. (1897) 25 Cal 425 (430) (DB).

(6) The following are illustrations of cases where acts of private user may amount to a public nuisance :

(a) Where a latrine is used in such a way as to amount to a nuisance to the neighbours, or where it is constructed near a public well and its continuance there will render the water of the well insanitary and unfit for use. (e) Where a person allows prickly pear from his land to spread on a road used by the public. AIR 1928 Mad 1235 (1235, 1236) = 30 Cri LJ 432.

(f) Where a toy shop owner exhibits certain clock work toys, or a person sells "satta" tickets in a shop with the result that a large crowd is collected, and there is a dangerous rush. (7) In order, to constitute an act or illegal omission a public nuisance, it must, having regard to Section 268 of the Penal Code (1) cause common injury, danger or annoyance to the public or to the people in general who dwell or occupy property in the vicinity, or (2) be one which must necessarily cause injury, obstruction, danger, or annoyance to persons who may have occasion to use any public right. (1906) 4 Cri LJ 492 (493) (All).

(8) It is not enough to show that the sentiments of certain persons or of a class of persons are offended by the Act. The reason is lex non favet votis delicatorum (the law favours not the wishes of the dainty). In other words, the law makes no allowance for the susceptibilities of the hypersensitive. (10) A person wilfully slaughtering cattle in a public street so that the slaughter could be heard and seen by the passers-by, would be committing a public nuisance. (1887) 10 All 44 (46).

(11) Where a person cut up meat on his verandah and exposed it to the sight of persons passing along the road, it was held that it would not amount to a public nuisance merely because the sight would offend some Jains whose temple was close-by. (1887) 12 Bom 437 (439) (DB).

(12) A cremation held on a particular spot dedicated for that purpose, or the playing of music before a mosque, or the making of noise by a chowkidar for keeping thieves away is not a public nuisance simply because it may annoy some people near-by. (1896) 19

(13) A hadwara (a place for skinning dead animals) which is already in existence for a long time at a distance from a village will not constitute a public nuisance merely because it causes nuisance to some persons who have set up their houses nearby subsequently. (1949) 51 Pun LR 176 (180, 181).

(14) In order to establish a charge of committing a public nuisance in a public place to the annoyance of residents or passengers in the locality, it is necessary to show that somebody was actually annoyed, though annoyance even to a single person is sufficient. AIR 1924 All 194 (195) = 25 Cri LJ 332. (In view of latter part of Section 268, Penal Code, it is submitted that this decision cannot be accepted as correct.—Ed.)

(15) The question whether an act or omission causes or must necessarily cause injury, danger, or annoyance is one of fact which depends upon the circumstances of each case. See 1932 Mad WN 111 (113).

(16) The following acts and omissions were held not to amount to public nuisance in the particular circumstances of the case:

- (a) The bare solicitation of chastity. 1895 Rat 765 (765) (DB)  (1900) 22 All 113 (115) (DB).

(17) In the particular circumstances of the case the following were held to amount to public nuisance:

- (a) The solicitation by prostitutes in an open public place, some of them carrying charpoys with them. 1900 Pun Re (Cr) No. 2, p. 3 (8, 9) (DB).
- (b) Gambling in the market place, or on a thoroughfare. (1881) 1 Weir 242 (242) (DB)  AIR 1916 Mad 617 (618) = 16 Cri LJ 254 (254). (Gambling on a thoroughfare.)

- (d) Angling in a tank with a bait which is of a foul kind. (1881) 1 Weir 231 (231) (DB).

13. "Channel".— (1) The word "channel" is not defined in the Code but is quite wide enough to include a catchment area in the centre of which there is a watercourse. AIR 1926 Mad 165 (166) = 27 Cri LJ 105.

(2) It is doubtful if a field across which surplus water of the neighbouring lands used to flow into the tank is a "channel" within the meaning of this section. AIR 1914 All 213 (213) = 15 Cri LJ 229 (DB).

(3) The word 'channel' in Section 133 covers such a flow of water as can be used for positive users such as navigation or irrigation and not rain-water across roads, streets or lanes in cities or towns which is incapable of any positive use by the public. A prevention of loss to the property of persons by avoiding collection of water and an insistence on a free flow of water and removal or obstruction cannot imply a use of channel in terms of Section 133 (1). 1961 (2) Cr LJ 403 (404) = 1960 Raj LW 674.

(4) A channel which can lawfully be used by the public for six months in a year when there is water in it will attract the application of this section. AIR 1950 Assam 138 (Pr 9) = 51 Cri LJ 1177.

(5) Channel in private property of a Housing Society — Allegations that as the Society diverted flow of channel. some water accumulates in land of Society which is dangerous to cabins erected by petitioner Colony and that it also affects some septic tanks by forcing mud into them — No allegation of public rights on the channel or of discharging water in it — Held, first para of Section 133 did not apply—Further nalla not being the property of Government, it could not be a public place by reason of Section 37, Bom. Land Revenue Code. (1968) 70 Bom LR 588 = 1968 Mah LJ 909 (DB).

14. "Which is or may be lawfully used by the public."— (1) For the applicability of the section the way, river or channel from which a nuisance is sought to be removed must be one which is or may be lawfully used by the public. AIR 1951 Pat 311 (Pr 2)  AIR 1923 Pat 540 (541) = 24 Cri LJ 855  (1876) 25 Suth WR (Cr) 4 (5) (DB)  (1880) 5 Cal 875 (876) (DB).

(2) Where the allegation of one party is that the opposite party had obstructed the free flow of water from the nullah and had thereby caused inundation of its fields, a proceeding under Section 147, would be misconceived. So far as inundation is concerned, they have got a remedy in the Civil Court by way of damages. So far as obstruction to the free flow of water is concerned the proper proceeding would be one under Section 133, if the nullah in question can be said to be lawfully used by the public. (1958) 24 Cut LT 394 (395).

(3) An obstruction, etc., in respect of a private place is not within the section. (1864) 1 Suth WR 324 (324) (DB)  (1865) 2 Suth WR (Cr) 36 (36) (DB)  AIR 1925 Oudh 130 (130) = 25 Cri LJ 1118  AIR 1928 All 627 (628) = 29 Cri LJ 661  1890 Rat 516 (517, 518) (DB)  1903 Pun Re (Cr) No. 2 p. 4 (7)  AIR 1921 Oudh 204 (204) = 23 Cri LJ 57.

(4) The fact that the Magistrate has taken action under Section 133 is sufficient prima facie to show that he considered that the locus inquo is a public place. (1881) 8 Cal L Rep 399 (400) (DB).

(5) It is not necessary to give jurisdiction under this section that the way should be one which is generally used by the public. All that is required is that the way etc. should be one which is or may be lawfully used by the public. (1909) 10 Cri LJ 210 (211) (DB) (Cal).

(6) A channel which can lawfully be used by the public for six months in a year when there is water in it will attract the application of this section if there is obstruction created in it preventing persons from plying their boats. AIR 1950 Assam 138 (Pr 9) = 51 Cri LJ 1177.

(7) Private property cannot be treated as public, merely because a section of the public have enjoyed permissible user over it. AIR 1924 All 1 (7) = 24 Cri LJ 817.

(8) The fact that the residents of a particular village have a right to take their cattle across a field does not constitute the field a public way which is or may be lawfully used by the public. AIR 1930 Cal 286 (288) = 31 Cri LJ 859  AIR 1916 Lah 214 (215) = 1916 Pun Re No. 109 (DB)  AIR 1914 All 213 (213) = 15 Cri LJ 229 (DB)  AIR 1920 PC 43 (45).

(9) A way or a road may be established to be a public one where acts of user by the public are shown to have been acquiesced in by the owner of the land over which the way passes and those acts are of such a character as to warrant the inference that the owner intended to make over to the public, the right to use the land as a public highway. (1880) 6 Cal L Rep 282 (284) (DB).

15. "Public place," meaning of.— (1) A public place "is a place where the public go, no matter whether they have a right to go or not." (1884) 14 QBD 63 (66) = 54 LJ MC 14 = 51 LT 604. (2) A place in order to be public, must be open to the public, i.e., a place to which the public have access by right, permission, usage or otherwise. AIR 1925 Nag 123 (123) = 25 Cri LJ 1073  (1895) 17 All 166 (166, 167) (DB).

(3) It must be established that the land in question is either a public way or a public place. 1957 All LJ 592 (592)  AIR 1967 Kerala 44 (44). (Classification of land by State under Land Acquisition Act does not make the land a 'public place' — Magistrate

(4) Where a place is dedicated to the use of the public, it is of course, a public place. But it is not necessary that the title to the place should be in the public. A place may be a "public place" though it is the private property of an individual. It will depend upon the character of the place itself and the use actually made of it at a particular time. (1904) 31 Cal 542 (546) = 1 Cri LJ 349 (DB)  AIR 1924 All 768 (769) = 25 Cri LJ 1308.

(5) Whether a place is a public place is a question of fact which depends on the evidence in the particular case. AIR 1925 Nag 123 (124) = 25 Cri LJ 1073.

(6) A well belonging to a private individual who allows the public to use the water for drinking purposes will be a "public place". AIR 1916 Nag 15 (15) = 18 Cri LJ 650.

(7) A railway platform at a time when passenger trains arrive, or the goods-yard of a railway station will be a public place. (1857) 26 LJ Exch 393  (1902) 26 Bom 609 (613) (DB). (Goods yard of railway station.)

(8) Railway land, not being a platform or yard to which the public have access is not a public place. AIR 1923 Pat 540 (541) = 24 Cri LJ 855.

(9) The verandah of a private house is not a public place merely by reason of the fact that it is accessible from a public street. AIR 1931 Lah 576 (576) = 33 Cri LJ 345  1881 All WN 17 (17).

(10) See also the following cases. AIR 1936 Pat 409 (410). (Public well is a public place.)  AIR 1921 Oudh 204 (204) = 23 Cri LJ 57. (Vacant space between two houses is not public place.)

(11) And the property of the State, designedly left unoccupied for sanitary or recreative purposes is a public place. See (1870) 5 Mad HCR 345 (358) (DB).

(12) A State property is a "public place" even though the public may not be entitled to use it. Hence, encroachment upon the land owned by a State railway comes within section 133. AIR 1945 Pat 309 (310) = 24 Pat 104 (DB).

(13) It was held that encroachment on Government land is not enough. It must be shown that the public is interested in the land. 1957 All LJ 592 (592).

(14) Mere encroachment is not enough. It must cause unlawful obstruction. Where there is a slight encroachment and the dispute is really a boundary dispute the civil Court is the proper forum for taking the dispute to. 1957 All WR (Supp) 54 (55).

[See however 1956 BLJR 737 (738). (Encroachment not causing inconvenience to public — Section is not inapplicable.)]

16. Conduct of trade or occupation injurious to the health or physical comfort of the community.— (1) The addition of the words "conduct of" before the words "trade or occupation" by the amendment of 1923 makes it clear that the section applies not only to cases where the trade or occupation is in itself injurious to the community, but also to cases where the conduct of the trade is injurious to the community. AIR 1930 Cal 757 (758) = 32 Cri LJ 235 (DB). (Per S. K. Ghose J., Graham J., contra.)

(2) Where there is a finding that the trade is causing nuisance only to the applicant and there is no evidence that other neighbours also are troubled. Section 133 has no application. AIR 1958 Madh Pra 350 (Pr 5) = 1958 Cri LJ 1319.

(3) Where the manager of a bone mill permitted a large stock of bones to remain uncovered in the open for a long time with the result that it became rotten and emitted noxious smell, it was held that it was a nuisance as it materially interfered with the ordinary physical comfort of human existence. (1907) 5 Cri LJ 45 (48) = 34 Cal 73 (DB).

(4) Where the conduct of the petitioners who are engaged in a trade of selling meat in the locality is such that it causes nuisance to the persons who reside in the locality as well as to the passers-by and also works injury to the residents there, the Magistrate, in taking action under Section 133, is justified in holding that the continuance of these shops at the locality, where they are situated, constituted a nuisance and they should be stopped altogether. 1957 MPC 399 (400). (Matter cannot be considered from the point of view of meat-eaters alone.)

(5) A noise made by the working of an engine in a factory or a mill is a serious nuisance if it is sufficient to prevent the neighbours from sleeping at night and from concentrating on their work during the day. AIR 1931 All 433 (433) = 33 Cri LJ 331  AIR 1920 Cal 550 (550) = 21 Cri LJ 669 (DB)  AIR 1934 Nag 193 (193) = 36 Cri LJ 591.

(7-a) Where a flour mill causes inconvenience to two neighbours who alone report of a nuisance and there is no evidence to suggest that any similar nuisance or inconvenience is caused to anybody else, it will amount to a private nuisance only, and this section will not apply. (8) The dwelling of a prostitute in a quarter inhabited by respectable persons cannot by itself be considered to be "injurious to the comfort" of the community and therefore a nuisance. (1875) 24 Suth WR (Cr) 68 (69) (DB)  (1901) 5 Cal WN 566 (567).

(9) Solicitation for immoral purposes by prostitutes with charpoys with them, on a public road and their remaining in open space in close proximity to the habitations for respectable citizens and the conduct of their occupation there will be injurious both to the health and physical comfort of the community and the public using the road. 1900 Pun Re (Cr) No. 2, p. 3 (8, 9) (DB).

(10) The driving of cattle to and from a cattle market through very narrow and congested lanes, if it causes obstruction to the public and is a source of danger to human life, is a trade or occupation injurious to the physical comfort of the community. (1921) 62 Ind Cas 822 (822, 823) = 22 Cri L Jour 582 (DB) (Cal).

(11) An order under this section can be made to prevent a discharge from a factory into a river of a noxious effluent which might be injurious to the health of the community which has right to the use of water in such river. AIR 1926 Pat 506 (507) = 28 Cri L Jour 317 (DB).

(12) Inoculation for small-pox is not by itself an offence, but where it is necessary to prohibit it in the interests of the public, proceedings may be taken under this section against the inoculator. 1893-1900 Low Bur Rul 545 (546).

(13) Where certain persons got their children inoculated for small-pox, it was held that they could not be said to be carrying on any trade or occupation and that the section had no application. AIR 1914 Upp Bur 3 (3) = 15 Cri L Jour 253.

(14) The proprietor of a cremation ground cannot be said to be carrying on any trade or occupation within the meaning of this section. (1898) 25 Cal 425 (431) (DB).

(15) The following are not trades or occupations injurious to the health or physical comfort of the community—

(17) The working of flour mills as regulated by the order of the Magistrate in previous proceedings under this section cannot be described in law as a nuisance for purposes of fresh proceedings under this section. The law does not contemplate continued interference with the carrying on of a trade. AIR 1940 Oudh 75 (76) = 41 Cri L Jour 99.

(18) Though the Legislature has under local or special Acts, left certain trades or occupations to the control of local and municipal boards and provided remedies thereunder, the existence of such an alternative remedy does not deprive the Magistrate of jurisdiction to pass an order under this section. The Magistrate has jurisdiction to regulate the manner in which a trade is to be conducted in such a way as not to be a nuisance to the community. (22) Accumulation of water on private land is not trade or occupation of goods or merchandise — Paragraph 2 does not apply even though it is injurious to health. (1968) 70 Bom LR 588 = 1968 Mah LJ 909 (DB).

17. Community — Meaning of.— (1) An act found to be injurious to the physical comfort of the neighbours must be held to be so to the physical comfort of the community and comes under this section even though there may be some part of the community, which is not affected. AIR 1931 All 433 (433) = 33 Cri L Jour 331  (1904) 1 Cri L Jour 512 (513) = 1904 Pun Re (Cr) No. 9  1964 (2) Cr LJ 94 (96) = 1964 MPLJ 330.

(2) The section has no application where the nuisance is caused to the applicant only, unless there is evidence that other neighbours are also troubled. AIR 1958 Madh Pra 350 (Pr. 5) = 1958 Cri L Jour 1319.

(3) The interference with public comfort of the community must be considerable and must be caused to a considerable section of the public. (1911) 12 Cri L Jour 146 (147) (Lah)  AIR 1926 Oudh 414 (414, 415) = 27 Cri L Jour 1020.

(4) The terms 'public' 'community' or 'persons living in the neighbourhood' must be deemed to have been used in this section in different senses, with reference to the particular kind of nuisance complained of. The term public will include both 'community' and 'neighbours' and the word 'community' has been used to include a particular section of the public including neighbours. 1951 All WR (HC) 630 (633)  1965 Cur LJ 647 = 67 Pun LR 1115.

18. Building, tent or structure or tree.— (1) An order can be passed under this section requiring a person owning, possessing or controlling a building tent, structure, or tree to prevent or stop the erection of, or to remove, repair, or support, such building, tent or structure or to remove or support any tree that is likely to fall and cause injury to persons living or carrying on business in the neighbourhood or passing by. Section 133 — Note 18 (contd.)

(6) The section does not apply unless the danger or injury is an existing one. 1890 Pun Re (Cr) No. 5, p. 11 (11).

(7) In order to justify the taking of an action under this section, the state of the building should be dangerous in praesenti and not in futuro. AIR 1924 All 667 (668) = 26 Cri L Jour 104.

(8) It is desirable to state in the application itself all the particulars necessary for drawing up proceedings under Section 133. But where the parties know what building it was of which a wall was in danger of falling down, the fact that these particulars are not set out in the application will not justify the Court in setting aside the conditional order under the section. AIR 1959 Cal 574 (Pr. 10) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1066.

19. Persons living or carrying on business in the neighbourhood or passing by.— (1) As soon as danger appears to a neighbour the conditions of Section 133 are fulfilled and such a dangerous structure can even be called a public nuisance. (3) The injury apprehended must be to the persons. Danger to property is not contemplated. AIR 1949 Dacca 11 (Pr. 12) = 50 Cri L Jour 782 (DB).

20. Form of order.— (1) The forms in Schedule V (Form No. XVI) should be strictly followed without adding to or subtracting from them on the Magistrate's own initiative. AIR 1949 Dacca 11 (Pr. 5) = 50 Cri L Jour 782 (DB).

(3) An order under this section should be in writing. AIR 1915 Cal 741 (742) = 16 Cri L Jour 24 (DB).

(4) The order should state the time within which the Magistrate before whom and the place at which the person proceeded against may appear and move to have the order set aside. (1883) 9 Cal 637 (639) (DB)  1867 Pun Re (Cr) No. 26, p. 46 (46) (DB).

(6) The order must not be vague, but must be definite. Where the person against whom it is directed cannot learn from its terms what it is that he is to do for the purpose of complying with it, the order will be set aside as being vague and indefinite. AIR 1917 Cal 207 (208) = 17 Cri L Jour 409 (DB)  1969 All WR 301.

(8) In a proceeding instituted against a number of persons it is essential that the order should state accurately with regard to each person the specific obstruction made by him and which he is required to remove, unless it is alleged that all the persons are jointly responsible for all the obstructions. AIR 1917 Cal 207 (208) = 17 Cri L Jour 409 (DB)  AIR 1928 Lah 187 (188) = 28 Cri L Jour 1036.

(9) The time specified in the order runs from the date of the order and not of the service on the person, and if it is served after the expiry of such time, the order is a nullity and all the consequent proceedings thereon are void. (1872) 1 Bom PJ 282 (283).

(10) The form in which the conditional order under this section is expressed is such as not to amount to an injunction. AIR 1938 Nag 84 (85) (DB).

(11) Where, on receipt of an application about removal of a tree which is a source of danger, the Magistrate only intimates to the owner of the tree to remove it within a particular period and further intimates to him that if he does not obey the order, he would be subjected to proceedings under Sec. 188, I. P. C., such order, in the form in which it is made, cannot be supported. (1963) 1 Mys LJ 273 = 1964 Mad LJ (Cri) 129.

(12) It is not within the powers of the Magistrate exercising jurisdiction under Section 133 to ask a party to vacate a house in his possession or to remove his goods therefrom. All that he is empowered under the law is to pass an order to remove or repair the building. (1965) 31 Cut LT 1033.

But if the Magistrate who made the conditional order did not incorporate in the order that the person was to appear and show cause before some other Magistrate of the first or second class, and proceedings were later on transferred to another Magistrate, such Magistrate would not be competent to pass final orders in the proceeding. 24. "And move to have the order set aside or modified."— (1) An order has to direct the person proceeded against "to move to have the order set aside or modified." The section contemplates that in suitable cases the order initially made may not only be set aside, but may be modified and the modified order be allowed to stand. AIR 1925 All 310 (311) = 26 Cri L Jour 731.

(2) The modification can only be made when the case goes before a jury under Section 139 and not when the matter is disposed of under Section 137 by the Magistrate sitting alone. AIR 1958 All 174 (Pr. 4) = 1958 Cri L Jour 314.

28. 29. Costs.— (1) There is no provision for payment of costs by one party to the proceedings to the other and an order for costs is therefore improper. AIR 1925 Cal 399 (401) = 26 Cri L Jour 517 (DB).

(2) Where a building near a railway line was in danger of falling down and causing danger to the railway track, the Magistrate directed the owner by a conditional order to remove the same and after the parties had shown cause the Magistrate without proceeding under Section 137, made a local inspection but made no memorandum and passed final orders for demolition, ordering the railway to bear the cost of the demolition, it was held that the provisions of Sections 137 and 139-B were contravened and that the whole order, including the order of costs was illegal. AIR 1959 Cal 574 (Prs. 11, 12, 14, 15) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1066.

30. Further enquiry.— (1) As an application under this section is not a complaint of an offence as defined in Section 4 (1) (h), Section 436 under which further enquiry could be ordered will not apply to such an application and therefore any order for further enquiry into a matter coming under this section is ultra vires. 32. Revision.— (1) A High Court has undoubtedly jurisdiction to entertain a revision on grounds of fact, but this power will be sparingly used and the rule on which it will so act is that it will interfere where either there is no evidence to support the finding or where the finding arrived at is perverse or such as no reasonable man could have arrived at on the evidence produced. Section 137 — Synopsis (contd.)

11. Effect of the order being made absolute.
12. Jurisdiction of Civil Court to question order under this section.
13. High Court's powers of revision.

1. Scope.— (1) Where there is no reliable evidence in inquiry about public right in support of denial of the right the procedure in this section is to be adopted. AIR 1951 Trav-Co 228 (Pr. 2) = ILR (1951) Trav-Co 123 = 52 Cri L Jour 1250  AIR 1949 Cal 583 (Pr. 6) = 51 Cri L Jour 125 (DB)  AIR 1938 All 653 (654) = 40 Cri L Jour 143  AIR 1936 Pat 639 (640) = 38 Cri L Jour 29  1968 Raj LW 244 (246)  AIR 1960 Pat 539 (540) = 1960 BLJR 349 = 1960 Cri LJ 1489  AIR 1970 Pat 207 (207).

(2) Where the way alleged to have been encroached upon was a P. W. D. road and this fact was not in controversy between the parties, it was held that the procedure of the Magistrate in taking up forthwith the enquiry under this section was only an irregularity not affecting the merits. AIR 1943 Pat 3 (4) = 43 Cri L Jour 923.

(4) The provisions of this chapter are not intended to apply to cases where the party has a bona fide claim of title. AIR 1953 Mad 674 (Pr. 7) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1201  AIR 1923 Oudh 152 (153) = 24 Cri L Jour 635  AIR 1933 Cal 790 (791) = 35 Cri L Jour 89 (DB)  (1960) 1 Ker LR 66 = 1960 Ker LJ 160. (Existence of public right — Absence of evidence in support of denial — Enquiry under Section 137 not permissible.)

2. "The Magistrate."— (1) The word "Magistrate" in the section will include both the Magistrate who made the order and the Magistrate before whom the party is required to appear under Section 133. (1899) 2 Weir 61 (61)  (1904) 1 Cri L Jour 669 (671) = 10 Bur LR 130  (1886) 9 Mad 201 (202) (DB)  (1898) 25 Cal 278 (280) (DB). (9 Mad 201, Followed.)  AIR 1924 Pat 418 (419) = 24 Cri L Jour 690.

(2) Though a Magistrate of the second class is not competent to make a conditional order under Section 133, he can pass the final order under this section, if the case is transferred to him by the Magistrate making the conditional order. AIR 1945 Pat 334 (336) = 24 Pat 16 (DB).

(3) Proceedings under Section 133 have to start before a Magistrate named in the conditional order and have to be continued before that Magistrate. If after conclusion of inquiry under Section 139-A the Magistrate is unable to continue them the proceedings thereafter become incompetent. AIR 1956 Cal 220 (221) = 1956 Cri L Jour 614.

3. "Shall take evidence in the matter."— (1) The provisions of this section are mandatory. AIR 1917 Cal 800 (800) = 18 Cri L Jour 738 (DB)  AIR 1949 Cal 57 (57) = 49 Cri L Jour 608  AIR 1948 Oudh 19 (20) = 48 Cri L Jour 666  AIR 1936 Pat 577 (578) = 37 Cri L Jour 1159  AIR 1939 Bom 92 (93) = 40 Cri L Jour 444 (DB)  AIR 1926 All 193 (193) = 27 Cri L Jour 276  1966 Cur LJ 653 (Punj).

(2) The Magistrate cannot make a conditional order absolute merely—

(3) The Magistrate cannot refuse to take evidence on the ground that the objections were filed beyond the time allowed, provided they are filed before the case is taken up. (1868) 10 Suth WR (Cr) 27 (27) (DB)  (1877) 26 Suth WR (Cr) 7 (7) (DB).

(4) The fixing of an arbitrary time limit for the cross-examination of witnesses is improper. AIR 1921 Cal 118 (118) = 22 Cri L Jour 524 (DB).

(5) Denial of public right only with respect to part of way in question — Such denial enough for Section 139-A — Magistrate, after such denial being made, not recording finding under Section 139-A but examining witnesses and deciding case — Order of Magistrate without jurisdiction. 1969 Cri LJ 1461 (1463) = 1969 Raj LW 332.

(6) Complaint under Section 133 — Complainant not leading any evidence in support of allegations — Nor making his own statement — Magistrate instead of stopping proceedings, examining respondents and their witnesses — Course adopted held was in clear violation of Sections 244 and 137 and as such the entire proceedings stood vitiated. AIR 1969 Goa 74 (75, 76) = 1969 Cri LJ 744.

(7) The words 'evidence in the matter' in Section 137 (1) mean evidence of the complainant. 1968 Ker LT 889 (892) = ILR (1969) 1 Ker 128 (DB).

4. "As in a summons-case."— (1) The opposite party may cross-examine the complainant's witnesses and then produce his evidence if so advised. (1909) 10 Cri L Jour 297 (298) = 31 All 453 (DB)  AIR 1918 Mad 984 (984) = 18 Cri L Jour 848  AIR 1925 All 614 (614) = 26 Cri L Jour 905.

(2) The magistrate has to take evidence in the manner as in summons case. He cannot without any reference to the evidence pass order hearing only arguments of counsel. (1965) 1 Law Rep 870 (871) (Mys).

5. Burden of proof.— (1) The burden of proof in an inquiry under this section is on the prosecution. AIR 1939 Bom 92 (95) = 40 Cri L Jour 444 (DB)  AIR 1936 Pat 639 (640) = 38 Cri L Jour 29.

(2) Section 137 contemplates proof not of reasonableness and propriety of the conditional order passed but of its unreasonableness and impropriety. The direction in Clause (1) of Section 137, Cr. P. Code that the Magistrate shall take evidence in the matter as in a summons-case, in the light of the provisions in Clauses (2) and (3) means only that the mode of taking evidence in an enquiry under the section shall be as provided in Chapter XXV of the Code for a summons case. It gives no clue as to the onus of proof. 1966 Ker LT 1100 = 1967 MLJ (Cri) 163.

6. Summons to witnesses.— (1) The person proceeded against under the section is entitled to apply to the Court to compel the attendance of his witnesses by issuing summons and the Court should issue summons to witnesses, if necessary. (1902) 6 Cal WN 548 (550) (DB)  ('03) 13 Cal WN cclxxxiii.

7. Sub-section (2).— (1) The dropping of proceedings initiated by an order under Section 133 can be done only after the evidence is recorded under sub-section (1) and the Court is satisfied on such evidence that the preliminary order was not reasonable and proper. AIR 1920 Cal 834 (834, 835) = 22 Cri L Jour 239 (DB).

(2) The existence of a genuine dispute as to title suitable for decision by a Civil Court may be sufficient to show that the order was not reasonable and proper within the meaning of this section. AIR 1923 Oudh 152 (153) = 24 Cri L Jour 635  AIR 1923 Oudh 22 (23) = 24 Cri L Jour 694  AIR 1921 Cal 118 (118) = 22 Cri L Jour 524 (DB).

(3) Order passed by Magistrate under Section 137 (2) — Failure of Magistrate to hold enquiry under Section 139-A (1) — Complainant cannot take advantage of such omission for setting aside order. 1964 (1) Cri LJ 125 (126) = 65 Pun LR 723.

8. "If the Magistrate is not so satisfied."— (1) Where the party appears to show cause against the preliminary order and the enquiry is started under this section, the Magistrate cannot, even if the party failed to appear at a subsequent hearing, make the order absolute without any evidence. (1900) 2 Bom LR 818 (819) (DB).

(2) Where the party proceeded against is required to appear before the Magistrate who made the conditional order, the latter must himself take the evidence and cannot forward the proceedings to another Magistrate for taking evidence, and then act upon the evidence so taken. AIR 1949 Cal 637 (Prs. 13, 14) = ILR (1950) 2 Cal 365 = 51 Cri L Jour 205  AIR 1922 Bom 384 (384) = 23 Cri L Jour 587 (DB).

9. AIR 1921 Bom 29 (30) = 22 Cri L Jour 605 (DB)  1890 Rat 516 (518) (DB)  AIR 1952 Cal 127 (Pr. 5)  (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 213 (214) (DB) (Cal).

(2) The Magistrate cannot, under this section, modify the provisional order issued under Section 133. AIR 1952 Cal 127 (Pr. 3). (3) An order cannot be made absolute except on clear proof that the act complained of is a nuisance and a removal thereof is quite necessary. 1888 Pun Re (Cr) No. 17, p. 31 (32) (DB).

(4) Where the Magistrate confirms an order under this section, he should lay down fully the grounds on which he acted, and in deciding on the objections of the parties, he ought to record in each case the grounds of his rejection of such objection. (7) Where the person against whom a conditional order is passed under Section 133 in respect of an alleged obstruction appears and states that he has no objection to the removal of the obstruction, it is not enough simply to record such willingness. A substantive order for the removal of the obstruction must be made. AIR 1936 Pat 360 (361) = 37 Cri L Jour 846.

2. The Magistrate shall question as to existence of public right.
3. "Shall enquire into the matter."

(2) If in such inquiry the Magistrate finds that there is any reliable evidence in support of such denial, he shall stay the proceedings until the matter of the existence of such right has been decided by a competent Civil Court; and if he finds that there is no such evidence, he shall proceed as laid down in Section 137 or Section 138, as the case may require.

Section 139-A — Synopsis (contd.)

4. Delegation of enquiry.
5. Reliable evidence — Sub-sec. (2).
6. "Shall stay proceedings."
7. Until decided by a competent Civil Court.
8. Procedure where there is no reliable evidence.
9. Consequences of failure to deny the public right.
10. Revision.

1. Scope and object.— (1) Under the present section it is not necessary that the claim set up by the party proceeded against should be bona fide. AIR 1952 All 215 (Pr. 8) = ILR (1951) 2 All 609 = 1952 Cri L Jour 407 (DB).

(2) Where the existence of the public right is denied, the Magistrate is to inquire into the matter and if in such enquiry, there is reliable evidence in support of such denial, the proceedings should be stayed. (3) The object of this section is to prevent the Magistrate from instituting an elaborate enquiry with regard to the rights of the parties. (4) If instead of staying the proceedings, the Magistrate were to try and weigh the evidence in order to determine the truth of the denial, his subsequent proceedings would be a nullity. AIR 1945 Nag 226 (227) = ILR (1945) Nag 461 = 47 Cri L Jour 217.

(5) This section does not apply to the cases where the party admits the public right but denies only the fact of obstruction. (7) It is not necessary that the denial should be a denial of the existence of the entire public right. The denial of the public right in the piece of land said to have been encroached upon, is denial of the existence of the public right qua that piece of land and is sufficient to attract the application of this section. (9) The fact that the Magistrate found under Section 139-A that there was no reliable evidence in support of the denial of the public right does not disentitle the party from claiming the enquiry under Section 137 or Sec. 138. AIR 1941 Pat 370 (370) = 42 Cri L Jour 784  AIR 1958 Pat 269 (270) = 1958 Cri L Jour 664  AIR 1933 Cal 318 (319) = 34 Cri L Jour 532 (DB).

2. The Magistrate shall question as to existence of public right.— (1) The provisions of this section are mandatory and on the appearance of the party the Magistrate should question him without waiting for the objection being raised by the party as to whether he denies the existence of the public right. AIR 1941 Pat 38 (39) = 42 Cri L Jour 34  AIR 1954 Orissa 210 (210) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1422 (DB)  1968 Cri LJ 1518 (1519) = 1968 Mad LJ (Cri) 239  (1961) 65 Cal WN 1244  AIR 1960 Punj 377 (378, 379) = 62 Pun LR 89 = 1960 Cr LJ 993.

(3) If instead of ascertaining whether the party denies the existence of any public right the Magistrate hears the evidence of both parties and passes a final order under Section 137, the order cannot be supported. AIR 1954 Orissa 210 (210) = 1954 Cri LJ our 1422 (DB).

(4) Where the party admits the public right but denies only the obstruction, omission to question him is only an irregularity within the meaning of Section 537. AIR 1943 Pat 3 (4) = 43 Cri L Jour 923  (1958) 24 Cut LT 473 (474)  AIR 1929 Cal 507 (507, 508) = 31 Cri L Jour 973 (DB).

(5) When a party, on appearance, puts in a statement denying the existence of any public right, it is not necessary for the Magistrate to put any question in that respect. AIR 1945 Pat 309 (311) = 24 Pat 104 (DB)  1963 (1) Cri LJ 819 (820) = 1962-2 Ker LT 420.

(6) The section does not say that the opposite party must be examined personally and if exemption is granted to the opposite party then it would be enough to examine the counsel appearing for the party. AIR 1958 Tripura 17 (18) = 1958 Cri L Jour 695.

(7) Where the opposite party in his written statement expressly denied the existence of a public way and his personal appearance had been dispensed with, it was held that it was quite unnecessary for the Magistrate formally to question the lawyer of the opposite party regarding whether his client denied the existence of the public way. ILR (1951) 1 Cal 126 (129).

(8) Where the written statement was ambiguous on the question of denial of public right and the Magistrate put the question on the next hearing, it was held that though the Magistrate was technically wrong, it was a curable irregularily. AIR 1945 Nag 226 (228) = ILR (1945) Nag 461 = 47 Cri L Jour 217.

(9) Whether a right is public right has to be decided on the facts of each case. The best criterion is to see whether the right is vested in such a large number of persons as to make them unascertainable and to make them a community or class. AIR 1939 Pat 460 (461) = 40 Cri L Jour 837 (DB).

3. "Shall enquire into the matter."— (1) The Magistrate should enquire into the matter to find out if there is reliable evidence in support of the denial of public right and not whether the claim is bona fide. AIR 1963 Cal 790 (790, 791) = 35 Cri L Jour 89 (DB)  AIR 1959 Pat 81 (82) = 1959 Cri L Jour 230  AIR 1970 Pat 207 (207, 208)  1965 All LJ 241 = 1965 All WR (HC) 262  AIR 1963 All 27 (29) = 1963 (1) Cri LJ 33.

(2) This enquiry is to be kept quite distinct from the enquiry which may be held later under Section 137 if the Magistrate finds that there is no prima facie reliable evidence in support of the denial of the public right. AIR 1928 Cal 879 (879) = 30 Cri L Jour 622 (DB).

[See also AIR 1958 Oudh 19 (20) = 22 Luck 294 = 48 Cri L Jour 666.]

(3) The Magistrate is left with an absolute discretion as to how far he will go or upon what materials he will act in considering the case in support of the denial. AIR 1950 Orissa 203 (Pr. 6) = 51 Cri L Jour 1498  AIR 1929 All 220 (221) = 30 Cri L Jour 670  AIR 1948 All 115 (116) = 49 Cri L Jour 23 = ILR (1947) All 735  1968 All Cr R 26 = 1968 All WR (HC) 21  1968 Raj LW 244 (246, 247) = ILR (1968) 18 Raj 220  1966 Cur LJ 653 (Punj).

(4) The section only requires that the Magistrate should see whether there is reliable evidence in support of the denial and not that the non-existence of the public right should be proved. AIR 1936 All 356 (357) = 37 Cri L Jour 343  AIR 1959 Pat 81 (83) = 1959 Cri L Jour 230  ILR (1951) 1 Cal 126 (130)  1968 All Cr R 26 = 1968 All WR (HC) 21  1966 Cur LJ 653 (Punj).

(5) The party denying the public right must be called upon to produce evidence in support of such denial and such evidence must be legal evidence. AIR 1931 Cal 527 (527) = 32 Cri L Jour 1187 (DB)  AIR 1959 Pat 81 (82) = 1959 Cri L Jour 230.

(6) The Magistrate may allow the cross-examination of witnesses adduced in support of the denial. AIR 1938 All 653 (654) = 40 Cri L Jour 143  AIR 1948 All 115 (116) = 49 Cri L Jour 23 = ILR (1947) All 735  AIR 1931 Cal 527 (527) = 32 Cri L Jour 1187 (DB).

(7) The enquiry being of a summary character it is not intended that the party complaining of obstruction should be required to adduce evidence to counteract the evidence in support of the denial. AIR 1938 All 653 (654) = 49 Cri L Jour 143  AIR 1959 Pat 81 (83) = 1959 Cri L Jour 230  AIR 1948 All 115 (116) = ILR (1947) All 735 = 49 Cri L Jour 23  AIR 1931 Cal 527 (527) = 32 Cri L Jour 1187 (DB).

(8) Where the Magistrate misdirects himself in allowing both the parties to adduce evidence and then reaches his conclusion, the order of the Magistrate is wholly wrong, being contrary to the provisions of Section 139-A and cannot be maintained. AIR 1959 Pat 81 (83) = 1959 Cri L Jour 230.

(9) The provisions of this section are mandatory and cannot be waived by the party. The Magistrate must hold the enquiry. AIR 1930 Lah 1046 (1047) = 32 Cri L Jour 250  AIR 1959 Pat 81 (82) = 1959 Cri 230  AIR 1954 All 203 (204) = 1954 Cri L Jour 432.

(10) If the Magistrate fails to hold the inquiry and proceeds to make the order absolute, he acts without jurisdiction. AIR 1953 All 466 (Pr. 4) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1068  1956 BLJR 737 (739)  AIR 1960 All 244 (245) = 1960 Cri LJ 450. (AIR 1948 Oudh 19 and AIR 1967 Oudh 65, Diss.)

(11) The words "shall inquire into the matter" simply mean that he is to hear any evidence that the petitioner wants him to hear, before proceeding. AIR 1942 Pat 468 (469) = 43 Cri L Jour 423.

[But see AIR 1941 Oudh 271 (272) = 42 Cri L Jour 241.]

(12) It is generally desirable that the Magistrate should record a definite finding in terms of Section 139-A, sub-section (2), though if the record otherwise indicates that he did find that the denial was well founded, the requirements of Section 139-A, sub-section (2) would be satisfied. AIR 1936 All 150 (151) = 37 Cri L Jour 422.

[See also AIR 1950 Orissa 203 (Pr 6) = 51 Cri L Jour 1498.]

(13) Where the order concerned does not indicate what the actual evidence in support of the opposite party's denial was, nor does it show why the evidence in support of the opposite party's case was considered unreliable the order complained of does not indicate compliance with this section. AIR 1956 Cal 24 (25) = 1956 Cri L Jour 212.

(14) A conditional order cannot be made absolute without taking evidence of complainant. A penalty for his default is not provided for in Sec. 139-A (3). 1968 Ker LT 889 (893) = ILR (1969) 1 Ker 128 (DB).

4. Delegation of enquiry.— (1) The enquiry should be held only by the Magistrate before whom the party appears in pursuance of an order under Section 133 and cannot be delegated to a Magistrate subordinate to him. AIR 1949 Cal 637 (Pr. 14) = ILR (1950) 2 Cal 365  51 Cri L Jour 205  AIR 1929 Cal 813 (813) = 31 Cri L Jour 673 (DB).

(2) The enquiry under this section need not necessarily be held by the Magistrate who passed the conditional order under Section 133 as such order may require the party to appear before the Magistrate who passed the order or before some other Magistrate. AIR 1937 Lah 676 (677) = 38 Cri L Jour 1056.

(3) The proceedings started before the Magistrate named in the conditional order have to be continued before that Magistrate. If after the conclusion of an inquiry under Sec. 139-A the Magistrate is unable to continue the proceedings for some reason or other or if the proceedings are transferred to some other Magistrate, the proceedings thereafter become incompetent. 5. Reliable evidence — Sub-section (2).— (1) The Magistrate should only take the evidence in support of the denial and see whether as it stands he could come to the conclusion that the evidence was reliable. AIR 1951 Pat 311 (Pr. 2)  AIR 1954 Orissa 210 (210) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1422 (DB)  AIR 1946 Cal 302 (302, 303) = 47 Cri L Jour 320 (DB).

[See also AIR 1948 All 115 (116) = 49 Cri L Jour 23 = ILR (1947) All 735.]

(2) "Reliable evidence" as used in this section only means evidence on which it is possible for a competent Court to place reliance and does not mean evidence which definitely establishes the title to the land. AIR 1937 All 12 (13) = 38 Cri L Jour 200  1967 Cur LJ 717 (Punj)  1964 All Cri R 405 = 1964 All WR (HC) 569  AIR 1963 All 27 (28, 29) = 1963 (1) Cri LJ 33 = 1963 All WR (HC) 134  AIR 1960 Punj 377 (379) = 62 Punj LR 89 = 1960 Cri LJ 993  1958 All WR (HC) 866 (867) = 1958 All Cri R 104.

(5) A long user of the property by the person denying the public right may be held to be reliable evidence. AIR 1945 Pat 309 (310, 311) = 24 Pat 104 (DB)  42 Cri L Jour 401 (401) (Pat).

(6) The evidence as to denial of the public right must be taken as a whole and if it contains also a refutation of the claim made, then the suggested inference does not follow and the jurisdiction is not ousted. AIR 1945 Pat 309 (310) = 24 Pat 104 (DB).

(7) The Magistrate has to give a clear and definite finding whether there is reliable evidence in support of the denial. A finding that there is no inconvenience to the public by reason of the encroachment will not satisfy the requirements of the section. 1950 All WR (Sup) 82 (84)  AIR 1966 Tripura 14 (15, 16) = 1966 Cri LJ 303.

(8) Proceedings under Section 133 — Second party producing recently published settlement record of rights in support of private right over disputed property — Court should consider the record of rights as reliable and pass an order for stay of proceedings till disposal of matter by Civil Court. AIR 1966 Cal 215 (217) = 1966 Cri LJ 528.

6. "Shall stay proceedings."— (1) The section is imperative and the Magistrate is bound to stay the proceedings if there is reliable evidence in support of the denial. (5) Where the proceedings are stayed under sub-section (2), the Magistrate has no jurisdiction to draw up fresh proceedings under Section 133 in respect of the same matter. AIR 1948 Pat 15 (15) = 48 Cri L Jour 360.

7. Until decided by a competent Civil Court.— (1) There is nothing in the section which entitles the Magistrate to say which party should file the suit. 8. Title to property removed.

9. "Moveable property," meaning of.

10. Suit in respect of acts done under the section.

11. Revision.

1. Scope.— (1) Where an order under Section 133 has not been made absolute under Section 139 (1) and further proceedings have been dropped under sub-section (2) of that section, this section can have no application and the Magistrate cannot pass any further orders for the removal of the obstruction. AIR 1942 Mad 113 (114) = 43 Cri L Jour 314.

(2) The order under Section 133 is not made absolute under Section 140 but after the order has been made absolute, notice in terms of Section 140 (1) is to be issued to the person concerned. AIR 1960 Cal 157 (158) = 1960 Cri LJ 334.

2. Notice.— (1) The provisions of the section as to the issue of notice are mandatory and the Magistrate has no discretion to refuse to issue such notice. AIR 1931 Cal 787 (787) = 32 Cri L Jour 1240 (DB).

(2) The notice must direct only the removal of the nuisance. The Magistrate cannot direct the manner in which the nuisance is to be removed. (1897) 25 Cal 425 (431) (DB).

3. Notice of order absolute under Section 137, by whom to be given.— (1) Where a conditional order directs a person to appear before a Magistrate other than the Magistrate issuing the order, and the former after enquiry under Section 137 makes the order absolute, it is he who is entitled to issue the notice under this section and not the Magistrate who originally issued the conditional order. (1886) 9 Mad 201 (202) (DB)  (1899) 2 Weir 61 (61).

4. Non-compliance with notice.— (1) The question, whether and what action should be taken on the failure to comply with the notice is a matter of judicial discretion to be exercised by the Court, after taking into consideration the whole of the circumstances of the case. AIR 1931 Cal 787 (787) = 32 Cri L Jour 1240 (DB).

(2) Where after a notice was issued under this section to a party a temporary injunction was issued in a civil suit restraining him from performing the acts ordered to be done by the notice, the Court can, under such circumstances, desist from taking any further proceedings against him under this section until the conclusion of the Civil suit. AIR 1931 Cal 787 (787) = 32 Cri L Jour 1240 (DB).

(3) A Magistrate has no power to refuse to enforce the orders of his predecessor merely on the ground that they were not legal or valid. AIR 1923 Cal 589 (589) = 24 Cri L Jour 317 (DB).

(4) A refusal to enforce an order of the predecessor on the ground that such enforcement has become unnecessary is not ultra vires. AIR 1916 Pat 264 (266) = 18 Cri L Jour 305.

(5) The question as to the validity of an order passed under Section 133 cannot be raised in a trial for an offence under Section 188, Penal Code, for disobedience of the order. AIR 1934 Cal 242 (242) = 35 Cri L Jour 778 (DB).

[But see (1881) 10 Cal L Rep 193 (196)  (1883) 12 Cal L Rep 231 (232) (DB).]

5. "Is not performed within the time fixed."— (1) The time to be allowed for removing the nuisance is entirely within the discretion of the Magistrate who should exercise such discretion after taking into consideration the danger and inconvenience to the public. (1882) 2 Weir 59 (59).

(2) Where the Court fixes a time for the removal of the nuisance, no action can be taken by the Magistrate for non-compliance with the notice before the expiry of period so fixed. 1882 All WN 232 (233).

6. Death of person against whom conditional order is made.— (1) Where the person against whom an order for removal of nuisance is made dies, the order ceases to have any force, and no further steps as provided by this section can be taken against his legal represen-

141. Procedure on failure to appoint jury or omission to return verdict.— If the applicant, by neglect or otherwise, prevents the appointment of the jury, or if from any cause the jury appointed do not return their verdict within the time fixed or within such further time as the Magistrate may in his discretion allow, the Magistrate may pass such order as he thinks fit, and such order shall be executed in the manner provided by Section 140.

(2) Where more persons than one are proceeded against under S. 133, it would obviously be unjust for the Magistrate to make an order for recovery of the costs from a party who was not actually served with notice of the proceedings. AIR 1927 Cal 70 (71) = 28 Cri L Jour 30 (DB).

8. Title to property removed.— (1) The party against whom the order is enforced is entitled to the property gathered as a consequences of the removal. The Court has no right to dispose of it as it thinks most beneficial to the general public and if any of it is so utilised by the Court the party is entitled to claim a deduction of its value from the costs. (1868) 10 Suth WR (Cr) 51 (52) (DB).

9. "Moveable property," meaning of.— (1) The words "by the distress and sale of any other moveable property" show that the words "moveable property" in this section mean tangible moveable property. AIR 1917 Mad 748 (749) = 18 Cri L Jour 1 (DB).

10. Suit in respect of acts done under the section.— (1) The effect of sub-section (3) is that if the order of the Magistrate is in derogation of private rights and has caused, injury or loss to the owner, no person acting under the Magistrate's order will be liable to compensate the injury or loss. (7) Independent of this section a Magistrate acting judicially is, by virtue of Section 1 of the Judicial Offcers' Protection Act (18 of 1850), not liable to be sued in a Civil Court for any act done or ordered to be done by him in good faith in the discharge of his judicial duty. SECTION 141 — SYNOPSIS

1. Failure of jury to return verdict.
2. "Within such further time as the Magistrate may in his discretion allow."
3. "The Magistrate may pass such order as he thinks fit."

1. Failure of jury to return verdict.— (1) Where only four out of five jurors returned the verdict, there is no verdict of the jury and therefore the Magistrate is entitled to pass such order as

142. Injunction pending inquiry.—(1) If a Magistrate making an order under Section 133 considers that immediate measures should be taken to prevent imminent danger or injury of a serious kind to the public, he may, whether a jury is to be, or has been, appointed or not, issue such an injunction[*] to the person against whom the order was made, as is required to obviate or prevent such danger or injury pending the determination of the matter.

(2) In default of such person forthwith obeying such injunction, the Magistrate may himself use, or cause to be used, such means as he thinks fit to obviate such danger or to prevent such injury.

(3) No suit shall lie in respect of anything done in good faith by a Magistrate under this section.

(2) Where one of the jurors had expressed his opinion before the appointment of jury became complete, it was held that the constitution of jury was essentially defective, that the report of the majority of the jury itself became illegal and that the constitution of the jury being defective this section had no application. AIR 1940 Pat 717 (717, 718) = 42 Cri L Jour 202.

2. "Within such further time as the Magistrate may in his discretion allow."— (1) Where a reasonable application is made for extension of time the Court should grant it. (1901) 23 All 159 (161) (DB).

(2) If the Court grants further time, it should fix the date by which the verdict is to be returned. (1870) 14 Suth WR (Cr) 69 (69) (DB).

(3) Where an application is made for extension of time for return of the verdict, it should be disposed of before any further proceedings are taken. No proceedings taken before it is disposed of will be valid. (1901) 23 All 159 (161) (DB).

3. "The Magistrate may pass such order as he thinks fit."— (1) The words "may pass such order as he thinks fit" show that the Court has discretion as to what order should be passed in the matter. AIR 1940 Sind 24 (27) = 41 Cri L Jour 364 (DB).

(2) The discretion is a judicial one to be exercised on considerations of justice and equity. AIR 1940 Sind 24 (27) = 41 Cri L Jour 364 (DB)  1889 Rat 460 (460) (DB).

(3) Where owing to no fault of the person proceeded against, the jury perversely refuses to act or fails to return its verdict within the time fixed therefor, the Court may, on a proper application by the party concerned, appoint a fresh jury, or allow him to show cause by evidence against the conditional order as he could have done originally under Section 135. (4) Even if there is no application the Magistrate cannot straightway make the order absolute without any attempt to investigate the rights and circumstances which surround the affair and that the words "pass such order as he thinks fit" must mean that if the jury, for any reason, does not return its verdict, the Magistrate must inquire into the matter before he passes an order. AIR 1923 Pat 131 (132, 133) = 24 Cri L Jour 583.

[See however AIR 1940 Sind 24 (26, 27) = 41 Cri L Jour 364 (DB). (Magistrate is not bound to conduct some inquiry — In proper case he can pass order on basis of material already before him.)  AIR 1936 All 65 (66) = 36 Cri L Jour 1472.]

(5) Where a jury failed to return a verdict within the time allowed, whereupon the Court gave the parties an opportunity to adduce evidence and on their failure to do so, inspected the locality and made the order absolute, it was held that the procedure adopted was quite proper. AIR 1926 All 658 (660) = 27 Cri L Jour 981.

(6) Where the jury sent in their verdict after the expiry of the time allowed therefor but before the Magistrate actually passed orders under this section, it was held that the Magistrate should duly consider the verdict given and not appoint a fresh jury discarding such verdict. 2. Injunction — When can be issued and executed.

Gujarat

In its application to the State of Gujarat, the amendment made in S. 143 is the same as that made in Maharashtra.—See Cent. Act XI of 1960, S. 87.

NOTE.—Magistrates appointed for the City of Ahmedabad have the jurisdiction and exercise the powers of a Presidency Magistrate—See Guj. Act XIX of 1961, S. 14

Section 142 (contd.)

1. This section and Section 133.— (1) The order under Section 133 is a conditional order and that under this section is an injunction. The forms are entirely different and the form in which the conditional order is expressed is such as not to amount to an injunction. AIR 1938 Nag 84 (85) (DB).

(2) If the conditional order relates to the checking of discharge of lead dust from the factory, the Magistrate would be going beyond his jurisdiction if he passes an order under this section stopping the factory altogether. (1949) 58 Cal WN 907 (908).

2. Injunction — When can be issued and executed.— (1) Under this section immediate measures may be taken only to prevent imminent danger or injury of a serious kind to the public. If the measures were taken after the danger had passed away the procedure is irregular. (1864) 1 Suth WR (Cr) 8 (9) (DB)  (1874) 21 Suth WR (Cr) 86 (88).

(2) Where on a petition to the District Magistrate against order of injunction the Magistrate made over the matter for inquiry to the joint Magistrate, the Magistrate must be held to have abandoned the proceedings under this section. (1874) 21 Suth WR (Cr) 86 (88).

(3) The serious injury or imminent danger contemplated by Section 142 refers to the injury or danger emanating from those things themselves which are specified in Section 133. An order under this section can, therefore, be passed only if an injury or danger specified in Section 133 is apprehended and not otherwise. AIR 1937 Lah 101 (102) = 39 Cri L Jour 13  1967 BLJR 498 (504) = ILR 46 Pat 794 (DB).

(4) An apprehension of breach of peace owing to an alleged obstruction of a public way is no ground for issuing an injunction under this section. AIR 1937 Lah 101 (102) = 39 Cri L Jour 13.

3. Order under this section, whether bars final order under Section 137.— (1) A Magistrate making an order under this section not only is not precluded from making a final order under S. 137, but Sections 133, 137 and 142 taken together clearly mean that the Magistrate in spite of making an order under Section 142 is intended to proceed with the case and make a final order under Section 137. 1936 Cal 692 (693) = 38 Cri L Jour 173 (DB).

4. Direct action to obviate danger or prevent injury (Sub-section 2).— (1) No action can be taken under sub-section (2) of this section unless an injunction of the kind required by sub-section (1) has been issued and the person against whom it has been ordered, has failed to obey that injunction. (1948) 52 Cal WN 757 (758) (DB)  1965 (1) Cri LJ 520 (521, 522) (Tripura).

1. Scope.— (1) This section contemplates that where a nuisance has been ascertained to be a "public nuisance" after a trial under the foregoing provisions the Magistrate empowered in that behalf may prohibit its repetition. AIR 1940 Sind 124 (125) = 41 Cri L Jour 727 (DB)  AIR 1934 Pat 305 (306) = 36 Cri L Jour 187 (DB)  AIR 1935 Cal 108 (108) (DB)  AIR 1935 All 79 (80) = 36 Cri L Jour 144.

(2) A summary order under this section should not be passed without giving the party affected an opportunity to defend himself. AIR 1934 Pat 305 (306) = 36 Cri L Jour 187 (DB)  AIR 1935 Cal 108 (108) (DB).

(3) The Magistrate cannot prohibit what was lawful before his order and thereby make such a legal act punishable under the Penal Code. (1896) 19 Mad 464 (469) (DB).

[See also AIR 1949 Mad 75 (Pr. 1) = 49 Cri L Jour 666.]

2. "May order any person."— (1) The order under this section must be addressed to a particular person in the form prescribed in Schedule V Form No. XX. Unless such an order is served on an individual he would not render himself liable under Section 291 of the Penal Code. (1886) 8 All 99 (100, 101).

(3) (4-11-1961). Salaried Magistrates for the City of Ahmedabad have been empowered for the purposes of this section.—See Guj. Gaz. 9-11-61, Pt. IV-A, page 287.

Maharashtra

(1) In its application to the State of Maharashtra, in Section 143 for the words "A District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate, or any other Magistrate empowered by the State Government or the District Magistrate in this behalf" substitute the words "A Presidency Magistrate specially empowered by the State Government in this behalf or a District Magistrate or a Sub-divisional Magistrate or any Executive Magistrate empowered either by the State Government or the District Magistrate in this behalf."—Bom. Act (XXIII of 1951), S. 2 and Schedule (1-7-1953).

(2) After the reorganization of the State of Bombay in 1956, the amendment made in S. 143 by the above-mentioned Bombay Act is extended to the newly added areas of Hyderabad, Kutch and Saurashtra and the region of Vidarbha as from 1-9-1959 by Bom. Act XCVII of 1958.

Mysore

In its application to the State of Mysore, in Section 143 for the words beginning with "a District Magistrate" and ending with "in this behalf", substitute the words "a Magistrate of the first class specially empowered by the State Government in this behalf or a District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate, or any other Executive Magistrate empowered in this behalf."—Mys. Act XIII of 1965, S. 27 (1-10-1965).

Punjab: Haryana: Chandigarh

In its application to the States of Punjab and Haryana and the Union Territory of Chandigarh, in Section 143, for the words "any other Magistrate," substitute the words "any other Executive Magistrate."—Punj. Rajasthan

Abu Area.—In its application to the Abu area of the State of Rajasthan, the amendment made in Section 143 is the same as that made in (1) of Maharashtra.—See Cent. Act XXXVII of 1956, S. 119 (1-11-1956).

Union Territories (except Chandigarh)

In its application to the Union territories, in S. 143, for the words "any other Magistrate", substitute the words "any other Executive Magistrate."—Act 19 of 1969, Sec. 3 and Schedule, item 36 (in Delhi, on 2-10-1969).

West Bengal

In its application to the State of West Bengal, in Section 143, for the words "Sub-divisional Magistrate or any other Magistrate," substitute the words "Sub-divisional Executive Magistrate or any other Executive Magistrate."—W. B. Act 8 of 1970, S. 2 and Sch., item 51.

trate, °[(not being a Magistrate of the third class)] specially empowered by the °[State Government] or the Chief Presidency Magistrate or the District Magistrate to act under this section, *[there is sufficient ground for proceeding under this section and] immediate prevention or speedy remedy is desirable, such Magistrate may, by a written order stating the material facts of the case and served in manner provided by Section 134, direct any person to abstain from a certain act or to take certain order with certain property in his possession or under his management, if such Magistrate considers that such direction is likely to prevent, or tends to prevent, obstruction, annoyance or injury, or risk of obstruction, annoyance or injury, to any person lawfully employed, or danger to human life, health or safety, or a disturbance of the public tranquillity, or a riot, or an affray.

(2) An order under this section may, in cases of emergency or in cases where the circumstances do not admit of the serving in due time of a notice upon the person against whom the order is directed, be passed, ex parte.

(3) An order under this section may be directed to a particular individual, or to the public generally when frequenting or visiting a particular place.

(4) Any Magistrate may, *[either on his own motion or on the application of any person aggrieved], rescind or alter any order made under this section by himself or any Magistrate subordinate to him, or by his predecessor in office.

†[(5) Where such an application is received, the Magistrate shall afford to the applicant an early opportunity of appearing before him either in person or by pleader and showing cause against the order; and, if the Magistrate rejects the application wholly or in part, he shall record in writing his reasons for so doing.

19. Conversion of proceedings — See Note 47 on Section 145.

1. Scope.— (1) Before acting under this section the Magistrate must be satisfied that immediate prevention or speedy remedy is necessary. [See also AIR 1948 Cal 192 (193) = 49 Cri L Jour 289 (DB).]

(2) It is, in fact, the urgency of the case that vests the Magistrate with jurisdiction to exercise the powers conferred by this section. AIR 1942 Lah 171 (172) = 43 Cri L Jour 747 (FB)  AIR 1922 Pat 435 (438) = 23 Cri L Jour 549 (FB).

(4) The 'emergency' contemplated by the section is not necessarily the emergency contemplated by Article 352 of the Constitution. AIR 1956 All 481 (483) = 1956 Cri L Jour 1026 (DB).

(5) The Magistrate must be satisfied that the direction to abstain from a certain act or to take certain order with property is likely to prevent or tends to prevent obstruction, etc., as specified in the section. [See AIR 1937 Mad 494 (494) = 38 Cri L Jour 892.]

(6) Injury to property, as distinguished from injury to person or danger to human life, is not one of the objects for the prevention of which an order can be passed under this section. AIR 1934 Cal 513 (514) = 35 Cri L Jour 1252 (DB).

(7) It cannot be said that the section contemplates only acts which when allowed to be completed, will constitute an offence. Even if the acts are such as when completed would furnish grounds for a civil action only, the protection of the section will extend to the person. AIR 1943 Cal 35 (38) = 44 Cri L Jour 288 (DB).

†[(6)] No order under this section shall remain in force for more than two months from the making thereof, unless, in cases of danger to human life, health or safety, or a likelihood of a riot or an affray, the *[State Government], by notification in the Official Gazette, otherwise directs.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

1923 — "We accept the amendment made in Section 144 by this clause (i. e clause 26). It was suggested to us that Section 144 should be elaborated so as to enable a person aggrieved by an order made under the section to require the Magistrate to make a judicial inquiry regarding the truth of the information on which he had acted, and thereby to bring in the revisional powers of the High Court. With the exception of Syed Raza Ali we think that this proposal goes too far, and that it is necessary to maintain the executive character of proceedings under Section 144. We are, however, prepared, and we have proposed an amendment to this effect, to lay down that a person aggrieved shall be entitled to apply to the Magistrate and show cause against the order, and that the Magistrate shall give him an opportunity of being heard in person or by pleader and shall record an order in writing on the application giving his reasons where he rejects it."—S. C. R. (18—1923).

public acts of all officers of all departments were prohibited in the order under this section, it was a clear abuse of the powers given under this section. AIR 1952 Mad 61 (Prs. 2, 3) = 1952 Cri L Jour 161.

(23) The provisions of this section do not offend Article 19 (1) of the Constitution of India. AIR 1956 All 481 (Prs. 7, 12) = 1956 Cri L Jour 1026 (DB)  AIR 1954 All 738 (739) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1474  AIR 1954 Ajmer 40 (41) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1014  AIR 1961 SC 884 = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 16 = (1961) 3 SCR 423.

(24) Provisions of the section empowering imposition of precensorship are not inconsistent with Article 19 (1) (a) of the Constitution. AIR 1957 Punj 1 (Pr. 9) = ILR (1957) Punj 218 = 1957 Cri L Jour 88 (DB).

(25) The section falls within the ambit of Article 19 (2) of the Constitution. AIR 1957 Punj 1 (Prs. 10, 11, 12) = ILR (1957) Punj 218 = 1957 Cri L Jour 88 (DB)  AIR 1961 SC 884 = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 16 = (1961) 3 SCR 423.

(26) It was held that the provision empowering a Magistrate to pass order under the section to prevent annoyance is unconstitutional but not the one empowering an order for the purpose of preventing disturbance of the tranquillity. AIR 1956 All 481 (Prs. 10, 11) = 1956 Cri L Jour 1026 (DB)  AIR 1968 All 100 (105) = 1968 Cri LJ 281 = 1967 All LJ 573 (DB).

(27) Mysore Police Act (5 of 1908), Section 40 is not invalid on ground of repugnancy with Section 144. 1962 Mys LJ (Supp) 411.

(28) Section 144 is not an exhaustive topic itself — Inferior Criminal Courts can invoke inherent powers to grant relief. 1969 Cri LJ 575 (577) = 34 Cut LT 460.

(29) Sub-section (6) of Section 144 is unconstitutional being violative of Article 19 (1) (b) of Constitution. AIR 1962 Pat 292 = 1962 BLJR 236 = 1962 (2) Cri LJ 203 (DB).

2. Power of Magistrate under the section to override private rights.— (1)

Section 144 — Note 2 (contd.)

Courts Civil as well as Criminal, exist for the protection of the rights of private individuals, and therefore the authority of a Magistrate under this section should ordinarily be exercised in defence of such rights rather than in their suppression. AIR 1939 All 182 (183, 184) = 40 Cri L Jour 383  AIR 1939 Sind 167 (169) = 40 Cri L Jour 703 (DB)  AIR 1937 Mad 311 (312) = 38 Cri L Jour 582  (1883) 6 Mad 203 (220) (FB)  AIR 1934 Pat 104 (105) = 35 Cri L Jour 1057  AIR 1968 Punj 303 (306) = 70 Pun LR 102.

[See also AIR 1954 Tripura 4 (4) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1343.]

(2) The powers under this section are not confined to the protection of private rights: they are intended to be exercised also for the protection of the public including private individuals and for the preservation of the public tranquillity. (1895) 17 All 485 (489, 490) (FB).

(3) Where there is a conflict between public interest and private interest, the former must prevail and a Magistrate can under this section override, temporarily, private rights. AIR 1942 Pat 414 (416) = 43 Cri L Jour 722  AIR 1955 Manipur 41 (44) = 1955 Cri L Jour 1603  AIR 1938 Mad 714 (715) = 39 Cri L Jour 886  AIR 1938 Mad 1049 (1050) = 30 Cri L Jour 31 (FB)  (1883) 6 Mad 203 (220) (FB)  (1902) 30 Cal 155 (184) (FB).

(4) Although a person has an absolute right to use his property as he pleases, yet if the mode of enjoyment of the property, innocent and lawful as it may be, results or tends to result in a breach of the public peace, the Magistrate has power to restrain him temporarily from so using the property. AIR 1928 Cal 446 (447) = 29 Cri L Jour 423 (DB)  AIR 1939 Sind 167 (169) = 40 Cri L Jour 703 (DB)  (1880) 2 Mad 140 (142) (DB).

(5) The rule that private rights can be overridden in the interests of the public rights is equally applicable to cases where rival parties claim to exercise a right at the identical place and at the same time, such as the performance of a festival in the public good before a temple. AIR 1949 Mad 212 (214) = 50 Cri L Jour 235  AIR 1961 SC 884 = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 16 = (1961) 3 SCR 423  (1966) 32 Cut LT 1036 = ILR (1966) Cut 882.

(6) An order in suppression of legal rights ought not, however, to be made unless the Magistrate considers that such action is absolutely necessary and that the powers vested in him under the other provisions of the Code to avert a breach of the peace, are not likely to prove adequate or sufficient. AIR 1953 Mys 107 (Pr 5d) = 1953 Cri LJ 1271  AIR 1951 Cal 472 (Pr 12) = 52 Cri LJ 856 (DB)  AIR 1940 Bom 42 (43) = 41 Cri LJ 319 (DB)  AIR 1938 Mad 714 (715) = 39 Cri LJ 886.

(7) Care should be taken to see that use of this section is not invoked by one party to a dispute in order to obtain material advantage over the other. AIR 1940 Sind 158 (159) = 41 Cri LJ 952 (DB).

(8) The Magistrate should try as far as possible to uphold the rights declared by Civil Courts. AIR 1934 Pat 565 (569) = 36 Cri LJ 146 (DB)  AIR 1958 Tripura 47 (Pr 5) = 1958 Cri LJ 1554.

[See also AIR 1949 Mad 212 (213) = 50 Cri LJ 235.]

(9) The Magistrate should resort to the provisions of this section only when there is no time or opportunity for any other course. AIR 1927 Mad 368 (368) = 28 Cri LJ 325  AIR 1934 Cal 513 (515) = 35 Cri LJ 1252 (DB).

(10) An order under this section, if made, should never be disproportionate but should always be commensurate to the emergencies of any particular situation. AIR 1942 Pat 414 (416) = 43 Cri LJ 722  AIR 1940 Bom 42 (43) = 41 Cri LJ 319 (DB)  AIR 1933 Cal 348 (351) = 34 Cri LJ 334 (DB).

(11) It is incumbent on the Magistrate to hold a full and sufficient enquiry as to the circumstances which make it likely that a breach of the peace will occur. (1880) 5 Cal 132 (134) (DB)  (1946) 50 Cal WN 615 (615)  AIR 1924 Pat 767 (768, 769) = 25 Cri LJ 1178  AIR 1961 Manipur 12 (20) = 1961 (1) Cri LJ 676.

(12) The authority of the Magistrate to override temporarily, private rights in cases of emergency is co-extensive with the emergency and when it ceases, he should secure to every person the enjoyment of his legal rights, and by means of proper precautions, deter those who seek to invade the rights of others. (1881) 2 Weir 74 (76) (DB)  AIR 1955 Manipur 41 (44) = 1955 Cri LJ 1603.

(13) Where, there is no apprehension of a breach of the public peace, a Magistrate should not restrain the liberty of a private individual by means of an order under this section. AIR 1939 Rang 181 (182) = 40 Cri L J 645.

[See AIR 1937 Mad 311 (312) = 38 Cri LJ 582.]

(14) Where it is found that a person is doing a thing which he is legally entitled to do and his neighbour chooses to take offence and threatens to create a disturbance in consequence it is clearly the duty of the Magistrate not to deprive the former of the exercise of his legal rights but restrain the latter

from illegally interfering with the exercise of such legal rights. AIR 1953 Mys 107 (Prs 5a, 5d) = 1953 Cri LJ 1271  AIR 1952 Trav-Co 251 (Pr 3) = 1952 Cri LJ 1121  AIR 1924 Pat 767 (769) = 25 Cri LJ 1178  (1880) 5 Cal 132 (134, 135) (DB).

(15) The proper course for the Magistrate is to ascertain which party is in the wrong and is interfering unnecessarily with the legal exercise of the rights of the other party and to restrain that party from committing any act which may lead to a breach of the peace. AIR 1922 Cal 483 (484) = 24 Cri LJ 154 (DB).

(16) As a general rule, when a breach of the peace is anticipated, action is to be taken against the potential law-breakers and not against the peaceful citizens, whom it is expected that law-breakers will molest. AIR 1952 Trav-Co 251 (Pr 3) = 1952 Cri LJ 1121  AIR 1955 Manipur 41 (44, 45) = 1955 Cri LJ 1603  AIR 1951 Cal 472 (Pr. 12) = 52 Cri LJ 856 (DB)  AIR 1927 Lah 430 (430) = 28 Cri LJ 345  AIR 1923 Mad 15 (16) = 23 Cri LJ 689.

(17) Where on an application for restoration of possession by a party under this section the Magistrate orders restoration of possession to him and in compliance with the order possession is delivered to such party but finally the Magistrate dismisses his application, the High Court, under the powers conferred by Section 561A, will order restoration of possession to the party from whom it was taken. AIR 1951 Madh B 91 (Pr 3) = 52 Cri LJ 560.

3. "Written order stating the material facts."— (1) Where the Magistrate is satisfied that there are sufficient grounds for proceeding under this section, and that immediate prevention or speedy remedy is desirable he should pass an order stating the material facts of the case; such order should be a written order. AIR 1942 Lah 171 (172) = 43 Cri LJ 747 (FB)  AIR 1939 Rang 181 (182) = 40 Cri LJ 645  AIR 1924 Pat 767 (768) = 25 Cri LJ 1178  AIR 1961 Manipur 12 (19) = 1961 (1) Cri LJ 676.

(2) Before proceeding under this section, the Magistrate must satisfy himself that there is sufficient ground for doing so. AIR 1939 Rang 181 (182) = 40 Cri LJ 645  AIR 1968 Punj 303 (305) = 70 Punj LR 102  1967 Cri LJ 1716 (1717) (Cal).

(3) There ought to be evidence or information before the Magistrate that the act prohibited is likely to cause a riot or affray or danger to human life, etc. AIR 1942 Lah 171 (172) = 43 Cri LJ 747 (FB)  (1875) 24 Suth WR (Cr) 30 (31) (DB)  (1906) 10 Cal WN cliv (cliv) (DB).

(4) The information may be oral, or may be in a police report. (1881) 3 Mad 354 (357) (DB)  AIR 1939 Mad 783 (785) = 41 Cri LJ 677  AIR 1924 Oudh 338 (340) = 25 Cri LJ 433.

(5) A Magistrate cannot act solely on the report of an interested person, as for instance, the manager of the factory in which the accused persons are employed. AIR 1915 Cal 733 (734) = 16 Cri LJ 320 (DB).

(6) The Magistrate must not base his order merely on his local inspection. AIR 1951 Pat 285 (Pr 4) = 52 Cri LJ 10.

(7) As sub-section (2) implies, ordinarily an order under this section should not be made without an opportunity being afforded to the person against whom it is proposed to make it, to show cause why it should not be passed. AIR 1953 Orissa 96 (Pr 1) = 1953 Cri LJ 731 (DB)  AIR 1936 Cal 259 (259) = 37 Cri LJ 696  (1896) 19 Mad 18 (20) (DB)  AIR 1924 Pat 703 (704) = 26 Cri LJ 260  (1883) 6 Mad 203 (223) (FB).

(8) An ex parte order can only be passed in cases of emergency or when there is no time to serve notice. See Note 9.

(9) The order should be served upon the persons proceeded against in the manner provided for by Section 134 of the Code. AIR 1951 Cal 472 (Pr 5) = 52 Cri LJ 856 (DB)  AIR 1935 Cal 251 (252) = 36 Cri LJ 736.

(10) In the absence of evidence to show that personal service or service on an adult member of the order under this section, could not be effected, service by affixing a copy of the order on a bamboo pole near the scene of dispute has been held to be no service at all. AIR 1951 Cal 207 (Pr 13) = 51 Cri LJ 1575 (DB).

(11) It is merely an irregularity if a copy of the order is not stuck up as required by Section 134, and an irregularity of this nature will be immaterial if the person concerned had knowledge of the contents of the order. AIR 1940 Cal 358 (362) = 41 Cri LJ 864  AIR 1955 Manipur 41 (49) = 1955 Cri LJ 1603  (1889) 16 Cal 9 (12) (DB)  AIR 1940 Pat 446 (47) = 41 Cri LJ 414.

(12) The notice issued to the party must follow the terms of the order in pursuance of which it is issued. AIR 1934 Cal 393 (396) = 35 Cri LJ 881 (DB).

(13) The sub-section does not authorise a Magistrate to address an order to the head of the police in the district. AIR 1951 Cal 472 (Pr 5) = 52 Cri LJ 856 (DB).

Section 144 — Note 3 (contd.)

(14) It is desirable that the order should show in clear and unmistakable terms the authority under which the Magistrate takes action under this section, and professes to act. AIR 1923 Rang 146 (146) = 24 Cri LJ 737 (DB)  AIR 1960 Cal 715 (716) = 1960 Cri LJ 1445.

(15) An order under this section should be clear and definite. AIR 1940 All 465 (466) = 42 Cri LJ 120  AIR 1936 Cal 259 (259) = 37 Cri LJ 696  AIR 1935 Bom 33 (33, 34) = 36 Cri LJ 547 (DB).

[See also AIR 1941 All 70 (73) = 42 Cri LJ 298 (FB).]

(16) It has been held that a mere omission to set out in the order the material facts where there are, as a matter of fact, grounds justifying the order will not justify interference with the order. AIR 1917 Cal 6 (7) = 18 Cri LJ 892 (DB).

[See however 1948 Bur LR 365 (369).]
[But see AIR 1939 Rang 181 (182) = 40 Cri LJ 645.]

(17) Where there are no such materials or the materials are not sufficient to justify the order, and the order does not show any emergency, the order must be set aside. AIR 1929 Pat 714 (716) = 31 Cri LJ 466  AIR 1933 Cal 348 (353) = 34 Cri LJ 334 (DB).

4. Who can pass order under the section.— (1) Where a Sub-divisional Magistrate, to whom an application had been made for an order under this section, fixed a certain day for enquiring into the necessity for the order but did not attend Court on that day, it was held that another Magistrate who was in charge of the current file of his Court, and who was not otherwise disqualified to pass an order under the section, could dispose of the matter and pass orders thereon. AIR 1934 Cal 393 (394) = 35 Cri LJ 881 (DB).

(2) A Magistrate not specially empowered by the Government or by the District Magistrate, cannot pass any order under this section though he is in charge of current duties of the Sub-divisional Magistrate on the particular date. AIR 1952 Orissa 215 (Pr 4) = 1952 Cri LJ 1106 (DB).

(3) On a petition to a Sub-Magistrate he refused to pass an order under this section as on enquiry he did not find sufficient grounds. The matter was taken up to the Sub-divisional Magistrate. It was held that the Sub-divisional Magistrate could pass the order on the material gathered by the Sub-Magistrate. AIR 1942 Mad 20 (21) = 43 Cri LJ 372.

(4) Where a dispute exists between the Collector and District Magistrate on the one hand and a private person on the other as regards the title to lease right to take sand from a river, a Magistrate in the district is hardly an appropriate tribunal to decide whether the Collector and District Magistrate who is the immediate superior of all Magistrates in the district has or has not the right to lease the property to others. AIR 1951 Cal 207 (Pr 8) = 51 Cri LJ 1575 (DB).

5. Nature of orders that can be passed under the section.— (1) This section contemplates an absolute and definite order and not the passing of a conditional order to be made absolute later on. An order either to abstain from a certain act or to show cause against the order is not one within the section. AIR 1936 Cal 259 (259) = 37 Cri LJ 696.

(2) The orders under the section vary very widely in their scope and effect. They may have the most drastic effect in curtailing the liberties of individuals or communities or they may have only the effect of controlling a route of procession by causing minimum interference with private rights. AIR 1939 Mad 783 (785) = 41 Cri LJ 677.

6. Order to abstain from certain acts. — (i) The order should be a definite order to abstain from a certain act.— (1). An order either to abstain from a certain act or to show cause against the order is not a definite order and does not come within the purview of this section. AIR 1936 Cal 259 (259) = 37 Cri LJ 696.

(ii) The order should be addressed to a definite person.— (2) An order addressed to the crews, lessees, proprietors or any other persons having control over the movements of boats regulating the boat traffic at a certain landing was held to be indefinite and not authorised. (1898) 25 Cal 852 (853, 856) (DB).

(3) An order forbidding the "owners of cattle" from allowing their animals to stray is indefinite. (1872) 18 Suth WR (Cr) 21 (21) = 9 Bang LR (AC) 36 (DB).

(4) An order directing a person not to go to a certain village or allow "any of his servants, relations, or friends" to go there has been held to be indefinite and not authorized by the section. (1898) 2 Cal WN 422 (423).

(5) An order addressed to "A. B. and all other persons, who may be concerned in the project," is vague and bad in law. AIR 1931 Bom 135 (138) = 32 Cri LJ 507 (DB)  1961 (1) Cri LJ 659 (660) = 1960 Ker LT 724.

(6) Order under Section 144, prohibiting shouting of "provocative slogans"

— The expression "provocative slogans" has necessarily to be understood in the context in which it has been used in the order and therefore, it cannot be regarded as vague — Order cannot be held to place unreasonable restrictions on the rights of free speech of citizens. AIR 1961 SC 884 = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 16 = (1961) 3 SCR 423.

(iii) The order should be addressed to a party to the proceedings and not to a third person.— (7) The order under Section 144 should be addressed to a definite person and it should be addressed to a party to the proceeding and not to a third party. 1960 Ker LT 724 = 1961 (1) Cri LJ 659 (660).

(8) An order directing a village munsif to take possession of the property in dispute is ultra vires. AIR 1917 Mad 629 (629) = 17 Cri LJ 190.

(9) An order directing the police to see that a person is allowed to go to a particular land and cut the crops is bad. AIR 1921 Pat 415 (420) = 22 Cri LJ 442.

(10) Where A is doing some work which may cause annoyance, a direction to B not to do that work cannot have the effect of preventing A, who is not under the control of B to stop the work. In such a case the direction to B is improper. (1949) 53 Cal WN 344 (346) (DB).

(iv) The act prohibited should be a certain and definite act.— (11) The order must state in clear and precise terms what it is that the person ordered is prohibited from doing. AIR 1940 Bom 42 (44) = 41 Cri LJ 319 (DB)  AIR 1939 Rang 181 (183) = 40 Cri LJ 645.

(12) The following orders have been held to be not valid:

(a) an order directing a person not to do any illegal act that is likely to cause a breach of the peace.. (1906) 10 Cal WN clxxvi (clxxvi) (DB).

(b) an order directing a person not to collect rents from the ryots generally without mentioning any particular ryot. (1889) 16 Cal 80 (84, 85) (DB)  (1892) 19 Cal 127 (130) (DB).

(c) an order in general terms, forbidding two persons to use any musical instrument in the neighbourhood of each other's house. (1866) 6 Suth WR (Cr) 40 (40) (DB).

(d) an order directing certain persons not to commit any act that may be likely to induce a breach of the peace and to take forcible possession of certain property. (1906) 4 Cri LJ 456 (460) (DB) (Cal).

(e) an order directing the public not to discuss matters which may be a subject of controversy between different sections or different classes or which may excite public feeling: AIR 1939 Rang 181 (182, 183) = 40 Cri LJ 645 (DB).

(f) an order directing the editor of a newspaper to abstain from publishing any news articles or comments relating to certain specified matters, except such news, articles and comments as have been previously approved of by a certain officer. AIR 1940 Bom 42 (44) = 41 Cri LJ 319 (DB).

(g) an order prohibiting the editor of a newspaper from making any attack on an officer and even comments on the public acts of any officer of any department. AIR 1952 Mad 61 (Prs 2, 3) = 1952 Cri LJ 161.

(13) While pronouncing an order under this section against a newspaper, the Court should enquire whether the words used are used in such circumstances and are of such nature that a reasonable man would anticipate the evil result. The principles to be not lost sight of indicated. AIR 1957 Punj 1 (Pr 14) = ILR (1957) Punj 218 = 1957 Cri LJ 88 (DB).

(14) An order under this section should direct a person to abstain from a certain act and not a series of acts, done at certain intervals and spreading over a period of time. (1967) 2 Weir 67 (67, 68).

(v) The order should be to abstain from a certain act and not to do a certain act.— (15) The section permits only a restrictive order and does not authorize a Magistrate to make a mandatory or positive order directing a person to do a particular act. AIR 1942 Pat 414 (416) = 43 Cri LJ 722  AIR 1933 Cal 724 (725) = 34 Cri LJ 1192 (DB).

[See also AIR 1951 Pat 494 (Pr 2) = 52 Cri LJ 638 (DB).]

(16) An order directing a person to do positive act may be passed only in so far as such order may be covered by the words "or to take certain order with certain property in his possession or under his management." AIR 1937 Cal 406 (407) = 38 Cri LJ 915 (DB)  AIR 1953 Tripura 6 (2) (7) = 1953 Cri LJ 1469.

Section 144 — Note 6 (contd.)

(17) It has been held that the Magistrate has no power to pass orders:

(a) directing the removal of a bund already put up. But where the land on which the bund has been erected is in the possession or under the management of the person against whom the order is passed, an order directing him to remove the bund will be within the jurisdiction of the Magistrate under this section as being an order to such person "to take certain order with certain property in his possession or under his management." AIR 1929 Pat 523 (525) = 31 Cri LJ 967 (DB)  AIR 1940 Pat 57 (58) = 41 Cri LJ 98  AIR 1937 Cal 406 (407) = 38 Cri LJ 915 (DB).

[See however (1907) 11 Cal WN cvii (cvii) (DB).]

(c) directing a party to open a channel in his land. AIR 1914 Mad 239 (240) = 15 Cri LJ 291 (DB).

(d) directing the removal of an embankment. (1870) 5 Mad HCR (App) xix (xix).

(e) directing the removal of a fence. AIR 1938 Pat 610 (611) = 40 Cri LJ 144.

(f) directing the removal of a jetty which had already been constructed. (1936) 164 Ind Cas 434 (435) = 37 Cri LJ 936 (DB) (Cal).

(g) directing the demolition of a sluice. (1867) 2 Weir 65 (65).

(h) directing the removal of a granary on the ground that it has been improperly built. (1869) 4 Mad HCR (App) xxxiv (xxxv).

(i) directing the removal of an obstruction. (1874) 21 Suth WR (Cr) 24 (25) (DB).

(j) directing certain trees to be cut down. (1870) 13 Suth WR (Cr) 72 (73) (DB).

(k) directing the owner of a tank in a dry bed of the river to destroy the banks of the tank on the ground that they are an obstruction to the public in the lawful enjoyment of the river. (1968) 10 Suth WR (Cr) 36 (37) (DB).

(l) directing a party to vacate his house and take his quarters in a different place. (1898) 2 Cal WN 70 (70, 71).

(m) directing a person to remove an obstruction to a culvert through which the drainage of certain railway quarters flows into a tank on the ground that rainfall in an hour would flood the quarters and compel evacuation. AIR 1919 Cal 584 (584, 585) = 19 Cri LJ 951 (DB).

(n) directing the restoration of a child to the custody of its parents. (1872) 2 Weir 66 (66, 67).

(p) directing the division of crops between the tenants and a rival zamindar. (1905) 2 Cri LJ 168 (169) = 32 Cal 154 (DB).

(q) directing a person to abstain from residing in any place, where he is at the time: such an order is virtually a mandatory order directing him to remove himself from such place and hence is not warranted by the section. AIR 1934 Rang 124 (125) = 35 Cri LJ 1300.

(r) directing that a person shall hold his hat on certain particular days. (1904) 31 Cal 990 (992) = 1 Cri LJ 778 (DB).

(vi) The object of the order should be one of those specified in sub-s. (1).— (18) An order under this section ought not to be passed on the mere ground that pecuniary loss would be caused to one party. (1909) 13 Cal WN 188 (190, 191) = 11 Cri LJ 11.

(19) An order preventing the ryots from reaping the crops they have sown owing to an apprehension that if they are allowed to reap them, the Government or other landlord might lose rent, is not justified. (1904) 1 Cri LJ 248 (250) (DB) (Cal).

(20) The loss arising from the establishment of a rival hat is not an injury within the meaning of the section. (1874) 21 Suth WR (Cr) 26 (26, 27) (DB)  (1905) 2 Cal LJ 64n (64n) (DB).

(21) An order cannot also be passed for the mere protection of one's own property. Thus, an order, directing the removal of a certain dam obstructing flood is not competent. (1883) 9 Cal 103 (104, 105) (DB).

(22) An order prohibiting the public from wearing Gandhi caps, in the absence of any evidence to show that it is necessary to pass such an order in the interests of the public peace, must be set aside. AIR 1931 Mad 236 (239, 240) = 32 Cri LJ 744.

(23) The word "annoyance" in the section has been held to include mental as well as physical annoyance. AIR 1952 Mad 61 (Pr 2) = 1952 Cri LJ

161  AIR 1931 Bom 135 (138) = 32 Cri LJ 507 (DB).

(24) Mere annoyance caused to Government Officials when not actually employed in their task by reckless or defamatory attacks on them not involving a breach of the peace or danger to life or health will not be sufficient for invoking the powers under this section. AIR 1952 Mad 61 (Prs 2, 3) = 1952 Cri LJ 161.

(vii) The discretion is to be exercised by the Magistrate himself.— (25) The Magistrate has no jurisdiction to pass an order against the editor of a newspaper directing him to abstain from publishing any news, articles or comments which have not been previously approved of by a certain officer. AIR 1940 Bom 42 (44) = 41 Cri LJ 319 (DB).

(26) The following orders have been held to be competent and valid under this section as being orders to abstain from certain acts:

(a) an order directing a person to abstain from interfering with a certain mutt and the property appertaining to it. (1881) 3 Mad 354 (355, 357) (DB).

(b) an order directing a person not to interfere with the management of a certain temple. (1901) 24 Mad 45 (46) (DB).

(c) an order directing a trustee to abstain from interfering in any way with the conduct of the adyapakam service in a temple. AIR 1918 Mad 18 (19) = 19 Cri LJ 933.

(d) an order directing certain persons not to interfere with the Badves in the performance of the daily pooja of God Vithoba at Pandharpur. (1902) 4 Bom LR 582 (584) (DB).

(e) an order directing particular time to be observed by the Hanafi and Shafi sects for daily worship in a mosque and directing either sect to abstain from worshipping during the time fixed for the other. (1901) 24 Mad 262 (263, 265) (DB).

[See however 1876 Pun Re (Cr) No. 10, p. 16 (16, 17) (DB).]

(f) an order prohibiting the slaughter of votive animals, except in the slaughter house in order to prevent a breach of the peace between Hindus and Mahomedans. 1885 All WN 258 (258).

(g) an order directing a person to refrain from interfering with the crops on the land. AIR 1917 Pat 217 (219) = 18 Cri LJ 652.

(h) an order directing the melvaramdar to abstain from exercising his rights as melvaramdar. AIR 1914 Mad 150 (150, 151) = 15 Cri LJ 145.

(27) Order partly valid and partly invalid.— Where in an order under this section a prohibition is directed against A and B and the prohibiton is bad against B, it may nevertheless be valid against A. The fact that part of the order is bad as being too vague will not render the whole order bad, if that part can be severed from the rest of the order. AIR 1931 Bom 135 (138) = 32 Cri LJ 507 (DB)  AIR 1961 Manipur 12 (19, 20) = 1961 (1) Cri LJ 676.

[See also AIR 1944 Pat 213 (214) = 46 Cri LJ 18.]

7. Direction to take certain order with property.— (1) It was held that the word "property" refers only to, and is restricted to immovable property, and the Magistrate cannot make an order with regard to the custody of movable property, such as money, on the ground that there is a likelihood of a breach of the peace with regard to the same. (1869) 12 Suth WR (Cr) 38 (38) (DB).

(2) An order of this description should relate to an interference of some kind with the property itself. (1892) 19 Cal 127 (130) (DB).

(3) The property, in respect of which the order is made, should be in the possession or management of the person against whom the order is passed. The section does not apply to a subletting owner, not in actual possession or management of the property. (1878) 1 Shome LR 30.

(4) The Magistrate cannot, under this section, put the Sub-Inspector of Police in possession of certain land and direct him to harvest the crop. AIR 1944 Pat 213 (214) = 46 Cri LJ 18.

(5) The section does not authorize the attachment of properties. AIR 1953 Vindh-Pra 25 (Pr 9) = 1953 Cri LJ 1198  (1908) 13 Cal WN cxix (cxix).  1961 (1) Cri LJ 659 (660, 661) = 1960 Ker LT 724.

(6) The Magistrate cannot direct that a list be prepared of articles, concerning which the parties are in dispute, and that the same should be removed to the Court and should remain there for two months or until the decision of a pending suit. (1908) 8 Cri LJ 230 (231, 232) (DB) (Cal).

(7) The section authorizes interference even with the exercise of lawful rights in cases of emergency, temporarily. Hence, a Magistrate has jurisdiction under this section to prohibit the holding of a hat on particular days of the week if he considers that such an order is necessary to prevent a breach of the peace and that the case is an emergent

one. AIR 1933 Cal 348 (351) = 34 Cri LJ 354 (DB)  AIR 1940 Pat 185 (186) = 41 Cri LJ 463  (1872) 18 Suth WR (Cr) 47 (53) = 10 Beng LR 434 (FB).

(8) The Magistrate has jurisdiction to pass an order prohibiting the holding of a hat altogether under this section, although he can regulate the holding of the hat by prohibiting its being held on some particular days of the week and so on. AIR 1922 Cal 569 (570) = 24 Cri LJ 164 (DB)  (1912) 13 Cri LJ 511 (512) (DB) (Cal)  (1879) 4 Cal L Rep 410 (412) (DB).

(9) The holding of a hat on one's own land being a perfectly lawful act, the Magistrate must rather exercise his powers to prevent interference with such act than to restrain the act itself. See the observations in the following cases: AIR 1922 Cal 569 (570) = 24 Cri LJ 164 (DB)  AIR 1933 Cal 348 (351) = 34 Cri LJ 334 (DB)  AIR 1940 Pat 185 (186) = 41 Cri LJ 463.

8. Effect of order under the section.— (1) An order under this section has not the effect of disturbing either title or possession, though it may prevent and does prevent the exercise of the rights, which a person in possession would otherwise be entitled to exercise, during the continuance of the said order. AIR 1939 Pat 512 (514) = 40 Cr L Jour 895  AIR 1938 Pat 369 (371) = 39 Cri L Jour 778 (DB)  (1921) 64 Ind Cas 572 (573) (DB) (Cal)  AIR 1970 Pat 102 (103) = 1970 Cri LJ 484.

[See also AIR 1953 Raj 202 (204) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1843 (DB). (Magistrate cannot adjudicate a question of possession on title.)]

(2) The order cannot be treated as substantive evidence of possession in subsequent proceedings. AIR 1951 Pat 473 (Pr. 9) = 52 Cri L Jour 626 (DB).

(3) Where the Magistrate, while passing an order under this section, makes an incidental observation as to possession of a certain property, the observation cannot have the force or effect of an order under Section 145. AIR 1940 Pat 364 (365) = 41 Cri L Jour 384  AIR 1925 Pat 514 (516) = 26 Cri L Jour 1229 (DB).

[See also (1903) 7 Cal WN 142 (143) (DB).]

(4) Although orders in proceedings under this section cannot be taken as decisive of the rights of either of the parties yet, the nature of the proceeding and its conclusion may be referred to when the history of the property is in question. AIR 1938 Pat 455 (455) = 39 Cri L Jour 721.

(5) Although an order under this section is not evidence of the possession of the disputed property by any person, yet the fact of the order may be admitted in evidence under Section 13 of the Evidence Act. 1938 Pat WN 390 (391).

(6) The fact of the order is a circumstance supporting an inference that the person in whose favour the proceeding terminated would not be likely to allow his possession to be disturbed from any part of the property. AIR 1951 Pat 473 (Pr. 9) = 52 Cri L Jour 626 (DB)  AIR 1950 Pat 79 (Pr. 5) = 28 Pat 576 = 51 Cri L Jour 551 (DB).

(7) An order under this section does not bind a person who was not a party to the proceedings under it. AIR 1921 Pat 415 (420) = 22 Cri L Jour 442.

9. Ex parte order — Sub-section (2).— (1) Although ordinarily an order under this section should not be made without an opportunity being afforded to the person against whom it is proposed to make it, to show cause why it should not be passed, sub-section (2), makes it permissible for a Magistrate to pass an ex parte order under this section but that can be done only in cases of emergency. AIR 1951 Cal 207 (Pr. 9) = 51 Cri L Jour 1575 (DB)  1948 Bur LR 365 (369)  (1916) 14 All LJ 39n (39n)  AIR 1967 Ker 157 (158) = 1967 Mad LJ (Cri) 240 (DB).

(2) Where the circumstances of the case are such that they do not admit of the serving in due time of a notice upon the person against whom the order is passed an ex parte order can be made. 1948 Bur LR 365 (369)  AIR 1958 Tripura 47 (Pr. 4) = 1958 Cri L Jour 1554  (1898) 2 Cal WN 747 (748, 749)  (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 449 (449) (DB) (Mad).

(3) The Magistrate can pass an ex parte order immediately on the receipt of a police report, where he is satisfied therefrom that immediate action is necessary. AIR 1924 Oudh 338 (340) = 25 Cri L Jour 433.

(4) While passing an ex parte order the Magistrate should record his reasons for considering the occasion to be one of emergency and the materials on which he considered immediate action necessary; where the record does not show that either of the two conditions justifying an ex parte order exists, the order is liable to be set aside. AIR 1919 Mad 1004 (1007) = 20 Cri L Jour 309 (FB). (Per Sadasiva Iyer J.)  AIR 1958 Tripura 47 (Pr. 4) = 1958 Cri L Jour 1554  (1898) 2 Cal WN 747 (748, 749)  (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 449 (449) (DB) (Mad).

(5) After passing an ex parte order the Magistrate should give the parties an opportunity of being heard and then either confirm, modify or vacate the order. AIR 1958 Tripura 47 (Pr. 4) = 1958 Cri L Jour 1554.

(6) It is open to a person, aggrieved by an ex parte order under this sub-section, to apply under sub-section (4) to rescind or alter the order. AIR 1934 Cal 139 (140) = 35 Cri L Jour 541 (DB).

(7) Where the legality and propriety of an ex parte order are challenged, it is not proper to postpone the hearing until about the termination of the order; such matters ought to be disposed of quickly in order to avoid unnecessarily encroaching on the civil rights and liberties of the subject. AIR 1922 Cal 569 (571) = 24 Cri L Jour 164 (DB).

(8) Where a party offers evidence against the continuance of an ex parte order passed against him, the Magistrate cannot, without holding an enquiry, anticipate what the nature of the evidence would be and confirm the ex parte order. AIR 1948 Mad 117 (117) = 49 Cri L Jour 93. (Application under sub-section (4).)

(9) Sufficient materials must be furnished to enable Magistrate to take action under Sections 144 (2) and 117 (3). AIR 1968 Cal 364 = 71 Cal WN 851 = 1968 Cri LJ 1058.

10. Order against the general public — Sub-section (3).— (1) The words "when frequenting or visiting a particular place" in this sub-section qualify the expression "public generally" and hence a Magistrate has no power under this section to pass an order against the general public simpliciter. AIR 1940 Cal 358 (361) = 41 Cri L Jour 864  AIR 1931 Bom 513 (514) = 33 Cri L Jour 75 (DB).

(2) The order can only be directed to the general public when frequenting or visiting a particular place. AIR 1940 Cal 358 (361) = 41 Cri L Jour 864  AIR 1955 Manipur 41 (48, 49) = 1955 Cri L Jour 1603  AIR 1939 All 746 (747) = 41 Cri L Jour 121  AIR 1931 Bom 513 (513) = 33 Cri L Jour 75 (DB)  AIR 1931 Bom 325 (326) = 32 Cri L Jour 1144 (DB)  AIR 1920 Mad 847 (848) = 20 Cri L Jour 755  AIR 1961 SC 884 = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 16 = (1961) 3 SCR 423.

[See also AIR 1953 Orissa 96 (Pr. 8) = 1953 Cri LJ 731 (DB).]

[But see AIR 1961 Manipur 12 (20) = 1961 (1) Cri LJ 676.]

(2-A) Magistrate concerned with maintenance of peace in village and not with individuals — No bona fide dispute concerning disputed land in question found — Order under Section 144 (3) in such circumstances is not improper. 1969 BLJR 534 (536, 537).

(3) The expression "particular place" implies that the place to which the restriction applies should be a well-defined area regarding the boundaries of which the public can be in no doubt. AIR 1953 Orissa 96 (Pr. 3) = 1953 Cri L Jour 731 (DB)  AIR 1954 Ajmer 40 (41) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1014  AIR 1940 All 465 (467) = 42 Cri L Jour 120  AIR 1934 Bom 375 (378) = 36 Cri L Jour 130 (DB)  AIR 1940 Cal 358 (361) = 41 Cri L Jour 864.

(4) The boundaries of the area to which the order is intended to relate should be clearly defined therein so that the general public may be reasonably expected to know what they are. AIR 1941 All 70 (72) = 42 Cri L Jour 298 (FB)  AIR 1955 Manipur 41 (48, 49) = 1955 Cri L Jour 1603  AIR 1934 Bom 375 (377, 378) = 36 Cri L Jour 130 (DB)  AIR 1935 Lah 679 (680) = 36 Cri L Jour 951.

(5) A Magistrate can validly issue a general order that no person should sacrifice or cause to be sacrificed any cow or bullock within a specified boundary. AIR 1915 Oudh 188 (189) = 16 Cri L Jour 190 (191, 192) (DB).

(6) An order directed against all the sundry persons attending the Audinath Swami temple on the occasion of the Vaikasi Festival, is valid. AIR 1920 Mad 847 (847, 848) = 20 Cri L Jour 755 (DB).

(7) An order directing the public to refrain from taking "Prabhat Pheris" (morning processions) in the city and cantonment of Belgaum, or prohibiting the taking part in any processions within the municipal limits of Erendol city and all public places within such limits, was held to be too wide and did not conform to the requirements of the section. AIR 1931 Bom 325 (325, 326) = 32 Cri L Jour 1144 (DB)  AIR 1931 Bom 513 (513, 514) = 33 Cri L Jour 75 (DB).

(8) The expression "particular place" has been held to include the whole district over which the Magistrate may have jurisdiction, or a particular sub-division of a district, or the limits of a particular union committee, or the public and private streets in a particular city. AIR 1953 Orissa 96 (Pr. 3) = 1953 Cri L Jour 731 (DB)  AIR 1954 Ajmer 40 (41) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1014  AIR 1937 Lah 80 (81) = 38 Cri L Jour 354. (9) An order prohibiting meetings to be held in any 'place of public resort" in a city is much too vague to come within the terms of the section. AIR 1935 Bom 33 (33) = 36 Cri L Jour 547 (DB)  AIR 1961 Manipur 12 (20) = 1961 (1) Cri LJ 676.

(10) The "particular place" should be one which is frequented or visited by the public; in other words, it must be open to the public as such. AIR 1931 Mad 242 (245) = 32 Cri L Jour 763  AIR 1940 Oudh 241 (243) = 41 Cri L Jour 228.

(11) The public cannot be prohibited from putting up national flags in a private house not frequented by the public. AIR 1931 Mad 242 (245) = 32 Cri L Jour 763.

(12) Where an order under this section forbade the public in general to give caste dinners in the city owing to the prevalence of cholera, and a dinner was given in a private house to about four hundred persons, it was held that a conviction for disobedience of the order was illegal. (1890) 14 Bom 165 (167) (DB).

(13) The expression "public generally when frequenting or visiting a particular place" includes also the residents of the place. AIR 1941 All 70 (71) = 42 Cri L Jour 298 (FB)  AIR 1942 Oudh 39 (44) = 42 Cri L Jour 884 (DB). (AIR 1940 Oudh 241 = 41 Cri L Jour 228, Dissented from.)  AIR 1940 Cal 358 (361) = 41 Cri L Jour 864.

(14) Where because of the number of persons to be directed it is impracticable for the Magistrate to issue notice to each individual, he can issue an order to the public generally, including, besides residents persons who may frequent or visit a particular place, and such order will be effective against each individual to whose knowledge it comes. AIR 1941 All 70 (73) = 42 Cri L Jour 298 (FB)  AIR 1937 Lah 80 (81) = 38 Cri L Jour 354  AIR 1915 Oudh 188 (189) = 16 Cri L Jour 190 (DB).

(15) The view that an order under this section cannot be made until it is shown that the public whom it is sought to restrain from doing certain acts are actually frequenting or visiting a particular place is, incorrect. AIR 1940 Cal 358 (362) = 41 Cri L Jour 864. (AIR 1925 Cal 625 = 26 Cri L Jour 874 and AIR 1934 Cal 393 = 35 Cri L Jour 881, Dissented from.)

(16) The law does not contemplate the prohibition of the frequenting or visiting of the "particular place" to which reference is made in sub-section (3) but the prohibition of some act on an occasion on which such place is frequented or visited. AIR 1941 All 70 (72) = 42 Cri L Jour 298 (FB)  AIR 1940 Cal 358 (361) = 41 Cri L Jour 864.

(17) As this section empowers a Magistrate to interfere materially with the liberty of the subject, it is necessary that he should promulgate his order in terms sufficiently clear to enable the public or persons affected by it, to know exactly what it is which they are prohibited from doing. AIR 1935 Bom 33 (33) = 36 Cri L Jour 547 (DB)  AIR 1940 Cal 358 (361) = 41 Cri L Jour 864.

(18) Where an order was addressed to a portion of the community and had no concern with the public generally frequenting or visiting a particular place and there was also nothing to show that the Magistrate considered that immediate action was necessary, it was held that the order was not competent under this section. (1886) 8 All 99 (100, 101).

(19) Where an order under this section is directed neither to a particular individual nor to the public generally when frequenting or visiting a particular place, the order is one made without jurisdiction. AIR 1914 Bom 198 (198) = 16 Cri L Jour 98 (DB).

(20) Section 144 (3) has nothing to do with nature of an order under Section 144 but is merely one of the four sub-sections which refer to the manner of promulgation and duration of an order under Section 144 (1). 1969 BLJR 534 (536, 537). (AIR 1940 All 465, Dissented.)

11. Rescission or alteration of order — Sub-section (4).— (1) An order under this section is liable, under sub-section (4), to be rescinded or altered on cause being shown. The jurisdiction conferred by this sub-section is, however, not appellate or revisional, but is a special one, whereunder the Magistrate is empowered to rescind or alter the original order. AIR 1937 Mad 487 (488) = 38 Cri L Jour 864  AIR 1921 Pat 468 (468)  1969 Cri LJ 575 (576) 34 Cut LT 460  AIR 1967 Ker 157 (158) = 1967 Ker LT 157 = 1967 Cri LJ 893 (DB). (Even after such order had been extended by the State Government under Section 144 (6).)  AIR 1967 Orissa 72 (73, 74) = 33 Cut LT 58  AIR 1960 Cal 715 (716) = 1960 Cri LJ 1445.

(3) Where the Deputy Magistrate prohibits the second party from doing a certain act, the District Magistrate cannot substitue a new order forbidding the first party from doing the act. (1938) 19 Pat L Tim 796 (797)  AIR 1918 Pat 672 (672, 673) = 19 Cri L Jour 880 (DB).

Section 144 — Note 11 (contd)

(4) A District Magistrate cannot, under this sub-section, prohibit the counter-petitioners from doing a certain act, which they were permitted to do, by the order passed by the subordinate Magistrate. The word "alter," cannot mean the substitution of the names of one party for the other. The sub-section contemplates only a change in the nature of the order and not a change in the party against whom it has been made. AIR 1951 Pat 253 (Pr. 3) = 52 Cri L Jour 809  AIR 1937 Mad 487 (489) = 38 Cri L Jour 864  AIR 1918 Pat 672 (673) = 19 Cri L Jour 880 (DB)  1967 BLJR 783 (784).

(5) An order by the District Magistrate while setting aside an order under this section, directing that proceedings under Section 145 should be drawn up, has been held to be bad, although there is nothing improper in his merely suggesting such a course for the guidance of the subordinate Magistrate. AIR 1929 Cal 751 (752) = 31 Cri L Jour 544 (DB)  AIR 1921 Pat 445 (446) = 23 Cri L Jour 27. (Following 24 Cal 391.)  AIR 1921 Pat 468 (469).

(6) The power of a superior Magistrate to rescind or alter an order passed by a subordinate Magistrate is not lost by reason of the fact that the subordinate Magistrate has himself already dealt with an application made to him to rescind or alter the same order. AIR 1937 Mad 167 (168) = 38 Cri L Jour 125  AIR 1937 Mad 311 (312) = 38 Cri L Jour 582.

(7) A rescission or alteration under the sub-section is justified where the reasons for the order no longer exist, or have varied in such a manner as to make an alteration a necessary corollary, or where the order is one that ought not to have been made. AIR 1952 Trav-Co 251 (Pr. 3) = 1952 Cri L Jour 1121  AIR 1922 Pat 435 (436, 437) = 23 Cri L Jour 549 (FB)  AIR 1934 Pat 313 (315) (DB).

(8) The mere fact that a Magistrate is interested in the matter, to which the order under the section relates, does not disqualify him from exercising his powers under this sub-section. AIR 1934 Pat 313 (315) (DB).

[See AIR 1951 Cal 207 (Pr. 8) = 51 Cri L Jour 1575 (DB).]

(9) The section contemplates the passing of only one order rescinding or altering the original order and not intermediate or interlocutory orders pending final orders. (1906) 4 Cri L Jour 433 (435, 436) (DB) (Cal).

(10) A Magistrate can alter or rescind an order made under this section only when it is made by himself or by any Magistrate subordinate to him or by his predecessor in office. Where a superior Magistrate has ceased to have territorial jurisdiction, and thus ceased to be superior, he cannot rescind or alter an order passed by a Magistrate who was subordinate to him when he had the territorial jurisdiction. AIR 1937 Mad 487 (489) = 38 Cri L Jour 864.

(11) Where a Magistrate passes an order under this section directing A not to trespass on the land of B and not to cause obstruction or annoyance to B in construction of a house on that land, and subsequently A files an application under Section 147 before the same Magistrate, the Magistrate cannot go into the question whether or not there is a likelihood of a breach of the peace, so long as his previous order remains in force. AIR 1951 Assam 77 (Pr. 6) = ILR (1950) 2 Assam 386 (DB).

(12) Mere omission of the District Magistrate to make the exemption clause of the order more comprehensive would not vitiate the order on the ground that it places unreasonable restrictions on certain fundamental rights of citizens. AIR 1961 SC 884 = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 16 = (1961) 3 SCR 423.

(13) "Or by his predecessor in office."— An order passed by the acting District Magistrate, who has subsequently reverted, can be altered or rescinded only by the permanent District Magistrate and the latter cannot transfer an application under this sub-section for disposal by the former. AIR 1916 Mad 533 (533) = 16 Cri L Jour 74.

(14) Power to transfer application. — An application under this sub-section not being covered by either Sec. 192 or Section 528 of the Code which deal with the subject of transfer of case, it would appear that the Magistrate to whom it is made, cannot transfer it for disposal to another Magistrate. AIR 1937 Mad 167 (169) = 38 Cri L Jour 125.

12. Enquiry into application to rescind or alter the order — Sub-section (5).— (1) Where a Magistrate acts under this section, it is his duty to give an early opportunity to any person or persons aggrieved by his order, and applying to have it rescinded or altered to show cause against it and to hold an enquiry into the circumstances of the case to see if that order has to be rescinded or altered. AIR 1939 Rang 181 (183) = 40 Cri L Jour 645  AIR 1937 Mad 167 (169) = 38 Cri L Jour 125  AIR 1932 Mad 294 (296, 297) = 33 Cri L Jour 605  AIR 1934 Cal 393 (395) = 35 Cri L Jour 881 (DB).

(2) The Magistrate should consider whether the claims advanced by one or other of the parties are within, or in excess of their legal and natural rights, and should see that protection is given to the persons who act within the bounds of their legal and natural rights without being molested by the breakers of law, having at the same time due regard to the paramount necessity of preserving public tranquillity. See 1898 Rat 967 (968) (DB).

(3) The provisions of this sub-section are mandatory. An application under sub-section (4) should not be dismissed summarily without giving an opportunity to the applicant to support his application. AIR 1939 Rang 181 (183) = 40 Cri L Jour 645  AIR 1948 Mad 117 (117) = 49 Cri L Jour 93.

(4) Sub-section (5) is to be read in the context of sub-section (4). The word applicant used in sub-section (5) means the aggrieved party against whom the order has been passed and not the first party who moved in the matter. Sub-section (5) does not lay down anything about adducing of evidence and cannot be relied on by the first party as a provision enabling him to appear and adduce evidence before the Magistrate. AIR 1954 Tripura 4 (4) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1343.

(5) An enquiry under this section is a judicial enquiry. AIR 1931 Bom 325 (326) = 32 Cri L Jour 1144 (DB)  AIR 1953 Mad 956 (958) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1780.

[But see (1929) 30 Cri L Jour 629 (630) (Mad)  AIR 1928 Mad 1108 (1109) = 30 Cri L Jour 119  AIR 1923 Mad 473 (474) = 24 Cri L Jour 424 (DB).]

(6) An enquiry under the section being a judicial enquiry, the Magistrate is bound to take evidence in the usual way by examination and cross-examination of witnesses. AIR 1931 Mad 236 (238) = 32 Cri L Jour 744  AIR 1931 Bom 325 (326) = 32 Cri L Jour 1144 (DB).

(7) The Magistrate is bound to consider the evidence and arguments submitted to him and cannot act solely on the evidence recorded by him ex parte and behind the back of the parties. AIR 1929 Pat 46 (47) = 30 Cri L Jour 302  AIR 1924 Pat 717 (718) = 25 Cri L Jour 455.

[See also (1872) 17 Suth WR (Cr) 37 (38) (DB).]

(8) A Magistrate can depute another Magistrate subordinate to him to hold an enquiry but he must come to his own independent conclusion on the materials as to the necessity for action under this section. AIR 1933 Cal 348 (351, 352) = 34 Cri L Jour 334 (DB).

(9) The duty to hold an enquiry should not, however, be delegated to subordinate Magistrate who has already dealt with an application relating to the same matter under sub-section (4). AIR 1937 Mad 167 (169) = 38 Cri L Jour 125.

(10) A District Magistrate ordering an enquiry to be made by a subordinate Magistrate has been held to have no power to suspend temporarily the order sought to be cancelled or rescinded, pending the result of such enquiry. AIR 1937 Mad 167 (169) = 38 Cri L Jour 125. (There is no inherent power to stay.)

(11) This section does not enable a party to adduce evidence. AIR 1954 Tripura 4 (4) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1343.

(12) The Magistrate initiating the proceeding under the section can pass an order under Section 517 after the completion of the enquiry for the restoration of property which had been the subject matter of the proceeding. AIR 1958 Pat 92 (Pr. 11) = 36 Pat 1302 = 1958 Cri L Jour 207. (Cri. Rev. No. 709 of 1953 (Pat) and Cri. Rev. No. 83 of 1954 (Pat), Overruled.)

13. Proceedings are judicial.— (1) A person, who applies to a Magistrate for an order under this section against another person, institutes criminal proceedings against that person within the meaning of Section 211 of the Penal Code. 1933 Mad WN 1263 (1265).

(2) The Magistrate proceeding under the section may make a local inspection for the purpose of appreciating the materials produced by the parties but the inquiry being a judicial inquiry he would be acting illegally if he bases his decision merely on his local inspection. AIR 1951 Pat 285 (Pr. 4) = 52 Cri L Jour 10.

14. Duration of the order — Sub-section (6).— (1) An order under this section can remain in force only for two months from the date of such order. It should not be in its nature irrevocable and must be such that it can be recalled at the expiry of two months. AIR 1942 Pat 331 (333) = 43 Cri L Jour 637  AIR 1928 All 14 (16) = 28 Cri L Jour 991.

[See also AIR 1941 Mad 498 (499) = 43 Cri L Jour 433 (DB).]

(2) Sub-section (6) is unconstitutional as violative of Article 19 (1) (b) of Constitution. AIR 1962 Pat 292 = 1962 BLJR 236 = 1962 (2) Cr LJ 203 (DB).

(3) The section does not authorize a Magistrate to pass an order, the effect of which would be the granting of a perpetual injunction. AIR 1951 Mys 17 (Pr. 7)  1897 All WN 59 (60) (DB)  AIR 1932 Cal 288 (288) = 33 Cri L Jour 518 (DB)  (1880) 5 Cal 7 (19, 20) (FB)

 AIR 1932 Mad 294 (296) = 33 Cri L Jour 605.

(4) An order prohibiting the rival disputants from collecting rent, until such time as the rights of both the parties are established by a competent Court, is illegal. (1905) 2 Cri L Jour 166 (167, 168) (DB) (Cal)  (1881) 8 Cal L Rep 231 (232) (DB).

(5) An order directing a person to abstain from taking any part in the management of a temple until another person should be evicted from the management in due course of law, is illegal and without jurisdiction. (1901) 24 Mad 45 (46) (DB).

(6) The section does not also authorize a Magistrate to enlarge the duration of the order beyond the period of two months by passing successive orders or renewing the order at the end of every two months. Such a procedure is illegal and amounts to an evasion of the law. AIR 1953 Orissa 96 (Pr. 8) = 1953 Cri L Jour 731 (DB)  AIR 1942 Pat 414 (417) = 43 Cri L Jour 722  AIR 1925 Cal 625 (625) = 26 Cri L Jour 1469  AIR 1940 Bom 42 (42) (16) = 23 Cri L Jour 689  AIR 1960 All 397 (398, 399) = 1960 All LJ 104 = 1960 Cr LJ 865 (2).

(7) Where an order does not prove sufficient for the purpose, the proper course is to take action under Sec. 107, or move the State Government to extend the duration of the order. AIR 1916 Cal 472 (473) = 17 Cri L Jour 200 (DB). (Action under Section 107.)  AIR 1917 Pat 154 (155) = 19 Cri L Jour 365 (DB). (Do.)  AIR 1916 Mad 1106 (1106) = 16 Cri L Jour 592. (Moving Government to extend time.)

(8) Where, a proceeding initiated under this section is cancelled as being defective, that will not prevent the Magistrate from initiating subsequently a valid proceeding and passing therein an effective order to ensure its operation for the statutory period of two months. AIR 1947 Pat 290 (291) = 48 Cri L Jour 93.

(9) The State Government, unlike a Magistrate, is empowered under the section to extend the duration of the order even for an indefinite period, as for instance, that it should remain in force until cancelled by a notification in the Official Gazette. It is not necessary that the State Government should state the reasons for extending the duration of the order. AIR 1923 All 606 (607) = 24 Cri L Jour 689.

(10) The State Government has power only to extend an order which is in force. The section does not permit the State Government to resuscitate an order which is no longer in force. AIR 1940 Lah 459 (460) = 42 Cri L Jour 90.

(11) The order of the Magistrate remains in force for two months from the date of the making of the order and not from the date of the confirmation of the order on a subsequent date. AIR 1942 Pat 414 (415) = 43 Cri L Jour 722. (AIR 1935 Pat 224 = 36 Cri L Jour 655, Relied on.)  (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 12 (13) (DB)  AIR 1962 Pat 352 (354) = 1962 BLJR 241 = 1962 (2) Cr LJ 396.

(12) It is not necessary that an order under this section should state expressly that its operation is confined to two months or some shorter period. (1907) 7 Cri L Jour 194 (195, 197) = 34 Cal 897 (FB)  AIR 1920 Mad 847 (848) = 20 Cri L Jour 755 (DB).

15. Revision.— (1) Ordinarily a person aggrieved by an order under this section should seek his remedy under sub-section (4) in the first instance before going to the High Court in revision. AIR 1940 Bom 42 (42) = 41 Cri L Jour 319 (DB)  AIR 1956 Pat 112 (112) = 1956 Cri L Jour 411 (DB)  AIR 1934 Cal 139 (140) = 35 Cri L Jour 541 (DB)  AIR 1924 Pat 145 (147) = 24 Cri L Jour 947  AIR 1919 Mad 1004 (1008, 1009) = 19 Cri L Jour 56 (DB)  AIR 1967 Ker 157 (158) = 1967 Ker LT 157 = 1967 Cr LJ 893 (DB)  AIR 1967 Punj 482 (486) = 1967 Cr LJ 1690 (DB)  AIR 1961 Manipur 12 (17) = 1961 (1) Cri LJ 676.

(2) Where the order of the Magistrate is one passed without jurisdiction or there are circumstances justifying an application in revision direct, the fact that he has not availed himself of the remedy provided by sub-section (4) has been held to be no ground for refusing to interfere in revision. AIR 1924 Pat 145 (147) = 24 Cri L Jour 947  AIR 1953 Tripura 6 (2) (6) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1469  AIR 1940 Bom 42 (42) = 41 Cri L Jour 319 (DB)  AIR 1934 Cal 139 (140) = 35 Cri LJ 541 (DB)  AIR 1960 Cal 715 (716) = 1960 Cri LJ 1445.

(3) It is prima facie for the Magistrate, who knows the local conditions, to say whether an emergency exists or not, and the High Court will not ordinarily interfere with his findings, unless there be clear evidence that no reasonable man could have held that there was an emergency. AIR 1939 Sind 230 (231) = 40 Cri L Jour 823 (DB)  AIR 1958 Assam 114 (Pr. 4) = 1958 Cri L Jour 1132  AIR 1937 Mad 311 (312) = 38 Cri L Jour 582  AIR

(4) Where the elements, necessary for action under the section, are shown to exist upon materials legally before the Court, the High Court will, in exercising its powers, respect the opinion of the local authorities as to the gravity of the danger and as to the steps necessary for the maintenance of the peace. AIR 1942 Lah 171 (172) = 43 Cri L Jour 747 (FB)  AIR 1953 All 577 (578) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1358 (DB). (Unless the order passed by a Magistrate under Section 144, Criminal P. (5) Although the High Court will not as a rule interfere, it may, in view of the wording of the order and the facts placed before it, call for the record to satisfy itself that the order is legal and that the Magistrate has not acted in an arbitrary manner. [See however AIR 1937 Mad 494 (494) = 38 Cri L Jour 892.]

(b) Where the grounds of action, as stated in the order, are either unfounded in fact or insufficient in law, or where it is shown that the order violates the conditions laid down by the section. (e) Where the order is passed upon no legal evidence. AIR 1929 Pat 46 (47) = 30 Cri L Jour 302.

(7) If it is found that the use of Section 144 instead of Section 107 or Section 145 was a mere abuse of the process of the Court or that owing to the exercise of that jurisdiction the order has resulted in something akin to the denial of the right of fair trial, then the High Court, it has been held, would feel bound to interfere in the exercise of its powers of superintendence. AIR 1940 Pat 382 (383) = 41 Cri L Jour 907  AIR 1922 Pat 435 (438) = 23 Cri L Jour 549 (FB).

(8) Where the order of the Magistrate has spent itself, or in other words, the two months' period has elapsed at the time of revision, the High Court will not generally interfere in revision save in exceptional cases involving questions of jurisdiction, or where the party against whom the order was passed has been seriously prejudiced. (9) The High Court has power to interfere in revision even after the order has been cancelled by the Magistrate. AIR 1940 Bom 42 (42) = 41 Cri L Jour 319 (DB).

(10) The High Court can interfere in revision with an order of the Magistrate dropping proceeding under this section on untenable grounds. AIR 1941 Pat 281 (282) = 42 Cri L Jour 620.

16. Disobedience of order under the section.— (1) A person, disobeying an order under this section, is liable to be punished under Section 188 of the Penal Code. (2) The Court trying an accused person for disobedience of an order under this section has to take the order as a good and valid order unless it is shown that the order was a nullity. It is not to superimpose its views on the propriety of the order. AIR 1949 Cal 677 (Pr. 7) = 51 Cri L Jour 59.

In order to punish a person under Section 188 of the Penal Code, the following conditions should be fulfilled—

(A) (3) The order under this section should be a valid order. Where the order is one not warranted by the section, or the requirements of the section are not duly complied with, a prosecution cannot stand. [See (1889) 16 Cal 9 (12) (DB).]

(4) A mere irregularity in the method of promulgation of the order will not in itself make it ultra vires, so as to prevent the conviction of any person disobeying it, if he had knowledge of its contents. CHAPTER XII

DISPUTES AS TO IMMOVABLE PROPERTY

145. Procedure where dispute concerning land, etc., is likely to cause breach of peace.—(1) Whenever a District Magistrate, Sub-Divisional Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class is satisfied from a police report or other information that a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace exists concerning any land or water or the boundaries thereof, within the local limits of his jurisdiction, he shall make an order in writing, stating the grounds of his being so satisfied, and requiring the parties concerned in such dispute to attend his Court in person or by pleader,

---

(10) It has been held that for the purpose of deciding as to what part of the penal provision in Section 188 applies, the Court can look only to the order under Section 144. AIR 1942 Oudh 39 (41) = 42 Cri L Jour 884 (DB).

(11) Parties are entitled to resist the execution of an order, which is ultra vires, and no offence would be committed by such resistance provided the limits of the right of private defence are not exceeded. AIR 1921 Pat 415 (420) = 22 Cri L Jour 442.

(12) It is not necessary for a person arrested for violation of the order under Section 144 to wait for his conviction under Section 188, Penal Code, by the Magistrate before filing a revision to the High Court or to the Sessions Judge under Section 435 for quashing the order. AIR 1961 Manipur 12 (17) = 1961 (1) Cri LJ 676.

(13) Punjab Criminal Law (Amendment) Act (30 of 1960), Section 6 (1) and (2) — Sub-section (1) applies only to nstigation or incitement or disobedience of order under Section 144. AIR 1962 Punj 487 (489) = 64 Pun LR 396 = 1962 (2) Cri LJ 633.

17. Suit to establish civil rights infringed by an order under this section.— (1) An order of a Magistrate under this section, which interferes with the legal rights of a person, furnishes that person with a cause of action to file a suit in a Civil Court for the establishment of such rights. The existence of the order is no bar to the maintainability of such a suit. AIR 1919 Mad 674 (675) (FB). (AIR 1918 Mad 448, Overruled.)  AIR 1922 Mad 123 (124, 125) (DB)  (1877) 3 Cal 20 (23) (FB)  (1880) 5 Cal 7 (9, 20) (FB).

(2) Where an order under this section forbids a person or a body of persons from using a highway for the purpose of procession, it furnishes that person or body of persons with a cause of action for bringing a declaratory suit for the establishment of that right where it is alleged to be an infringement of a legal right, although such order is intra vires. No proof of special damage is necessary to succeed in such an action. AIR 1919 Mad 674 (675, 676) (FB)  (1910) 5 Ind Cas 902 (902) (DB) (Mad).

[But see (1878) 2 Bom 457 (468, 469) (DB).]

(3) Where the order of the Magistrate was that all music should cease when any procession is passing a place of worship (a mosque), it was held that a suit lay to declare the right to take procession with music. (1880) 2 Mad 140 (142) (DB).

(4) The Civil Court has no power to cancel or set aside such an order in a suit to which the Government is not a party; the proper way to question or set aside such an order is by a revision petition to the High Court. However, where the Civil Court declares the rights, it is open to the parties to approach the Government to modify or cancel the order in the light of the Civil Court's declaration. AIR 1922 Mad 123 (124) (DB).

[See however (1874) 6 NWPHCR 104 (109) (DB).]

(5) Where at the instance of the complainant a Magistrate issues an order against the opposite party under S. 144 and thereupon the latter obtains an ad interim injunction from a Civil Court against the former, in spite of the Civil Court's injunction the Section 144 order remains in full force. AIR 1955 Cal 439 (442) = 1955 Cri LJ 1171.

1. Scope and applicability. — (1) Where a Magistrate is satisfied that a dispute as mentioned in the section exists he must pass a preliminary order under sub-section (1) and afterwards make an inquiry under sub-section (4). (1949) 1 Madh BLR 478 (480, 481)  AIR 1944 All 210 (210) = 45 Cri LJ 769  AIR 1939 Oudh 15 (16) = 40 Cri LJ 33.

(2) Sub-sections (1), (4), (5) and (6) of Section 145 are complementary. Once an order has been passed under sub-section (1), it is obligatory for the Magistrate to make the enquiry provided for in sub-section (4) subject, however, only to the obligation under sub-section (5)

Provided further that, if it appears to the Magistrate that any party has within two months next before the date of such order been forcibly and wrongfully dispossessed, he may treat the party so dispossessed as if he had been in possession at such date:

Provided also that, if the Magistrate considers the case of one of emergency, he may at any time attach the subject of dispute, pending his decision under this section.]

(5) Nothing in this section shall preclude any party so required to attend, or any other person interested, from showing that no such dispute as aforesaid exists or has existed; and in such case the Magistrate shall cancel his said order, and all further proceedings thereon shall be stayed, but, subject to such cancellation, the order of the Magistrate under sub-section (1) shall be final.

(6) Party in possession to retain possession until legally evicted.—If the Magistrate decides that one of the parties was ‡[or should under the §[second proviso] to sub-section (4) be treated as being] in such possession of the said subject, he shall issue an order declaring such party to be entitled to possession thereof until evicted therefrom in due course of law, and forbidding all disturbance of such possession until such eviction ‡[and when he proceeds under the §[second proviso] to sub-section (4), may restore to possession the party forcibly and wrongfully dispossessed.]

°†[(7) When any party to any such proceeding dies, the Magistrate may cause the legal representative of the deceased party to be made a party to the proceeding and shall thereupon continue the inquiry, and if any question arises as to who the legal representative of a deceased party for the purpose of such proceeding is, all persons claiming to be representatives of the deceased party shall be made parties thereto.]

to terminate the proceedings in the circumstances contemplated therein. The holding of the said inquiry under sub-section (4) is a condition precedent to the making of an order under sub-section (6) of Section 145. 1962 BLJR 279.

(3) The inquiry under sub-section (4) is, limited to the question as to who was in possession in fact on the date of the order, irrespective of the question as to the rights of the parties. AIR 1949 Pat 146 (162) = 27 Pat 1027 = 50 Cri LJ 299 (SB)  AIR 1936 All 531 (531) = 37 Cri LJ 886.

(4) Where the party invoking the aid of the Court alleges or admits in his complaint or where there is otherwise material before the Court showing that the dispossession complained of took place more than two months before the complaint the Court will have no jurisdiction to interfere on behalf of the complainant. AIR 1947 Oudh 159 (160).

(5) If the Magistrate finds in the inquiry that there is no dispute at all or that the dispute is not such as to be likely to cause a breach of the peace he should cancel his preliminary order. (6) The primary object of the provision is the prevention of the breach of the public peace arising in respect of a dispute relating to immovable property. The section enables the Magistrate to settle the matter temporarily so far as the Criminal Courts are concerned and to maintain the status quo until the rights of the parties are decided by a competent Court. (7) The result of the proceedings may be to deprive the rightful owner of the possession of his property temporarily and to subject him to other inconveniences, but this and other considerations are necessarily subordinate to the imperative necessity of preserving the peace. (8) The pendency of a civil suit in respect of the right in question, or the fact that a winding up order has been made under the Indian Companies Act is no bar to action being taken under this section. *‡[(8) If the Magistrate is of opinion that any crop or other produce of the property, the subject of dispute in a proceeding under this section pending before him, is subject to speedy and natural decay, he may make an order for the proper custody or sale of such property, and, upon the completion of the inquiry, shall make such order for the disposal of such property, or the sale-proceeds thereof, as he thinks fit.

(9) The Magistrate may, if he thinks fit, at any stage of the proceedings under this section, on the application of either party, issue a summons to any witness directing him to attend or to produce any document or thing.

(10) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to be in derogation of the powers of the Magistrate to proceed under Section 107.]

OBJECTS AND REASONS

1923.—"Clause 145.—As the law stands at present, the date of the order under sub-section (1) of this clause is taken as the critical date for the purpose of determining actual possession. This appears to give an unfair advantage to a person who has forcibly dispossessed another. But difficulties arise when the test of actual possession at the time of the institution of the proceedings is departed from. We think the proviso we have added to sub-section (4) goes as far as is possible to meet the evil in question without involving the Magistrate in an inquiry as to title or right to possession, which is the function of a Civil Court."—S.C.R., 1898.

Amendment made in 1923.—"In view of the objections of the Bengal Government, we do not think that Sections 145, 147 and 148 should apply to presidency-towns. We have, therefore, omitted the first amendment made by clause 27, and references to "Presidency Magistrate" and "Chief Presidency Magistrate", respectively, in clauses 29 and 30.

In order to meet certain difficulties, which have arisen in connection with the words "receive the evidence produced by them" in Section 145 (4), we have made an amendment adopting the phraseology of Section 244 (1), and have also added a new sub-section (8A) (now sub-section (9)) on the lines of Section 244 (2). We have made an addition to first amendment made in sub-section (6), Section 145, to make the intention clearer. We have introduced a new clause which, by an amendment of Section 146, will enable a District Magistrate to withdraw the attachment of property at any time when he is satisfied that there is no longer any likelihood of a breach of the peace.

Doubts have been expressed as to the procedure to be followed in cases under Section 147 and we have introduced amendments here to make it clear that the procedure is to be that laid down by Section 145."—S.C.R. (18 of 1923).

1955.—With respect to the amendments made by Act 26 of 1955 in Sections 145 and 146, the Joint Committee observe: "In cases of disputes relating to immovable property, the existing provisions require a Magistrate to make an inquiry and to come to a decision on the question of possession. Such inquiries by Magistrates are often dilatory and unsatisfactory. In order to obviate this state of affairs, a new Section 145 was substituted in the Bill for the existing Sections 145 and 146. Under this substituted section, the Magistrate would not concern himself with the question of possession at all and he could inquire only into the question whether the property should be attached. If on hearing the parties, the Magistrate is satisfied that the property should be attached, he would do so and leave the parties to go to the Civil Court for the adjudication of their rights. The Committee consider that Section 145 as substituted may lead to undesirable consequences in some cases.

(15) The difference between Section 107 and Section 145 is that under Sec. 107 there need be no dispute relating to land and that the proceedings are started against a person who is likely to commit a breach of the peace, whereas under Section 145 as a result of land dispute,

"The Committee are of the view that, in a proceeding of this nature, the Magistrate should hold a summary inquiry into the question of possession. He should ask the parties not only to put in written statements of their respective claims but also to produce simultaneously all documentary evidence in support of such claims. If the parties propose to rely on the evidence of any witnesses, they should also file the affidavits of such witnesses. It should not ordinarily be necessary for a Magistrate to take oral evidence but he may, if he thinks fit, examine any person whose affidavit has been put in. After taking into consideration the written statements, documents and affidavits put in and after hearing the parties, the Magistrate should, if possible, come to a decision as to who is in possession of the property. To avoid undue delay, the Committee consider that a time limit of two months should be fixed within which the Magistrate must dispose of the case."—J.C.R., Gaz. of Ind., 1954, Ext., Part II, S. 2, p. 417.

2-A. Sections 145 and 147. — (1) Section 145, deals with cases where there is a dispute with regard to the land itself likely to result in breach of peace, whereas Section 147 deals with cases where there is a dispute with regard to a right in or over the land. (2) There seem to be material differences between Section 145 and Sec. 147 in that while the duty to pass an order under Section 147 is only a discretionary one. Section 145 (1) indicates that the Magistrate shall make an order in writing stating the grounds of his being satisfied. Further unlike Section 145 (4), the date of the order under Section 147 (1) is not crucial or determinative of the rights of the parties. (1967) 1 Mad LJ 143.

(3) Where a dispute is really as regards the possession of a temple or a mosque Section 145 would be applicable but where the dispute is not so much about the right to possession of the mosque as the right to perform a festival at mosque, Section 147 is the proper section to be used by the Magistrate. 1961 (2) Cri LJ 234 (235, 236) (Ker). (AIR 1941 Nag 171, Dissented from.)

(4) A dispute as to the right of worship in a temple or over the places of worship necessarily involves a dispute as to the right of user of the land within the meaning of Section 147. Therefore, the order of the Magistrate drawing up proceeding under Section 145 is misconceived. 1961 (2) Cri LJ 466 (467) (Cal).

(6) The scope of Sections 145 and 147 markedly differs as does the subject-matter of the inquiry under the two sections. (3) The proceedings under Section 145 are only preventive and are quasi-judicial and quasi-administrative in nature, their object being to prevent breach of peace and maintain tranquillity. AIR 1967 All 164 (166) = 1967 Cri LJ 417.

(4) The action is of a purely preventive and provisional nature in a civil dispute pending formal adjudication of the rights of the parties. (The orders that a Magistrate passes under Section 145 are merely Police orders.)

(5) The nature of the inquiry is quasi-civil. It is an incursion by the Criminal Court in the jurisdiction of the Civil Court. AIR 1969 Mys 160 (161) = (1968) 2 Mys LJ 532 = 1969 Cri LJ 62  1966 Cr LJ 1080 (1086) = 1965 Mad LJ (Cr) 659 = (1965) 2 Andh WR 231.

(8) The proceedings under Sections 145, 146 are of a summary nature and it is essential that they should be disposed of as expeditiously as possible and it is always open to a party to proceed through the Civil Court and get any matter finally settled. 1954 All L Jour 269 (270)  1965 All WR (HC) 31  ILR (1960) 1 Andh Pra 327  AIR 1960 Pat 254 (255) = 1960 Cri LJ 970 = 1959 BLJR 813  1970 Ker LT 102.

(10-A) An application to a Magistrate to take action under this section is not a complaint. AIR 1926 Sind 85 (85) = 26 Cri L Jour 1333 (DB).

(11) The initiation of a proceeding under this section on the application of a person may, in proper cases, constitute malicious prosecution of the opposite party. AIR 1951 Mad 659 (Pr 1) = ILR (1951) Mad 838 (DB).

(12) Sections 8 to 11 of the Oaths Act (1873) apply to proceedings under Section 145. AIR 1952 All 678 (679, 680) = 1952 Cri L Jour 1183  1969 Cri LJ 70 (72) = 1968 All LJ 457.

4. Who can take action under this section. — (1) The mere fact that a Sub-Divisional Magistrate or a First Class Magistrate declined to take action in a particular case is no bar to the District Magistrate instituting proceedings if on the same materials he is satisfied as to the likelihood of a breach of the peace, even though no application has been made to him. AIR 1954 Trav-Co 102 (103) = 1954 Cri L Jour 194 (DB)  (1902) 29 Cal 242 (244) (DB)  AIR 1926 Cal 1049 (1050, 1051) = 27 Cri L Jour 1083 (DB).

AIR 1959 Raj 63 (72) = ILR (1959) 9 Raj 193 = 1959 Cri L Jour 379.

(4) Additional Sub-Divisional Magistrate invested with powers of First Class Magistrate is empowered to take action under the section. 1965 All Cri R 22 = 1964 All WR (HC) 750.

[See however AIR 1962 All 165 (165) = 1961 All LJ 875 = (1962) 1 Cri LJ 389 (DB).]

(5) The Assistant to the Deputy Commissioner has power to take action similar to the one contemplated under Section 145, in view of Rule 22 of the United Khasi-Jaintia Hills Autonomous District (Administration of Justice) Rules, 1953. AIR 1963 Assam 38 (40) = ILR (1963) 15 Assam 66 = 1963 (1) Cri LJ 565.

5. "Is satisfied". — (1) It is essential for the assumption of jurisdiction to initiate proceedings under this section that the Magistrate should be satisfied from a police-report or other information that a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace exists. Such a finding should be clear and unambiguous. AIR 1958 Punj 47 (49, 50) = 1958 Cri L Jour 215 = ILR (1957) Punj 1968  1959 Jab LJ 246 (247)  AIR 1955 Assam 1 (2) = ILR (1954) 6 Assam 511 = 1955 Cri L Jour 54 (DB)  (1970) 72 Pun LR 118 (120)  AIR 1968 Orissa 36 (40) = 33 Cut LT 974 = 1968 Cr LJ 336  (1967) Cri LJ 1716 (1717) (Cal)  1967 Cri LJ 1243 (1244) = 1965 BLJR 427.  AIR 1967 Punj 482 (486) = 1967 Cr LJ 1690 = 1966 Cur LJ 866  (1964) 66 Punj LR 245  AIR 1961 Tripura 36 (38) = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 292.

(1a) The satisfaction which arose at the time of passing the preliminary order must, therefore, continue till the Magistrate passes the final order. Otherwise it is open to drop the proceedings and cancel the preliminary order. (1970) 72 Punj LR 118 (120) = 1970 Cur LJ 208.

(2) The fact that the Magistrate gave his finding that there was an apprehension of a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace not as soon as the police report was received but gave it subsequently but before the evidence began would not vitiate the proceedings provided the opposite party was not prejudiced by it. AIR 1953 All 471 (472) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1056.

(3) It is the Magistrate's satisfaction that is required and not the satisfaction of his informant or any police-officer.

1951 All WR (HC) 483 (484)  AIR 1956 Bhopal 2 (4) = 1956 Cri L Jour 42.

(4) If a Magistrate is very cautious and chooses to call the parties in order to be satisfied as to whether there was or was not an apprehension of a breach of the peace, and passes an order only after hearing them, or in their presence, the order cannot be said to be invalid. AIR 1954 All 579 (Pr 3) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1257.

(5) The Magistrate cannot direct the police to report if there is an apprehension of breach of peace and to attach the property if they are of opinion that there is such apprehension. AIR 1953 All 455 (Pr 4) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1009  1951 All WR (HC) 58 (58)  AIR 1952 All 186 (Prs 6, 9) = 1952 Cri L Jour 379.

(6) A person making an application to the Magistrate to initiate proceedings under the section does not institute a 'case' but only informs the Magistrate. 1951 All WR (HC) 483 (484).

(7) A Magistrate is not bound to take action on a police-report or upon an expression of opinion by the police, but he should have a statement of facts before him so that he may exercise his own judgment in arriving at a conclusion as to the necessity of taking action under this section. (1906) 33 Cal 33 (43) = 2 Cri L Jour 670 (FB)  ILR (1952) 2 Raj 170 = 1952 Raj LW 289 (289)  AIR 1969 Manipur 27 (28) = 1969 Cr LJ 419  1961 Jab LJ 315 (316) = ILR (1961) Madh Pra 647.

(8) Even if the police had stated positively that there was no apprehension of breach of the peace, the Magistrate is not bound by the same. The section requires satisfaction of the Magistrate. (1967) 33 Cut LT 766.

(9) The Magistrate should proceed with great caution where there is no police-report and the only materials before him are statements of interested persons. AIR 1924 Cal 444 (445) = 24 Cri L Jour 304 (DB).

(10) It is for the Magistrate to be satisfied whether or not an apprehension of breach of the peace exists. His jurisdiction is not affected merely because he has not recorded a formal order stating that an apprehension of a breach of peace exists, provided there are materials on record to show that such an apprehension was justified. 1961 Raj LW 484 = ILR (1961) 11 Raj 1180 (1181).

(11) Where there are no materials at all before the Magistrate on which he could come to any finding the mere fact that he states he is satisfied is not sufficient to give him jurisdiction under this section. AIR 1953 Orissa 255 (255) (Pr 2) = ILR (1953) Cut 333 = 1953 Cri LJ 1499  AIR 1921 Pat 176 (177) = 22 Cri LJ 481.

[See however AIR 1953 Ajmer 74 (75) = 1953 Cri LJ 1788.]

(12) The evidence subsequently recorded by the Magistrate after issuing a notice under sub-section (1) will not justify the preliminary order. AIR 1945 Oudh 62 (63).

(13) Any action taken by the Magistrate before starting proceedings under Section 145 cannot be construed to be something which it was necessary for the Magistrate to do under Section 145. ILR (1952) 2 Raj 170 = 1952 Raj LW 286 (289).

(14) The question whether, upon the materials placed before him, proceedings should be instituted under this section is one entirely within the Magistrate's discretion. (17) Where both the parties admit that there is a likelihood of breach of peace the further enquiry should be only with regard to possession under sub-section (6). AIR 1953 Hyd 185 (Prs 3, 4) = ILR (1952) Hyd 346 = 1953 Cri LJ 1114.

(18) Once the Magistrate decides that there is going to be breach of the peace, he will have to proceed judicially under the law. AIR 1958 Madh Pra 346 (347) = 1958 Cri LJ 1318.

(3) In proceedings under this section a police report is a relevant document in order to come to a conclusion whether there is any likelihood of breach of peace, but it cannot be taken at its face value. 1961 Jab LJ 315 (316) = ILR (1961) Madh Pra 647.

(4) Where an application is made under the section the Magistrate should not forward the application itself to the police for inquiry and report but should keep it pending on his file and direct the police to make an enquiry and report. 1951 Raj LW 14 (16).

(5) The police-report to a Magistrate suggesting initiation of proceedings under this section, should not be confined to written reports which the police themselves might have received. AIR 1935 Nag 78 (79).

(6) The primary duty of the police official in proceedings under this section is to report whether there is any apprehension of breach of the peace. He cannot assume the functions of the Magistrate and report that after investigation he found that the petitioner's allegations were baseless. AIR 1961 All 38 (41) = 1960 All LJ 782 = 1961 (1) Cr LJ 15 (DB).

7. "Or other information." — (1) The Magistrate has the widest possible latitude in interpreting the words "other information." (The information may be furnished by another criminal proceeding on the file of the Magistrate himself.)

(2) The words 'other information' are wide enough to include an application by a private party. The jurisdiction under Section 145 being of an emergency nature, the Magistrate must act with caution but that does not mean that where on an application by one of the parties to the dispute he is satisfied that the requirements of the section are existent, he cannot initiate proceedings without a police report. AIR 1968 SC 1444 (1449) = 1968 Cur LJ 980= 1969 Cr LJ 13. (Criminal Revn. (3) The Magistrate can base his action on complaint filed by one of the parties, or on the statement on oath of the person who presented the complaint, or on a perusal of the petitions filed by the parties in another proceeding. (3) The fact that a dispute can be easily resolved cannot make it any the less existent. 1951 Ker LT 243 (251).

(4) It is only where the lands in question are admittedly or indisputably in the possession of one of the parties and the party out of possession attempts to trespass into the property that Section 145 cannot be applied. 1951 Ker LT 243 (251).

(7) It has been held that where the rights of the parties have been "within a time not too remote" adjudicated upon between the parties by a decree of a civil Court, there can be no bona fide dispute between the parties. (9) A decree-holder or auction-purchaser placed in possession by the process of Court has to maintain his own possession if he is forcibly and wrongfully dispossessed within two months of such delivery of possession, and if he does not complain of such dispossession for over two months he has no right thereafter to come to a Criminal Court and ask the Magistrate to maintain the civil Court's decree for delivery of possession. 9. (13) Proceedings under — Existence of recent decision of Civil or Revenue Court on question of possession in itself cannot be a ground for Magistrate to refuse to start proceedings under Section 145 because the dispute like the one mentioned in sub-section (1) can exist notwithstanding the recent decision of a competent Court. 1970 Cri LJ 770 (774) (All).

10. The subject of dispute. — (1) The subject-matter of dispute should be ascertained definitely and described clearly in the preliminary order. (1907) 5 Cri LJ 32 (35) (DB) (Cal)  AIR 1953 Mys 131 (132) = ILR (1953) Mys 315 = 1953 Cri LJ 1530  1931 Mad WN 1317 (1318).

(3) Where there is an apprehension of breach of peace in respect of a number of plots, the Magistrate should ask the parties concerned, to file an accurate map showing the exact location of the lands in dispute. Unless the plots or portions thereof can be carefully localised and identified at the spot, the entire proceeding may become infructuous. (1961) 3 Orissa JD 385.

(4) Where there is more than one dispute involved each one of the disputes should be made the subject-matter of a separate enquiry. The Magistrate has no jurisdiction to combine a number of disputes between several persons and treat them all as one dispute for the purpose of a proceeding under Section 145. (1955) 21 Cut LT 174 (175).

(5) Where land consists of several plots and each plot is the subject of a separate dispute and each such dispute stands on its own footing, the Magistrate should not club all such items together and treat them as one for the purposes of an inquiry under this section. (6) Where none of the parties to the proceedings was prejudiced or where all separate items were coverd by the same state of circumstances and there was only a single dispute in respect of all of them the mere fact that the Magistrate did not institute separate proceedings in respect of each such item is not sufficient to invalidate the proceedings. (8) The fact that the area of the land in dispute is small or that the Magistrate has included in his proceedings only a portion of the land which is the subject of the police-report, will not vitiate the proceedings under this section. AIR 1939 Lah 108 (110) = 40 Cri LJ 519  AIR 1917 Pat 435 (436) = 18 Cri LJ 692.

(4) Where it is uncertain as to whether the subject of dispute is situate in one or the other of two local areas, the proceedings may be taken by a Magistrate having jurisdiction over either of such areas. (1910) 11 Cri LJ 69 (71) = 12 Oudh Cas 400  (1954) 33 Pat 927 (937).

12. (2) The foundation of the jurisdiction of the Magistrate under Section 145 is an apprehension felt by him with regard to the breach of peace. (3) It is not, necessary that the order should be in any particular form. 10 Suth WR (Cr) 16 (16) (DB).

(4) The preliminary order passed by a competent Magistrate, is commonly an order which has to contain two elements, namely, (i) stating the grounds of the Magistrate being satisfied from a police report or other information that a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace exists; and (ii) requiring the parties concerned in such dispute to attend his Court in person or by pleader, within a time to be fixed by such Magistrate and to put in written statements of their respective claims. AIR 1966 Andh Pra 63 (65, 66) = (1965) 2 Andh WR 496 = 1966 Cri LJ 248.

(5) The Magistrate need not write in his preliminary order in so many words that he was 'satisfied' from police report that a dispute likely to cause a breach of peace existed. It is enough if he mentions the grounds on which he decided to pass the preliminary order. AIR 1961 Trpura 36 (38) = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 292.

(6) Order must make it evident that Magistrate had applied his judicial mind to the information and had come to the conclusion to pass order. (1966) 2 Mad LJ 96.

16. Addition of parties. — (1) Subsection (5) does not enable new parties to be added. 4 Cal WN 748 (749)  (1901) 5 Cal WN 900 (903)  (1899) 3 Cal WN 329 (331) (DB)

(2-3) It has been held that the Magistrate has power to add parties even after the initiation of the proceedings provided that such parties were originally concerned in the dispute but that such power of adding parties should be exercised before the commencement of the inquiry under sub-section (4). AIR 1952 Pat 270 (Pr 4) = 1952 Cri LJ 942  (1903) 30 Cal 155 (201) (FB)  AIR 1917 Cal 173 (174) = 17 Cri LJ 449 (449) (DB).

(4) Persons whose names are not mentioned in order under Section 145 (1) but who on order being notified appear and file written statements as being persons interested in proceeding before Magistrate, can be impleaded as parties. AIR 1967 Mys 169 (170) = 10 Law Rep 661 = 1967 Cr LJ 1153.

(5) Where vendees of a land, not made parties to a preliminary order made under Section 145, Cr. P. Code in respect of that land, are impleaded without the proceedings having to be taken up afresh, the impleading is correct. 1968 All Cri 286 = 1968 All WR (HC) 447.

(6) Where the proceedings are pending for several years without enquiry after the attachment of the property in dispute and considerable changes have taken place in the constitution of the parties, the Court can amend the previous proceedings by adding or changing the position of certain parties. AIR 1948 Pat 77 (78) = 48 Cri LJ 440.

(7) In all cases of amendment of a proceeding it will not follow as a matter of law that a fresh preliminary order has got to be and must he made or must be deemed to have been made although not expressly made on the date when the proceedings are amended by addition of parties or the like. 1968 Pat LJR 208 (210, 211) (DB).

(8) Addition of parties after commencement of enquiry but before its conclusion — Not barred. AIR 1969 Punj 101 (103) = 1969 Cri LJ 506.

(9) After the commencement of the inquiry new parties cannot be added, but if they are so added that will amount to an irregularity. (1903) 30 Cal 155 (201) (FB).

(10) The question of non-joinder or misjoinder of parties to a proceeding under this section is a matter relating to procedure and does not affect the jurisdiction of the Magistrate. It is at the most an irregularity. AIR 1959 Cal 505 (505) = 1959 Cri LJ 970  AIR 1946 Pat 330 (333) = 25 Pat 19 = 47 Cri LJ 328 (DB)  AIR 1920 Cal 417 (418) = 21 Cri LJ 25 (DB)  AIR 1952 Madh B 165 (Pr 6) = 1952 Cri LJ 1449.

17. Continuation of proceedings by or against legal representatives — Sub-section (7). — (1) Sub-section (7) specifically provides for bringing the legal representatives of deceased parties on the record and the Court has no power to drop the proceedings on the death of any of the parties. AIR 1934 Cal 787 (788) = 36 Cri LJ 303 (DB)  AIR 1967 Manipur 47 (48) = 1967 Cri LJ 1660.

(2) Death of party during proceedings — Magistrate is bound to add all persons claiming to be legal representatives even if he is doubtful as to who are the real heirs — Order refusing to add such persons as legal representatives contravenes Section 145 (7) and is illegal. AIR 1967 Manipur 47 (48) = 1967 Cri LJ 1660.

(3) Party to proceeding under S. 145, dying — A person, claiming to be son of deceased and seeking to be impleaded as party to such proceeding — In view of mandatory provision in Section 145 (7) Magistrate has no choice except to implead such person as party to the proceeding — Magistrate has no jurisdiction to embark upon an elaborate inquiry regarding the claim of such person. AIR 1967 All 486 (487) = 1966 All WR (HC) 697 = 1966 Cri LJ 1259.

(4) There is no provision in sub-section (7) of Section 145 requiring notice to be served on any person who is to be impleaded as a legal representative of a deceased party. 1962 (1) Cri LJ 632 (633) = 1961 All LJ 82.

(5) After impleading the legal representatives the proceedings are not to be re-opened and restarted from the very beginning but are to continue from the stage at which the deceased party has died. 1962 (1) Cri LJ 632 (633) = 1961 All LJ 82.

(6) It has been held that where after the filing of a revision petition against an order under this section, the petitioner dies, the High Court has power to bring on record his legal representatives if the ends of justice require it. AIR 1942 Mad 249 (250) = 43 Cri LJ 487.

18. "Attend his Court." — (1) The preliminary order should direct that the parties should attend the Court of the Magistrate issuing the order. AIR 1952 Mys 4 (5) = 1952 Cri LJ 111  (1943) 24 Pat LT 326 (327).

(2) The jurisdiction to make the final order is not personal to the Magistrate making the preliminary order. (1895) 22 Cal 898 (902) (DB)  (1906) 4 Cri LJ 223 (226) (DB) (Cal).

(3) The dismissal of the proceedings merely because one of the parties failed to attend the Court on the date fixed is not warranted. AIR 1958 Bom 450 (451) = ILR (1958) Bom 544 = 1958 Cri LJ 1383  ILR (1955) 5 Raj 709 (710)  AIR 1953 Assam 198 (198) = ILR (1952) 4 Assam 330 = 1953 Cri LJ 1589 (DB)  AIR 1964 Punj 444 (446) = 1964 (2) Cri LJ 456 = 66 Punj LR 196.

(4) Once the Magistrate dismisses an application even though wrongly, for default of appearance of the applicant, he cannot review his own order and restore the application. AIR 1964 Punj 444 (446) = 66 Pun LR 196 = (1964) 2 Cri LJ 456.

(5) Where by his previous order the Magistrate allows a party to appear by a pleader, he cannot insist upon the personal attendance of the party if they are not willing to appear in Court. AIR 1946 Mad 447 (448) = 47 Cri LJ 936 = ILR (1947) Mad 234.

(6) If both the parties are absent and there is no sufficient material before the Magistrate for proceeding under Section 145, he can proceed under Section 146. AIR 1952 Mys 4 (5) = 1952 Cri LJ 111.

(7) It is illegal for the Sub-Divisional Magistrate to direct the parties to appear before another Magistrate. AIR 1921 Pat 333 (333) = 22 Cri LJ 483.

19. Written statements, documents and affidavits. — (1) The inquiry into the question of possession is not necessarily limited to the allegation made in the written statements. AIR 1916 Mad 967 (969) = 16 Cri LJ 525 (DB).

(2) Failure of the parties to file their statements will not deprive the Magistrate of his jurisdiction to make the enquiry. AIR 1952 Mys 4 (5) = 1952 Cri LJ 111  AIR 1923 Pat 369 (370) = 24 Cri LJ 557.

(3) Where the parties do not file statements and the Magistrate is not in a position to decide from the material before him that one of the parties was in possession of the subject-matter of the dispute he has to proceed under Section 146. AIR 1952 Mys 4 (5) = 1952 Cri LJ 111.

(4) The Magistrate should not ordinarily refuse to provide opportunities to the parties to file statements of their respective claims. 178 Ind Cas 251 (252) = 40 Cri LJ 32 (Mad)  AIR 1924 Pat 783 (783) = 25 Cri LJ 906  (1908) 8 Cri LJ 202 = 12 Cal WN 896 (897) (DB).

(5) The Magistrate cannot compel the parties to file written statements. AIR 1952 Mys 4 (5) = 1952 Cri LJ 111.

(6) The practice, as far as Andhra Pradesh is concerned, is that within the time fixed by the Magistrate the parties not only file their written statements, but also all documents and affidavits on which they want to rely in support of their claim. The wording of the section also contemplates the fixing of a time-limit. But if the petitioners are able to satisfy the Magistrate that for reasons beyond their control they could not file certain documents which support their claim in regard to actual possession, the Magistrate would not be precluded from accepting the same, on being so satisfied. AIR 1963 Andh Pra 401 (402) = 1963 (2) Cri LJ 491 = (1963) 1 Andh WR 414.

(7) Documents not marked as exhibits — Cannot be used as legal evidence. AIR 1966 Orissa 170 (171, 172) = 32 Cut LT 256 = 1966 Cri LJ 935.

(8) The report of the Pleader, Commissioner or the Police filed in a case under Section 145 are definitely documents legally put on record and for that purpose the Pleader, Commissioners or the Police officer need not be examined nor their affidavits are essential. 1968 Cri LJ 701 (703) = 1968 BLJR 327 (DB).

(9) Affidavits and documents constitute the evidence in a proceeding under this section. 1966 All WR (HC) 628 = 1966 All LJ 1115.

(10) The Code does not provide any method of swearing affidavits to be used in proceedings under Section 145 of the Code. Sections 539 and 539-A do not obviously apply. Evidence in proceedings under Section 145 regarding possession of immovable property being not of formal nature but of a substantive nature Section 510-A cannot be invoked so as to make Section 539-A applicable in the case of affidavits filed in proceedings under Section 145. AIR 1966 Raj 5 (7) = 1965 Raj LW 222 = 1966 Cri LJ 60.

(6) The possession contemplated by the section is one that is continuous. AIR 1922 Cal 502 (503) = 24 Cri L Jour 175 (DB).

(7) An isolated act of trespass or the possession of the property for one day in a year or one day in a week is not such possession as is contemplated by the section. (16) In the case of a rightful owner, slight evidence of possession may be enough to uphold his claim to actual possession. On the other hand, in the case of a wrong-doer, such slight evidence of possession may not be accepted as evidence of actual possession. AIR 1949 Pat 146 (160) = 50 Cri L Jour 299 (SB).

(17) Where there is a contest between a party in actual possession and another party who is only in constructive possession, the dispute must be determined in favour of the party in actual possession. (18) In each case the Court has to determine the question of possession as a question of fact. AIR 1949 Pat 146 (160) = 50 Cri L Jour 299 (SB).

(19) The word "actual possession" would necessarily have to be given a more comprehensive meaning implying that possession contemplated includes that of a landlord claiming rents or profits from person or persons who are liable and willing to pay him the same. (1965) 3 Law Rep 795 (801).

(20) Where the dispute is between the landlord and his tenant, the Court cannot find possession of the landlord through his tenant. ('91) 2 Weir 107 (107) (DB)  AIR 1915 Mad 1105 (1106) = 16 Cri L Jour 284 (285).

(23) If there is no dispute or clash of interest between the person who is in actual possession, and the petitioner through whom such person is in possession, the petitioner in constructive possession has a right to come to Court if his possession is interfered with in circumstances mentioned in Section 145. AIR 1959 Raj 50 (51) = ILR (1957) 7 Raj 936 = 1959 Cri L Jour 236.

(24) Where there is dispute between the master and the servant themselves about the possession of the property then the word 'possession' has to be interpreted in the sense of actual physical possession. AIR 1959 Raj 63 (69, 71) = ILR (1959) 9 Raj 193 = 1959 Cri L Jour 379.

(25) Natural guardian continuing in possession even after the ward became major — Guardian's possession held, not that of ward — His possession must be recognised for purposes of Section 145, proceedings. 1969 Cr LJ 1312 (1314) = 1968 Pat LJ 639.

(26) Dispute between A and B over possession of fishery — B in possession not as servant or workman under A but as an independent sub-contractor from A — B's possession cannot be considered to be possession of A and hence applicability of Section 145 to case cannot be excluded. AIR 1966 Goa 32 (35) = 1966 Cri LJ 1415 (FB).

(27) In a case where a Mutwalli of Wakf parted with possession of Sir land in favour of another for purpose of cultivation thereon by such person on batai system, even if the said person is deemed to be in actual possession of the land till the harvesting of the batai crop, the real tenant of the Sir plots being the mutwalli, the possession of the holdings after the removal of the crops, must be deemed to be that of Mutawalli or the wakf inasmuch as in the case of vacant land, possession follows title. 1965 All WR (HC) 788 = 1965 All Cri R 527.

(28) Delivery of possession by Civil Court, in execution of a decree to the decree-holder as against the judgment-debtor, is as effective as actual physical possession. AIR 1959 Punj 518 (519) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1212  (1968) 34 Cut LT 655.

(29) The Magistrate should come to a definite conclusion about actual possession of the property. It is not enough in a proceeding under Section 145 to say that a particular person was in possession of an undivided share. The Magistrate should specify as accurately as possible the land which is the subject-matter of dispute. AIR 1959 Pat 476 (477) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1205.

(30) When a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace, arises between the agent and third parties the principal cannot come in and ask the Magistrate to adjudicate upon his title, specially when his title is also disputed by the agent, and the agent sets up his own title. Even when the dispute is between the principal and the agent if the agency is disputed, the Magistrate will have to proceed on the basis of actual possession. AIR 1959 Tripura 1 (2) = 1959 Cri L Jour 89.

(6) Where, the preliminary order makes a sharp distinction between the "lands in dispute" on the one hand and "produce in dispute" on the other and both these are severable from each other the fact that the proceedings are bad in respect of the "produce in dispute" will not invalidate the entire proceedings provided no prejudice is caused to either party by the action of the Magistrate. AIR 1953 Orissa 99 (101) = ILR (1951) Cut 576 = 1953 Cri L Jour 737.

22. Service and publication of the preliminary order — Sub-section (3). — (1) The object of publication of the preliminary order is to bring the proceedings to the notice of all persons interested in the property in dispute besides the persons named in the preliminary order and also to inform them of the grounds on which the proceedings are instituted. AIR 1953 Hyd 286 (288) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1862 = ILR (1953) Hyd 173  (1905) 2 Cri L Jour 618 (623, 624) = 33 Cal 68 (FB)  1968 All Cri 286 = 1968 All WR (HC) 447  1967 All WR (HC) 570 = 1967 All Cri R 370.

(7) The omission to affix a copy of order on the spot as required by Section 145 (3) is only an irregularity and does not invalidate the final order in the absence of any prejudice to the parties concerned. AIR 1958 Tripura 37 (37) = 1958 Cri L Jour 1250  ILR (1959) Cut 1 (4, 5) = 25 Cut LT 39.

AIR 1966 Orissa 49 (52) = (1965) 31 Cut LT 1112 = 1966 Cri LJ 275.

23. Omission to serve or publish the order. — (1) An omission to carry out the procedure laid down for the service or publication of the order is not an error of jurisdiction, but, if anything, an irregularity which may be sufficient to invalidate the proceedings only in cases where the parties are prejudiced by reason of such irregularity. AIR 1952 Madh B 165 (Pr 11) = 1952 Cri L Jour 1449  (1905) 2 Cri L Jour 618 (633, 634) = 33 Cal 68 (FB). 24. Attachment in case of emergency. — (1) The power to order interim attachment of the property in dispute is limited to cases in which the likelihood of a breach of the peace is so imminent as to call for immediate action to prevent it, and should, therefore, be exercised with the great caution. (3) The Magistrate has no jurisdiction to attach a property merely for the purpose of avoiding future litigation. AIR 1926 Lah 205 (205, 206) = 27 Cri L Jour 761.

(4) The question whether the matter is one of emergency as to justify an attachment is one within the Magistrate's discretion. 1951 Ker L Tim 115 (116)  AIR 1933 Lah 409 (410) = 34 Cri L Jour 342.

(16) Once an attachment is made under this section, the property attached passes into custodia legis and the custody of the Court during the attachment enures for the benefit of such party as is found by the Magistrate to be in possession of the subject of dispute at the institution of the proceedings. (17) By interim attachment under Section 145, the Court takes possession of the property in dispute and the same is restored to the party which ultimately, comes out successful in the proceeding. It is not, however, meant for enabling one of the parties to use the property in accordance with their claim to exercise the customary right over the land, which is itself the subject-matter of enquiry in the proceeding. AIR 1961 Pat 369 (370) = 1961 BLJR 144 = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 371.

(18) The mere fact that the bailiff of the Court was asked to attach the property and he returned the warrant unserved expressing his inability to execute it, cannot amount to the warrant having been executed and it cannot, therefore, be regarded that the property was taken under Government supervision. (22) The Magistrate cannot continue the attachment or confirm it after the apprehension of a breach of the peace has ceased and the proceedings have been dropped. AIR 1952 Tripura 29 (30) = 1953 Cri LJ 71.

(26) A receiver appointed by a civil Court in a civil suit cannot obtain possession of the property attached under this section without the permission of the Magistrate concerned. ILR (1961) Cut 264 (267, 268).

(27) Where a party is dispossessed by an order of attachment under this section, he cannot file a summary suit under Section 9 of the Specific Relief Act for recovery of possession. (1908) 7 Cal LJ 547 (548, 551, 552) (DB)  AIR 1918 Cal 137 (137) (DB).

(28) Wrongful attachment under Section 145 — Suit based on injury to property maintainable, though there is provision for award of costs in respect of proceedings under the sections. AIR 1968 Pat 248 (253) = 1969 BLJR 411 (DB).

(29) An order of a Magistrate directing the recovery of a sum of money from a lessee holding certain property under a Receiver appointed in proceedings under Section 145, as damages for alleged waste (namely over-cropping of cocoanut trees) is altogether without jurisdiction. AIR 1959 Ker 55 (56) = 1959 Cri LJ 196 (DB).

(30) A Magistrate acting under Section 145 has no doubt, no jurisdiction to pass an order of attachment specifically with respect to movable property but where an order is passed in respect of immovable property which may incidentally include movable property which is either appurtenant to or lying in the immovable property, the order cannot be said to be suffering from any such infirmity. AIR 1963 J and K 2 (3) = 1962 Kash LJ 3 = 1963 (1) Cr LJ 52.

(31) Reaped crop of sugar-cane grown on disputed plot is also included under land and can alone be attached under proviso to sub-section (4) of Section 145 without attachment of the land, when the dispute was not only with regard to the land but also the standing or reaped sugar-cane crop. 1963 All Cr R 346 = 1963 All WR (HC) 620.

AIR 1968 Manipur 24 (25) = 1968 Cr LJ 188.

(33) An order of attachment under this section does not imply a prohibition against the parties concerned or even an outsider from entering into possession of the property attached — A violation of such an order by any person cannot be punished under Section 188, Penal Code. But he can be proceeded against under Section 447, Penal Code or under Contempt of Courts Act. AIR 1961 Assam 94 (95, 96) = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 64  1968 All WR (HC) 448 (450) (DB).

25. "Crops or other produce subject to speedy and natural decay" — Sub-section (8). — (1) If the land with the crop is attached, the Magistrate has full power to deal with the crop apart from the provisions of Section 145 (8). AIR 1943 Pat 124 (125, 126) = 44 Cri LJ 414 (DB)  AIR 1955 Him Pra 4 (5) = 1955 Cri LJ 265.

(2) Where in proceedings under Section 145, standing crops are attached and kept in the custody of sapurdar it is the bounden duty of the Magistrate under the provisions of Cl. (8) of Section 145 to make an order to the effect that the property should be sold and the sale proceeds of such property should be kept in the custody of the sapurdar which upon the completion of the inquiry, could be made over to the person entitled to it. AIR 1960 All 380 (382) = 1960 Cri LJ 730 (DB).

(3) The word "produce" is not necessarily confined to what is grown from the ground. It refers also to finished articles or semi-finished articles made from raw material. AIR 1930 Oudh 165 (166) = 31 Cri LJ 688.

(4) The mere fact that a sale has not commenced at the appointed hour or that it did not continue till the close of the day does not make it irregular. AIR 1959 Mys 50 (51) = ILR (1958) Mys 151 = 1959 Cri LJ 340.

(5) It is necessary for a Magistrate to pass such order as he thinks fit under Section 145 (8), even though he is of opinion that in a revision against his order declaring one of the parties to be in possession the High Court, while setting aside the order, has given no definite finding on the question of possession. He should consider whether prima facie one of the two parties is entitled to the money in deposit. 1956 Pat LR 594 (596).

26. Procedure at the inquiry. — (1) The procedure to be adopted in an inquiry under this section is prescribed by the section itself. AIR 1923 Pat 53 (54) = 24 Cri LJ 595 (DB).

(2) The inquiry is necessarily a short and summary one, and the words "if possible" in sub-section (4) show that it is unnecessary for the Magistrate to

(3) Under Section 145, as amended, for the purposes of the inquiry affidavits alone are essential and not the oral statements. However, the proviso to Section 145 (4) empowers the Magistrate to summon and examine any person whose affidavit has been put in as to the facts contained therein. Adducing evidence by way of documents and affidavits being a rule and oral testimony being an exception to be permitted only at the discretion of the Magistrate, it is necessary to exercise such discretion only in fit cases. Further, its exercise should be judicial and not arbitrary. 1957-1 Andh WR 210 (211)  AIR 1965 Tripura 43 (44) = 1965 (2) Cri LJ 811.

(4) A Magistrate enquiring into a matter arising under S. 145 is not precluded from recording oral evidence if he considers such evidence to be necessary. To say that sub-s. (4) of the section which requires a Magistrate enquiring into a matter under Section 145 to peruse the statements, document and affidavits produced by the parties and conclude the enquiry on the basis of those materials bars him from recording oral evidence is to overlook the provisions of sub-section (9) which controls sub-section (4). 1962 Mad LJ (Cri) 354 = ILR (1961) Mys 964.

(5) Where the Magistrate had not been requested by the opposite party to call any of persons who had put in their affidavits as witnesses and he did not feel it necessary to summon any of the deponents for examination he acts entirely within his powers in confining his attention to the affidavits and other documentary evidence produced in the case. AIR 1957 Mys 43 (43) = ILR (1956) Mys 369 = 1957 Cri LJ 467.

(6) By virtue of the first proviso to Section 145 (4) only those persons who have filed affidavits can be examined as witnesses. AIR 1958 Orissa 79 (80) = ILR (1957) Cut 676 = 1958 Cri LJ 650  AIR 1966 Orissa 170 (172) = 32 Cut LT 256 = 1966 Cri LJ 935. (AIR 1964 Mad 263, Dissented from.)  (1959) 25 Cut LT 86.

(7) Procedure at inquiry into question of possession — There must be sworn affidavits or evidence by person who may be examined as provided under Section 145 (9) or documents put in by parties in support of their claims — Enquiry reports by some police or other officers not put in by parties, and not sworn to nor makers of reports examined before Court — Held, reports could not be considered by Magistrate. 1967 Cr LJ 1243 (1244) = 1965 BLJR 427.

(8) If a party in a proceeding under Section 145 is absent, the Magistrate can proceed ex parte, and hear the other party present and then decide whether the other party is entitled to an order in its favour. AIR 1959 Tripura 25 (26) = 1959 Cri LJ 774.

(9) Where the Magistrate has not complied with the mandatory requirements of Section 145 (4), ex facie the order must be held to be improper and from the failure of the Magistrate to take into consideration large portions of the material evidence the natural inference must be that there has been a miscarriage of justice. 1959 Andh LT 610 (613, 614).

(10) Where the Magistrate summarily disposed of the affidavits and written statements without weighing the evidence but relied on report by the Tahsildar and a notice issued by the forest department in support of his conclusion regarding possession and further made a spot enquiry, his order based on such materials cannot be legal and valid and has to be set aside. (1968) 34 Cut LT 475.

(11) Procedure provided for in regard to possession proceedings does not at all give room for dismissal of the application or cancellation of the order passed under sub-section (1) of Section 145, Cr. P. Code on account or as a result of the absence of the parties. A Court, placed in such a situation, can be definite about its inability to come to a conclusion as to possession. It has then to proceed to state a case to a Civil Court as required under sub-section (1) of Section 146. AIR 1959 Andh Pra 425 (425, 426) = 1959 Cri LJ 957.

(12) By the amendment made by Act 26 of 1955 there has been only a change in the mode of conducting the enquiry under Section 145. Any irregularity in the conduct of enquiry cannot by itself suffice to render the final order invalid, unless it can be shown that a party has been materially prejudiced thereby. AIR 1960 Orissa 61 (62) = 25 Cut LT 542 = ILR (1959) Cut 551 = (1959) 1 OJD 530 = 1960 Cri LJ 384.

(13) Interpolations in patta by including the lands in dispute therein — Scribe of affidavit admitting such interpolations — Failure of Magistrate to get the document examined by an expert — Proceedings vitiated. AIR 1968 Pat 129 (130) = 1968 Cri LJ 536.

(14) In proceedings under Section 145 unless the Magistrate is sure about the identity and the description of the land in dispute he cannot hold an enquiry under Section 145 (4). For ascertaining the identity of the subject-matter of dispute he can have local enquiry under Section 148. Such local enquiry must precede the enquiry contemplated under S. 145 (4). It should be held even before the preliminary order is passed or if it is done after the preliminary order is passed the report of enquiry must be made available to the parties and they must be heard on it. AIR 1964 Manipur 3 (4) = 1964 (1) Cri LJ 47 (2).

(15) Where the Magistrate without treating the report of the local inquiry as evidence in the case, has allowed his mind to be influenced by the said report in passing the final order, without supplying the parties with the copies of the report and without affording them opportunity to file objections to the said report it was held that the procedure adopted by the Magistrate was highly improper. AIR 1960 Manipur 43 (44) = 1960 Cri LJ 1643.

(16) If a Magistrate feels that it is necessary to get a report upon the physical features or the measurements of the lands in dispute, he can depute a pleader Commissioner for the purpose. By virtue of the amendments made in the Code in 1955, such a report need not be formally proved. 27. Issue of summons to witnesses — Sub-section (9) — (1) The procedure to be followed is laid down in the section itself. AIR 1940 Oudh 22 (23) = 41 Cri LJ 96  (1905) 32 Cal 1093 (1099) = 2 Cri LJ 679 (DB)  (1903) 30 Cal 508 (514) (DB).

(2) Sub-section (9) of Section 145 gives no right to a party to summon or examine any witness orally apart from the right given to it to adduce evidence as detailed in sub-section (1) and oral examination of a witness must be confined within the limits imposed by the newly added proviso namely, the first proviso to sub-section (4). Hence reading sub-section (9) with the first proviso to sub-section (4), the powers given to a Magistrate under sub-section (9) can only be exercised to summon and examine persons who have filed affidavits. AIR 1961 Punj 187 (188, 189) = 1961 (1) Cr LJ 708 = 63 Punj LR 63 (DB). (Observation in AIR 1960 Raj 15, Held, obiter and Dissented from.)  1962 (1) Cr LJ 60 (60) = (1961) 3 Orissa JD 261. (3) It has, however, been held that sub-section (9) to Section 145 is absolute in its terms and is not subject to the conditions laid down in sub-section (4) of Section 145. Having been retained as it stood before the amendment of 1955, sub-section (9) must be given its full meaning and cannot be disposed of as being very apt. The powers under sub-section (9) to summon a witness directing him to attend or produce a document at any stage of the proceedings on the application of the parties are not in any way affected by the first proviso to sub-section (4) and the Magistrate can summon any witness under Section 145 (9) to give evidence to or produce a document even though he may not have filed an affidavit under Section 145 (1). (6) Though the Court has discretion in summoning witnesses, it is not the same thing to say that there is no provision in law. The effect of rejecting the applications made by both the parties for summoning witnesses, who have given affidavits for examination and cross examination is to shut out the evidence and this will vitiate the decision made on merits. AIR 1968 Mys 16 (17) = (1967) 1 Mys LJ 256 = 1968 Cr LJ 71.

(8) The words 'at any stage of the proceedings' and 'on the application of either party' in sub-section (9) of Section 145 signify that a party can submit an application under that sub-section at any stage of the proceedings. There is no bar to submit it after the closure of the evidence. AIR 1968 Raj 324 (326) = 1968 Cr LJ 1578.

28. Power to adjourn enquiry. — (1) The parties have no right to obtain time from the Court. AIR 1952 Mys 4 (5) = 1952 Cri LJ 111.

(2) The Magistrate has a discretion in proper cases to adjourn the enquiry to enable the parties to file written statements of their claims. AIR 1952 Mys 4 (5) = 1952 Cri LJ 111.

(3) Proceedings under Section 145, Cr. P. C. are meant to be taken immediately in order to prevent breach of the peace if there is such an apprehension. The case should not be repeatedly adjourned without giving any reason. 1962 Raj LW 384 = ILR (1962) 12 Raj 642.

29. Perusal of statements, documents and affidavits. — (1) The word 'peruse' used in sub-section (4) of Section 145 means 'to go through critically' that is, 'to read attentively and examine critically in detail one by one'. AIR 1962 Pat 253 (253) = 1961 BLJR 833 = 1962 (1) Cri LJ 752  AIR 1967 Manipur 23 (27) = 1967 Cri LJ 1342  AIR 1962 Pat 249 (251) = 1962 BLJR 865 = 1962 (1) Cri LJ 749.

(2) It is imperative, that the Magistrates should peruse the affidavits filed by the parties and also other statements, and documents if any, as required by Section 145 (4) of the Code. That being so, the order of the Magistrate must show that he has considered the affidavits, that is, he has applied his judicial mind to the assertions contained therein. (6) Competency of witnesses to speak about possession is no ground to rely upon them — Magistrate refusing to rely upon such witnesses does not commit any error of law — Magistrate has to decide whether they are truthful witnesses and not merely competent witnesses. AIR 1970 Pat 97 (100) = 1969 BLJR 675 = 1970 Cri LJ 481.

(3) The words "hear the parties" occurring in sub-section (4) of Section 145, Cr. P. (4) Under Section 145 (4) as amended by Act XXVI of 1955 the statement on affidavit must be taken into consideration. It will not do for the Magistrate to brush aside statements on affidavit by saying that it has no evidentiary value as they are ex parte matters. If. however, the Magistrate finds that statements on affidavit are such that he is not able to get much assistance in order to determine who is in possession then it is open to him to summon, and examine any person whose affidavit is put in as to the facts contained therein. Failure by Magistrate to take into consideration the affidavits filed vitiates his order. AIR 1959 Pat 430 (431) = 1959 Cri LJ 1098.

38. Cancellation of the preliminary order — Sub-section (5). — (1) If in the course of proceedings the Magistrate finds at any stage that there is, or has been, no dispute, likely to cause a breach of the peace, he should cancel the preliminary order and stay all further proceedings thereon. (5) Where on the recent survey settlement papers, one party was recorded in exclusive possession over one plot and the other party was recorded in exclusive possession over the remaining, the question of joint possession will not arise, and, therefore, that cannot be a ground for dropping the proceeding. AIR 1962 Pat 415 (416, 417) = 1962 BLJR 459 = 1962 (2) Cri LJ 623.

(6) Merely because there has been no further violence it cannot be said that there would be no breach of the peace. AIR 1947 Mad 133 (134) = 48 Cri L Jour 435.

(7) The fact that the evidence adduced by the parties is equally balanced is no ground for dropping the proceedings. AIR 1962 Pat 415 (417) = 1962 BLJR 459 = 1962 (2) Cri LJ 623. (Proper order to be passed in such circumstances is one under Section 146 (1).)

(8) The mere institution of a civil suit, or the fact that a decision as to possession was incidentally arrived at in a criminal case, or the fact that one of the parties gives an undertaking not to enter the land does not per se put an end to the dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace. AIR 1935 Oudh 255 (256) = 36 Cri L Jour 464  AIR 1956 All 12 (13) = 1956 Cri L Jour 3  AIR 1953 Nag 356 (356, 357) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1795.

(9) When the Magistrate has the guidance of the civil Court as to who is the person entitled to the properties which were attached under Section 145, he is empowered to pass an order dropping the proceedings and an incidental order releasing properties in favour of the party found entitled by the decision of the Civil Court. 1963 (1) Cri LJ 697 (698) = 40 Mys LJ 749 = 1964 Mad LJ (Cri) 60.

(10) Where during the pendency of proceedings under Section 145, Criminal P. ILR (1965) 17 Assam 439 (441, 442).

(12) Mere absence of both the parties would not be a sufficient ground for dropping the proceedings. AIR 1952 Mys 4 (7) = 1952 Cri L Jour 111  1955 Raj LW 536 (536).

(13) Only one party filing written statement and documents — Magistrate must either decide question of possession on basis of written statement and documents filed by a party, if possible, or proceed under Section 146 — Proceedings can be terminated only when he is satisfied that there is no apprehension of breach of peace but not simply on ground of default of parties. AIR 1965 Pat 469 (470, 472) = 1965 BLJR 239 = 1965 (2) Cri LJ 664.

(14) Parties applying for time alleging that they were not ready with their documents so as to file written statements and affidavits — It cannot be said that they did not want to contest the proceedings — Hence it cannot be said that dispute in respect of which preliminary order was passed had ceased to exist — Proceedings should not be dropped. (1967) 33 Cut LT 953 (959) = ILR (1967) Cut 669.

(15) If there has been a subsequent settlement between the parties or if the petitioner has agreed to give up his right to possession, the proceedings under this can be dropped. AIR 1962 Pat 415 (416, 417) = 1962 (2) Cri LJ 623 = 1962 BLJR 459.

(16) Even where both the parties present a joint petition for dropping the proceedings the Magistrate should satisfy himself that the compromise between the parties is a real one and not a device to get the dispute out of Court and fight it out in their own way. AIR 1952 Vindh Pra 81 (82) = 1953 Cri L Jour 66  1955 All L Jour 656 (656).

(17) Where the Magistrate decides that the case under Section 145 will continue and separate proceedings under Sec. 107 are required, he cannot pass an order cancelling his previous order directing attachment of property. AIR 1951 Ajmer 12 (Pr 5).

(23) Neither parties nor any person interested, showing that no dispute existed relating to land — Magistrate dropping proceeding relying on report of Circle Inspector — Order held was not lawful. AIR 1966 Tripura 6 (7) = 1966 Cri LJ 302.

(24) Parties not called upon to file written statements and adduce evidence — Magistrate making site inspection and dropping proceedings on the ground that there was no apprehension of breach of peace on that date as he found opposite party on the land — Held, that in dropping proceedings abruptly in that manner he had acted arbitrarily without any regard to procedure laid down by law. 1962 Raj LW 384.

(25) On the making of an order dropping the proceedings, the Magistrate is functus officio and has no jurisdiction thereafter to pass any order relating to the claims of the parties, or to the disposal of the property or the crops thereon. [But see (1902) 2 Weir 108 (108) (DB).]

(26) With the cancellation of the preliminary order the Magistrate becomes functus officio except, to pass orders necessary to wind up the proceedings, and so he ceases to have jurisdiction to pass an order that one of the two contestants should not interfere with the possession of the other over the property in dispute. AIR 1970 Manipur 12 (14) = 1970 Cri LJ 57.

(27) The Magistrate cannot simultaneously act both under sub-section (5) and under sub-sections (4) and (6). Once the Magistrate cancels the preliminary order, it befits him to ensure that none out of the parties arrayed before him gets an advantage at the expense of another. The ideal step to take on cancellation of preliminary order under sub-section (5) would be to restore the parties to the

(28) It has however been held that after dropping a proceeding under Section 145, Cr. P. AIR 1957 Orissa 92 (93) = 1957 Cri LJ 526  1968 Cri LJ 1002 (1003) = 1968 MPLJ 237  AIR 1967 Orissa 182 (184) = 32 Cut LT 1194 = 1967 Cri LJ 1549  (1965) 31 Cut LT 132 = ILR (1964) Cut 78  AIR 1963 All 148 (152) = (1963) 1 Cri LJ 399 = 1962 All LJ 894  AIR 1961 Orissa 121 (122) = 1961 (2) Cri LJ 133 = 27 Cut LT 23  AIR 1960 Raj 216 (218, 219) = 1960 Cr LJ 1138 = 1960 Raj LW 37.

(29) Where the profits, rents or realizations from the attached property are in deposit in Court, the proper course to adopt, on the cancellation of the preliminary order, would be to keep the amount in deposit in Court, until the party entitled to it has established his rights in a proper proceeding. (30) It has been held that after the cancellation of the preliminary order by an order under this sub-section, the Magistrate has jurisdiction to place the parties, so far as possible, in the position they occupied in relation to the land or crops before the order under sub-section (1) was passed. (33) Under the guise of passing an ancillary order the Magistrate cannot render the provisions of sub-section (6) of Section 145, or of Section 146, nugatory by dropping the proceeding under Section 145, and then pass an order for the purpose of either handing over the property to the party who, according to him was in possession prior to the commencement of the proceeding or keeping it in charge of a third party Receiver. (34) When subsequent to the dropping of the proceedings under Sec. 145, Cr. P. (36) Magistrate passing order under Section 145 (6) even after holding that no apprehension of breach of peace existed and no action under Section 145 was called for — Held, Magistrate acted illegally and in excess of jurisdiction in passing order under Section 145 (6) as he had become functus officio on finding that no apprehension of breach of peace existed. 1966 All WR (HC) 536 = 1966 All Cri R 318.

40. "Any other person interested". — (1) The "person interested" who is enabled under sub-section (5) to show that no dispute exists or has existed does not become a "party" to the proceedings. (4) The judgment of the Magistrate must be self-contained, so self-contained that the finding with regard to possession can be sustained by a bare perusal of it. It is not sufficient if the order merely states that possession has been proved nor is it sufficient if it states that the evidence which has been first in the case was not satisfactory on that point. 1967 Cri LJ 1726 (1727) = (1967) 2 Mys LJ 255.

"In respect of amendments made in this section by Act 26 of 1955, the Joint Committee observe: If the Magistrate cannot come to a decision on the question of possession, he should draw up a statement of the facts of the case and refer the matter to a Civil Court for decision. In order to avoid any delay, the Magistrate himself should fix a date on which the parties are to appear before the Civil Court. The Civil Court should take into consideration the evidence on record and such further evidence as it may think necessary. It should conclude its inquiry within a period of three months, at the latest and transmit its finding to the Magistrate that made the reference, and the Magistrate should dispose of the case in accordance with the decision of the Civil Court. The Civil Court should determine only the question of possession and not the question of title. The proceedings before it would be analogous to a suit for possession under Section 9 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877. No appeal, review or revision shall lie against the finding of the Civil Court. Such a finding, however, will not debar any person from instituting a suit for a declaration of his title and for recovery of possession."—J.C.R., Gaz. of Ind., 1954, Ext., Pt. 2, p. 418.

(3) Under sub-section (1-A) of Sec. 146 it is not open to the Civil Court to call for further evidence. The initiative under that section, after the reference has been received in the Civil Court, is with the parties and all that is necessary under Section 146 is that the parties must be given ample opportunity to place their respective cases before the Civil Court. If, however, they do not avail of this opportunity and do not address the Court, the Civil Court is within jurisdiction in giving a decision upon the question of possession on the evidence that is already on the record. AIR 1960 Pat 519 (520, 521) = 1960 Cri LJ 1487 = 1960 BLJR 428. (Sub-section (1-A) of Section 146 as amended in 1955 has put upon the Civil Courts a statutory duty regarding consideration of evidence which is already on record.)

6C. "Hearing the parties." — (1) The expression 'hearing the parties' in Section 146 (1A) would not include the taking of evidence of the parties as witnesses but is limited to hearing arguments only. (2) Under sub-section (1A) the parties are at liberty to produce any further evidence that they may like to produce. 6F. Dispose of the proceedings in conformity with the decision of Civil Court. — (1) Sub-clause (1-B) of Section 146 leaves no alternative to the Magistrate but to carry out the decision of the Civil Court. It is not the function of the Magistrate to question the finding of the Civil Court. Once the Magistrate has done so, his order cannot be said to be illegal. (4) The order itself need not be long, but it should contain sufficient material to indicate to the revisional Court that the Court of enquiry had applied its mind to the case, and had made a genuine attempt to give a decision in the matter and in spite of it had found itself unable to come to any definite conclusion in favour of either party, and hence it was taking action under this section. (4) Where the Court passes an order of attachment and the order is subsequently found to be erroneous and without jurisdiction, the person aggrieved by such an order has no cause of action for damages against the party who procured such an order as the Court is not an agent of the litigant so as to make that litigant liable for errors of law or procedure which the Court commits. (5) Where third parties are injured when the Magistrate takes possession of the attached property they have only two remedies: they can apply to the Magistrate to withdraw the attachment on the ground that no fear of breach of the peace exists any longer or else they can file a suit to establish that they are the persons entitled to possession. AIR 1943 Nag 246 (247) = 44 Cri L Jour 739.

(6) Prior to amendment of 1955 — Attachment under Sec. 146 — Declaratory suit is maintainable at the instance of a person who is in possession but has no title. 1961 (2) Cri LJ 880 (883 to 885) (Pat) (DB).

9. Withdrawal of attachment. — (1) The proviso to sub-section (1) gives no direction as to whom the Magistrate is to hand over the property if he is satisfied that there is no likelihood of a breach of the peace. AIR 1944 All 210 (211) = 45 Cri L Jour 769.

(2) It is impossible for the Magistrate to withdraw the attachment until it is agreed between the parties concerned in Court, as to whom the property should be made over. The Magistrate's satisfaction therefore that there is no longer a likelihood of a breach of the peace is equivalent to his being able to hand over the property to somebody with the consent of the parties concerned and unless there is agreement on the point the Magistrate must keep it attached until the question has been decided by a competent Court. AIR 1944 All 210 (211) = 45 Cri L Jour 769 °° AIR 1953 Trav-Co 388 (389) = 1953 Cri L Jour 1566.

(3) In withdrawing attachment Magistrate may make over possession of the property to any party he thinks fit, and is not bound simply to direct the receiver to abandon the property leaving the parties to scramble for it; but in making over possession to any particular party, he should exercise a sound discretion. AIR 1926 Oudh 146 (146, 147) = 26 Cri L Jour 1629.

[See also 1957 Andh LT 682 (685).]

(4) The power of Court to grant restitution is not confined to the proviso to Section 146 (1) but the Magistrate has inherent power to grant restitution of property to the person from whom it was taken on the date of the preliminary order after he had passed an order under Section 145 (5) that there was no likelihood of breach of peace. ILR (1954) Hyd 892 (900, 901).

10. Appointment of a receiver. — Sub-section (2). — (1) Appointment of receiver of attached property can only be made under the circumstances mentioned in this section and after the completion of the inquiry. (1912) 13 Cri L Jour 536 (536) (Mad).

(2) A person who has shown a partiality for one of the parties or a party to the action should not be appointed a receiver unless by consent, or unless there are special circumstances justifying his appointment in preference to others. AIR 1927 Pat 393 (394) = 28 Cri L Jour 776 (DB).

(3) A Court is bound to hear both sides and cannot delegate its function to any other authority in the absence of any specific and lawful provision authorising such delegation. It is therefore not desirable for a Magistrate to delegate to a subordinate of his the necessary enquiry to be conducted even if it be in the limited field of management of properties ordered to be attached under Section 146 (1). (2) Magistrate is not prohibited from proceeding under this section merely on the ground that proceedings under Section 107 are pending. AIR 1936 Sind 147 (147) = 37 Cri L Jour 1036 (DB).

(3) Magistrate can proceed under Section 107 or under Section 144, especially if an inquiry into dispute referred to in Section 147 would involve an investigation into complicated questions relating to the title of the parties. In its application to the State of Gujarat, the amendment made in Section 147 is the same as that made in Maharashtra— See Central Act XI of 1960, Section 87.

NOTE.—For the appointment of an Executive Magistrate for the City of Ahmedabad, see Guj. Act XIX of 1961, Section 14 (3A) as inserted by Guj. Act LI of 1963, Section 2.

AIR 1950 Assam 165 (Pr 7) = ILR (1951) 3 Assam 52  AIR 1936 Pat 59 (60) = 37 Cri L Jour 378  AIR 1967 Orissa 198 (199) = 1967 Cri LJ 1672 = 34 Cut LT 118. (If however, Magistrate adopts a proceeding under Section 107, his action is not without jurisdiction.)

[See also AIR 1966 J & K 29 (30) = 1966 Cri LJ 145 = 1966 Kash LJ 1  AIR 1958 Tripura 47 (48) = 1958 Cri L Jour 1554. (Dispute about right to collect toll in Bazar raging for sometime past — Proceedings under Section 145 or 147 and not under Section 144 held appropriate.)]

(5) Magistrate has no jurisdiction to start a proceeding under this section at the instance of the party restrained by an order under Section 144 which is in force. The proper course for the Magistrate is to deal with such party for any breach of the order if and when any fresh attempt is made to disturb the peace. AIR 1951 Assam 77 (Pr. 6) = ILR (1950) 2 Assam 386 (DB).

(6) Obstruction to free flow of water in nullah causing inundation — Proceeding under Section 147 is not proper when there is no claim of right of use of water or any interference therewith — Proceedings under Section 133 may be resorted to. (1858) 24 Cut LT 394 (395).

(7) Dispute relating to right of user of land — Claimed as incident of ownership — Claim of ownership by both parties — Magistrate to proceed under Section 145 and not under Section 147. 1968 Cr LJ 1386 (1389) = 1968 Raj LW 300  1969 Cri LJ 579 (580) = 1968 Pat LJR 382.

(8) Difference between proceedings under Sections 145 and 147 lies in nature of right and not with manner of inquiry or with order. AIR 1960 Assam 90 (92, 93, 94) = 1960 Cri LJ 794.

(9) A right to worship in a particular place must involve the right to use that particular place for a particular purpose or in a particular manner. It must therefore be held that an inquiry into the existence of the alleged right of the general public to go upon the disputed land for the purpose of worshipping the idol and the Bargad tree falls within the ambit of Section 147. 1969 Pat LJR 470 (474).

(10) Jurisdiction to take action under — Magistrate has no jurisdiction unless there is likelihood of any breach of peace. (1970) 72 Punj LR 118 (120).

(11) In a proceeding under Sec. 147 the Magistrate has to find whether the right of user which has been claimed in the property exists, and then he has to find whether such right has been exercised within a period of three months next before the institution of the inquiry, in cases where the right is exercisable at all time of the year, or during the last of the seasons or occasions before the institution of the inquiry where the right is exercisable only at particular seasons or particular occasions. 1969 Pat LJR 470 (475).

2. Nature of proceedings. — (1) District Magistrate has power to transfer a proceeding under this section under Sections 192 and 528. AIR 1949 All 616 (Pr 5) = 50 Cri L Jour 929  AIR 1923 Pat 366 (367) = 24 Cri L Jour 487.

3. "Is satisfied from police-report or other information." — (1) The jurisdiction of the Magistrate to institute proceedings under this section arises on his being satisfied that a dispute exists concerning the right of user of land or water and further that such a dispute is likely to cause a breach of the peace. AIR 1950 Assam 165 (Pr 7) = ILR (1951) 3 Assam 52 °° AIR 1940 Cal 330 (330) = 41 Cri L Jour 728 (DB).

AIR 1950 Assam 165 (Pr 10) = ILR (1951) 3 Assam 52.

(4) Magistrate making use of police-report for satisfying himself as to existence of dispute — Examination of Police officer to ascertain correctness of Police report not necessary. AIR 1931 All 14 (15) = 32 Cri L Jour 309.

(2) Where the rights of the parties have been already determined by a Court of law, Magistrate cannot take proceedings under this section inasmuch as the object of an inquiry under this section is only to find out if the alleged right exists. AIR 1927 Bom 654 (655) = 28 Cri L Jour 578 °° AIR 1952 Pat 251 (252) = 1952 Cri L Jour 765.

5. Right of user of land or water. — (1) This section applies only to cases where the dispute relates to the right of user of land or water and not to disputes concerning immovable property itself. [See however AIR 1956 Cal 231 (231) = 1956 Cri L Jour 616.]

(8) Order as to costs under Sec. 148 (3) should be deemed to be part of the order passed under Section 147 and, therefore, the part of the order relating to costs must also be deemed to be subject to the decision of a Civil Court of competent jurisdiction. (Decree of civil Court not setting aside or modifying order of Magistrate as to costs — Order set aside only with regard to rights of parties — That did not affect other part of the order regarding costs.)

C. — He has jurisdiction to order payment of costs under Section 148 (3). 1957 Cri L Jour 153 (155) (Pat).

(10) No period of limitation is prescribed for assessment of costs in Section 148 (3) or any other provision of the Code. Once therefore, a direction for payment of costs has been made by the Magistrate passing the final order, there is no reason why any delay short of unreasonable delay which is caused in the proceeding for assessment of costs, should preclude the successful party from getting what the Magistrate, who decided the case under Section 145, directed that he would get. AIR 1959 Pat 151 (152, 153) = 1959 Cri L Jour 506.

(8) Sub-section (3) of Section 148 gives a very wide discretion to the Magistrate for the assessment of the amount of costs and the only restriction which this sub-section appears to place upon the Magistrate's discretion is that the costs must be reasonable. AIR 1959 Pat 151 (153) = 1959 Cri L Jour 506.

(9) Where the order directs the first party to bear the pleader's costs incurred by the second party, the successor Magistrate is not entitled to assess costs incurred by the second party in respect of other items than the pleader's fees. AIR 1959 Pat 151 (153) = 1959 Cri L Jour 506.

8. When order for costs should be made. — (1) The awarding of costs is entirely within the discretion of the Court. Section 148 (3) does not prescribe any time limit for the awarding of costs. AIR 1968 Andh Pra 383 (384) = 1968 Cri LJ 1645 = (1968) 2 Andh WR 512.

(5) The scope of Section 23, Police Act, is not wider than Section 151. The legal authority to arrest is circumscribed by the provisions of Section 151 Criminal P. (8) To arrest a person merely because he belongs to a particular party and that party has a programme to commit some offences in general is to exercise the powers of preventive detention. (9) It has been held that the question whether the police-officer had the knowledge required by the section and whether the commission of the designed offence could have been prevented otherwise than by the arrest of the person are matters entirely within the purview of the police-officer and are not capable of independent investigation by the Court while enquiring into the legality of the detention. 4. "Shall be reduced to writing by him or under his direction, and be read over."
5. "Shall be signed by the person giving it."
6. "Officer in charge of a police-station."

8. Importance of first information.
9. How to use first information report.
10. First information by accused.
10A. Commencement of investigation.
11. Duty of the prosecution to tender first information report in evidence.
12. Grant of copies of first information.
13. Effect of giving false information under this section.
14. Effect of the police-officer in charge recording first information falsely.
15. Power of High Court to interfere under Section 561A.

1. Scope and object. — (1) One of the modes by which a person aggrieved may put the criminal law into motion is by giving information under this section. (1890) 17 Cal 574 (577) (FB) °° (1962) 4 Orissa JD 323 (329).

[See AIR 1959 All 45 (Pr 10) = 1959 Cri L Jour 7 (DB). (Prosecution commences with the lodging of complaint.)]

(2) The information so given is called the "first information." It is a basis upon which an investigation is commenced under this chapter. (1912) 13 Cri L Jour 65 (89) (Cal) °° AIR 1958 Andhra Pra 37 (Pr 15) = 1958 Cri L Jour 18 (DB) °° AIR 1958 Bom 125 (Pr 11) = ILR (1958) Bom 96 = 1958 Cri L Jour 481 (DB) °° AIR 1958 Mad 368 (Prs. 22, 23) = 1958 Cri L Jour 906 °° AIR 1958 Tripura 40 (Prs. 10, 11) = 1958 Cri L Jour 1549 °° AIR 1925 Cal 831 (833) = 26 Cri L Jour 1213 (DB).

(3) But the receipt and recording of an information report is not a condition precedent to the setting in motion of a criminal investigation. AIR 1945 PC 18 (20) = 71 Ind App 203 = ILR (1945) Lah 1 = 46 Cri L Jour 413 = ILR (1945) Kar (PC) 89 °° AIR 1958 Andh Pra 37 (Pr. 15) = 1958 Cri L Jour 18 (DB).

(4) The object of this section is threefold.

(a) Firstly, to inform the Magistrate of the district and the District Superintendent of Police who are responsible for the peace and safety of the district of the offences reported at the station (1897) 20 All 151 (154) (DB).

(b) Secondly, to make known to the judicial officers before whom the case is ultimately tried, what are the facts given out immediately after the occurrence and on what materials the investigation commenced. AIR 1942 Pat 113 (117) = 43 Cri L Jour 90 (DB) °° (1903) 7 Cal WN 345 (347, 348) (DB) °° (1907) 6 Cri L Jour 86 (88) (DB) (Cal).

(c) Thirdly, to safeguard the accused against subsequent variations or additions. AIR 1931 Pat 150 (151) = 32 Cri L Jour 638 (DB).

(5) The section does not make it incumbent on the informant to state facts in the first information report showing that the Court has jurisdiction to try the offence. Therefore the question of jurisdiction cannot be decided with reference to the first information report. AIR 1956 Punj 127 (128) (Prs 3, 6) = 1956 Cri L Jour 774.

(6) The information need not mention the circumstances of the commission of the offence or the names of the offenders or the witnesses. AIR 1958 Andh Pra 37 (Pr 15) = 1958 Cri L Jour 18 (DB).

(7) Section 1, sub-section (2) renders this section inapplicable to the cases arising in Calcutta. AIR 1940 Cal 97 (103) = 41 Cri L Jour 329 (DB).

(8) By itself Section 242 (1) of the Companies Act (1956) does not divest a police officer of the jurisdiction conferred upon him under Section 154 of the Code. Section 630 of the Companies Act, 1956 provides no statutory bar to the exercise of the jurisdiction vested in a police officer under Section 154. AIR 1957 Mad 65 (Prs 15, 16) = 1957 Cri L Jour 205.

2. What is first information. — (1) The information recorded under this section is known as "first information" though the word "first" is not mentioned in the Code. (2) The information contemplated by the section is usually given by the complainant or by somebody on his behalf. AIR 1924 All 207 (207) = 25 Cri L Jour 490.

(3) The information need not necessarily be given by a person who has first-hand knowledge of the facts and may be merely hearsay. AIR 1941 Rang 209 (211) = 43 Cri L Jour 157 (DB) °° ILR (1967) 1 Ker 640 (DB).

(4) A telephone message given to the police about the commission of a cognizable offence can be recorded by the station-writer as a first information report and the station-writer can sign it himself as the person giving the information. AIR 1941 Rang 209 (211) = 43 Cri L Jour 157 (DB).

(5) As the word "first" indicates, "first information" is that information which is given first in point of time and on which the investigation is commenced by the police. (6) Three different versions of occurrence — Statement of persons who had given first information report which would not be hit by Section 162 held should have been produced in order to enable Court to arrive at the real truth in the case. AIR 1964 Tripura 45 (48) = 1964 (2) Cri LJ 213.

(7) Where, information of the commission of the same offence is given to the police at two different places by different persons at different times not far separated, both the reports will be independent "first information reports"; the later in respect of time cannot be said to be a statement made in the course of investigation. (8) As a matter of fact all statements, whether one or more, relating to the commission of a cognizable offence made to the police before the commencement of investigation can very well be designated as first information reports. 1951 Raj LW 105 (109) (DB) °° AIR 1959 J & K 105 (Pr 4, 5) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1168 °° AIR 1958 Bom 125 (Pr 11) = ILR (1958) Bom 96 = 1958 Cri L Jour 481 (DB) °° AIR 1957 All 755 = ILR (1957) 1 All 479 = 1957 Cri L Jour 1200 (DB).

(11) Where, no formal investigation is commenced upon the information, such information does not fall under this section, nor would statements recorded by the police till they commence the investigation come within the provisions of Section 162. (25) If someone goes to a police-station and definitely tells the officer-in-charge that a cognizable offence has been committed and that statement is made with a view to inducing the police-officer to enquire into the matter, there is no reason for refusing to call it information relating to the commission of a cognizable offence within the meaning of this section. (30) In dacoity or theft cases, the list of stolen property is regarded as part of the first information report and it should be signed. (31) Very often the F. I. R. lodged with the Police is not a complete document and during the interval between the F. I. The list properly fell under Section 154 and was not hit by Section 162. AIR 1959 J & K 105 (Prs 4, 5) = 1959 Cri L Jour 1168.

(33) Where the police upon receipt of a telephonic message, which was not a first information report, inasmuch as it did not comply with the provisions of Section 154 but it furnished materials to the police for action and the police upon those materials commenced investigation under Section 156 and thereafter a list of articles stolen was given to the police the list comes within the mischief of Section 162 and is inadmissible in evidence on behalf of the prosecution. 3. "Relating to the commission of a cognizable offence." — (1) The conditions that necessitate the recording of an information under this section are, firstly, that it must be an information and, secondly, it must relate to a cognizable offence on the face of it and not merely in the light of subsequent events. (2) It need not give the circumstances of the commission of the crime. The mere fact that an information is first in point of time is not sufficient. AIR 1958 Tripura 1 (Prs 45, 46) = 1958 Cri L Jour 97 °° AIR 1958 Tripura 40 (Prs. 10, 11) = 1958 Cri L Jour 1549.

On the 25th of December K returned to the police and informed them that S was not to be found On the 26th the Sub-Inspector of Police found one of the accused and on questioning him suspected that an offence had been committed. He took the statement of K (a third statement by her) and this was treated as the first information. It was held that since the first two statements did not disclose a cognizable offence, the third statement on the 26th was rightly treated as the first information and that it did not come within Section 162 AIR 1931 Cal 745 (751) = 38 Cri L Jour 138 (DB).

(8) Where a report is made at a police-station it is desirable that the Police-Officer should record it at the police station. But the mere fact that the recording of the report has taken place at the spot instead of at the Police station will not seriously affect the strength of the prosecution case or in any way detract from the value of the evidence of prosecution witnesses unless it can be shown that there is a possibility of fabrication of evidence by the investigating Officer at the spot. 6. "Officer in charge of a police-station."— (1) This section does not apply unless the information is given to an officer in charge of a police-station. An information given to a police-officer who is on tour and who is not an officer in charge of a police-station or one given to a Magistrate, or one given to a police patel, does not come within this section. (4) Till this is done information given at a beat house could not amount to first information report. AIR 1960 Cal 519 (520) = 1960 Cri LJ 1078 (DB).

(5) Under Section 551 a police-officer superior in rank to an officer in charge of a police-station has the same powers as the officer in charge of a police-station. So an information given to a Deputy Superintendent of Police of a murder during a dacoity is first information under this section and is, therefore, admissible in evidence. AIR 1923 Mad 694 (697) = 25 Cri L Jour 7 (DB).

[See also AIR 1961 SC 1117 (1121) = (1961) 2 SCR 295.]

(6) It is not correct to say that police officers superior in rank to officers in charge of a police station may or may not record information which is given to them regarding the commission of a cognizable offence.

AIR 1956 Mys 51 (Pr. 16) = ILR (1956) Mys 118 = 1956 Cri L Jour 904. (Non-recording of F. I. R. by D. S. P. — His non-examination — Accused being deprived of his right to cross-examine is seriously prejudiced — Adverse inference should be drawn against prosecution.)

(7) Two courses should suggest themselves to police officers superior in rank to an officer-in-charge of a police station when information regarding the commission of a cognizable offence is reported to them. When such information is conveyed, the police officer in question must, in cases where he is not inclined to record the information, make arrangements to cause the production of the informant before the police officer-in-charge of the police station so that the said officer may record the information as required under Section 154, Criminal P. C. The other course is to record the information himself in cases where he intends to take action on the first information. AIR 1956 Mys 51 (Pr. 16) = ILR (1956) Mys 118 = 1956 Cri L Jour 904.

(8) Information of the commission of a cognizable offence need not be given only to the officer in charge of a police-station who has territorial jurisdiction under Section 156 to investigate into the case. The officer in charge of any police-station can receive such an information, but the Code is silent as to the procedure to be adopted by the officer in such a case; evidently he has to receive such information and forward it to the officer of a station who will have jurisdiction to investigate into the offence. AIR 1960 Cal 519 (520) = 1960 Cri LJ 1078 (DB).

7. "Shall be entered in a book to be kept by such officer in such form as the State Government may prescribe."— (1) Substance of the information should be entered in book of reports or in general diary or station diary. Omission to enter in general diary or station diary does, however, vitiate the trial. But it would have important bearing on the case if the very substance on which the prosecution was founded was assailed and there were indications to point to the direction that the prosecution story was not an absolutely true story. 1957 All L Jour 963 (965).

(2) After recording the information when given orally to him, the officer in charge of the poilce station has again to write the substance of it in his general diary. Kept under Section 44 of the Police Act, 1861, (not the one mentioned in Section 172 of the Code.) According to the Madras Police Standing Order No. 696 when details of complaints and the names of all the accused in cognizable offences are already given in the first information book and the case diary, they need not be recorded in the general diary. AIR 1949 Mad 663 (Pr 22) = 50 Cri L Jour 950 (DB)  AIR 1961 Tripura 4 (6) = 1961 (1) Cri LJ 160.

(3) The Station House Officer cannot refrain from entering the information in the station diary on the ground that he intends to launch only security proceedings. AIR 1957 Andh Pra 268 (Pr 5) = 1957 Cri L Jour 826.

(4) General diary entry is not the first information report. The entry has not to be signed by the person giving the information. But first information report has to be signed by the person giving it. AIR 1962 Cal 504 (509) = (1962) 2 Cri LJ 354 (DB).

(5) A missing information given by the accused at the police station and entered in the General Diary can be used as a circumstance proving conduct of accused where it destroys presumption of his innocence. AIR 1962 Cal 504 (509) = (1962) 2 Cri LJ 354 (DB).

(6) Police Officer in station recording complaint and getting it signed by the complainant — He later enters the entire complaint in the prescribed book — Entry is not a complaint reduced to writing under Section 154 — Entry cannot be used for corroborative evidence. Section 154 — Note 7 (contd.)

(8) The admissibility of a first information report depends on the fact that a first information report given in writing or taken down by a police officer would be a part of the official record as the substance of such information is to be entered in a book kept by the station officer in the form prescribed as that may attract the operation of the provisions of Section 35, Evidence Act. AIR 1960 Bom 146 (148) = 61 Bom LR 1161 = 1960 Cri LJ 461 (DB).

8. Importance of first information. — (1) The importance of the first information lies in several reasons. It is a statement made soon after the occurrence; hence the memory of informant is fresh and it is also unlikely that he had opportunities of fabrication. AIR 1951 Assam 151 (Pr. 20) = ILR (1951) 3 Assam 439 = 52 Cri L Jour 1457 °° AIR 1958 Andh Pra 571 (Pr. 7) = 1958 Cri L Jour 1118 (DB) °° AIR 1961 Ker 99 (102) = 1961 (1) Cri LJ 505 = 1960 Ker LT 666 (FB).

(2) Testimony of witnesses given in omnibus manner — Evidence has to be tested with reference to first information report. ILR (1964) 2 Mad 978 (981).

(3) The first information is the basis of the case: it puts the police in action; it represents the case set up by the informant at that time. [See AIR 1958 Andh Pra 37 (Pr. 15) = 1958 Cri L Jour 18 (DB).]

(4) The first information report is not a condition precedent to the starting of criminal investigation. In truth the provisions as to an information report (commonly called a first information report) are enacted for other reasons. AIR 1945 PC 18 (20) = 71 Ind App 203 = ILR (1945) Lah 1 = 46 Cri L Jour 413 = ILR (1945) Kar (PC) 89 °° AIR 1959 All 511 (Pr. 1) = 1959 Cri L Jour 936 °° AIR 1956 Mys 51 (Pr. 17) = ILR (1956) Mys 118 = 1956 Cri L Jour 904 °° (1967) 2 Andh WR 420 (421) °° 1962 Raj LW 448. (5-6) If any information sought to be admitted in evidence as F. I. R. does satisfy the condition of Section 154 it would not be admissible as F. I. R. for the prosecution to corroborate the informant in Court while deposing but it may be used by the defence to contradict the informant in the witness box while deposing. AIR 1967 Cal 478 (488) = 1967 Cri LJ 1272 (DB).

(7) The first information has to be very carefully scrutinized. AIR 1943 All 216 (217) = 44 Cri L Jour 555 °° AIR 1924 Lah 413 (415) = 24 Cri L Jour 177.

(8) F. I. R. may in certain circumstances be evidence as to the cause of the informant's death or as part of the res gestae pointing to the informant's conduct. AIR 1967 Cal 478 (488) = 1967 Cri LJ 1272 (DB).

Delay in giving the information. — (9) The Courts have always viewed the information with grave suspicion when there has been delay in giving it. AIR 1952 Cal 621 (Pr. 13) = 1952 Cri L Jour 1427 (DB) °° AIR 1943 All 216 (217) = 44 Cri L Jour 555 °° AIR 1966 Mys 142 (147) = 1966 Cri LJ 672 = (1965) 1 Mys LJ 476.

(10) People very often try to foist crimes committed by some persons known or unknown on the personal enemies of the informants after consultation with other people and in many cases people charged with offences have been acquitted because of the suspicion arising from the delay in giving the information. AIR 1936 All 747 (750) = 37 Cri L Jour 1104 (DB) °° AIR 1958 Mad 135 (Pr. 8) = 1958 Cri L Jour 388 (DB) °° AIR 1926 Lah 496 (496) = 27 Cri L Jour 903 (DB) °° AIR 1924 Cal 975 (976) = 26 Cri L Jour 15 (DB).

(11) One of the essential requisites to ensure a fair trial is that the first information report in respect of a cognisable offence should be lodged as soon as possible. Where the lodging of the report is delayed, it not only gets bereft of its spontaneity, danger also creeps in of the introduction of coloured versions throughout stories and twists to actual facts. ('63) 65 Pun LR 409 (412).

(12) Where all the safeguards, which may go to show that the facts about the occurrence were disclosed at the earliest time, and the first information report was recorded at the time at which it purports to have been done are lacking in the case and it was not a matter of mere coincidence, it may be inferred that the first information report was prepared after great delay and the facts of the occurrence were not disclosed promptly. (1963) 65 Punj LR 409 (414).

(13) Not every piece of information however, vague, intangible and indefinite need be recorded as first information report under Section 154, Cr. P. C. to start an investigation. But to permit a preliminary enquiry before recording the first information report even after definite information as to the commission of an offence is received would be to destroy the value of the first information report and equally to provide room for fabrication of cases. AIR 1968 Mad 117 (127) = 1968 Cri LJ 493 = (1968) 1 Mad LJ 480 (DB).

(14) Delay cannot, by itself, be held to be a reason for rejecting evidence which is otherwise fully entitled to credit. It is only a circumstance which puts the Court on its guard. AIR 1942 Bom 71 (78) = 43 Cri L Jour 529 (FB) °° AIR 1938 Lah 714 (717) = 40 Cri L Jour 261 (DB) °° AIR 1924 Cal 975 (976) = 26 Cri L Jour 15 (DB) °° (1959) 1 OJD 460 = 25 Cut LT 433.

(29) Where the accused names a larger number of witnesses at the trial than the number named in the first information report, it does not make the entire prosecution case false. Difference between the statements in the information and in the evidence given in Court. — (32) The object of the first information is to make known what the case of the informant is against the alleged offenders at the earliest opportunity, when the occurrence took place; so, if at the trial a story is given against the alleged offenders which differs in material particulars from the one given in the information, it has always been viewed with grave suspicion and the accused have been given the benefit of doubt arising from such contradictions and discrepancies. (34) The Magistrate and the Judges while considering omissions in the First Information Report should not derive inference from them like mathematical formulas, but should try to appraise them and find out their true effect in the light of all the circumstances of the case and the materials on record. AIR 1961 Raj 24 (26) = 1960 Raj LW 565 = 1961 (1) Cri LJ 155.

(35) Each case depends upon its own facts and it is for the Court to determine to what extent a particular omission in the first information report fatally affects the prosecution story. 1962 Raj LW 55.

(36) Omission in the F. I. R. will, other things being the same, deprive the prosecution of the most valuable corroboration and thereby make the story suspicious. AIR 1958 Madh Pra 380 (Pr. 13) = 1958 Cri L Jour 1402 (DB).

(37-38) In the case of material discrepancy between the F. I. R. and the prosecution story presented in Court, the testimony may be disregarded and not that it must be disregarded. The doctrine merely involves the question of weight of evidence which the Court may apply in a given set of circumstances, but it is not a mandatory rule of evidence. 1963 (1) Cri LJ 377 (380, 381) = 28 Cut LT 398 (DB).

(39) The inconsistency between the statement in the first information report and the evidence of the informant at the trial would discredit the evidence of the informant to that extent but does not make the statement in the first information report the evidence upon the matter in the case. (40) The inconsistency between the first information report and the evidence of the informant at the trial is a matter for the prosecution to explain in the examination-in-chief and no great weight can be attached to the failure of the defence to cross-examine the informant on the point. AIR 1947 Pat 23 (25) = 25 Pat 298 = 48 Cri L Jour 222 (DB).

(41) When the first information report is not made by an eye-witness but is based on information received, minor discrepancies between the statement of the case as given in the first information report and that appearing in the evidence of the eye-witnesses are immaterial and of no consequence. (45) The terms of the first information which is perhaps given under circumstances of haste and without knowledge of the true facts ought not to be viewed too narrowly. AIR 1958 All 255 (Pr. 74) = 1958 Cri L Jour 424 (DB).

Value of first information report. — (48) The value of the first information report will vary according as it is laid by the complainant or prosecutrix or eye-witnesses to the crime or a mere stranger used for the purpose of laying the information. AIR 1950 Him Pra 18 (Pr 24) = 51 Cri L Jour 786.

(27) Where the State Government extended Sections 154, 161, 162, 163, 172 and 173 of the Code to the Calcutta Police and where Sections 165 and 167 had already been extended but the remaining sections of Chapter 14 remained unextended, the Calcutta Police would find that in the absence of an extension of Section 156 the extension of Sections 161, 162 and 172 had been useless and since their powers under the Calcutta Police Act had not been taken away they would have to continue to make their investigations into cognizable offences under that Act. The investigation cannot be said to be under Chapter 14 of the Code. AIR 1958 Cal 341 (Prs. 9, 10) = 1958 Cri L Jour 881 (DB) °° AIR 1958 Cal 324 (Pr. 15) = 1958 Cri L Jour 865 (DB).

(28) Failure to make an investigation or its continuation in respect of the complaint that the accused himself had made is not always destructive of the prosecution case, although in a proper case such inaction might have the effect of rendering the prosecution story untrustworthy and envelope it in suspicion. Section 157 (contd.)

1. Scope. — (1) The section provides the manner in which investigation is to be conducted where the commission of a cognizable offence is suspected and authorizes an officer in charge of a police-station not to investigate if he considers that there is no sufficient ground for such investigation and regulates his procedure in such cases. AIR 1932 Lah 611 (612) = 33 Cri L Jour 912.

(2) This section does not apply to the police in the town of Calcutta. AIR 1940 Cal 97 (103) = 41 Cri L Jour 329 (DB)  (1888) 15 Cal 595 (606) (FB).

[See also AIR 1958 Cal 324 (Pr. 15) = 1958 Cri L Jour 865 (DB)  AIR 1958 Cal 341 (Prs. 9, 10) = 1958 Cri L Jour 881 (DB).]

Also see S. 1 (2).

(3) By itself Section 242 (1) of the Companies Act, 1956, does not divest a police officer of the jurisdiction conferred upon him by this section, to make investigation into a complaint of the commission of cognizable offences punishable under Ss. 406 and 409 of the Penal Code. AIR 1957 Mad 65 (Pr. 16) = 1957 Cri L Jour 205.

(4) Once the investigation is started by Police, Magistrate has no power to stop it and direct magisterial enquiry. AIR 1970 SC 786 (788).

2. "From information received." — (1) The words "from information received" refer to the information furnished and recorded under Section 154. (1910) 11 Cri L Jour 201 (201) (DB) (Cal).

[See AIR 1958 Andh Pra 37 (Pr. 15) = 1958 Cri L Jour 18 (DB).]

(2) Even, where the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies acts in contravention of any statutory provisions in preferring a complaint to the police, that will not affect the jurisdiction of the police officer to investigate into a complaint of the commission of cognizable offence. AIR 1957 Mad 65 (Pr. 10) = 1957 Cri L Jour 205.

(3) Where on receiving information, a police officer suspects the commission of a cognizable offence the proper provision for taking action is under S. 156 or Section 157. As both the sections are in Chap. XIV an investigation thereunder would be covered by Section 172. AIR 1966 All 222 (224) = 1966 Cri LJ 498 = 1964 All WR (HC) 579.

3. "Or otherwise." — (1) Though ordinary investigation is undertaken on information received by a police officer, the receipt of information is not a condition precedent for investigation. It is clear from S. 157 that an officer-in-charge of a police station can start investigation either on information or otherwise. AIR 1964 SC 221 (223, 224) = 1964 (1) Cri LJ 140 = (1964) 3 SCR 71.

(2) The words "or otherwise" are wide enough to include every source of information other than that furnished and recorded under Section 154. AIR 1915 Mad 312 (313) = 15 Cri L Jour 622 (624) (DB).

(3) Investigation may be commenced even when police are led to believe through their own knowledge or by means of credible though informal intelligence that a cognizable offence has been committed. AIR 1945 PC 18 (20) = 46 Cri L Jour 413 = 71 Ind App 203 = ILR (1945) Lah 1 = ILR (1945) Kar (PC) 89.

(4) Where the police came to know of a complaint which had been made to a Magistrate, such knowledge is sufficient on which they could proceed to investigate. AIR 1923 Pat 547 (549) = 24 Cri L Jour 375.

(5) See also the following case. AIR 1926 All 562 (562) = 27 Cri L Jour 845.

4. "He shall forthwith send a report.... to a Magistrate." — (1) This section provides for the making of a report by the police to the Magistrate before investigation. This is called an "occurrence report." 1899 All WN 87 (89).

(2) Under Section 157 it is obligatory on the police officer in charge of the police station to send forthwith a report of the Commission of the offence to the Magistrate concerned. (1967) 8 Guj LR 350 (352) (DB).

(3) The object of the report under this section is to enable a Magistrate to have early information of every serious crime so that he may be in a position to act if necessary under Section 159. AIR 1931 Pat 150 (151) = 32 Cri L Jour 638 (DB).

(4) Report made to Magistrate as prescribed under Section 157 — Not relevant under Section 35, Evidence Act — Evidence Act (1872), Sections 35, 67, 91 and 157. AIR 1962 Guj 214 (217) = 1962 (2) Cri LJ 55 = (1962) 3 Guj LR 107 (DB).

(5) Police officer delaying sending report to the Magistrate and proceeding upon a more detailed enquiry — Statements recorded during such enquiry are statements recorded during investigation and are hit by Section 162, Cr. P. C. AIR 1968 Mad 117 (127, 128) = 1968 Cri LJ 493 = (1968) 1 Mad LJ 480 (DB).

(6) The provision of reporting the matter to the Magistrate forthwith makes it clear that in the case of cognizable offences there should be no time lag between the reception of the information about the commission of the offence and the recording of such information. AIR 1961 Ker 99 (103) = 1960 Ker LJ 821 = (1961) 1 Cri LJ 505.

(7) The averment that the officer in charge of a police station did not make a report to the Magistrate as required by S. 157 is one of fact and cannot appropriately be sworn from legal advice in an application under Art. 226 of the Constitution. AIR 1968 All 338 (340) = 1968 Cri LJ 1325.

(8) The duty enjoined on the police to report to Magistrate any information of cognizable offence is absolute. AIR 1968 Cal 407 (466) = 72 Cal WN 441 (SB).

(9) The sending of a report to a concerned Magistrate is not a necessary condition which ought to precede the starting of an investigation by a police officer. (1962) (1) Cri LJ 803 (806) (AP).

(10) Section 157 requires that the officer in charge of a Police Station should record the definite information he received about a cognizable offence committed by the accused then and there from the informant and send a report to the Magistrate. AIR 1965 Ker 196 (198) = 1965 (2) Cri LJ 215 = 1965 Ker LT 20.

5. Effect of not sending the occurrence report. — (1) The section is mandatory and the sending of the occurrence report is a step which is an essential preliminary to an investigation. The failure to send such report is a serious neglect of duty and is likely to result in failure of justice, as it lays the police open to the suspicion of concocting false evidence. AIR 1953 J and K 3 (Pr. 9) = 9 J and K LR 18 = 1953 Cri L Jour 296. (AIR 1931 Pat 150 = 32 Cri L Jour 638, Rel. on.) °° AIR 1931 Pat 150 (151, 152) = 32 Cri L Jour 638 (DB).

[See also AIR 1958 All 584 (Pr. 4) = ILR (1958) 1 All 187 = 1958 Cri L Jour 994 (DB).]

(2) The omission to send a report under this section does not render the Magistrate's act of taking cognizance of that offence under Section 190 (1) (b) illegal. AIR 1950 Kutch 59 (Pr. 5) = 51 Cri L Jour 1319.

6. "To investigate the facts and circumstances of the case." — (1) Police-officers very frequently hear from village gossip or receive anonymous petitions and deem it well to make a few preliminary enquiries as to whether there is anything in what they have heard to render a formal investigation desirable. Such inquiries are not "investigations" under this section. AIR 1915 Mad 312 (314) = 15 Cri L Jour 622 (624) (DB).

(2) Receipt of every information does not start investigation — It commences only if some material step is taken in that direction. AIR 1967 Mys 71 (76) = 1967 Cri LJ 565 = 4 Law Rep 528 (DB).

(3) It is only after sending a report under this section to the Magistrate that the investigation starts and not till then. AIR 1958 Bom 125 (Pr. 11) = ILR (1958) Bom 96 = 1958 Cri L Jour 481 (DB).

(4) Locking the door of the house of the accused and keeping guard over the house are within the powers of the police in investigation under this section. AIR 1915 Lah 376 (377) = 16 Cri L Jour 551 (552).

(5) The section lays down some of the duties and none of the rights of an officer in charge of the police station. The Code does not grant to investigating officers a general overriding power to act in curtailment of the rights and liberties of the subjects for the purposes of investigation. AIR 1959 Bom 284 (Prs. 6, 18) = ILR (1959) Bom 852 = 1959 Cri L Jour 825 (DB).

(6) Police starting investigation in cases not covered by provisos (a) and (b) to Section 157(1) — Magistrate cannot under Section 159 suspend the police investigation and direct a Magisterial inquiry. AIR 1967 Pat 416 (420) = 1967 Cri LJ 1677 = 1967 BLJR 411 (DB).

(7) Under this section it is the duty of the police officer in charge of a police station to start investigation forthwith if from information or otherwise he has reason to suspect — The commission of an cognizable offence and submit a charge-sheet as soon as it is brought to their knowledge that a cognizable offence has been committed. ILR (1959) 9 Raj 671 (672).

7. Object of investigation.— (1) The object of investigation is to search for the truth and not to collect evidence to secure

158. Reports under Section 157 how submitted.—(1) Every report sent to a Magistrate under Section 157 shall, if the °[State Government] so directs, be submitted through such superior officer of police as the °[State Government], by general or special order, appoints in that behalf.

(2) Power to refuse to make investigation does not authorise the officer in charge of the police-station to refrain from entering the information in the station diary on the ground that he intends to launch only security proceedings. AIR 1957 Andh Pra 268 (Pr. 5) = 1957 Cri L Jour 826.

(3) Under proviso (b) the police is given the power to refuse to investigate only those cases where no prima facie case has been made out. (4) The practice of investigation being conducted by the same officer, who happens to be an ocular witness, is looked with disfavour. AIR 1968 All 290 (291) = 1968 Cri LJ 1028.

9. Who can investigate under this section.— (1) Three classes of officers can make an investigation of a crime—

(1) the officer in charge of a police station;

(2) an officer below the rank of such officer as the State Government may prescribe in this behalf under this section; and

(3) Officers superior to an officer in charge of a police-station by virtue of Section 551. (1912) 13 Cri L Jour 305 (316, 317) = 35 Mad 247 (SB).

(2) No writ of prohibition can issue against Inspector of Police C. I. D. having jurisdiction to investigate charges against accused. AIR 1957 Mad 65 (Pr 10) = 1957 Cri L Jour 205.

(3) Section 157 empowers the officer-in-charge of a police-station to delegate his own powers of investigation to one of his subordinate officers. 1969 Cri LJ 808 (809, 810) (Cal).

(4) Investigation in prohibition case — It starts with seizure of implements or arrest of accused — In such a case the arrest or seizure is not one in pursuance of the powers conferred under Section 54 or Section 550, Criminal P. C. — Police officer taking part in such seizure or arrest — He is disqualified by Section 495 (4) in prosecuting accused so arrested — Where a Circle Inspector who has taken part in the investigation of the offence under the Prohibition Act conducts the prosecution, the trial is vitiated. 1962 (1) Cri LJ 803 (807) = (1962) 1 Andh WR 104.

10. Whether the occurrence report is a public document.— (1) The occurrence report is not an act or record of acts of a public officer and is, therefore, not a public document. (1897) 20 Mad 189 (196, 205) (FB) °° AIR 1931 Pat 150 (151) = 32 Cri L Jour 638 (DB).

11. Search without warrant by a subordinate officer deputed under sub-section (1). — (1) It was held under the Code of 1861 that a police constable, deputed under the provisions corresponding to this section is not empowered to enter, without warrant, a house in search of property though he might do so in search of the person who is charged with a cognizable offence. (1870) 7 Bom HCR (Cr) 50 (52) (DB).

12. Delay in investigation and duty of Court. — (1) Delay in investigation causes serious prejudice to an accused person. It gives time to witnesses, even those who may not be dishonest to bring their evidence into harmony with that of the others. It may also interfere with the preparation of the defence in that an accused may feel difficulty in recalling what he was doing at the time of the offence. AIR 1932 Lah 345 (347) = 33 Cri L Jour 220 (DB).

(2) When there is any delay in investigation, it is the duty of a Court to enquire fully into the circumstances of the delay and consider its bearing upon the case. (1900) 2 Bom LR 1092 (1094) (DB).

13. Offences under Prevention of Corruption Act. — (1) Provisions as to registration and investigation of offences do govern also offences under the Prevention of Corruption Act. AIR 1968 Mad 117 (127) = 1968 Cri LJ 493 = (1968) 1 Mad LJ 480 (DB).

1. Power to require attendance. — (1) This section aims at securing the attendance of persons who would supply the necessary information in regard to the commission of an offence and who would be examined as witnesses in the enquiry or trial to be held in regard to the said offence. (4) This section does not apply to the police in Calcutta. AIR 1940 Cal 97 (103) = 41 Cri L Jour 329 (DB).

2. "Any police-officer making an investigation." — (1) If a Head Constable who is not making an investigation under this chapter summons a witness, the witness is not bound to obey the order and his disobedience will not be punishable. (1889) 16 Cal 349 (354, 355) (DB) °° 1885 All WN 43 (44).

3. "By order in writing." — (1) Disobedience of a mere verbal order is not punishable. AIR 1940 Nag 186 (189) = 41 Cri L Jour 757 °° 1896 Rat 850 (851) (DB).

(2) Where a constable without an order in writing made by the investigating officer asks a person to accompany him, he does not act in the discharge of his duty and an assault by such person on the constable is not an offence under Section 353 of the Penal Code. AIR 1918 Nag 137 (137) = 20 Cri L Jour 48.

(3) Absence of an order in writing, though no doubt an irregularity justifying the failure or refusal of the persons ordered to obey the order, will have no effect at all if such irregularity has been waived by them. AIR 1940 Nag 186 (189) = 41 Cri L Jour 757.

(4) 'Order in writing' contemplated by this section is an order addressed to a person whose presence is required. AIR 1954 Kutch 25 (26) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1060.

4. Who can be summoned under this section. — (1) The words "any person" must be given their plain meaning and includes a person, who may become the accused. AIR 1939 PC 47 (51) = 40 Cri L Jour 364 °° AIR 1940 Nag 186 (189) = 41 Cri L Jour 757.

(2) "Any person" includes also a suspect for he may appear to be as much acquainted with the circumstances of the case as a probable witness. AIR 1954 Kutch 25 (26) = 1954 Cri L Jour 1060.

(3) It is not necessary that the police should have summoned a person under this section in order to examine that person. Any one who is present at the time of investigation, if acquainted with the circumstances of the case, may be examined though not summoned. AIR 1930 Pat 510 (512) = 31 Cri L Jour 1123.

5. Service of order in writing. — (1) Section 72 applies only to summonses issued by a Court of justice and not to orders issued by the police-officers investigating under this chapter. AIR 1918 Mad 815 (816) = 18 Cri L Jour 733 (734).

6. Police cannot summon production of documents. — (1) This section does not authorize the police-officer to summon a person for the production of documents. (1902) 4 Bom LR 644 (645) (DB).

7. "Before himself." — (1) The order to attend must be to appear before the police-officer who is making the investigation. Thus, a police-officer cannot order a person to appear before a Magistrate so that the Magistrate may record that person's statement under Section 164. (1889) Rat 468 (469) (DB).
